Plans For Jackson Day Dinner Are Completed

TO OFFICIALLY OPEN DRIVE

Former Secretary Of State Is Principal Speaker Here

Forty-eight states are massing behind a nation-wide drive to make the coming Jackson Day dinner. January 8, 1936, the greatest demonstration in the history of the Democratic Party, according to word received from Chairman James A. Farley of the Democratic National Committee, by Wallace Cox, president of the Chilton County Young Democratic Club.

Mr. Farley and Frank Wickham, national president of the Young Democratic Clubs of America sent word to Mr. Cox that there is every indication that there will be in the neighborhood of 3,000 diners that night. Having, by their presence there made a contribution toward the cost of the 1936 campaign, the dinners will later gather around radios and listen to President Roosevelt broadcasting from the Number 1 dinner in Washington, fire the opening gun of the campaign.

Mr. Cox said today that he expects to have more than 100 at the Clanton dinner. Tickets will be limited he urged that those desiring to attend get in touch with him immediately and make reservations.

"I want to make this perfectly clear from the outset," Mr. Cox said today. "Besides honoring two great leaders of Democracy, the fundamental principle of this dinner is to raise a real war chest for the Democratic National Committee. A portion of the money paid for every ticket to the dinner will be forwarded immediately to Chairman Farley in Washington, together with a memorial signed by every dinner present, for President Roosevelt. This is a real opportunity to do something constructive for the party and should not be missed."

As already announced, the dinner will be held at the Exchange Hotel, with dinner at 7:30. President Roosevelt will be on the air at 10:00 Eastern Standard Time; 9:00 p.m. Central Standard Time; 8:00 p.m. Mountain Time and 7:00 p.m., Pacific Time.

The principal speaker at the local dinner will be Pete B. Jarman, former secretary of state, who will speak from the subject: "Andrew Jackson, the Man and His Beliefs." This is expected to be addressed filled with fire that calls forth the desire to uphold the standards of the Democratic Party as exemplified by two fearless fighters, Andrew Jackson and Franklin Roosevelt.

Presiding at the banquet will be Wallace Cox, president of the Chilton County Club. Following a presentation by the orchestra, he will call the meeting to order and the entire group will join in the singing of "America."

J. B. Atkinson, one of the leaders of the Democratic Party in Chilton County, will ask the invocation. Next on the program will be the introduction of guests by the president and an explanation of the purpose of the banquet.

The highlight in the evening's program will be President Roosevelt's radio address, which in reality will be the first gun of the 1936 campaign.

School Attendance Is Good In Dec.
The attendance in Chilton County schools during the month of December was gratifying, according to a report from Miss Lele Belle Coburn, County attendance officer. Following is the statistical record as compiled by Miss Coburn:

JACKSON DAY DANCE WILL BE HELD HERE JANUARY 8TH
Another outstanding social event of the holiday season is the big Jackson Day dance which will be held at the city hall auditorium in Clanton on the night of January 8th.

Music will be furnished by the "Bama Skippers," a popular and well known orchestra of Montevallo. This affair follows the Jackson Day Dinner at the Exchange Hotel and those attending the dinner will have plenty of time to attend the dance, it was announced Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dunlap and family, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Williams and family and Mrs. Billie Dunlap, all of Selma, Ala., spent the Christmas holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ward of this city.

Mrs. Anna Foshee and Alvin Foshee of Maplesville were in Clanton Tuesday.

Coosa's Judge Will Be Banquet Speaker

HON. WINSTON STEWART

Among those receiving singular honors through invitations to be guests of the Montgomery Unit of the State League of Young Democrats, to attend the huge Jackson Day Dinner, is Hon. Winston Stewart, probate judge of Coosa County and Alabama's youngest probate judge.

Judge Stewart has accepted the invitation extended him to be one of the speakers at this affair in Montgomery on January 8th, which promises to be one of the most outstanding of its kind. Several other outstanding personages will appear on the same program.

HAYES TAKING ON INCREASE IN SHOWROOM

Local Chevrolet Dealers To Soon Occupy The Entire Corner

Every indication is that business in this section is going to be even better in 1936 than during the past 12 months. And apparently the management of the Hayes Chevrolet Company one of the youngest motor companies in Clanton, is recognizing this fact.

Within a short time after the last echo of the New Year's guns dies away this firm will have completed an addition to the showrooms that is going to give one of the best automobile display departments in this section of the county.

Remodeling that part of the building which houses the firm, formerly occupied by a restaurant on the corner, and expanding the present showrooms to include this addition, J.W. (Dick) Hayes, manager, declares that he will have the best showrooms in any small city in Alabama. When finished the showroom will be approximately 35 by 50 feet.

The remodeling includes the saleroom convention room, the manager's office, the parts department, and a paint room. This work is being carried to completion just as rapidly as is possible, Mr. Hayes explained.

MISS CALLIE WATTS WELL PLEASED WITH RECENT SALE

Miss Callie Watts, proprietress of the Watts Hat Shoppe expressed herself to a representative of the News as being well pleased with the response her customers and friends gave to offerings in her Removal Sale. "It has been the best sale I have ever conducted," Miss Callie said, "and I want my customers to know that I appreciate it, and that there are yet several days before our new location will be ready, and prices will be cut again this week."

Young Democrats Are Taking 1936 Members

The new two-colored membership cards for 1936 of the Chilton County Unit, Alabama State League of Young Democrats are being taken up fast, according to Mrs. Beatrice Pratt, secretary of the local Unit.

The cards were being issued the last week in December and the paid up membership list is growing. Those who have not received their cards should apply to Mrs. Pratt at Clanton.

Ed Bruce, one of Clanton's fine citizens, dropped in the News office Monday to say "Howdy" to the boys.

ALMOST $22,000 PAID FARMERS PAST FEW DAYS

More Cotton Checks For Local Farmers Are Distributed

Santa Claus is still paying the farmers of Chilton County a visit. Although New Year is here and almost everyone has put Christmas—with the exception of a few pleasant memories—behind them, Old St. Nicholas is still sliding down chimneys in this county.

County Agent J. W. Fant has recently received and is distributing 1712 cotton parity checks, amounting to $21,697.24, to cotton growers in this section. This is approximately one-half of the amount due Chilton County farmers, and Mr. Fant declared that he is expecting the balance to be paid within the next few days.

As fast as these checks come into (Continued to Back Page)

YOUNG MAN IS KILLED IN AUTO WRECK

Others Injured As Truck Runs Into Ditch Near Isabella

En route to the home of his parents near Billingsley to join them in a Christmas dinner, E.C. Weldon of Clanton was killed almost instantly when the truck on which he and several others were riding overturned in a ditch last Wednesday morning.

Four other occupants, including the wife of the dead man, suffered severe injuries. Mrs. Weldon received internal injuries and a fractured pelvis; Mr. and Mrs. David Misseldine of Billingsley and Mrs. Raymond Taylor of Clanton suffered minor injuries. They were given treatment at the Central Alabama Hospital, where Mrs. Taylor is reported to be improving rapidly.

The accident occurred, according to Raymond Taylor who was driving the truck, when they met an automobile and was crowded off the narrow road. The truck overturned and Weldon's neck was broken. He was 29 years old.

He is survived by his wife; one small daughter, Joyce; parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Weldon; four brothers, O.O. Tommy, Osmond, and Cecil Weldon; five sisters, Mrs. Zedie Hewitt, Mrs. Roberta Culp, Mrs. Sophie Lee Moates, Mrs. Saah Pierce, all of Billingsley, and Mrs. Doshie Mims, of Clanton.

Funeral services were held Friday morning at 11 o'clock from the New Cedron Baptist Church with the Rev. G. G. Williams and the Rev. W.S. Cox officiating. Burial was in the churchyard cemetery with Spigener Funeral Home in charge.

Business School To Open Here Jan. 6th

Clanton has almost every type of business represented, and now it is soon to have still another, when a business school will open in the New Mullins Building next Monday, January 6th.

Mrs. R.J. Alexander is opening this new institution in the downtown section of Clanton. She has had eleven years teaching experience in this kind of work. She has been an outstanding teacher in some of the outstanding schools of larger cities, and for some time has given instruction in secretarial and allied work at her home. Some of her students are now occupying positions of responsibility and trust which are a credit, not only to themselves, but to the careful instructions of Mrs. Alexander as teacher in their early career.

An advertisement explaining the courses taught will be found in this issue of the News, and Mrs. Alexander invites all those interested to visit her location in the New Mullins building.

The News Presents 1935 Chronology

The attention of the readers of the News is directed this week to the full page carrying the Chronology of 1935.

The contents of this page are valuable as well as interesting, being a condensed form of all major events and happenings of the year just ended. The News is happy to be able to bring this feature to its readers.

New Year Holds Bright Outlook For This County

S.S. CONVENTION TO BE HELD HERE IN JANUARY

Baptists Plan Splendid Program; Expecting 300 To Attend

With the general theme of "Come—Learn—Go—Teach," the Alabama Baptist Sunday School Conventions will hold their annual sessions in January. The two convention plans have proven itself very popular with 20,000 teachers and officers in the Baptist Sunday Schools of Alabama.

The Up-State Convention will be held at the First Baptist Church, Florence, Alabama, beginning at 2:30 p.m., Monday, January 13th and closing Wednesday afternoon the 15th. The delegates to the Florence session will gather from all North Alabama and the following counties: Lamar, Fayette, Walker, Jefferson, St. Clair, Calhoun, Cleburne and all the counties north of them.

The Clanton Baptist Church, Clanton, Alabama, will be the host of the Down-State Convention beginning 2:30 p.m., Wednesday afternoon January 15th and closing Friday afternoon the 17th. (Continued to Back Page)

Prominent Farmer Dies Suddenly Here Monday

Funeral services for James Arthur Thompson, a prominent farmer of this section and for some time one of the county road foremen, who died suddenly early Monday morning at his home, two miles northeast of Clanton, were held from Walnut Creek Baptist Church, of which he was a member, Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The Rev. J.W. Emfinger officiated and burial was in the churchyard cemetery with Martin & Sons in charge.

Although Mr. Thompson's health had been failing for some weeks, his death came as a surprise to members of his family and friends. For several days he had suffered with a severe pain in his head and a sudden attack Monday about 8 o'clock resulted in his death. He was 60 years of age.

Surviving him are: His widow, Mrs. Rude Driver Thompson; one son, Burnie Thompson, of Pennsylvania; one daughter, Mrs. George Tippett; his mother, Mrs. Mary Thompson; four brothers, J.T. Thompson, H.F. Thompson, all of Clanton, Lindsey Thompson, and Daniel Thompson, both of Birmingham; two sisters, Mrs. Katie Duncan, of Clanton, and Mrs. O.L. Mims, Birmingham.

MR. AND MRS. J. A. BROADHEAD ANNOUNCE BIRTH OF GIRL

Mr. and Mrs. J.A. Broadhead of Lay Dam announce the birth of a fine baby girl on December 18, whom they have named Elizabeth Patricia. Both mother and baby are doing fine.

Archie J. Taylor, of Route 2, was among the business visitors to Clanton Monday.

W.M. Lawley, of Lawley, Ala., was in Clanton Tuesday on business.

SPECTRE 5-CENT COTTON LOOMS AS BANKHEAD ACT NEARS TEST

After the Bankhead act, what? The writer has discussed this matter with farmers from at least seventeen counties in the last six days. We asked farmers what would happen if the Bankhead cotton control act was declared unconstitutional.

We talked in Birmingham with high officials of the Farmers Union of Alabama. That organization is strong in seven or eight northwestern and northern counties of Alabama and many have said it advocated things bordering on communism. We do not know about that. Members of that Union were hoping that the Bankhead act would be declared unconstitutional. They said it was a burden on the small farmer who ought to be allowed to raise all the cotton he could. When we asked these men that the small two and three bale farmer raised 70 per cent of the cotton already, they said small farmers ought to raise all the cotton and the big farmer ought to raise—well, what of it?

In South Alabama we have talked to farmers from a number of counties. Farmers, generally speaking, are level-headed. We found them in favor of

CHRISTMAS IS ALSO WATERMELON TIME FOR J. V. BEST

Yes, Sir, we have watermelons down in Chilton County, the heart of Alabama, on Christmas Day. The News knows, because out at the home of J.V. Best, one of the county's well known citizens, a group of friends were being entertained Christmas Day and the days feast included a fine watermelon.

Mr. Best stated that the melon was in good condition and had had no special care other than being kept in the house since the past crop.

WELL KNOWN MAN VICTIM OF GUN SHOT

C. T. "Rube" Miller Takes Own Life; No Reason Has Been Found

C.T. (Rube) Miller, lineman for the Alabama Power Company for the past 19 years and well-known throughout Chilton County and other sections of Central Alabama, ended his own life last Friday evening, when he is believed to have placed the muzzle of a 12-gauge shot-gun against his heart and pulled the trigger. He was 49 years of age.

Members of his family and close friends were unable to assign any motive of his act. He left no note or other message and those who had been associated closely with him declared that they had never heard him make any reference to an intention of taking his life. Returning from his work to his home at Mitchell Dam, with D.W. Patterson, a fellow employee, he went into the house and built a fire. Patterson told Coroner J. Mell Martin that he noted nothing unusual in Mr. Miller's attitude.

Shortly after Patterson left, he went into a bedroom and placing the stock of the gun against a cabinet he shot himself almost directly in the heart. He (continued to back page)

ENTIRE YEAR HAS PROMISE OF ACTIVITIES

Political Campaigns To Take Spotlight; Building Shows Up Well

NEW YEAR APPEARS BRIGHTER THAN 1935

When the hands of the clock tick around and it is January 1st, we cast a reminiscent glance at the Old Year and the things it has brought to us and perhaps shed a tear of regret or maybe breathe a sigh of relief—but the consensus of all minds, no matter how nonsentimental, reflect a hope for unfathomed improvements in the New Year to come.

"This is the wish for a 'Happy New Year' that the world wipes the slate clean and begins to writing of another chapter in the history of the achievements of men.

For Chilton County, 1936 holds bright promise. It will be a year of vast activity, and though few just complaints can be entered against the good year, 1935, and the innumerable improvements it brought to our people—we look forward with hopes of even greater things for this county. This feeling is not without due appreciation of that which has gone on before, but the Future and not the Past holds the key.

Before another twelve months have been ripped from the calendar, this county—with the entire Nation, will have gone through one of the most heated political campaigns ever experienced. Although only five offices in the local county government will be filled in the coming elections, the interest in national government has gained scope in this section. There was a time—and a long time—when Chilton County figured only as on-lookers in national politics. But the interest in what this year's elective capacities, outside the realm of politics, there will be various activities that will mean much in the progress of this county and the future happiness of its people. At last it seems that Gragg Field will be developed into an up-to-date little airport, putting Clanton and Chilton County definitely on the map in aeronautics in the years to come. It was recently voted by the Commissioners Court, without dissenting vote, to appropriate necessary money for the purchasing of 32 acres of additional lands for bringing Gragg Field up to government flying field standards.

It is understood that not less than $29,000 is available from the federal government for the completion of this project. Probate Judge J. Lee Smith was advised recently by Senator Hugo Black that this amount has definitely been allocated to this project provided the county would take steps to increase the size of the field. ### Jug Empty --- 'Cause The Jug Was Empty?

The people of Clanton and Chilton County seem to be fast learning the art of "holding their liquor," or else are getting wise to the slogan so often suggested—"that it doesn't pay."

According to reports from both city and county law enforcement officers, there was a noticeable absence of intoxicated persons during the Christmas holidays. Not a single arrest was made by either Sheriff J.R. Hardy and his deputies or Chief Browder and his boys.

This is rare, since through the years unnumbered a bit of Christmas imbibing and overcelebrating has been characteristic of every year.

Officers are unable to decide if people are just learning to carry their liquor with more dignity, or if maybe after all they are learning that it's "just another headache—so what!"

Mr. C.E. Hand left Sunday for Atlanta, Ga., where he is employed by the Georgia Power Company.

What Would You Do?

It all came about in a casual manner. A small group stood leisurely around a hot stove while the cold rain came down outside. No grave matters of deep consequence were being discussed, but in the course of conversation, someone raised the question: What would you do, if you came home and found your wife gone, with plenty of evidence that she did not intend to return?

Some had one answer, some another and some none, but one elderly gentleman of the group replied: 'I'd go hunt for her. For forty-nine years my wife and I have lived together, and I can think of no circumstance to keep us apart.' Maybe this man's action would not fit in other cases, but many homes are being split asunder today. And somehow it seemed to the News editor that if this generation had more of that home idealism possessed by this man of gray hair and stooped shoulders it might at least help in some cases. Anyway, what would you do?

A Sad Commentary

Not so many years ago a daring American headed his plane across the vast waters of the Atlantic Ocean, and a nation apprehensively, breathlessly, waited for news of him. That boy was Charles Lindbergh, and when he safely landed in France to complete the first non-stop solo flight between the Old World and the New he was christened the "Lone Eagle."

Not so many days ago this boy, a man now, gathered his little brood about him and again pointed his destiny across the Atlantic. One of the little fledglings was missing, however, and if reports are true, the life of the other had been threatened. What tragic treatment of America's heroes!

Have we grown so complacent, are we so unconcerned that criminals, organized or otherwise, can drive the bravest men from our shores! Must men build stockades about their homes to protect their young from human serpents who, afraid of open combat, steal coward-like into nurseries and there ply their vicious trade!

Can such conditions flourish, or even exist in America? Millions will decry such a charge. We love our country too. We are proud of it. We glory in the men who made it. Lindbergh was proud of his country, too. True to the spirit of our forebears who tackled a continent and wrested a nation from its bosom, he challenged the trackless winds of the Atlantic and alighted the victor.

But his wings have been clipped! He will fly again, probably many times and far, but never with the same exuberance, the glowing zest of delight in the struggle, for he has been hit in a vital spot—his first-born child.

There is no need for us to discourse on the atrocity of kidnaping. Its viciousness is undebated.

It is also useless to regret the Lindbergh's going, or their manner of departure. That is water over the dam. But what of the remedy for this thing that has raised its horny head and curled its forked tail in a land of free men? Shall more of this breed grow up to infest the land? Or is there a remedy? So far the English climate seems not very adaptable to this serpent. And if our information is correct, American pioneers were once troubled with horse thieves. They found a remedy! Of course they were not so thoroughly civilized as we of today, and their patience was not as great. Too, the horse thief very seldom had a lawyer so smart he could squeeze his client through legal technicalities, and sometimes even get the horse thru so the culprit could ride away. Of course some lawyers may have been as smart then as now, but the law didn't have quite so many technicalities, and the loopholes it did have quite often surmounted the criminal's neck.

Our County Health Unit

In this week's News is carried the first report of activities of Chilton County's Health Department. The report covers a period of time from March 15, 1935, when this department was established, through December, 1935.

It would be impossible in the space of this editorial to enumerate the manifold activities of this department, but we can urge the careful reading of the report as published, which has been prepared by Dr. J. M. Kimmey, County Health Officer.

Sickness is expensive to the individual and his community. Science has shown us that much of our ill health is preventable, and herein lies the principles upon which a health department is based. Through the personal visits, office visits, by giving vaccinations, by distribution of informative literature and other ways, preventive measures are fostered.

That Chilton County's Health Department has been busy during its short period of existence is strikingly shown by the above-mentioned report. May we urge you to read it carefully. This department has been established to serve you. It is serving in a commendable manner, and deserves your cooperation.

95 Out Of 100 Are Dependent

If you were to ask the financial status of the next hundred men aged 65 or more, you meet, you would find, if they represent the average, that only five have independent incomes large enough to live on decently without working; that 28 continue to work for a living; that 67 are dependent for their livelihood upon relatives, friends or public charity.

Everyone of these men started out in life with high hopes. Every one envisioned a self-sustaining, self-respecting old age, in which he could retire on the savings he had made during his productive years, and enjoy himself, without worry and without dependence on any person or institution.

Five of the hundred achieved that goal. Ninety-five failed to reach it.

These are facts—unpleasant as they are, they will be faced by every person of foresight and courage who is not yet too old to make the most of the lesson they teach. There is no royal road to old age independence for most of us—it can be reached only by a plan which uses some of the dollars we earn with comparative ease now to care for our needs and ambitions when dollars come hard.

"Death After Dark"

'Of 36,000 motor fatalities last year, 20,000 occurred at night,' writes Governor Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey, in an article in Liberty entitled "Death After Dark."

"The total economic waste of nighttime automobile accidents is estimated at nearly one and a half billion dollars. . . .

"Sixty-nine per cent of those killed are pedestrians. . . .

"As a nation, we have failed to grasp the fact that as the sun goes down, so must our speed. We are simply driving too fast for our eyes."

Night driving, Governor Hoffman points out, involves three definite factors, each of which contributes to the hazard: 1. Overdriving our headlights; 2. Slow perception due to poor elimination; 3. The night pedestrian hazard. The first factor is probably the most important, inasmuch as it affects the other two. Governor Hoffman says that the average man is fortunate if he can see 100 feet clearly with his headlights. That is less than the distance required to stop from a speed of 35 miles per hour, on good pavement with first-class tires and brakes. If the night driver is traveling 60, not an uncommon speed on our highways today, that 100 feet of visibility will have been passed by the time he is able to even substantially lower his speed.

Thousands of us are driving 50 and 60 miles an hour in cars equipped with 30-mile headlights. One solution to that is better illumination for streets and highways—irrefutable figures, based on extensive tests, show that the saving in economic waste, to say nothing of the human waste, pays the cost of good lighting many times over. But it will be a long time before the average highway is lighted at all—and in the meantime, the only solution is to drive moderately if you wish to avoid "death after dark."

MORAL ECHOES

D. W. Haskeew

After leaving the train I came out at the station gate and looking up I saw two large signs. One said, "Whites Only," and the other said, "Colored Only." I know that I belonged to the white race and followed instructions. Just behind me was a negro man and when he saw the signs he turned toward the colored entry. Our colors separated us. We meet with signs of that kind as we travel through this world, but the time is coming when our colors will have nothing to do with what is going to take place. When we seek God there are no signs that refer to color. When we come to the hour of death there will be no signs for whites to die one way and coloreds to die another way. When we come before the bar of God there will be nothing of color. These racial and colored lines disappear before religion, death and the judgement.

And it came to pass that two tribes of Indians lived side by side. The Medicine men of each tribe had methods of casting out bad spirits from the warriors and there arose a great difference between those men. The difference arose over the skill of one tribe of Medicine men being able to cast out more devils than the other. The contention grew until both tribes were embittered and a great battle was fought. When the Tomahawks were at last returned to their resting places no one knew which class of Medicine men could cast out the most devils. In a like manner religious denominations often fall out with each other, each denomination contending that he can cast out more devils than the other. Verily, verily, I say unto you, nothing is ever accomplished and nothing ever settled when denominations fall out and fight and scramble over their ability to cast out more devils than the other.

Lenin, the Russian Communist, was a man of many parts. It is said of him that he loved art, music, poetry and literature and that he was very anxious at times to enter into the enjoyment of these things, but of him it could be said: "I can not follow up the fine things of life for that would interfere with my business of breaking the heads of men." Many of us today are great lovers of poetry, music and the arts. We would like very much to give ourselves to the finer things of life, but for us to follow up these things it would mean interference with our program of breaking bonds. We like religion, but we cannot follow up the ideals of religion because that would interfere with our plans to enjoy ourselves, or our plans to make money.

A legend tells us of an apprentice to a sorcerer who ran to his master in great anguish saying, "Help, most worthy master." The sorcerer asked why he was in such distress and received this reply: "I have called up a spirit that I can not induce to leave and what shall I do?" One day a dove fiend came to my study and he was crying for help. One day a drunken sot presented himself before me in distress. Each one wanted to know of me what could be done. They knew that they had conjured up a habit that would not leave. At no time should anyone of us call up a spirit that we do not care to stay with us. Better beware of conjuring up bad spirits for they do not leave readily.

What a blessed thing is a nice warm hearth in a home. The fire is kept burning in it all winter and the children draw near to keep their little bodies warm and older people sit near for comfort and cheer. Blessed indeed is that home that has in it a warm hearted Christian mother and companion. She is worth more to the family for real joy than is a hearthstone worth for warmth and comfort. Children draw near to her and receive the warmth of her soul and the beauty of her life and then pass out into the world a ray of joy to all. God bless all the warm-hearted Christian mothers.

WHEREAS, default has been made by grantors in payment of the indebtedness secured by said mortgage and in the performance of the terms of said mortgage; and

WHEREAS, said mortgage and the indebtedness thereby secured have been fully and regularly transferred by said Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company to W. J. Vinzant, as shown by transfer under date of July 17, 1934, recorded in Office of Judge of Probate, Chilton County, Alabama, in Book 258, page 156; and, Whereas, the performance of the terms of said mortgage is still in default;

NOW THEREFORE, the said W. J. Vinzant having declared due and payable the entire indebtedness secured by said mortgage, will sell, under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, between the legal hours of sale on the 27th day of January, 1936, at auction to the highest bidder for cash, in front of the courthouse door of Chilton County, Alabama, the following described property, to wit:

North ½ of Southwest ¼ of Southwest ¼, Section 15, and North ½ of Southeast ¼ of Southeast ¼, Section 16; all being in Township 23, Range 14, Chilton County, Ala.

Said sale will be made for the purpose of realizing the mortgage debt together with all expenses of this sale including a reasonable attorney's fee.

W. J. VINZANT, Transferor.

RAYMOND C. SMITH, Attorney for Transferor.

Grant Reunion

Christmas Day was a great event at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther T. Grant. Featuring the day was the homecoming of all the children and grandchildren from various points of the state. This was Mr. and Mrs. Grant's 44th Christmas together, being married in 1891.

Several of the members gathered the early part of the week, and made extensive preparations for the re-uniting of the family. Early Christmas morning the remaining members began to gather in, where the family greetings were blissfully accorded. The day was spent in varied forms of amusements and enjoyments, namely: singing, games of the Yuletide season, hunting, kodaking, target skill, etc.

Several cedars in the yard were adorned with Christmas decorations, affording the beauty and effect to the occasion. In the living room was a lovely Christmas tree bearing the many gifts which Old Santa had assembled for the happy family. At mid-day a grand feast had been prepared in abundance. All were gathered around the large table where the appealing Christmas goodies were served to the great delight of all.

In the afternoon the merry group met in the living room, and there uniting their voices in one more grand singing of sacred hymns. Boy! and what a singing it was! Following this gay event, was the distribution of the many charming gifts encircling the marvelously adorned tree. From the youngest tot of four to the oldest youngster of sixty-three this too, proved to be one of the most alluring features of the glad day. Then came the snapping of many pictures of the group.

The outstanding one being that of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Grant and their eight daughters and four sons.

After enjoying the many festivities of the cherry Christmas day the various family groups began to assemble and turn their hearts and faces toward their respective homes, counting the time until they may once more have such a supreme delight and grand pleasure of all being together again in the harmonious family relation.

Below are listed the large number who shared in the glad tidings of the day: Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Grant; their twelve children; nine grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; two daughters-in-law; four sons-in-law; namely: Mr. and Mrs. Luther T. Grant, Cooper, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. N. Archie Smith, Montgomery, Ala.; and two daughters, Carolyn and Betty Jean; Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Jones and son, Raymond, Clanton, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Lee J. Grant and two daughters, Louise and Grace, Cooper, Ala.; Mrs. Addie Cantrell, Phenix City, Ala.; Mrs. Lawrence McDowell and two daughters, Ruby Nell and Marie, Billingsley, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hilyer and son and daughter, Hazel and Curtis, Jr., Cooper, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis D. Grant, Cooper, Ala.

Mr. Ira Grant and son, Jimmie, Birmingham, Ala.; Mr. Ralph D. Grant, Cooper, Ala.; Miss Marjorie I. Grant, Cooper, Ala.; Miss Maye Hilyer, Cooper, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Gresham Smith, Thorsby, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. John Messer, Verbena, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Johnson, Jemison, Ala.

A Message For The New Year

By E. W. Butler

Those who ought to know tell us that America has enough Natural Resources, enough Idle Machinery and enough Unused Man-Power to supply abundantly all the material needs of every family in America—comfort for all.

Why don't we do it then?
Two things are lacking—
We haven't enough character.
We haven't enough intelligence.

When we have enough Christian character earnestly to desire that every family shall have an abundance instead of desiring it just for ourselves and for our friends—and then—

When we have enough of good common sense to combine with one another to secure an abundance for ourselves—then the promised "Day of the Lord" will be at hand.

We need Christian character and Alabama's country churches are open one day in the month. And on that one day not one time in ten are our people made to see that the nation's problems are their problems; that until the church tackles these problems of humanity they will never be solved. We need intelligence—and Alabama's country schools may be open six months this year, that is, the schools for white children. We don't know how to solve this problem of poverty in the midst of plenty and only in a half-hearted way we are trying to give our children a training which will enable them to work the problem.

Perhaps some of us have been crying "O Lord, how long?" Let us, at the dawn of this New Year, listen, and we may hear His answer, "How Long? That depends on you, my people—I have shown you the way—I have done all I can. The abundance is there—with you. To you it may look like only five small loaves and two small fishes. And what are they among so many? But if you proceed to feed the hungry multitude, you will find that there is enough for them all. And you shall, from what is left, take up for yourselves twelve baskets full."

Christ is waiting for his people to act. What are we waiting for?

F.F.A. Of District
Held Meet Here

The sixth District Association of F.F.A. held its second meeting at the Chilton County High School building on the night of December 2. All of the chapters except one sent delegates.

Each Chapter had a part in the program. The Columbiana Chapter gave new jokes, and the Jemison Chapter gave a talk on "What's new in Agriculture." The Program of Work Committee, whose duty is to plan our course of action for the year, submitted a proposed program. It was decided that the suggested program be revised and completed by next meeting. At the close of the meeting, refreshments consisting of hot chocolate and oatmeal cookies were served.

What is the purpose of the district association of F.F.A.? It is to serve as a stepping stone to bring into closer relationship the local chapters and the State association. It prepares the boys for better cooperation with the great programs of work set up each summer at Auburn. It gives a chance for the boys who study vocational agriculture to come together and see what the other chapters are doing and makes them feel the need of improvement in their own schools.

The question may be asked, What is the F.F.A. doing? It is training thousands of boys in the United States and Hawaii and Puerto Rico, for the duties of citizenship, for Agricultural leadership and for the improvement of agricultural conditions throughout the country. It is teaching the boys how to talk in public, how to think on their feet, and the value of parliamentary procedure. Through the contests that it sponsors each year, it is teaching the importance of individual research and the necessity of self expression.

And finally, the F.F.A. is making an effort to bring about agricultural organization among the young farmers of today and teaching them the profits and success that can be obtained through organized teamwork.

—C. W. Wells, District Reporter.

DEATH OF MRS. T. J. LITTLEJOHN

On December 9, 1935 the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Littlejohn and took away our mother and grandmother to that home beyond the river where no sorrow nor pain can enter there.

Grandmother was 82 years, 7 months and 9 day old when God called her home. She was sick 9 months but bore her pains patiently to the end. She was prepared to meet God in peace. It was sad, so sad, to give her up, but not so sad as those that have no hope. The funeral was conducted by the Rev. Edwin Lovelady of Lawley. Burial was in the Tabernacle cemetery following day at 3 o'clock.

Pallbearers were Mr. Gordon Green, Clemon Smith, Edward Littlejohn, Alvin Gentry and Jack Thomas. She leaves to mourn her loss 5 children, 23 grandchildren, 10 great-grandchildren. The children who are living are Charlie and Edward Littlejohn of Lawley, Cliff Littlejohn of New York, Mrs. J. D. Holdensombeck of Jemison, Mrs. Sophie Reaves of Centerville and Mrs. Victoria Cray of Lawley.

Mrs. T. J. Littlejohn was married 63 years. Her husband died 2 years ago. She was a faithful member of the Baptist church for over 60 years and a devout Christian.

A great array of flowers bore testimony of the esteem in which she was held. The funeral was attended by many of her sorrowing friends. She is gone but not forgotten.

the county agent's office, the farmers are being notified and the checks are rapidly finding their way into circulation. Despite the fact that Santa Claus recently made his annual visit, those receiving these checks are having no trouble finding good reason for spending this money and so business will be helped over the to-be-expected January slump.

County Agent Fant explained that approximately 3,000 farmers will be benefited by this payment. Only about fifty per cent of the amount due the county has been received, but the individuals are being paid in full, he explained.

BAPTIST CONVENTION

17th. The territory from which the Clanton session will receive its messengers is indicated as the other counties of the State not attending the Florence meeting.

Mr. Davis Cooper, Jr., of Montgomery, the Secretary of the Department of Education and Training of the Alabama Baptist State Convention, offers an unusually attractive program this season. The program consists chiefly of conferences and messages. There are thirty-three speakers and conference leaders. Among the State workers to participate on the program are Dr. F. M. Barnes, Montgomery, Baptist State Mission Secretary, Mr. Davis Cooper, Jr., Montgomery, State Director of Education and Training, Mr. John Maguire and Mr. Chester Quales, Associate Directors, and Dr. L. L. Gwaltney of Birmingham, President of the Alabama Baptist State Convention and Editor of the Alabama Baptist.

The State Approved Workers who will make valuable contributions to the success of the Conventions are Miss Mary Ellen Caver, Birmingham, Mrs. D. H. Hamrick, Birmingham, Mrs. C. H. Cosby, Birmingham, Mrs. Davis Cooper, Jr., Montgomery, Mr. L. H. Tappert, Tuscaloosa, and Mrs. H. S. Sauls, Mobile.

There are a number of prominent out-of-state Baptist leaders appearing on the program. Dr. R. S. Jones, Field Secretary of the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, Dr. Homer L. Rice, Secretary of the Vacation Bible School Department of the Sunday School workers will appear on the program. Miss Blanche Linthicum, Associate Secretary of the Elementary Department, Mr. A. V. Washburn, Jr., of the Young People, Adult and Extension Department with Mr. W. P. Phillips as the General Secretary of that Department.

The Convention music will be under the supervision of Mr. B. B. McKinney of Nashville. Mr. McKinney has written a number of popular hymns which have been sung around the world. Alabama's beloved J. O. Williams, Business Manager of the Sunday School Board, Dr. P. E. Burroughs, Secretary of Education, and Mrs. J. N. Barnett, Associate Secretary of the Department of Sunday School Administration, are listed as convention speakers.

Other convention speakers and conference leaders are Dr. G. S. Dobbins, of the Southern Baptist Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky, Mrs. E. B. McDonald, Jacksonville, Florida, Rev. J. H. Ivey, President of the State Sunday School Convention, Troy, Alabama, Dr. S. J. Ezell, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, Clanton, R. L. Motley, Pastor First Baptist Church, Florence, Rev. A. M. Nix, Guin, Rev. R. A. Tuck, Oneonta, Rev. Virgil Sizemore, Association Worker, Cullman County, Rev. G. C. Walker, Birmingham, Dr. C. M. Crossway, Sylacauga, Rev. H. P. Amos, Wetumpka, Rev. Roy Niagara, Samson.

A record breaking attendance is expected with delegates coming from every county in the State of Alabama.

Fair condemned Federal acreage control. So in that respect at least our prophecy to Senator Bankhead came true.

The trouble about the whole thing is that Alabama cotton farmers have gotten the best of it due to the drought in Texas. This year the South Alabama cotton farmers have gotten the best of it through drought in Northwest and North Alabama. Farmers are the same everywhere and you can't blame them. They want their cake after they eat it.

The farmers we have talked with, generally and overwhelmingly speaking, are for the Bankhead act. But there is a general feeling that it will go down with the NRA and other new deal things which the courts say offend the constitution.

If the Bankhead act goes down by a court decision, the Southern cotton farmer will still have a chance if he cooperates with the Government on acreage reduction. Some of them will, but will others? From the best thought from all of the farmers the writer has interviewed in the last two weeks, and the list includes probably 300 farmers, the death of the Bankhead act will mean five-cent cotton because of unlimited production next year.

This year the South has made approximately 11,500,000 bales of 12-cent cotton but the excess will be six-cent cotton and it is the excess that is making all the racket.

After the death of the Bankhead act, what? But perhaps the high court will sustain the act. But that case is one of the most serious before the high court of the land that the South has ever seen. The Dred Scott decision notwithstanding.

was found a few minutes after report of the gun was heard by P. Marcus, a nephew.

The family was moving to Clanton and the house was almost empty. Mr. Miller, his son, stated that the father had discussed the moving the night before and his father had suggested it wait until Monday. It was found, however, that conveyance could not be secured Monday, so they proceeded with the moving Friday. Chester, another son, said that he gathered all gun shells on the place and took them to Clanton with a load of furniture but had left the gun to be brought on a later load.

Funeral services were held Sunday at 11 a.m. from the Walnut Street Baptist Church with the Rev. J. E. Enginger and the Rev. E. J. Orange officiating. Burial was in the Orange cemetery with Spigener in charge. Active pallbearers were his nephews, Otis Miller, Odie Miller, Horace Miller, Jeff Miller, Earl Marcus, and P. Marcus. Honorary pallbearers were R. C. Ross, B. L. Campbell, Bill Parrish, J. C. Campbell, B. B. Morris and T. Williams.

NEW YEAR

work will be afforded for Chilton County labor on this project during the year.

Another project of no small importance will be the paving of the Clanton-Selma Highway, and we have every reason to assume that this will be during the 365 days termed 1936. A special vote, the people indorsed the plan for the county to participate to the extent of one-third. Work is likely to be begun on this project within the next few weeks.

In the county, two new school buildings are being erected, a 12-room auditorium structure at Isabella, costing above $35,000, and a five-room auditorium building at Collins Chapel at a cost of approximately $19,000. In spite of the inclemency of the weather, progress on both these. Supt. Luther E. Little and the government building, the writer visited the projects this week and was able to get an idea of what 1936 holds for citizens of these respective communities.

Mayor C. Fenn Jones declared that he still has hope of getting Clanton streets paved during the next 12 months. But the problem that seemed to him what is to be done about the water supply, or rather the city's water supply. This is a problem which he emphatically asserted is the most important thing of importance in the 1936 program.

Perhaps the drilling of a new well will take care of this problem, but while. At present there is a sufficient amount of water, but this is not true in rainy seasons. The fact that water facilities must be extended to reach the territory makes the problem the more urgent. Mayor Jones is attempting to secure estimates on the cost of piping water from Coosa River or from some near-by creek. This would be a permanent solution of Clanton's water troubles as far as the city is concerned, but only time will unfold the conclusions that may be reached regarding the advisability of the step.

All in all, it is really going to be a busy year—and we hope a happy one for all.

Sales Tax, Or—?

As if and when the Legislature of Alabama is called into session next month, a sales tax looms as one of the main objects—pro and con. When Alabama has a sales tax it may appear to a large number of thinking citizens that we have reached the jumping off place when it comes to raising revenue for operation of our state government. But, in view of the crisis facing our educational system, there appears to be only one alternative—the legalizing of tax paid liquor. By that statement, this column does not assert its stand on the liquor question. We have always faced matters, whether pleasant or unpleasant, with an open mind. We have to eat. Our families must eat, and we don't have to partake of intoxicating drinks, tax paid or not tax paid.

Is It Or Ain't It?

A very good friend of ours in commenting on the recent action of the Supreme Court on the Triple A, voiced the question as to whether the Supreme Court members know what is law, what is not law, what is constitutional and what is not constitutional. He referred to the six to three vote of the Court on the Triple A. That is some food for thought. We have no grudge against the Court due to their action on the Triple A, but back in our mind is the thought that the majority of the Supreme Court members were appointed by Republican administrations and that the Triple A is a pet Democratic move to bring our farmers out of the hole they fell in in past years.

The New Highway Patrol

There passes up and down the paved highway through Clanton two bright and shiny motorcycles with two neatly uniformed young men astride them. If they stop you don't get nervous. They are merely two of the State's new patrolmen and they are gentlemen through two reasons. First they are gentlemen by practice, heredity and otherwise. Second they are gentlemen because their Chief has vowed that any patrolman on the highways of Alabama who does not conduct himself as a gentleman will be stricken from the payroll. The two patrolmen stationed at Clanton and working surrounding territory are Wallace Waites and Earl Henley. Waites is the son of the sheriff of our neighbor county, Coosa. Henley is a former Chilton County man and has a number of friends here.

Bonus—Compensation

Congress is in session and outside of the flaming speech made by the President on opening night, we presume the bonus payment occupies the brightest spot in the session. It is called a bonus by some. But, those who know the details call it an adjusted compensation, and those ex-soldiers who hold the adjusted compensation certificates call it "cash", as if and when it gets paid. Our guess is that the bonus will be paid and paid soon. If it is that adjusted compensation, back pay, due the ex-soldiers then let it come on. And the New Deal critics and bellicifers who want to overthrow the Democratic administration keep on retarding our present progress, then it might take the payment of the bonus to stimulate business.

Henry Long Is Bragging

Governor Bibb Graves may and may not have made some mistakes in selecting men to head various departments of state by appointment. He selected Henry Long to head Alabama's Tax Commission, and now Henry is bragging about his department. But, the truth remains that Henry has a right to boast of the accomplishments of the Tax Commission. That department has been doing some good work in catching up with the fellows who try to evade a tax. He is not "hard" on them, but these violators can easily understand that it doesn't pay to make the same mistake twice when it comes to paying taxes. Collections of the State Tax Commission are up, Mr. Long reports and his figures which cannot be questioned, bear him out in that statement.

The National Poll

Considerable stress is being laid on the apparent outcome of the national poll by some magazine or newspaper in regard to the popularity of Roosevelt. Personally, we put very little stock in these polls, whether they please us or cause wrinkles on our brow. Southern writers and newspapermen should be a little more economical than to use up paper, ink and time in trying to swing the South against Democracy. They should remember that "Rome was not built in a day." And too, since the ballots in this so-called national poll have, apparently, been few and far between in the South, it would appear now that is a bit of political strategy—the part of those wishing to defeat President Roosevelt in the 1936 election.

SUPREME COURT RULE KILLS AAA

SELMA ROAD SURFACING TO START

ENGINEER NOW ON JOB HERE

Judge Smith Says County Is Ready To Match State Funds

Work of paving the Clanton-Selma Highway will soon get underway if the weather permits, according to R.B. Burleson, State Highway engineer, under whose supervision the work will be done. It is understood that all appropriations have been made and the only thing that is preventing the beginning of the project is the inclemency of the weather.

In a recent election the people of Chilton County expressed a wish for the county officials to participate with the State and Federal governments in this project and Judge J. Lee Smith declared that the county is ready for the work to start. Chilton County's share of the expense will be paid at any time, he said.

The paving of this stretch of road, it is believed will mean much toward lessening the traffic along the Birmingham-Montgomery Highway as tourists and others enroute to South Alabama and Mississippi will likely go by way of Selma.

Using the same type of materials that were used in the construction of the four miles recently built here engineers of the State Highway Department aver that this will be one of the most serviceable roads in the State.

COUNTY HEALTH UNITS FUTURE IS IN BALANCE

Hearing Postponed; Report Of Unit, Is Made To Commissioners

A vote on whether or not Chilton County will appropriate $2,000 for the continuation of the County Health Unit, established here about a year ago, was postponed Monday until the next regular meeting of the County Commissioners.

Dr. J.M. Kimmey, county health officer, gave his annual report before the court at the session Monday morning, covering in brief detail the aims and accomplishments of the local unit during the past 12 months. Evaluating the services rendered the people of the county at $36,555.35, for an investment by the court of $1,666.00, Dr. Kimmey expressed belief that the wisdom of continuation of the work would be seen.

Senator Thomas Makes Correction Of Error

Recently, two daily newspapers of the state carried articles referring to the number of representatives and senators of Alabama who were still on the State's payroll, or who had relatives on the payroll. In this list is included the name of Senator Easle Thomas of Clanton.

In commenting on this to a representative of the News, Senator Thomas stated emphatically that he wished to correct the statement that he was on the payroll, saying that he is being paid for his services as vocational agriculture instructor at the county high school at present and outside of that is not receiving any money from the state until he is called back to Montgomery as Senator.

Mr. Thomas also stated that when he is serving as Senator on actual duty, his compensation here as vocational instructor is stopped during that time.

Peoples S. Bank Elects Officers And Pays Off

The thirty-fifth annual meeting of the stockholders of the Peoples Savings Bank of Clanton, Alabama was held January 1, 1936. All officers and directors were re-elected for the ensuing year. Stockholders were presented with dividend No. 35 and the balance of 1935 earnings was passed to the undivided profits account. The Peoples Savings Bank has entered its thirty-fifth year of service, having been established in 1901.

COTTON CHECKS ARE HELD UP DUE TO RULING OF COURT ON AAA

Triple A Program Has Meant Much To Chilton County; Figures Cited On Amounts Paid Into Co. During Life Of Program

"Let's Go Forward, Not Retreat"

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

A resume of the President's speech of last Friday night to Congress, will be found on page three of this issue of the News. His statements are of vital interest to every citizen of the United States.

At least 1629 Chilton County cotton growers are realizing now that there is more than one side to the recent action of the United States Supreme Court in declaring the AAA unconstitutional.

County Agent J.W. Fant received a wire Tuesday morning from Washington to discontinue issuing cotton parity checks, as the action of the Supreme Court put an end to the AAA programs. Furthermore the wire authorized him not to incur any further expense, so this automatically puts several persons here and in other counties out of a job.

The county agent's office received 1629 checks Monday, totaling $2,256.59 and had prepared a schedule of deliveries in the county when the wire was received authorizing discontinuance of payments.

Below is given a brief summary of what the program has meant to Chilton County:

The year of 1932—income from cotton and cotton seed, $439,500.00.

The year of 1933—income from cotton and cotton seed, $959,194.73.

The year of 1934—income from cotton, cotton seed and certificates sold, $1,201,602.68.

Several Are Sent To Hospital Here As Crash Victims

Two Chilton County men suffered severe injuries early Tuesday night when their car crashed into several guardrail posts on the Clanton-Birmingham Highway, near the Oak Grove School.

Heran Lowery suffered severe lacerations about the head and face, having his right ear almost torn from his head and losing considerable blood. Loyd Robinson, also of near Clanton, received several cuts about the face, including a deep gash on the bridge of his nose.

They were brought to the Central Alabama Hospital for treatment by a Martin & Sons ambulance. Dr. V.J. Gragg, staff surgeon, declared that he did not think either of the men were dangerously hurt, but said that Lowery was weak from loss of blood.

The accident occurred when, blinded by the bright lights of an approaching car, they left the road and dashed into these posts. Lowery, who was driving the car, blamed the heavy rain and lights of the other car for the accident.

ANTI-SALES TAX MEETING IS SET FRIDAY NIGHT

Two Speakers To Attend; Merchants, Farmers Urged To Attend

Called for the purpose of discussing the proposed sales tax which looms as one of the major objectives of the coming session of the Legislature of Alabama, a meeting will be held at the courthouse in Clanton on Friday, January 10, to which the general public is invited.

Tom Taylor, local chairman of the Consumers Anti-Sales Tax Association, and one of this county's widely known business men called the meeting and stated that Mr. W.B. Gill and Mr. Keeton Arnett, field workers of the association would attend the meeting, which is set for ten o'clock a.m.

Mr. Arnett is a brilliant speaker and Mr. Taylor stated he would bring a message of vital interest to every merchant, farmer and others in the county. A special invitation is extended to the merchants and farmers to attend the meeting. A thorough discussion of the proposed sales tax will be made, Mr. Taylor stated.

Tiffin Furn. Co. Expresses Thanks

J.B. TIFFIN

Declaring that customers have been unusually responsive to bargains offered in recent months, J. B. Tiffin, Manager of Tiffin Furniture Co., located on Sixth Street, south of the courthouse, this week expresses his appreciation in a nice display adv. elsewhere in this issue of the News. Mr. Tiffin declares that the late fall and holiday business has been unusually good with his concern, and early in the New Year, with prospects looking favorable to even larger growth and development, he wishes to assure his friends and customers that their business is always appreciated and that they may depend on him for better values throughout the coming months.

IS STUNNING BLOW TO NEW DEAL PROG'M

Affects More Than The Cotton Crops; Checks Are Held Up

COURT DECISION IS 6 TO 3 AGAINST PLAN

Washington, Jan. 6—The Supreme Court splintered AAA—second cornerstone of the New Deal—so completely today that previously planned patch work was all but forgotten.

An uncompromising 6-3 opinion not only wiped out President Roosevelt's cherished farm-aid program, but threw a shadow of doubt over other recent major legislation.

In shocked silence, the Administration leaders were called to the White House. They talked it over with the President for two hours. They emerged saying no decision had been reached to what to do.

Benefit payments to farmers—they have received $1,127,000,000 since 1933 for reducing crop production under AAA's plan of Federal control—were stopped immediately.

The White House conferees said Mr. Roosevelt hoped to find means under the decision to pay farmers who have fulfilled existing contracts—up to their invalidation today.

Proposals for a constitutional amendment were heard immediately—just as they were last Spring when the high tribunal unanimously struck NRA's deathblow.

Amendment Pending

Senator Costigan (D) Colorado, said that, "unless convinced that other early action will more definitely serve the public good," he will press for action on his amendment to give Congress the right to regulate agriculture production—and business and industry as well.

The opinion of the court majority, read by Justice Roberts, was called a "political stump speech" by irate Senator Bankhead (D), Alabama, whose cotton control act awaits a ruling by the justices on its validity.

Calling the decision "poor law," Rankhead said he had no doubt but that the court also would throw out the cotton act. There was similar fear for survival of the Kerr-Smith tobacco law, the potato control act, and similar farm measures, as well as the more important social security, Guffey coal control and Wagner labor disputes laws.

Justice Roberts held that AAA—as the agricultural adjustment act was called—invaded the "reserved rights of states" and was "beyond the powers delegated to the Federal Government."

In a vehement dissent, Justice Stone, Brandeis, and Cardozo declared that "courts are not the only agency of government that must be assumed to have the capacity to govern."

Other Legislation Threatened

As organized farm leaders proposed amending the Constitution, and stock and commodity markets reacted irregularly to the news, there was immediate speculation on the fate of New Deal legislation still to face the court's scrutiny.

What will happen, lawyers wondered, to such measures as the social security, Guffey coal control, Wagner labor disputes, and other laws based on the never-before limited power of Congress to legislate "for the general welfare."

The court's blow was the second to a major cornerstone of the New Deal. Last Spring it unanimously overthrew NRA codes through which the Government tried to regulate industry.

Vast political implications accompanied today's ruling. Mr. Roosevelt, who talked about "horse and buggy days" after NRA was killed, received the news while cloistered with Secretary Dern.

The cabinet member said the President "smiled," but declined to reveal what he said. Immediately, Secretary Wallace, Atty. Gen. Cummings, and congressional leaders were summoned to the White House for what a secretary described as a "preliminary conference," with others to follow in the next few days.

Court Defends Opinion

Justice Roberts' opinion denied that the court "assumes a power to overrule or control the action of the people's representatives," saying that its "delicate and difficult office" was merely to ascertain whether legislation is in accordance with the Constitution.

Justice Stone, however, declared that "the present act is held invalid, not for any want of power in Congress to lay such a tax to defray public expenditures . . . but because the use to (Continued to Back Page)

A Most Unfortunate Decision On The AAA

(An Editorial)

The AAA is no More.

Farmers of Chilton County, the state of Alabama and elsewhere have lost their worries so far as the AAA has caused them as long as it was in operation. But now, since the Supreme Court of the United States has ruled the Triple A as unconstitutional and stopped its work, our farmers now have the worry of when they will receive the remainder of the money coming to them under the program. That will hurt. It will hurt more right now than the little trouble they were put to in cooperating with the government on the cotton control plan.

In Chilton County there has been a fight waged against the Democrats "New Deal" and all its activities, including the cotton control program. This fight has been waged by a certain type leadership of Republicans of this county.

That fight has been won so far as the Triple A is concerned. It has been won only through the ruling of the highest court of these United States.

The purpose behind the fight against the Triple A in Chilton County, sponsored by Republican interests and anti-Roosevelt groups has been accomplished.

The Triple A has been killed—business is disturbed. Credit is uncertain.

If that is what these Republican interests have been fighting for, then to the victor belongs the spoils. They have won their fight to tear down that thing which was helping build our country. These same interests have been yelling "dictatorship."

Let's go back a little and in no uncertain terms, using facts—not just supposing, nor imagining—and see how far we are from a Dictatorship under the thumbs of the Supreme Court.

Who composes the Supreme Court of the United States?

Here's the answer. We quote from Howard Clapper, writer for Scripps-Howard newspapers and a schooled political observer:

"Look at the six men who have just undone the AAA which has operated for two and half years and made itself an integral part in the recovery of the country."

It's Their Worry

We still think the Republican gathering in Cleveland is going to be a most interesting get-together.

Of course, everyone there being a Republican, there will be a mighty opposition to the New Deal because only by removing the New Deal can good Republicans be given jobs again.

But if any of the delegates have the time to discuss records, it is going to be very embarrassing. Senator Borah, for instance, is among the leading contenders for the nomination, and it is not unlikely that his record will be looked up.

If it is, it will be disclosed that he voted "aye" in favor of at least 11 out of the 17 major pieces of legislation that composes the New Deal. Among other things Senator Borah voted for:

Inflation, invalidation of the gold clause, Tennessee Valley Authority, Gold Reserve Act, stock exchange control, silver purchase, social security, Wagner labor disputes act, AAA amendments, holding companies act and the 1935 works relief bill.

It can be readily seen that Senator Borah has been a supporter of the greater portion of New Deal legislation than the average Democratic senator and yet no patronage whip was held over his head! The Advertiser itself must admit that its batting average in favor of the New Deal has been only a shade better than that of the Idaho Senator.

The troublesome question of the Constitution will also be brought up and since Senator Borah is considered an eminent authority on that worthy organ, his record will doubtless be consulted on that score likewise.

The constitutionality of at least seven of the major phases of the New Deal out of the eleven favored by Senator Borah has been seriously questioned. Those that are either in the courts at present or have already been decided upon include:

Invalidation of the gold clause, Tennessee Valley Authority, stock exchange control, social security, Wagner labor disputes act, AAA amendments, and the holding company acts.

If Senator Borah, an authority, believed these acts were constitutional, how can the New Dealers be blamed for being of the same opinion?

Senator Borah has the largest personal following of any Republican mentioned for the nomination. It will be very embarrassing if the party leaders decide to attack the entire New Deal program when Senator Borah is known to have favored a major portion of it.

But then, if most of the eleven points favored by Senator Borah are not wholeheartedly condemned, it is equally difficult to understand how that wing of the party represented by the Liberty League will be satisfied. The Liberty League is opposed to the entire list of bills which Senator Borah favored, with but one possible exception.

There are other prospective candidates whose Senate records might make them more acceptable to the Liberty Leaguers and the Eastern wing of the party. Senator Arthur Vandenberg has the best batting average from this standpoint of any prospect. He has sided with the New Deal on only three of the seventeen issues—Gold Reserve Act, stock exchange control and social security.

Senator Dickinson, another who is prominently mentioned, has a record almost as good, favoring the New Deal on original AAA, inflation, TVA, stock exchange control and social security.

However, the Republicans are not particularly interested in either of these two, and so it looks as if someone is in for a lot of headaches in Cleveland this Summer.

Oh, well, let the G.O.P. worry about that.—Montgomery Advertiser.

Forward With Roosevelt

In a slashing, vigorous assault upon critics of the New Deal President Roosevelt in his address to the Congress and the people of the United States last Friday night, again proved himself the capable leader, the admirable statesman who will not be sidetracked, who will not dodge and hedge. The facts of the New Deal, its accomplishments, are not hidden. Few persons in America need to go far from their front door to see its developments. Men who, a short time ago, were without work, and without the necessities of life, are now in greatly improved conditions. Millions upon millions of citizens have benefitted from the varied features of the present Democratic administration.

Declaring that the way is open, President Roosevelt challenged his critics to seek "complete repeal of the long list of New Deal enactments."

That is a challenge his enemies may attempt, but will find difficult of attainment. Memories are not so short that we shall soon forget conditions brought about a few years ago by the same ones who now attack the present program.

The News does not underestimate the strenuous efforts which the opposition will make to defeat the President's program. But what have they to offer? The same leaders who are now attacking him have had opportunity for their kind of progress during years not long past. It proved to be a progress of the few, and calamity to the many.

It is no wonder that many features of the New Deal anger such politicians. Their concern is not the man who labors. It is no concern of theirs if millions go lacking for the very necessities of life. It means nothing to them if the aged are forgotten. Nothing matters except the right of those with power and influence to go their way without restriction.

President Roosevelt has recognized the ideal of giving an opportunity to all men—not just the few. He has striven toward a real democracy. No class of people has been overlooked. Insofar as it has been humanly possible the highest principles of justice and fairness have been exercised.

It is not surprising then, that he should stand before the Congress, and the American people and fling a challenge into the enemy camp. Since he has assumed the presidential duties his program has been one of advance. That some mistakes have been made President Roosevelt probably would be the last to deny. But outstanding progress has been made, nor has it been confined to classes, or sections.

In the concluding words of his address he said: "I recommend to the Congress that we advance; that we do not retreat."

That is the most pertinent matter before American citizens during the coming year. With Roosevelt we have advanced. With him we can have every reasonable expectation of advancing in the future. With those who oppose—the same leaders who had their chance with Hoover—we crashed, and if we put the same type of leadership in power again it would mean—to put it mildly—a retreat.

The News is ready to continue forward with Roosevelt. We believe that therein lies the best interests of American citizens.

The Fruits Of Cooperation

In a recent address, L. J. Taber, master of the National Grange, told his audience some of the things that cooperation does for the farmer.

It gives him a voice in the control of his own affairs, thus increasing his sense of responsibility and his value as a citizen.

It makes it possible for him to control the quality of both the commodities he buys and the commodities he sells.

It enables him to secure the type of service as to merchandising, packaging, distribution, etc., that best fits his needs.

It aids him in bettering the price received for his products, both by increasing his bargaining power and by showing him ways to increase quality.

It opens avenues of credit that he could not otherwise obtain.

Each of these points is of great importance—and they by no means exhaust the list. The fruits of cooperation are many—and the progressive farmer, is benefitting accordingly.

A statistician says marriages are most likely to go on the rocks between the fifth and tenth year. Provided, of course, that they last that long.

An explorer reports finding a South American tribe among whom husbands speak one language and wives another. Many would consider this an ideal arrangement.

MORAL ECHOES

D. W. Haskew

While sitting in my study looking out over my neighbor's back yard I observed the wires connected with the radio in their home. There were two wires placed in the air—one north and south and the other east and west. They were so placed as to form the emblem of the cross. This form of the cross in the air caught the voices of the air and brought in messages from the four corners of the earth. God has lifted His cross into the air above the world and when we connect ourselves with this aerial of God we can listen in on the wonders of eternity and immortality. We can hear the voice of God talking to us of His wonderful love and mercy. God's Calvary is God's trial by which and over which we can hear messages of eternity.

While traveling on the highway I came to a wrecked car and a number of people gathered by the roadside. Out on the grassy bank I saw a sheet spread over something and made in quiry. I was told that under that sheet was the form of one who had been mangled in the crash. The victim had been too horribly mangled for anyone to see, and the sheet was used to hide the product of the wreck. Many a time have we seen the wrecks of sin by the roadside of life. The ruin of a young woman, the fall of a young man, mangled and crushed under the wheels of corruption. The results of the public eye and so we try to cover up the victim under the sheet of forgetfulness. For the good of the rising generation we are hiding out too many of the victims of sin. Better let people know what sin will do and be warned.

In the early days of American history some Catholic priests came over from the old country and did missionary work among the Indians. They induced some Indian braves to submit to baptism at a creek bank. After the baptismal service the Indians gathered in council and debated loud and long over the matter and finally reached a conclusion that they did not want the baptism they had received and in body they returned to the same creek bank and proceeded to wash off the baptism that had been washed on. Other candidates than Indian braves had decided that they did not want the baptism that had been administered in a Christian church and by their way of living they have washed off what had been washed on.

Some of the kings in Ceylon were fighting against each other. Over the border the Portuguese looked on and boasted much of what they could do with their firearms in war. One of the kings invited the Portuguese to help him. They did so and drove out the enemies and then proceeded to take possession of the king and kingdom that he had been invited to protect. We see a man, a woman battling with pain. Morphine looks on and boasts how well he could defend the sufferer against pain. The sufferer takes the dose and sure enough the pain is gone, but the one using the dose is mastered by the one who has sought to bring help. Verily, verily, I say unto you, never invite anything to help you that is likely to master you.

A huntsman captured two small tiger cubs and carried them home to his children. The whole family enjoyed the little tiger cubs. Weeks and months passed and the cubs grew to be large tigers, and one day a little girl held out a small piece of fresh beef in her hand for the cat to eat. He snatched it from her and with the taste of fresh meat between his teeth he leaped upon the little girl's back and buried his teeth in her quivering flesh. A little tiger cub had grown to be a large tiger and there was sorrow in that home. How often do we see parents and children bringing home little habits and small sins. Like a tiger cub, they will grow to be dangerous. Bad habits grow large enough to master and kill.

Isabella School Activities

The teachers and students are preparing for mid-term examinations this week. The tests will begin in double periods according to the schedule. Everyone is working for these examinations and hoping the new semester will be successful.

Our new building is progressing slowly due to rainy weather, but the entire community hopes that the new Isabella school building will be completed before the second semester ends.

The Parent-Teachers Association will meet January 13th for another good program and some good speeches. All the parents are urged to attend.

Isabella basketball team won over Chilton High last Friday night in a basketball game. The score was 26-18. Harry Fox made 9 of the points, Williams, and Deason 5. Isabella will play Jemison this week.

We regret very much that schools are liable to close soon, and sincerely hope that something will be done to prevent this disaster.

We are sorry that Mr. Matthews was ill last week and unable to be with us.

PRESIDENT SEEKS TO KEEP NATION OUT OF WARS

ASSAILS AUTOCRATS OPPOSED TO PEOPLE'S LIBERTIES; CRITICS

Tells Congress No Further Taxes Needed; Asks Critics To Offer Something Better Than Program If They Dare

Friday, is sharp language. President Roosevelt made his annual message to a call upon Congress to protect the nation against foreign autocrats bent upon war and against such autocrats at home as seek to "gang up" on the people's liberties.

Planked with microphones which carried his words to the 1,200 of Washington's official and social elite who jammed into the brilliantly illuminated House chamber for the extraordinary joint session, the Chief Executive demanded a "well-ordered neutrality" and an "adequate national defense."

Then, slashing at critics of the New Deal in a manner almost unprecedented for an annual message, the President denounced what he called determined group—"entrenched greed"—which he said were seeking to regain domination of the National Government.

"I recommend to Congress that we advance; that we do not retreat," he said.

Although the President named no names in his attack on those he called foreign and domestic autocrats, there was no mistaking the sharpness of his attack on the new deal critics. In one reference, some observers thought he made guarded reference to the American Liberty League, but this remained a matter of speculation.

The President's audience, tense with the thought of a bitter political campaign ahead, punctuated his address with applause.

As he entered, the applause, punctuated by loud yells and stamping, lasted two minutes.

As he stood waiting for it to cease, the President took off his wrist watch and placed it on the raised manuscript pedestal in front of him.

The President spoke from the reading clerk's desk below the dais of Speaker Byrns. Grouped in front of him were the members of his cabinet, and behind them the members of the Senate, gravely listening. House members filled the rest of the chamber.

In the galleries, crowded to overflowing, sat only those fortunate enough to obtain tickets for admission to the glittering event.

The President spoke in measured tones, pausing now and then for emphasis.

Of strictly domestic problems, he said the Nation was approaching a balanced budget; that treasury revenues were increasing; relief burdens diminishing; and increased taxation neither advisable nor necessary.

Although the problems of neutrality and international relations occupied the major part of his address, his audience were even more intent upon the passages which might be applied to the bitter presidential campaign just in the offing.

Mr. Roosevelt did not disappoint them. Disposing of the neutrality question, he quickly challenged his critics to seek "complete repeal of the long list of new deal enactment."

"The way is open to such a proposal," he added.

"Let these challenges be met. If this is what these gentlemen want, let them say so to the Congress of the United States. Let them no longer hide their dissent in a cowardly generalities. Let them define the issue. We have been specific in our affirmative action. Let them be specific in their negative attack."

They themselves, he added, do not want to return to "that individualism of which they prate, even though the advantages under that system went to the ruthless and the strong." They realize, he said, that in 34 months the new deal has "built up new instruments of public power."

"In the hands of a people's government," he added, "this power is wholesome and proper. But in the hands of political puppets of an economic autocracy such power would provide a model for the liberties of the people. Give them their way and they will take the course of every autocracy of the past—power for themselves, enslavement for the public."

"Their only weapon is the weapon of fear. I have said: 'The only thing we have to fear is fear itself.' That is as true today as it was in 1933. But such fear as they distort today is not a natural fear, a normal fear; it is a synthetic, manufactured, poisonous fear that is being spread subtly, expensively and cleverly by the same people who cried in those days—'Save us, save us, else we perish.'"

The new deal, he said, has "earned the hatred of entrenched greed" and "determined groups" seek the "restoration of their selfish power." They, he said, "steal the liberty of great constitutional ideals to serve discredited special interests."

Mr. Roosevelt was unsparring in his condemnation of the leaders of foreign peoples, who, he said, seem bent upon war, not upon peace. He accused them of going counter to the wishes of peoples which have not access to chance in rules. And, he pointedly added:

"I recognize that these words which have chosen with deliberation will not prove popular in any nation which chooses to fit this shoe to its foot."

The point has been reached, he said, where the "people of the Americas must take cognizance of growing ill-effects of marked trends toward aggression, of increasing armaments—a situation which has in many of the elements that lead to the tragedy of general war."

In such a war-threatened world, he continued, the United States has sought to play the part of the "good neighbor"

tic policies."

"If the United States, as in the world at large, popular opinion is at war with a power-seeking minority," he said.

This issue was fought out in the making of the constitution, he added, and more recently "we have witnessed the domination of government by financial and industrial groups numerically small but politically dominant in the 12 years that succeeded the Word War." He continued:

"The present group of which I speak is indeed numerically small and, while it exercises a large influence and has much to say in the world of business, it does not, I am confident, speak the true sentiments of the less articulate but more important elements that constitute real American business."

"Quickly reviewing the New Deal as a 'new chapter in the history of government,' he asserted it "returned the control of the Federal Government to the City of Washington."

By way of emphasizing his challenge to the critics to seek repeal of New Deal laws, Mr. Roosevelt also mentioned what he saw as specific New Deal accomplishments. He asked a series of questions:

"Shall we say that because national income has grown with rising prosperity, we shall repeal existing taxes and leave them strictly alone? Shall we approach a balanced budget and of starting to reduce the national debt? Shall we abandon the reasonable support and regulation of banking? Shall we restore the dollar to its former gold content? Shall we say to the farmer—'the prices for your products are in part restored, now go an doze your own row?'" Shall we say to the home owners and debtors—"we have reduced your rates of interest—we have no further concern with how you keep your home or what you pay for your money, that is your affair?'" Shall we say to the several millions of unemployed citizens who face the very problem of existence—of getting enough to eat—"we will withdraw from giving you work, we will turn you back to the charity of your communities and to those men of selfish power who tell you that perhaps they will employ you if the government maintains your soup kitchen?'" Shall we say—"your problem is a local one except that perhaps the Federal Government as a act of mere generosity, will be willing to pay to your city or to your county a few grudging dollars to help maintain your soup kitchen?'" Shall we say to the children who have worked all day—"child labor is a local issue and so are your starvation wages; something to be solved or left unsolved by the jurisdictions of forty-eight States?'" Shall we say to the laborer—"your right to organize, your relations with your employer have nothing to do with the public interest; if your employer will not even meet with you to discuss your problems and his, that is none of our affair?'" Shall we say to the unemployed and the aged—"social security lies not within the province of the Federal Government, you must seek relief elsewhere?'" Shall we say to the men and women who live in conditions of squalor in country and in city—"the health and the happiness of you and your children are no concern of ours?'" Shall we expose our population once more by the repeal of laws to protect them against the loss of their honest investments and against the manipulations of dishonest speculators? Shall we abandon the splendid efforts of the Federal Government to raise the health standards of the nation and to give youth a decent opportunity through such means as the Civilian Conservation Corps?'"

And then:

"In the light of our substantial material progress, in the light of the increasing effectiveness of the restoration of popular rule, I recommend to the Congress that we advance; that we do not retreat. I have confidence that you will not fail the people of the nation whose mandate you have already so faithfully fulfilled."

BEST VARIETIES OF COTTON SEED NAMED

Auburn, Ala.—The best varieties of cotton for Alabama farmers to plant in 1936 can be determined from a report just issued by the Alabama Experiment Station, giving the results of cotton variety tests conducted on experimental stations and experimental fields throughout Alabama during the past three years.

"The Stoneville 3 and 5 and D. P. L. and 4-8 varieties have been found to be satisfactory in yield, staple length, and lint percentage for any section of Alabama which is not infested with cotton-wilt disease," says H. B. Tisdale, plant breeder of the state experiment station, in the report. "Other satisfactory varieties which may be considered for the wilt-free areas are Dixie Triumph, Cook 144, Cook 1627 (Wmson), and Piedmont Cleveland," he adds.

"The Cleveville, Dixie Triumph, and Cook 144 are good yielding wilt-resistant varieties that produce a staple around one inch in length," the plant breeder advises. "The Cook 912 and Cook 27-54 are good yielding wilt-resistant varieties that produce staple around 15-16 of an inch in length. The Cook 307 is a high-yielding wilt-resistant variety that will produce staple 7-8 to 1 inch in length under average seasonal conditions but under very dry seasonal conditions it will produce staples less than 7-8 of an inch."

After stating the experiment does not recommend varieties that produce less than 7-8 (or 2832) inch, Mr. Tisdale named the five leading varieties with the average yield of lint per acre and the length of staple in 1-32 inches for a three-year period in different sections of the state.

He advises farmers to study carefully the yields and staple lengths of various varieties of cotton before purchasing planting seed for 1936. A copy of the mimeographed report giving results of the tests may be obtained from county agents or by writing the Alabama Experiment Station at Auburn.

VAN SMITH TAKEN TO VET'S HOSPITAL FOR TREATMENT

Van Smith, brother of Probate Judge J. Lee Smith and a well-known resident of Clanton, who has been ill with pneumonia for several weeks, was taken Sunday to the Veteran's Hospital in Tuscaloosa for treatment.

Mr. Smith has been in failing health for some time and an attack of pneumonia almost proved fatal, but physicians expressed hope that treatment at the hospital may prove beneficial.

TAX COLLECTIONS FOR ALABAMA TAKE AN UPWARD JUMP IN 1935

Henry Long Announces Increase Of Large Amount Over 1934

A total increase of $2,609,731.86 in collections of State tobacco tax, in come tax and gasoline tax from Jan. 15, 1935, when the present administration began functioning, up to and including yesterday—compared with the same period in 1934-35, is shown in figures made public by Chairman Henry S. Long of the State Tax Commission. There was an increase of more than 100 per cent in income tax revenues.

Up to now, during this, the second administration of Gov. Graves, tobacco tax collections amount to $2,245,937.58, compared with $1,582,650.78 during the same period in 1934-35—an increase in collections being shown since Jan. 15 of last year, therefore, of $663,286.80. In addition there has been collected by the present Tax Department, penalties amounting to $41,838.33 for violation of the tobacco tax laws. This figure compares with penalty collections of $4,226.77 for the prior period. The net increase in tobacco tax revenue is, therefore, $700,880.36.

From Jan. 15, 1935, through yesterday, gasoline tax collections totalled $10,263,528 compared with $9,221,385.09 during the like period preceding—the increase during the former period over the latter in the income to the State from this source, being $1,042,142.93.

State income tax collected from the same date in January last year up to yesterday afternoon, amounted in all to $945,003.14. Collections of this tax for the same length of time in 1934-35 totalled $473,294.57. The increase in income tax revenue for the past approximately one year is, therefore, $471,708.57.

Revenue from the tobacco tax is used exclusively for education. Gasoline tax funds are expended on public roads by the State and counties. Returns from the income tax are used for payment of interest and principal of refunding bonds which replace the State Warrent Bonds issued during the last administration—the residue, if any, being used in reduction of ad valorem tax.

Banks Making Extra Charge On Checks

In an announcement published in the News recently, all banks are collecting an exchange fee on all checks drawn on banks outside of the town in which they are cashed or deposited.

This new ruling is to conform with certain regulations and the banks state must be carried out. The ruling became effective January 1st.

Berman Cadle Denied New Trial By Glover

Judge Arthur Glover overruled a motion for a new trial for Berman Cadle, convicted twice in Circuit Court here in connection with the alleged robbery of an old woman in the northern section of the county, at a special hearing Monday.

The motion was made by Cadle's attorneys, Reynolds & Reynolds. About a year ago, the youth was convicted of robbery and given a sentence of 10 years imprisonment, but a new trial was secured. In the second trial he was convicted of assault and fined $200 and court costs.

McAdory Announces Posts Of Highway Patrolmen; All Are Now On Jobs

Announcing distribution and assignment of his entire force of 74 men so that their activities will cover every neck and corner and every trunk road in Alabama, Chief Walter K. McAdory, of the State Highway Patrol force, said last night that the entire organization, 40 mounted on motorcycles and 34 in high speed automobiles, officially began to function Tuesday morning.

Chief McAdory, who as head of the force will supervise its operations from department headquarters here, said that Capt. Potter Smith would be stationed in Montgomery and be in immediate command of forces in the territory extending from Montgomery, south, including Mobile County. Capt. Van Buren Gilbert, he said, would be stationed at Decatur, and would be in command of forces in the territory north of Montgomery.

While their stations will be in Montgomery and Decatur, respectively, the chief said, Capt. Smith and Capt. Gilbert will be subject to call to duty elsewhere in the State, whenever the occasion requires; and that in the performance of their regular duties their operations can extend to any part of Alabama.

Calera and surrounding territory: Officers W. B. Ozley and Louis Tippet. Clanton and adjoining sections: Officers Wallace Waites and Earl Henley.

Officers J. W. McClung and John H. Linch, Chief McAdory stated, will serve as special investigators for the Patrol.

Laws To Be Enforced
Special instructions have been issued to all officers, the Chief announced. He enforced speed regulations, and the rule and regulations provided by law as to the width, height and lighting of motor trucks and motor buses. The speed limit on the highways of Alabama, he recalled, is 45 miles an hour for private automobiles and passenger buses, and 30 miles an hour for trucks. He has also instructed officers to see to it that motor vehicles have proper brakes; and that all trailers comply with legal specifications.

"I have issued strict orders," Chief McAdory stated, "that in every case where a person is found operating an automobile, motor truck or other motor vehicle, while drunk—the officer is to turn both the car and the driver over to the Sheriff of the county in which he happens to be at the time."

Sobriety Mandatory
"I have also told all officers it is an unbreakable rule of the Patrol for that all of its members stay sober on and off duty, and that any violation of this rule will bring instant dismissal. Warning was given by the Chief to all motorists, that if they are caught by an officer while attempting to pass another car on a hill beyond which they cannot possibly see another vehicle that might be approaching in the opposite direction; or attempting to pass another car on a curve—they will receive a "ticket" for reckless driving. It will be a part of the duty of officers, he said, to tell pedestrians observed walking on the wrong side of the highways of the risk they are running—and instruct them they should always face the traffic, not walk in the same direction in which traffic is proceeding."

Courtesy Cards
Many "courtesy cards" calling the attention of motorists to defects in lights and brakes have already been issued by the officers to drivers of cars and trucks. A large number of these cards have been received at his office from garage and repair men. Mr. McAdory said, showing that needed repairs changes have been made. "Hereafter," added, motorists who disregard the "courtesy cards" will receive a "ticket" at the same time, he stated, he greatly appreciate the prompt report of any discrepancy by a Patrol officer to any citizen.

Chief McAdory will receive daily and weekly reports from all headquarters and stations. His office, he announced, would be open and night. It has a direct long-distance telephone line connection, number being 9914.

Mr. Will Cone of Columbiana, was a business visitor here Saturday.

S. S. CONVENTION TO BE HELD HERE IN JANUARY

300 Expected To Attend Meeting Set For January 15th

The Southern Division of the Alabama Baptist Sunday School Convention will meet in Clanton at the First Baptist Church for a three-day session January 15-17, according to announcement this week by Dr. S. J. Ezell, pastor of the local church.

With outstanding Sunday school leaders of the South to appear on the program, Dr. Ezell declared that this is going to be one of the greatest conventions ever to come to Clanton. He is urging all Sunday school workers in both the Unity and Chilton Baptist associations to make arrangements to attend as much as possible during the entire session. Especially, he stated, are officers and teachers urged not to miss this opportunity of enjoying a great program.

At least 300 delegates from outside Chilton County are expected to attend. Because of the lack of sleeping quarters available, the Rev. J. W. Jones, of Thorsby, and the Rev. J. E. Hamric, of Verbena, have been appointed on a committee to help in finding places for the delegates to stay while here. Those who have space to spare for any of these people are urged to get in touch with either Mr. Jones or Mr. Hamric and let them know how many they can care for.

Recreational Centers
Established In County

According to information given the News three recreational centers have been established in Chilton County for the purpose of supplying opportunity for adult recreation. These centers are located at Clanton, Verbena and Jemison, but plans are to include all of the county in the program.

This is a federal project, a phase of the WPA, under direction of Miss Ella Jane Shepard who is District Recreational Supervisor. Plans call for the establishment of Reading Rooms, sponsoring amateur theatricals, outings and other forms of helpful recreation. It is stated that donations of books and magazines for this purpose will be appreciated.

It was also stated that local co-operation will be required if the program is to be fully effective, and those in charge expect to appear before the City Council of Clanton and the Commissioners Court for aid along this line.

A local Advisory Council composed of Mayor C. Fenn Jones, C. H. Pipes and Mrs. P. C. Smith has been appointed.

Chilton Pioneer Is Laid To Rest Sunday

Funeral services for W. H. (Uncle Billy) Wright, 84, one of the pioneers of this section, who died last Saturday at the home of his nephew, Burns Marsh, in Bessemer, were held Sunday day and interment was held in the Clanton cemetery with Martin & Sons in charge.

A lifelong resident of this section, "Uncle Billy" was really a landmark in the progress of Clanton and Chilton County. He pioneered this country, living here when this was still Baker County and before when it was a part of Autauga. He saw the first train that rolled through Clanton, and he was one of the figures that contributed to present-day Chilton County.

He joined the Masonic Fraternity in 1877 and was an honorary member at his death of Clanton Lodge No. 423 A.F. & A.M.

Surviving him are one brother, Bob Wright, of Mississippi, and one sister, Mrs. Ed Marsh, of Bessemer.

The following friends served as pallbearers: V. J. Elmore, W. H. Sartor, F. J. Callen, M. C. Broadhead, Evan Parrish, and H. T. Pipes.

Mrs. J. W. Hayes, Mrs. Hattie Alred, Miss Margaret Floyd, Miss Lorena Guy and Bess and Helen Hayes motored to Montgomery Saturday afternoon.

tion fee covers Literary Society dues, subscription to Current Events and athletic dues. If it is more convenient to pay by the term (six weeks) the charge is $45.00 a term, or $135.00 for the three terms, of the semester—plus one dollar registration fee due at the beginning of first term. The school is only those who are in earnest about an education, and does not want those who smoke. High school pupils cannot do their best work and smoke.

A week from Saturday night the Helen Keller Literary Society will hold an open meeting. An interesting program of short plays, etc., is being planned by Mr. Sutlive and Mr. Maddox.

On February 8 Miss Foss will present her music pupils in a recital to which the public is invited. No admission will be charged.

On Sunday night, February 16, the Institute Girls' Glee Club expects to give a program of vocal music at the Presbyterian church, at Prattville, of which Rev. J. M. Graham D. D. is pastor.

Give V-T Treatment a Trial
It has helped others--Let it help you

Mr. J. A. Nash, age 65, well known citizen of Tuscaloosa, Ala., says: "For years I have suffered from a bad case of rheumatism and ulcerated stomach. I have tried many remedies and even went to Hot Springs, but never got any results from any, but now, after taking just four bottles of the V-T Treatment, I no longer suffer from rheumatism, have no aches or pains, and can eat and digest anything I want to without any bad effects. In fact, I feel better and look better than I have in years. I give V-T full credit for this improvement in my health."

DEMONSTRATION CLUBS MADE SPLENDID PROGRESS LAST YEAR

Annual Report Submitted By Miss Ruth Pardue, Agent, Shows Substantial Sums Made
And Saved By Club Members

Evaluating the benefits of home demonstration work to the people of Chilton County during the past twelve months at $113,680.34, Miss Ruth Pardue, county home demonstration agent, delivered her annual report to the members of the County Commissioners Court at the regular session Monday morning.

Giving a brief summary of the various phases of the work, Miss Pardue outlined the benefits that have accrued from the program and have been reaped by Chilton County's farm families in the forms of saving of clothing bills and by food preservation.

Aside from the actual monetary value that can be placed on each year's accomplishments, it was explained that to a great extent these accomplishments will be made permanent by the fact that lessons learned will continue to be put into practice as the years roll by. By way of assuring the court of the people's interest in the activities of the program, it was shown that 14,563 club women attended the various meetings held over the county during the last year.

Below is given a summary of Miss Pardue's work:

The Fight Is On, O'Neal Declares At AAA's Death

Asserting the "fight is on" with "all gloves off" President A. O'Neal of the American Farm Bureau Federation summoned today a special meeting of its directors to plan a new farm program on the wreck of the AAA.

"Those who believe the American farmer is going to stand idly by and watch his program for economic equality and parity for which he has fought more than a decade swept into the discard will be badly mistaken" said the farm bureau head in a statement following word of the Supreme Court's ruling that the new deal's agricultural measure was unconstitutional.

"I consider this decision a stunning blow to national economic recovery," the statement continued, adding:

"The program launched by organized agriculture must go forward. We are looking to Congress to take specific steps which will provide by legislation the mechanism by which agricultural parity is to be continued. It is up to Congress to provide the legislation within the provisions of the constitution."

"If the constitution in its present form makes it impossible for all groups to enjoy economic equality, steps will be taken immediately to amend the constitution so that the rights of all citizens will no longer be jeopardized."

O'Neal's statement which called the directors to meet in the national capital this week did not indicate whether they would propose a constitutional amendment which would permit re-enactment of the AAA.

O'Neal intimated that mass meetings of farmers would be scheduled at once in 1,800 counties in which his organization's estimated 500,000 farm family members reside, to develop a substitute program for the AAA.

If Cardui does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

Frank Palmer Gets Promotion In Work

Friends of Frank Palmer, local representative of the Investors Syndicate, with headquarters in Birmingham will be glad to learn that he has recently been promoted to the position of district manager by his concern.

Mr. Palmer has been doing some splendid work in his line, according to the President of the Syndicate who recently complimented Mr. Palmer on his increase in business. The district under Mr. Palmer is the northern part of the state and also includes Chilton County. Mr. Palmer stated that he attributes a great deal of his credit for promotion to Chilton County as his business here has been most pleasing.

He also stated that his promotion does not mean that he will be kept away from this county but that he will continue to make regular trips here as in the past. He recently held the state organization in personal production for the past three months.

ALABAMA PRODUCERS GROWING MORE MEAT

Auburn, Ala.—Alabama farmers are making progress in growing meat at home for some consumption reveals F. W. Gist, state and federal agricultural statistician, in a special pig report.

Gist said that 10 per cent more pigs were saved in Alabama from June 1 to December 1, 1935, than during the same period in 1934. A total of 297,000 pigs were saved compared with 220,000 in 1934.

"Reports indicate that the farrowing of sows next spring will show an increase of 18 per cent over last spring," he says.

MRS. J. H. MARTIN PASSES AWAY

On December 11, 1935 the death angel visited the home of Mr. J. H. Martin and called away the spirit of his wife, Mrs. Susan Alabama Martin, age 65.

For many years Mrs. Martin has been a consistent member of Providence Baptist church, and this entire church and surrounding community will greatly miss her and many loving friends deeply sympathize with the bereaved family.

Mrs. Martin leaves to mourn her loss, her husband, J. H. Martin, four sons, W. P. Martin, of Donaldsonville, Ga.; E. M. Martin, of Clanton, and O. B. and J. E. Martin of Jemison, seven daughters, Mrs. Birdie Cofer of Quinton, Ala.; Mrs. Orville Killingsworth of Montevallo and Mrs. Lillie Bean, Mrs. Hattie Reynolds, Mrs. Jewel Gotthard, Mrs. Lester Lucas, Mrs. Violet Shaw of Jemison.

Mrs. Martin was laid to rest in Providence cemetery on Friday following her death. The Rev. Johnnie Martin of Brent and the Rev. R. M. Honeycutt of Jemison conducted the funeral, Martin & Sons of Clanton in charge of the interment.

Sorrowing friends are asking the Lord to heal the broken hearts.

John Eastman, 85, of Hawarden, Ill., sought re-election as village cop.

STRAW LOFT PROTECTS POULTRY FROM COLD

Auburn, Ala.—A straw loft in the poultry house is a big aid in helping throw off slumps in egg production during extremely cold spells, advises John E. Ivey, extension poultryman.

The straw loft construction is the least expensive of several satisfactory ways of insulating the hen house ceiling, because most of the material used is generally available on the farm, he says. Where the poultry house is of the shed-roof type, the type most commonly used in Alabama, the farmer places a wire or slats on underside of rafters and fills with straw or pine needles. Farmers with pointed top poultry houses construct a light framework of poles or of 1 by 2 or 2 by 2 inch lumber at head-room height in the poultry house, covering the framework with wire netting, then filling the space between the false ceiling and the roof with straw.

The straw insulation does not add to the problem of poultry mite and lice control and need not be changed each year unless exposed to an outbreak of a contagious poultry disease. Neither does a straw loft control or aggravate dampness in the hen house.

The straw loft not only reduces the cubic air space but also reduces the amount of heat lost through the roof, where the greatest amount of heat is otherwise lost, Ivey points out.

Miss Meroney Thanks People For Donations

To the People of Chilton County:

On behalf of the Department of Public Welfare, I wish to take this opportunity of thanking those groups and individuals who so graciously and unstintingly gave their time and service to the Department in the assembling and delivering of Christmas toys for our children. I wish especially to thank the following:

Miss Callie Watts, for her splendid donation of hats to go along with the toys; Verbena P.-T.A.; the Ladies Class of Jemison Baptist Sunday School; Mrs. Hattie Alred and her staff of workers on the sewing project of the W. F. A.; the Farm Foreman; Clanton Kiwanis Club; Hayes Chevrolet Company; Commissioner Howard Oden; Mr. Fate Littlefield; Mr. Manuel Littlefield; Mr. Harry McClure; Mr. Woody Kaminsky; Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Little; Miss Icie Belle Coburn; Mr. Glover McKinney; The Rev. S. J. Ezell and numerous others who assisted in carrying out the project. Space does not permit my mentioning the names of each person who aided us in this project but to each one we wish to express our heartfelt gratitude. We feel sure that each one participating in this project was amply rewarded through the knowledge that many little hearts in Chilton County were made happy through his, or her, efforts.

Through the cooperation of these individuals and groups, 3,266 toys were delivered to underprivileged children in Chilton County during the Christmas season.

It is our sincere hope that no child in Chilton County was neglected by Santa Claus during the holiday season.

HE might HAVE BEEN A GREAT BUILDER...

BUILDING BLOCKS fascinated John as a little fellow. He would spend long hours with them on the floor. "I am going to build tall buildings when I am grown," he often declared. His parents felt certain he would.

But one day, when he had grown to young manhood, he learned the saddening truth. His health had failed. He could no longer continue his engineering course at college. Eye-strain was a contributing cause.

Today John has a job. He makes a "living." But the tall buildings are being built by someone else!

This story may have had a happier ending—if John's parents had realized the dangers of eye-strain; and guarded against it with proper lighting.

AAA KILLED

which its proceeds are put is disapproved.

"The removal of unwise laws from the statute books appeal lies not to the courts but to the ballot and to the processes of Democratic government."

A few minutes after the opinion had been read, new farm legislation was projected in Congress by Senator McNary, of Oregon, the Republican leader.

Secretary Wallace's aides looked themselves in their offices and strove to discover whether AAA was smashed beyond repair or whether means had to be found to pay approximately $500,000,000 due farmers on crop adjustment contracts still unpaid.

New Tax Levies Likely

President Roosevelt had said that if processing taxes, through which farm payments were financed, were held invalid, he would ask new levies to raise the half-billion.

There was some dispute, however, in view of the extent of the tribunal's decision, whether even this could be done. Justice Roberts said:

"Appropriations and expenditures under contracts for proper governmental purposes cannot justify contracts which are not within Federal power. And contracts for the reduction of acreage and the control of production are outside the range of that power."

The courtroom was jammed with notables and frock-coated lawyers as the nine justices entered at 12:02 p.m.—two minutes late. Corridors outside were filled with those anxious to witness the impending drama.

Mrs. Owen J. Roberts, wife of the Justice, was present. She looked intently at her husband as he began to speak the fateful words. Not once did he refer to his manuscript. "We are not now required," he said in strong, forceful voice, "to ascertain the scope of the phrase 'general welfare of the United States' or to determine whether an appropriation in aid of agriculture falls within it."

"Wholly apart from that question, another principle embedded in our constitution prohibits the enforcement of the Agricultural Adjustment Act. The act invades the reserved rights of the states. It is a statutory plan to regulate and control agriculture, a matter beyond the powers delegated to the Federal Government."

"The tax, the appropriation of the funds raised and the direction for their disbursement are but parts of the plan. They are but means to an unconstitutional end."

AUTO WRECKS

grateful that they were not killed Saturday night in an automobile collision that put six in the Central Alabama Hospital. Although no one was fatally injured, those who view the cars declared they could not believe occupants of one of the machines could have possibly escaped with their lives. It was completely demolished.

Injured were: Robert Veto Whitfield, a member of the local C. C. C. Camp, who suffered severe lacerations about the head and face when he struck the windshield; Wallace Jones, of Lomax, broken left arm and cuts about his face; Mrs. Wallace Jones, back injury; Miss Susie Jones, sprained back; and Everett Jones, 11, severe scalp wound.

They were all given treatment at the Central Alabama Hospital where they were taken in Martin & Sons and Spigener ambulances. The wreck occurred directly in front of the Fairview Service Station, three miles north of Clanton, on the Clanton-Birmingham Highway.

After undergoing treatment at the hospital, Whitfield was locked in the Chilton County jail, charged with stealing the automobile, owned by Robert Sumner of Clanton, which he was driving when he collided with the Jones car.

Whitfield had recently been transferred from the Weogufka camp. Mr. Sumner said that his car was taken from in front of a home on the Clanton-Mapleville highway, near the CCC camp.

Lloyd Hawes, 18, of Mountain Creek, suffered severe chest injuries early Saturday night when his car overturned near Marbury, according to reports from the Central Alabama Hospital where he was brought for treatment.

Attendants at the hospital said Monday that his injuries were not thought to be serious, but stated that he had complained considerable of pains in his chest. Several weeks ago he had three ribs broken and it was believed that the fall from the car Saturday night had aggravated this condition.

TWO SENTENCED IN CITY COURT HERE LAST WEEK

At a special session of City Court last Friday morning Mayor C. Fenn Jones imposed sentences on two who faced charges of violation of the prohibition laws. One was given a jail sentence of 60 days and the other was sentenced to serve ten days on the city streets.

Miss Grace Archer, 76, of Leyland, Eng., has begun her 57th year as a teacher of dancing.

HEALTH UNIT

urging them to continue this work up to which he said no monetary evaluation could really be placed. He cited figures of preventable diseases in this county during past years, and explained that a properly-functioning health unit can and will eventually eradicate these diseases which take a total of near fifty lives in this county each year.

Persons close to members of the court declared that they have no apprehension as to the commissioners' action regarding the continuation of the unit. They, it was said, are men—capable of recognizing the essentialness of this work to the health of their constituency and will in all probability be unanimous in their vote of approval.

Supt. Luther E. Little explained that the County Board of Education is heartily in favor of the work and declared that it has 100 per cent approval of the board, which has already made its annual appropriation for the continuation of the work here. "We realize," he stated, "how much physical defects handicap children in their studies and we are anxious to cooperate with any facilities for remedying these conditions."

Mrs. Lucy Parnell, of Mapleville, also spoke in favor of continuing the program, declaring that her position as the wife of a physician has made her realize just how badly health work is needed in Chilton County, and that much of it cannot possibly be done by the practicing physician.

AMAZING NEW CAR FOR $640

So economical that already owners from coast to coast are reporting record-smashing economy—18 to 24 miles to the gallon of gasoline—this big, new, money-saving Dodge is now priced even lower than last year . . . as low as $640, list price at factory, Detroit. More luxuriously appointed than ever before . . . bigger, more spacious . . . the car that noted auto editors and fashion authorities have acclaimed the "Beauty Winner" of 1936, this magnificent, new Dodge is now priced only a few dollars more than the lowest-priced cars. See and drive this new Dodge today. See the free economy test. Find out for yourself why owners are saying this big car actually costs less to own than small, lowest-priced competitive cars.

A MOST UNFORTUNATE DECISION ON THE AAA

would still be too practical-minded to have made this retreat back almost to the days of the confederation.

"The senior is Van DeVanter, 76 years old, who was placed on the throne by Taft in 1910 after a small career as a lawyer in Wyoming where he also doubled in REPUBLICAN state politics.

"The chief justice is one of the ablest men in the country, and breadth of statesmanship. Yet he was rejected by the country when he ran as a REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT in 1916.

"McReynolds was a small-time Tennessee lawyer, whose friends got him into the Wilson Cabinet and then on the Supreme bench, a man whose decisions have shown the most narrow legalistic conception of American problems.

"Butler was a Minnesota corporation lawyer, known as an extreme reactionary before HARDING put him on the bench.

"Sutherland was a Utah lawyer who became a REPUBLICAN SENATOR for one term, when he was retired by the voters and later rescued and put on the bench by Harding.

"Those are the mighty men who have scrapped AAA. They are the men who have made themselves the supreme custodians of the nation and who have assumed the right to dictate what the nation shall do to save itself from distress. They are the men who have said to the Government, after failing in every other attempt to restore equilibrium of farm prices, shall not continue with the one method which in a trial of two and a half years has great alleviated the situation.

"These six men tell us we can't do it. They get away with it because John Marshall, while engaged in a desperate political battle with Jefferson, did. NOTHING IN THE CONSTITUTION SAYS THIS CAN."

"Roosevelt has his issue now, if he wishes to accept it. Is this Government of, by and for the people, or the Supreme Court?"

Many have protested against Roosevelt's tendencies toward dictatorship. More dangerous is such judicial dictatorship because the Supreme Court DOES NOT have to come before the people for re-election. Their's is a life-time job.

Unless some program is found to replace the Triple A cotton plan immediately, farmers' credit in Chilton County and elsewhere will be shaken to its very foundations and possibly shattered completely.

Yes, it is regrettable. It is almost disastrous. But the word of the mighty Supreme Court is the last and those certain Republican interests in Chilton County who have been fighting and are fighting the "New Deal" have won their point. The Democrats will not stop trying, however, and we believe some means will be found to pay those obligations incurred to the farmers through the Triple A, even though it may be delayed.

As our columnist friend puts it "there is no use being dainty any longer in discussing the court. It is politics up to its neck."

The court gave out a plain and fair warning in its scrapping of the Triple A that the other New Deal measures are doomed at their hands in the same way just as soon as it can get to this grim task—or as soon as the court can piece together the technical legal pretexts to support its political opinions.

Another Record SMASHED With 1,834 lbs. Butterfat

With your help all past records were broken last Saturday when we purchased a total of 1,834 lbs. of butterfat from Chilton County producers. A total of more than $550.00 was paid for this butterfat. This record convinces us that producers appreciate the effort being made to furnish a good market for butterfat and the cooperation we have received is gratifying.

AND A

New UCC 6 per cent Finance Plan

V-8

Any New Ford V-8 Car Can Now Be Purchased for $25 a Month With Usual Low Down-Payment

This $25-a-month time-payment plan enables you to buy a New Ford V-8 car through your Ford dealer on new low monthly terms.

After the usual low down-payment is made, $25 a month is all you have to pay for any type of new car, including insurance and financing.

Your cost for this extension of credit is only one-half of 1 per cent a month on your original unpaid balance and insurance. This plan reduces financing charges for twelve months to 6 per cent. For example, if you owe a balance of $400 for your car and insurance, you pay $24 for the year of credit; if the balance is $200 you pay $12. Your credit cost for one year is the original unpaid balance multiplied by 6 per cent.

UCC plans provide you with insurance protection at regular conference rates. You have not only fire and theft insurance, but $50 deductible collision, and protection against other accidental physical damage to your car.

The Universal Credit Company has made these plans available through all Ford dealers in the United States.

Farm Income Doubled During Life Of AAA

Auburn, Ala.—Cotton prices more than doubled during the life of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, which was passed the past week by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Not only did the price of cotton double but the farm cash income in the state increased from $58,605,000 in 1932 to $114,162,000 in 1934. The farm cash income in the United States in 1932 was $4,328,000,000 compared with an estimated cash income of $6,800,000,000 for 1935.

These figures are given by Dr. L. V. Duncan, director of the State Extension Service, in reviewing the fact that progress was being made in solving some of the knotty agricultural problems before the AAA was declared unconstitutional.

MISS ROBERTS OF CLANTON COMPOSES COLLEGE SONG

Montgomery, January 8. (Special) Huntingdon College students voted on the "Song of the Year" at the meeting in Student Forum Tuesday morning. The song selected is a composition with words by Miss Mary Scott Haygood, of Evergreen, and music by Miss Jane Roberts, of Clanton.

The song, consisting of two stanzas and a chorus, was originally submitted to the student body with half a dozen others on Huntingdon College Day December 9. At that time all the original college songs were sung by a sextet of students. Since then the girls have had opportunity to become familiar with them and the voting Tuesday morning was to select the favorite from the group.

The new song which has no title, will be used at student assemblies and pep meetings during the year and will be added to the other college songs when the new handbook is issued.

Miss Haygood is prominent in literary activities on the campus and is president of the Huntingdon Chapter of Chi Delta Phi, national literary sorority. Miss Roberts is college pianist and is president of the Huntingdon Glee Club.

Gulf Dealers Of Ala. Map 1936 Plans

Approximately 90 representatives of the Gulf Refining Company from Alabama met Tuesday at the Thomas Jefferson Hotel to discuss plans for 1936. The meeting was to last all day and will be followed by further conferences Wednesday culminating in a luncheon Wednesday noon.

Arrangements for the meeting were handled by J. B. Kelley, Birmingham agent. In addition to the Alabama representatives, the following company officials were in attendance and spoke to the gathering: H. G. Meador, division manager; C. J. Guzzo and R. F. A. Benson, assistant division managers; R. V. Coghlan, advertising managers; J. W. Bye and T. F. Cramer, all of New Orleans.

Mr. Meador said that in 1935 Gulf showed fine improvement, and that in view of greatly improved conditions in Alabama, he expected 1936 to be the banner year for Gulf in this state.

Son of Com. Duke Is Hurt In Accident

Morris Duke, son of Com. C. D. Duke, who received slight injuries in an automobile mishap late Saturday afternoon was dismissed from the Central Alabama Hospital Monday.

Although terribly sore, he is expected to soon recover. He suffered a wrenched back, but Dr. V. J. Gragg, staff physician and surgeon, declared that he does not anticipate any permanent ill effect.

The accident occurred just out of Clanton on the Higgins Ferry road when the car in which he was riding failed to make a curve. Young Duke leaped from the car and was pinned against an embankment. Other occupants of the car were uninjured.

Mountain Springs

Next Sunday is our regular preaching day. Sunday school at 10 o'clock in the morning. Preaching at 2 and 7 o'clock in the evening.

Let us begin the new year by attending church and Sunday school regular. If you fail to be here you will miss two good messages by our able pastor, the Rev. L. L. Stanley. The Sunday school elected new officers and teachers for the new quarter.

On January 20, we are planning on a spend the day at the church for the purpose of doing some repair work and setting shrubbery. We would like for everyone who is interested in the church to keep this date in mind and meet there with necessary tools, etc.

We are very sorry to hear of Mrs. Matt Stephens being ill, also of the death of Mr. and Mrs. Gore's baby. We extend to them our heart-felt sympathy.

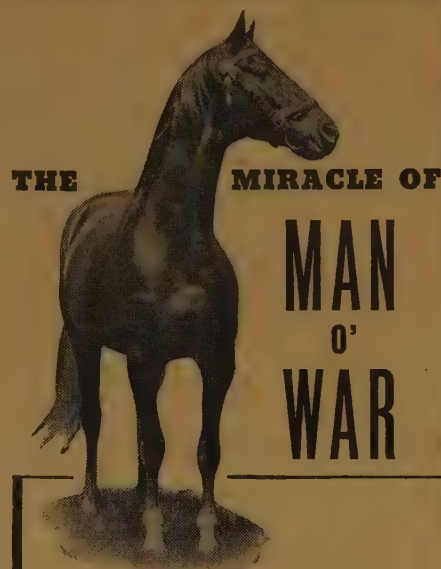

Mr. Carl Lillie of Ohio is at home with his family on the Lay Dam road. On the road between the church and Lay Dam road, glance to your right and left and see the preparations for two new home sites. Mr. Marvin Rutherford and Mr. Erwin C. Williamson are planning to build way out on the mountain.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Giles are moving into the new home being built by Mr. Leander Wagner.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Rutherford and family of Clanton were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Williamson Sunday.

We want to urge everyone in this community who do not attend church and Sunday school elsewhere to come and be with us in our services every Sunday. You are welcome. Let us make this the most prosperous year of all in our church work.

AMONG ALL THE HORSES that have thrilled sports-loving America, Man O' War holds first place. Nature favored him as she did no other. To him she gave her greatest gift—perfect natural balance of all the elements that go to make a champion.

Back through the ages, Nature began the miracle of Man O' War. Speed from one strain, courage from another, endurance from still another—blended at last into perfect balance in this horse with the natural ability to prove his superior qualities every time he ran. A champion in every respect.

And here's another champion—another of Nature's miracles—Natural Chilean Nitrate. With its natural balance of vital impurities over and above its nitrogen, this natural fertilizer stands out as a champion should, by its everlasting ability to produce. Nature herself blended the vital spark into Natural Chilean. It's there—the natural blend and balance of many elements—the vital impurities. That's why Natural Chilean is the logical nitrogen for your crops.

Jemison F. H. A. Helps Santa Claus

On January 1, the Jemison Chapter held its first meeting for the year. A very interesting program was arranged, during which the lives of famous women were given. This was followed by a series of New Year games.

Poems were made for a mother-daughter-father-son, banquet in cooperation with the F. H. A. boys.

Annie Louise Spencer reported on the use of the Christmas gifts given by the F. H. A. to an unfortunate family. On December 20, the packages were wrapped by the members and carried to Miss Spencer's home. On Christmas eve night she left them on the unfortunate's doorstep. We feel that our club helped Santa Claus in one home where otherwise he would have been unable to have visited.

Isabella School Activities

The F. H. A. Chapter met Wednesday, January 8, to present the following program:

Statistic figures on votes from different states about the continuance of the AAA, by Chalmers Jones.

The public opinion about the Supreme Court ruling the AAA unconstitutional, by Willard Davenport.

This chapter is constructing signs for the F. H. A. and F. H. A. clubs of Isabella to be erected at various places leading to the school. There are several achievements that we hope to accomplish in the future by the cooperation of all its members.

The F. H. A. Club was called to order by the president, Frances Sexton, January 8. The program was as follows:

Devotional—Gladys Turner.

The minutes were read and roll was called by the secretary, Mary Carr Mims.

The Life of Ellen H. Richards—Sara Calfee.

Jokes—Frances Mims.

Business; the plan in helping the F. H. A. chapter with the Isabella F. H. A. and F. H. A. signboards was agreed upon.

We selected for our F. H. A. club motto, "Face Your Troubles with High Courage." Our song is "Club Song."

The Cosmopolitan Literary Society discussed business and the program was short. A long and interesting program was planned for the next meeting.

Clanton Methodist Church News

Rev. A. E. Middlebrooks, Minister

We join with our Baptist friends giving a welcome to the delegates to the Sunday School Convention held in the First Baptist church.

Our prayer service for Wednesday evening is called off. Also the W. M. F. Council for our Church School officers and teachers scheduled for Thursday night. We urge our members, especially the officers and teachers, to avail themselves of this fine opportunity of hearing noted leaders in the field of religious education that are in Clanton this week.

A discussion group will be organized within a few days to discuss the problems of courtship, marriage and home making. Young people from 17 to 21 are eligible to enroll. We shall meet one night a week for two or three months. The night likely to be selected is Monday. Several young people have already signed up for the group. If you are interested see the pastor.

The group will be limited to thirty. Begin Sunday in the right way coming to Church School. Remain in the eleven o'clock service. People's League at 6:15. Evening worship service at 7:00.

BROWN-SERVICE FUNERAL COMPANY DEPOSITS
$100,000.00 WITH STATE TREASURER in Registered Bonds of the State of Alabama

FIRST to Make Deposit for Policyholders' Protection!

"Brown-Service" Puts Up One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000.00) Under State's New Burial Insurance Law to Further Protect "Brown-Service" Policyholders!

● A little over a year ago when we published the advertisement "Stars Fell On Alabama," which is reproduced in miniature size below . . . Brown-Service Funeral Co. pledged its whole-hearted cooperation and support of any laws which might be passed by our Legislature which would further strengthen the Burial Insurance Companies and give EVEN MORE security and protection to the policyholders.

● Now . . . a year later . . . such a law meanwhile having been passed, which required from us a deposit with the State Treasurer in the sum of One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000.00)—Brown-Service Funeral Co. again evinces its 100% cooperation by making this huge deposit, as is evidenced by the letter reproduced below from Hon. Frank N. Julian, Alabama Superintendent of Insurance, and by the receipt from the State Treasurer of the $100,000.00 deposited by us. This deposit was entirely in Registered Bonds of the State of Alabama. Thus Brown-Service Funeral Co. becomes the First Burial Insurance Company in Alabama to make the required deposit!

"STARS FELL ON ALABAMA"

Since Alabama was admitted to the Union in 1801, many legislative sessions have been held . . . but it remained for Gov. Graves' legislature to enact Alabama's first burial insurance law.

This law has saved the citizens of this state thousands and thousands of dollars that would have been spent in excessive and outrageous prices for funerals. The much needed relief from prohibitive funeral prices was made possible by this legislation.

Congratulations to Gov. Graves!

During the administration of Gov. Miller the legislature enacted a law which strengthened the burial association and gave the policyholders and public more security and protection and further shielded and protected them from being forced to pay unjust and unfair prices for funerals. The citizens of Alabama were again saved thousands and thousands of dollars in funeral bills alone.

Congratulations to Gov. Miller!

During These Two Administrations More Than a Half Million
Alabama's Applied for Burial Certificates

History teaches us that the laws governing life insurance companies were gradually strengthened by many different sessions of legislatures in all the states giving to the policyholders and public more and more protection. This took MANY years to accomplish.

It is the HOPE of the officials of this company that if Alabama's life insurance executives and agents and burial association executives and agents and Gov. Graves' legislators had that the burial association laws should be strengthened, thereby giving to the policyholders and public EVEN MORE protection and security, such laws will again be enacted. In this we pledge our whole-hearted support and unstinted assistance.

We Will Gladly Comply With and Operate Under Any Law When It Is Enacted

Our citizens must not be forced to return to a state of fear of being over-charged at death by outrageous, unjust and greedy prices for funerals.

BROWN-SERVICE FUNER'L CO. HAS GROWING FIRM

Grady Broadhead Here To Spend Several Days With Agents

GRADY D. BROADHEAD

Grady D. Broadhead of Montgomery, and formerly of Clanton has recently been promoted to Superintendent for the Brown-Service Funeral Company, is spending some time in Clanton this week assisting the local agents, Dave Boyett and W.B. Higgins. Mr. Broadhead's friends in Clanton and Chilton County congratulate him upon his advancement with the Company.

Mr. Broadhead points out that his Company enjoyed the largest business in 1933 in its history, having a premium income of more than $1,500,000. The Company now has more than 150,000 policyholders in the State, with 103 Funeral Homes in all sections of the State who furnish high class funerals in the payment of the Company's claims. Almost 5000 funerals were furnished by the Company to deceased policyholders last year, of which about 60 were in Chilton County, serviced by Spigner Funeral Home of Clanton.

Funeral insurance has been the means of saving millions of dollars to the people of Alabama in funeral costs during recent years, and the Brown-Service Funeral Company, being the founder of this form of insurance, deserves the nice business which it has enjoyed and the splendid reputation which it has established.

The $100,000 recently deposited with the State, mentioned in an Advertisement elsewhere in this paper, is sufficient proof to its policyholders that the Company is in good financial condition, and is always ready to meet all requirements of the laws governing such companies, Mr. Broadhead stated.

Dr. Gragg Full-Fledged "Air Chauffeur" Now

Dr. V.J. Gragg, staff physician and surgeon at the Central Alabama Hospital here and one of Chilton County's most enthusiastic aviation fans, is now a full-fledged pilot. He was granted private pilot's license Tuesday, after completion of examinations by a federal examiner, in Birmingham.

The doctor's friends are expecting to see him "foolproofing" things in this section from his own plane again soon. A tireless worker for the improvement of the local field, which has been named Gragg Field in his honor, Dr. Gragg is recognized as a leader in aviation over the state.

Reading Room For County Is Arranged

Those in charge of the Recreational Program for Chilton County have announced this week that a reading room has been established in Clanton for the use of the public.

These rooms are located in the Johnson Building upstairs in the quarters formerly occupied by Dr. T.J. Marcus and the space is being donated by Dr. N.S. Johnson. The committee also stated that they would be pleased to receive donations of books, magazines, tables and chairs from anyone, for use in these rooms.

The rooms are to be used for reading, writing and other recreational purposes. A small heater is also needed, it was stated.

FARM BUREAU ELECTED NEW OFFICERS HERE

Hear Speaker At Meeting Held Saturday At Courthouse

A group of Chilton County farmers, congregated at the courthouse in Clanton last Saturday morning, were told that "organized agriculture" apparently offers the only opportunity through which farmers can hope to secure an equal chance with industry and capital. With decision of the United States Supreme Court rendering the AAA farm programs void, the farmers of this country have only one chance to make their voices heard, they were told, and that is through organization.

W. H. Robertson, of the Alabama Extension Department at Auburn, was the principal speaker, and through a forty-five minute discussion of farm problems and possible remedies, he urged Chilton County farmers to join hands with "tillers of the soil" throughout the country by becoming members of the Farm Bureau. "It seems that the Farm Bureau, or some other organized agriculture, remains as the only outlet for those who produce the food and clothing for this nation," he declared.

"When six million farmers, organized into a unit, cry out for relief or assistance, political leaders of this country are going to listen." And that apparently is the only way in which recognition is going to be guaranteed. Whether or not the Supreme Court was right in its decision is not a matter upon which we can render a verdict, he told his listeners, but we can join together in building another program that in some measure will take the place of that which we have lost.

Without organization, farm production is always going to be far ahead of consumption. While this is true, there is little chance of getting anything like fair prices for farm produce. That has always been the trouble with our farmers. They have never been able to adjust production to meet demands of the consumer. In depression days, when industries reduced their production as much as 80 per cent, cotton farmers of the United States reduced their crops only about six per cent, and consequently soon there was a surplus that destroyed the price of this commodity. Thus it was seen that compulsory control was necessary and from this apparent necessity, the AAA was born.

"Though it is not for us to criticize the action of the United States Supreme Court, I believe that the farmers of this nation have a right to demand of our Congress that some measure of protective tariff be given them, or else all other forms of tariffs, passed for other protection of industry and capital, be revoked and let us all be in the same boat," Robertson told his audience.

At the close of the meeting, new officers, to serve during 1934, were named by the membership of the Farm Bureau. They are: Marvin Durbin, president; J. M. Culp, vice-president; Mrs. Zora Allen, secretary; C. C. Cofer, Walter Allen, Napoleon Posey, J. N. Dennis, J. J. Leroy, A. B. Jones, T. F. Patterson, G. T. Guy, R. M. Poole, and W. L. Popwell, members of the board of directors.

Women Bad Luck For Jimmy, And It's Kilby Again

It looks like women will be the downfall of Jimmy Lee Gilchrist yet. Jimmy is one of those Negroes that just can't seem to take his women philosophically. With him women constitute serious situations and he deals with them in a serious manner.

Paroled Friday, after serving 14 months of a two year sentence for shooting a negro woman, he celebrated his second night outside "gray prison walls" by firing a slug from a 44 automatic into his wife's stomach.

He told Officer John Browder, who captured him on a north-bound Louisville & Nashville passenger train Sunday afternoon, that "Dat woman jes pestered me somp'm awful."

Montgomery police notified Browder that they had reason to believe that the negro had escaped from Montgomery on this train, and when it stopped in Clanton, he boarded it and captured him.

So, in all probability, Jimmy will soon be again behind those walls at Kilby and will be protected from women who won't let him enjoy the freedom of the "outside."

Hon. and Mrs. J.B. Atkinson and daughters spent last Sunday as guests of Mr. Atkinson's brother in Gadsden.

feared that she would not live through the night, as a result of heart attacks to which she is said to be subject. However, her condition is thought to be much improved.

Collins, a brother of the child's father, who was driving the car, suffered a slight fracture to his left arm and Maxine Collins, 8-year-old sister of the dead child, was treated for slight cuts and bruises.

The Collins family was en route to their home at Keystone, after a visit with relatives at Thorsby, when the accident occurred. They are natives of this county, but have been living at Keystone for some time, where Mr. Collins operates a filling station and store.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the Thorsby Baptist church. Burial was in the Thorsby cemetery with Martin & Sons in charge.

The child is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Collins, and one sister, Maxine.

Officers Waites and Henley reached the scene a few minutes after the accident and assisted in getting the injured to the hospital and in getting the road cleared to prevent further accidents. They stated that Carmichael made no effort to leave the scene and recommended that he be liberated on bond.

The officers pointed out that many accidents, resulting in death or serious injury, are often caused by some slight negligence. "We are going to make a concentrated effort to see that every car is properly lighted and in every way possible try to prevent such regrettable occurrences," they declared.

The accident occurred about two and one-half miles north of Jemison on the Clanton-Birmingham highway.

The little girl's mother seriously injured—night—darkness—a once happy little family now saddened. All because of some negligence by the drivers of automobiles. Maybe it could have been your little girl. Maybe it was not altogether the missing tail light. Maybe it was the over-bright lights of an approaching automobile. Yes, such things are horrible—more so when it happens to you.

Poll Tax

The year of 1936 is going to be one of the most active years in a long time in the way of various and sundry elections. Judging from appearances, Chilton County will have something to think about and vote for or against in the way of local legislation. Anyway, the point we are getting at is the urging of every citizen to pay his or her poll tax, and do this before February 1st. Otherwise, the person failing to do this will not be able to have a voice in the "fors" or "agains."

ner sold for fifty dollars each, approximately $100,000 was raised for Democratic campaign purposes that night in Washington.

With a splendid orchestra, the Barnum Skippers of Montevallo, furnishing the music at the Wilson Hotel, the large number of guests marched into the dining room where Wallace Cox presided. Accompanied by the orchestra, "America" was sung and followed by invocation by Hon. J.B. Atkinson, attorney of Clanton and a well known Democrat. Mr. Cox then asked that each present rise, give his or her name and address. This was followed by a statement from the unit president as to the purpose of the dinner—to officially open the 1936 Democratic campaign. This dinner was one of about 3,000 dinners being held at the same time throughout the country, each one being sponsored by the League of Young Democrats.

The president then called on Billy Smith, publisher of the News, to explain the purpose of the League of Young Democrats in this county, the state and the nation.

Hon. Luther Little, superintendent of education was then presented with the gavel to preside over the dinner and introduce the principal speaker of the evening, Hon. "Pete" Jarman, former Secretary of State and a possible candidate for congressman from this district.

Mr. Jarman used as his subject, "Andrew Jackson, The Man and His Party." In his usual clear cut and concise manner, Mr. Jarman gave some most interesting information concerning the past leader of Democracy who was being honored at these dinners.

Following Mr. Jarman's address, which was followed by loud and long applause, the address of President Roosevelt was heard through the facilities of the radio. The president spoke directly to the young people of the country and praised the organization for their efforts in sponsoring these dinners.

The meeting was then turned over to the president of the local Unit who made several announcements before adjournment. A dance followed the dinner at the city auditorium with approximately 200 persons present.

PROCESSING TAX

by Justice Roberts, who last week announced the verdict smashing AAA brought immediate forecast that Congress would be asked to enact new revenue-raising legislation.

Paid in Under Protest
The $200,000,000 involved in today's decision had been paid into depositories under the direction of lower courts by processors who began last June to seek injunctions restraining collection of AAA taxes on the ground the farm act was invalid.

Others continued to pay, and the treasury collected $69,427,350 between June 27, 1935—the date the first injunction was sought—and last Monday, when the AAA was definitely invalidated.

As a result of the impounding of the $200,000,000 the AAA, which kept on paying farm benefits until last Monday found itself "in the red" by that amount. In addition, it owes $280,000,000 more to farmers who adjusted crop production under 1935 contracts.

Thus, the administration faces the necessity of raising at least $480,000,000 to make up the tax deficit and carry out its proposal to pay farmers for performance under the 1935 AAA contracts. President Roosevelt, in a budget message, warned that, if court attacks on AAA were sustained, "we will have to face the problem of financing existing contracts out of some form of new taxes."

PASSING FOOTPRINTS
Of The Times
— Billy Smith

Our Traffic Lights
Having been living in Clanton for twenty-odd years, we often do not notice many things strangers call our attention to. Here's one, and we pass it on to the city officials. Try starting at one of our traffic lights when it turns green, drive at a sensible speed and see if you can get to the second light before or after it turns red, without stopping. That is just a little matter a visitor to our town called to our attention. He stated it was a splendid idea to slow traffic down through our town but it was the first time he saw a town scheme to make a tourist stop, whether wishing to or not.

Political Talk, Promises
It has been growing on us for some time to talk a bit about politicians' talk. Personally, we sit with open mouth, eyes and ears when we are in the presence of what is termed a "smooth politician" who is expounding and pillaging. But we hope that the day will come when some legislative action can be taken to provide that every politician and candidate will label his or her remarks so that the listeners can determine what they mean—or what they don't mean. Gentlemen, it becomes very confusing sometimes.

The Health Unit
We come to the front with an extended hand to the Commissioners Court for their appropriation which will enable Chilton County to continue with its program through the County Health Unit. There was rumored rather strongly that this appropriation was doubtful. Yet, we are at a loss somewhat to get to the bottom of where that rumor started. Probably from the "fords" and probably from the "agins." Nevertheless, we did determine that there is no smattering politics in the deal.

What, No Tires.
If one will look over the last report of the County Treasurer, there will be found this item "Aug. 24—Tires used on county truck, Sears-Robuck, $42.00." This item is possible the cause of that sizzling sound you might have heard around the tire dealers of the county since the report came out. Investigation shows that the purchase was made by Commissioner Bean when he had the misfortune of a badly damaged tire in Birmingham with one of the trucks. We might mention to Mr. Bean that mail order houses, regardless, are like so much bitters to our local concerns.

Bang! Bang!
This column and this humble writer of opinions, was the target of a broadside attack last week, so we notice from one who goes by the name of "The Man In The Moon." We were bombarded, lambasted, ridiculed, criticized and otherwise talked about in a fashion which was so complete, so well worded, punctuated, that we smiled with a certain amount of admiration. Our consistency—or the lack of it—was held up and slashed at from all sides by that writer of Republican propaganda, "The Man In The Moon." We were literally torn to shreds, it would seem. He called us by our name, something we hesitate to do here because he doesn't sign, or use his name to his column. Ordinarily, perhaps, we would have felt completely demolished and vowed never to utter another word in print, but while we were admiring that masterpiece of an attack, we thought of the old saying, "Wise Men Change Their Minds. Fools Never Do." So, we patted ourselves on the back with the comment, "Old boy, it might show good sense by showing a bit of mind-changing." And, that was what we were accused of by the Republican writer in his last weeks expostulation. We were accused of at one time having one opinion—back in good old 1932—and then because we changed our opinion, he didn't like it, so it would seem and proceeded to let it be known.

Thanks To Miss Callie
If we were bestowing orchids upon persons for having done some outstanding and worthwhile thing, we would give them a pin one on Miss Callie Watts, proprietor of the popular Watts Hat Shoppe. Through the efforts of this business lady of Clanton, another of our prominent corner business houses is taking on an appearance befitting its surroundings and its future occupant. The building formerly occupied by The Fair, is being remodeled by Miss Callie and her charming ladies ready-to-wear store will soon occupy it. Orchids to you, Miss Callie, from the News.

CITY SCHOOL SYSTEM CONSIDERED

CITY COUNCIL MAKES STUDY

Interest Is Shown At Last Meeting Of Council Tuesday Night

At the regular meeting of the City Council Tuesday night, the advisability of setting up a city-operated system for the several schools within the city limits of Clanton was discussed at length. However, no official action was taken on the matter, but a consensus of opinion authorized Mayor C. Fenn Jones to make a thorough investigation of the idea.

Supt. Luther E. Little appeared before the council and outlined briefly the regulations under which such a system could be operated, and recounted possible advantages to be received by its adoption. A resume of his discussion was, that he could see no possible way for the city to lose anything in setting up this system, and there is a possibility that something might be gained.

Basing the distribution of school funds on a per capita basis, the schools of Clanton, because of the fact that more students are served per dollar salary expense, it would perhaps be possible for city schools to operate longer than they would otherwise, sharing alike with rural schools.

Unanimous expression of the members of the council was to the effect that the problem needed a more thorough investigation. It was suggested that Mayor Jones discuss it further with Mr. Little, and perhaps have an interview with Dr. J. A. Keller, state superintendent of education.

Available revenue under this system this year would be $21,942.50; cost of operating the schools in the city for nine months would be $24,948, according to figures cited by Supt. Little.

HEAVY DAMAGE IS DONE OVER STATE RECENTLY

Several Lives Lost In Tornadoes; Rains Do Large Damage

Freakish weather swept practically the whole of Alabama the past week end, taking a toll of several lives and doing thousands of dollars property damage. In several sections, tornadoes struck during Saturday, followed later in the day and night by floods and freezing temperatures.

A twister dipped in the northern section of this county, but no one was injured. Although reports have been received of considerable property damage. Several barns and house roofs were torn away by the winds in the community northwest of Shaw's store, five

Bus Station Changes Management This Wk.

The Bus Station, one of Clanton's most popular refreshment stands, is now being operated by Melvin Mims, who for some time was connected with the operation of the well known Dixie Cafe.

Mrs. Mims will be actively in charge of the establishment, assisted by Bill Minor. Both Mr. Minor and Mrs. Mims have also had extensive experience in this type of business. Mrs. Mims was connected with her husband in the operation of the Dixie Cafe, and Mr. Minor has been employed at the Bus Station for some time.

For several months, the establishment has been under the management of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Taylor, who have been largely responsible for its growing into one of the city's leading establishments of its kind.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS MEETING AT PROVIDENCE FRI. NIGHT

There will be a gathering of young Democrats and visitors at the Providence school house on Friday night of this week according to Cleveland Driver beat committeeman of the State League of Young Democrats.

The meeting is set for seven o'clock and a good speaker will be present. A blanket invitation is extended to all those persons between the ages of 19 and thirty-nine to be present at this meeting tomorrow night at Providence in the eastern part of the county.

OBJECTIVES OF KIWANIS CLUB ARE PLANNED

Outstanding Year Ahead For New Officers Of Local Organization

Should the twenty-five members of the Clanton Kiwanis Club be successful in their aims and ambitions for civic improvement, as set out in the calendar of "objectives for 1936," the citizenship of this section may have to look twice before they recognize their county-seat.

For several years outlining and sponsoring program of civic improvement has been an annual feature of the club's work. And checking back through the list of accomplishments in the past decade would read like a chapter from Horatio Alger.

Although some of the objectives set for this year are not likely to be realized in one brief year, leaders of the organization aver that they will keep hammering until one day it will be done. That has been true in the past—and it will be true in the future, they say. As proof, or grounds, for this optimism, they point to the drainage of the swamps surrounding Clanton. It was once considered next to an impossibility but today the dream has come true.

Among the outstanding objectives set for this year are: Provisions for the increase of Clanton's water supply; the establishment of a public library; the encouraging and sponsoring of a county fair; sponsoring of a county-wide club rally for both 4-H club boys and

TOMORROW NIGHT BRINGS BRILLIANT PRESENTATION AT HIGH SCHOOL

"Cicero Steps Out" Promises Big Entertainment

Starring a collection of the most outstanding amateur talent in this section, "Cicero Steps Out," a hilarious musical comedy, will be presented at the Chilton County High School Auditorium Friday evening of this week at 7:30 o'clock under the auspices of the Clanton Kiwanis Club.

With Miss Ruth Kennedy, of Tifton, Ga., recognized as an outstanding theatrical coach, supervising the production, it is expected to be one of the most enjoyable presentations ever staged by a local cast, according to those who have seen rehearsals. "Regardless of the type of entertainment you prefer, 'Cicero Steps Out' will strike a new note and bring an entirely different attitude toward amateur theatrical performances," Miss Kennedy declared in commenting on the play. It is not just another "home-talent play," she declared, but is packed with amusing situations, moving with thrilling speed from the start to the moment the final curtain falls.

Board Of Registrars Will Meet Jan. 27th

According to J. Monroe Parrish, chairman of the Board of Registrars of Chilton County, the Board will meet in Clanton on the fourth Monday in January, which is next Monday, and continue in session for ten days.

The Board of Registrars is composed of Mr. Parrish, W.W. Wingard and John T. Thompson. This session of the Board will be the last for the year, and will be held at the courthouse for the entire ten days.

To give the many admirers of the late Will Rogers an opportunity to see his last picture, "In Old Kentucky" which will be presented at the Wadesonian Theatre here next Monday night the management has announced that a matinee will be given Monday afternoon.

"In Old Kentucky" is said to be one of the very best Rogers productions. With a background of the Old South, Rogers is at his best throughout the picture.

CITY LICENSE DELINQUENT AFTER JAN. THIRTY-FIRST

Notice is being given in the News this week by the City of Clanton that all city licenses are now due and will become delinquent after January 31st.

City Clerk Pipes is urging all those who have not purchased privilege licenses to do so before the last day, and try to avoid the last minute rush. An additional ten per cent penalty will be added after the dead line, Mr. Pipes stated.

BAPTISTS HAVE FINE MEETING HERE RECENTLY

Large Number Visitors Attend Convention For Two Days

Clanton last week had its first experience at being a "convention city," when more than 300 delegates, from all sections of the South, congregated at the Clanton Baptist Sunday School Convention Conference.

The three-day session was well attended and is said to be one of the best conventions of its kind ever held in this section of the state. Outstanding church, Sunday school, and other Christian leaders attending and taking part on the program were: Rev. H. P. Amos, pastor of First Baptist Church, Wetumpka.

Democratic Executive Committee Will Meet

A call has been made by P. D. Wilson, chairman, for a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee of Chilton County to meet on Thursday, January 30th.

This is the first meeting of the new year and will be held at the courthouse at two o'clock in the afternoon. All members are urged to be present as several matters of importance will come up. It is also expected that several persons desiring to become candidates on the Democratic ticket will attend the meeting.

PHILANTHIPS TO MEET AT HOME OF MRS. FOX TUESDAY

Members of the Philanthia Sunday School Class of the Clanton Methodist Church will meet at the home of Mrs. W.W. Fox next Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, according to announcement given the News this week.

All members of the class are urged to attend this important meeting.

MR. AND MRS. SAM COPE ARE PARENTS OF BIG, FINE BOY

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cope, of Clanton, are the proud parents of a nine and one-half pound son, born last Saturday night. The young man has been named Walter Samuel. Both baby and mother are doing fine.

ALL DELEGATES HAND PICKED BY COMMITTEE

Preferential Ballot Will Be Held; Governor Talmage May Enter Race

M'QUEEN, FOSTER OPPOSE RESOLUTION

Alabama's Democratic Executive Committee Saturday elected the state's entire delegation to the National Convention at Philadelphia and called a preferential primary May 5 expected to find the name of Governor Eugene Talmage of Georgia on the ballot with that of President Roosevelt.

It was the first time since 1924 that the delegation was not elected by the people, and the plan carried 36 to 29 after a bitter floor fight that brought personalities into debate. In 1924, the late Oscar Underwood, winner in the preferential presidential primary, was given the right to name the entire delegation.

The committee elected four delegates from each of the nine congressional districts with one-half vote each, to serve with Governor Bibb Graves, U. S. Senators Black and Bankhead and Committee Chairman John D. McQueen, named in November as delegates from the state-at-large with a full vote.

To Vote In Unit
The preferential primary, which will require the delegation to cast its 22 votes in a unit, provided that the name of any presidential candidate could be placed on the ballot upon petition of 200 qualified voters. Unconfirmed reports were that friends of Governor Talmage plan to place his name before the Alabama voters as a test of his strength.

The primary calls for the nomination-tantamount to election of a U. S. Senator, nine congressmen, two Supreme Court justices and the president of the Public Service Commission.

By a vote of 36 to 31, the committee declined to hear from Judge Leon McCord, Democratic national committeeman, who opposed the plan and Mrs. A. Y. Malone, Democratic national committee woman from Alabama. Debate was restricted to committee members.

"I owe it to you as your chairman, and to myself, to make this statement. I think this resolution is unwise. I

Young Democrats Plan Activities Over County

At the regular meeting last Wednesday night, January 15, the Chilton County Unit of State League of Young Democrats, assembled at the courthouse in Clanton and strided plans of organized effort for every precinct in the county.

President Wallace Cox presided, and brought before the meeting ideas of a program including every section of the county. A good representation of young Democratic leaders was present, and after discussion of ways and means several special workers were appointed to start organization of the respective precincts in the county.

The chief address of the evening was brought by Jack Hogan of New York State, who discussed problems facing the Democratic party in Chilton County and the coming campaign, and gave many valuable ideas as to how they may be solved. Verne Teel of Clanton gave a short talk on "Citizenship." W. A. Gullledge of Verbena was a visitor who brought an informative message to the assemblage.

Cleveland Driver of Beat 16 brought a message in the form of a report of what he had done and what he plans to do, that was one of the finest features on the program. According to comments his ideas will be used as an example for other beats in the county to follow.

Other visitors who gave a short talk to the group included J. Monroe Parrish of Clanton R.F.D.

J.L. RUFFIN ATTENDS FEED DEMONSTRATION IN ATLANTA

J.L. Ruffin, prominent feed dealer of Clanton, recently attended the Purina Feed Demonstrations in Atlanta, and learned much regarding improved methods of feeding and the value of various types of feed, he stated upon his return.

Mr. Ruffin is a dealer in Purina products, and he declared he cannot recommend them too highly to his customers in Chilton County.

Foreign Travel "At Home"

Tourist travel to America's island paradise, Hawaii, has increased more than one hundred per cent in the past two years. This is gratifying not only from the viewpoint that many Americans have forsaken Europe to see the United States and its possessions, but also because of increasing curiosity on the part of foreign travelers to see America. Current turmoil in Europe has practically banned that part of the globe so far as people bent on vacationing are concerned, so America benefits.

It is acknowledged by all who have been there that Hawaii is one of the few places on earth where the actuality more than justifies the descriptions. It has the subtle charm of a foreign country. It has all the glamour and color of the South Seas. And with all this it is America with all American conveniences, customs and transportation service.

Mark Twain described Hawaii in terms that were almost delirious. Robert Louis Stevenson wrote about it. Jack London returned again and again. A famous American world traveler of more than twenty years' experience, recently wrote: "For decades we practically inundated Europe and its worn-out old countries with our thousands of tourists and their millions of freely spent dollars, all of which earned us nothing but the thinly veiled contempt of nationalities who too often, and frequently with outright frankness, robbed us with everything we purchased."

"Americans are discovering that America and its possessions are actually worth seeing first. Where before the American family expensively traveled to France, England or Italy, it is now as often as not investigating Alaska, Panama, Samoa, and, more important than all from the view point of charm and rest and climate, Hawaii."

"The Islands are the most beautiful jewel in the casket of American treasures, and I am not altogether sure they are not the most beautiful jewel in the world."

Successful Fire Prevention

The National Board of Fire Underwriters has issued a tabulation of the work done by cities and towns during Fire Prevention Week, which was observed last October.

The summary definitely shows that fire can be controlled—when public and official interests are at a sufficient peak. Between September 29th and October 19, for example, which includes the Week and the periods immediately preceding and following it, 87 cities had a weekly fire loss of less than $35. A large number of cities had no fire loss at all. Throughout the entire nation, the summary observes, "very definite improvement in the intensiveness and effectiveness of the campaign was noticeable."

Merit awards have been given to a number of cities for the quality of the work done during the Week. Among the ten leaders were Hartford, Connecticut, Honolulu, Jersey City, Los Angeles, and Prescott, Arizona. It will be observed that these are all cities of varying size, in widely separated areas. Each made a success of the Week because, and only because, of the interest and enthusiasm aroused in its citizens.

Any city or town can be successful if it will carry on a constant, unremitting fire prevention campaign. Fire Prevention Week should be followed by Fire Prevention Year. First-class building codes; an up-to-date, well-equipped fire department; grade A water and alarm facilities, active fire marshals and inspectors, and, finally, public education—these are the materials for a fire prevention campaign that will get results.

Let's all pitch in—and, during 1936, do our part to curb the demon that destroys thousands of lives and hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of property annually.

Kipling's Measure of a Man

A great man, a wise philosopher and versatile writer has journeyed on to that climate from whence no man returneth. Rudyard Kipling has penned his last line, but he has set in motion inspirations and ideals eternal in stability. Below is a little poem of his which we think perhaps gives an insight to the way of really great men through all the ages:

—IF—

If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too;
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Or, being lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or being hated don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise;

If you can dream—and not make dreams your master;
If you can think—and not make thoughts your aim;
If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster
And treat those two imposters just the same;
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,
Or watch the things you gave your life to, broken,
And stoop and build up with worn-out tools;

If you can make one heap of all your winnings
And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss,
And lose, and start again at your beginning,
And never breathe a word about your loss;
If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew
To serve your turn long after they are gone,
And so hold on when there is nothing in you Except the Will which says to them: "Hold on!"

If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with Kings—nor lose the common touch;
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you,
If all men count with you, but none too much;
If you can fill the unforgetting minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run,
Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,
And—which is more—you'll be a Man, my son!

RUDYARD KIPLING.

The Wrong House

A peddler came by the editor's house the other day. He started out giving the Madam his sales talk by telling her that "This is the way we advertise; we never advertise through the newspapers, etc." As soon as she got a chance the Madam told him that she doesn't buy from peddlers. When the gentleman learned that he had spun his "no newspaper advertising" yarn at the editor's house he was ready to "sell out." This happens quite often at our house by peddlers making their first call. We imagine it happens over and over again at the homes of people not connected with newspaper work. But there is no better sign that what is being "advertised" by the peddler is sold at exorbitant prices. Reputable merchandise is regularly sold by newspaper advertising.

The Real Cause of the Ethiopian Trouble

Italy can derive no especial profit or benefit from lands in Ethiopia, so far as agricultural or mineral products are concerned. The real object of the Italian invasion is to dominate Lake Tana, the source of the river Nile.

Centuries before Romulus and Remus started the building of Rome, the valley of the Nile was thickly populated by a progressive, cultured and dominating race. The beginning of our present day civilization had its inception in the fertile valley of the Nile. The remains of vast temples, obelisks and cities, crumbling in the dust of vanished centuries, now found in the ancient valley of that mighty river, bear testimony to the happiness, the progress and learning of the land of the Pharos, which now sleeps in a winding sheet of obscurity and silence.

The annual overflow of the river Nile, which occurs with clock-like regularity, creates a garden spot where vegetation grows like magic in the alluvial black soil.

The Pharos, several hundred years before the time of Christ, became fearful that the Ethiopians would turn the course of the mighty river and ruin Egypt, so they gathered together a huge army and invaded that country to conquer it and eliminate the danger above mentioned. The Egyptians failed to conquer Ethiopia, although their armies are supposed to have been ten to one stronger numerically. The Black Negus won, but refused to even attempt to change the course of the river Nile.

And now Italy, dreaming of vast empire, craves to conquer Ethiopia, probably with the idea in view of changing the course of the Nile at Lake Tana, thus bringing England to her knees in supplication for mercy.

The year 1936 is fraught with vast possibilities, with chances for bloody conflict, possibly the changing of a world map.—The Montgomery Weekly.

MORAL ECHOES.

D. W. Haskew

I saw a stalk of cotton growing in unfavorable soil. The plant was well cultivated, but a struggle was evident as I watched that stalk of cotton trying hard to produce the best roots, stem, bloom and seed. The struggle lasted for weeks. After showers came, and the hot winds and blistering sunshine would cause the stalk to wilt. The soil was not favorable to a healthy, productive cotton plant, but the plant did its best. I have seen children surrounded by influences not favorable to the production of good character, and yet I have witnessed them as they struggled in that direction. Many of our children would grow up to be much finer than they are if we as parents would create favorable conditions at home for great living.

A lady brought beautiful roses and dahlias to the church and placed them on the sacred altar Sunday after Sunday. I never failed to admire the beautiful flowers and to appreciate the beautiful spirit that grew in the garden. One day I ventured to ask of this lady, "Tell me how you are able to grow such beautiful flowers." I shall never forget her reply. "I do not know. Doctor, unless it is because I first have held a beautiful rose to my lips. Her answer gave me an insight into her success as a flower grower. She could grow them because they first grew in her own heart. He who would grow beautiful flowers in his life must first have them in his heart. Flow grand and sublime it is to be beautiful within."

Recently a daily paper came to my desk and on its pages I saw an unusual picture. A beautiful young lady was sitting in her chair with her head resting quietly against the back, while she held a beautiful rose to her lips. She seemed to be meditating on love, home and children. This picture was so unusual in a modern paper that my attention was held for quite a while. Under the picture were these words: "Things that make women more beautiful." We see so many pictures of women in our papers who hold cigarettes between their lips or fingers, so many pictures of them half clad and with suggestive postures, that we are especially attracted when we see one in the pose that makes women really beautiful. God bless the girl of today who meditates on high ideals and holds a rose to her lips, rather than a cigarette.

Just ahead on the highway we saw a sign that said, "Danger." And a few yards beyond the sign a road truck was parked. Several men were standing about the truck. Our car was slowed down on seeing the sign and while quite a distance away a man held a red cloth in the middle of the road before us. My car came to a dead still by the side of the men and I made inquiry as to what they meant by stopping us. A drunken man staggered up to the window of the car, "Several of us fellows want to ride to town with you." I did not say what I thought, but my car went into action and the drunken set of fellows was left behind. Conditions are becoming alarming when drunken men will use a red flag by the roadside to thumb a ride and make a desperate effort to crawl into a car when it is stopped. Whiskey will make a man do anything. Whiskey is our greatest enemy of the highway.

A few weeks ago it was estimated that ten thousand wild geese settled on the waters of Niagara, a short distance above the falls. Many of them went over to their ruin. Twenty-seven of them were rescued below the falls and rushed to a hospital for treatment. Whiskey was poured down their throats to revive them. As soon as the first dose reached their craves, the old ganders would begin to honk their whistle. In a like manner when a human "goose" pours whiskey down his throat he will begin to honk his whistle. When you hear the whistle of an old drunk gander, you had better give him space.

Smith, Mrs. Percy M. Johnson, Mrs. Sallie Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ruphus Brown and the host and hostess. Mrs. Wells was assisted in serving by Mrs. J. Ruphus Brown. Best wishes were extended to Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery for happiness in their new home. Mrs. Marion Coleman of Chicago bought a "police dog" to guard her home from thieves. When the thieves did come they took the dog as well as the loot.

Advertising Campaign In News Tells Of Big Improvement

In keeping with their policy of continual improvement in their gasoline and motor oils, the Pan-American Petroleum Corp., announces a great basic improvement in gasoline through a series of advertisements to appear in the Chilton County News. The first of this series a half page advertisement, will be found in this week's issue announcing the New Quick-Vapor Gasoline. This new improvement in gasoline, according to the large advertisement is "not just anti-knock, not just a new grade, not just a new color." The advertisement continues with "A new modern quick-vapor volatility fuel for your modern motor. Even at winter temperatures it produces the necessary 'gas' in your motor more quickly." In next weeks News will appear another large advertisement of this nationally known gasoline. Follow these ads for further information regarding this new improvement in gasoline.

New Campaign Has Interesting Facts

Famous Man O'War Is Featured In First of A Series of Educational Advertisements. Readers of this newspaper will be particularly interested in a new type of educational advertising campaign which the Chilean nitrate people have just begun and which will be published over the next six months in selected good papers through the South. The first "chapter" in the new campaign, features the famous race horse, Man O'War, admittedly the greatest runner of all time and the foremost sire. His progeny today are winning important stake races while Man O'War "Big Red," as he is affectionately known, grazes contentedly on Kentucky blue grass at his owner's estate near Lexington. The advertisement points out that Man O'War is one of Nature's miracles—one perfect horse to which Mother Nature gave the vital spark—the perfect natural balance of all the elements that make a champion of champions.

An interesting analogy is drawn between Man O'War and natural Chilean nitrate. The famous horse, it is pointed out, is what he is because of this natural balance of all elements, and natural Chilean nitrate, with its natural balance of major elements and minor ones as well—the highly important "vital impurities"—is shown to rank with Man O'War as one of Nature's miraculous accomplishments. The vital impurities in natural Chilean nitrate have grown in importance as scientific agricultural knowledge has advanced from year to year. Today, it is commonly accepted that a natural balance of these vital impurities which Chilean Soda contains—elements such as boron, manganese, magnesium, calcium, potassium, etc., is extremely important in proper fertilization of cotton and other crops.

SHE might HAVE BEEN A GREAT WRITER....

EVEN before she learned to read, little Jane "play read" to her playthings. She "wrote" them letters, and stories, and books. She was going to be a great writer, she told everyone, and—why not? As the years slipped by, little Jane became big Jane. She studied. And wrote. And studied. Then one day the skies fell around her. Eye-strain, headaches, a nervous breakdown... True, Jane is still writing—shopping lists, postal cards, now and then a letter. But no reader has even seen a story bearing her name.

How easily the entire course of Jane's life might have been altered by ample lighting for studying and reading! Eye-strain would have had little chance to undermine her nervous system.

Highway Patrol Duties Outlined

Road Guardians Expected To Make Driving Safe, Not Produce Revenue. Montgomery, Ala.—Chief Walter K. McArdy declared that "I want to make it plain that the State Highway Patrol is on the road to make driving safe and not to raise revenue." The veteran law enforcement officer made his statement at patrol headquarters here after sending his 74-man patrol into every section of the state in a drive against traffic fatalities. Salaries Specified "I want it stressed," he told reporters, "that the highway patrolmen receive as their compensation a fixed monthly salary and $2.50 per day as expenses and they do not receive any witness fees for court attendance, allowance or any other monies from any source whatsoever."

The Highway Patrol is not placed on the highways of Alabama as a revenue measure. It is strictly a safety measure, trying to save life and property to the citizens, and it is not my intention to harass the people of the state with frivolous cases. "The police who operate cars on the highways must respect the rights of others while passing vehicles on curves and over hills and as to the speed limit—45 miles an hour for passenger cars and 35 miles for trucks on the highways outside city limits. "Every person driving a motor vehicle on the public highway must have a driver's license in their possession at all times—and this includes drivers of trucks, busses, motorcycles and passenger cars. Instruct Patrolmen "I have instructed the patrolmen to give every operator of such vehicle an opportunity to purchase a driver's license, and if they do not purchase it within a reasonable time we will arrest all parties driving such vehicles and the least fine and cost will be $26.50." Chief McArdy said courtesy would always remain the keynote of the patrol, and he would not tolerate drunken "off or on duty" by any member of the force. And I have issued strict orders," he said, "that in every case where a person is found operating an automobile, motor truck or other motor vehicle while drunk, the officer is to turn both the car and the driver over to the sheriff of the county in which the arrest is made."

And the first two days the patrol was on the highways five arrests were made for drunken driving. Daily and weekly reports from the various key points over the state are received at headquarters here to keep an accurate check on the patrol's work.

Jack Staggs of Okmulgee, Okla., gave a worthless check for a marriage license, another for a taxi to the court house, and still another to the justice of the peace. On top of that he is charged with bigamy.

FURTHER GAINS IN 1936 SEEN BY SECRETARY

'35 EMPLOYMENT GAINS OVER 1934

Forces Of Improvement Take Momentum For Next 12 Months

Washington, Dec. 29.—In a New Year's statement to the nation, Secretary Roper predicted Sunday that the "broadening of the recovery process" in 1935 provides a basis "for further encouraging economic gains in 1936."

Noting specific business improvement, the commerce secretary said that "the fact that the general cumulative forces of recovery are gaining is even more important."

"Just as the forces of depression were cumulative in their effects, so the forces of recovery operate to expand activity in an ever-widening circle," he said.

"In dealing with the paramount problem of unemployment, we may take courage and renewed hope from the steady expansion of production and distribution in the past year."

Firmer Foundation
"Perhaps the most striking conclusion warranted by a review of the developments of the year is that we now have a broader and firmer foundation than in the preceding years on which to build in 1936."

Reviewing the year, Roper said that production of consumers' goods was "at or above the relatively high level of 1934; there was further improvement in agriculture; some revival in the durable goods industries; widespread improvement in consumer purchasing based on increased employment; more equitable price relationships and a larger harvest; improved industrial earnings; an increase in the value of our foreign trade, and further improvements in the financial field, including a rising tendency in security markets and a gradual reopening of the domestic capital market to the flow of private funds."

He added: "A substantial increase in employment was effected during the year, with the major part of the gain accounted for in the manufacturing industries. There was also an encouraging expansion of employment in the construction industry, particularly in residential building. The latest monthly factory employment data available show an increase of 10 per cent in comparison with a year ago, factory pay rolls being 25 per cent higher."

Wages Maintained
"Wages of factory workers generally were maintained at the level reached in 1934, when hourly rates were as high as in 1929."

"Among the more spectacular increases in retail sales in 1935 were the increase of about 20 per cent in sales of general merchandise in rural areas and an estimated increase of 40 per cent in dollar expenditures for new passenger automobiles."

"Although railway freight traffic lagged in the general recovery, by mid-October the carriers were able to report an increase in the cumulative total of loadings in comparison with 1934 and a corresponding decline in the deficits."

It is believed that this tendency is new firmly underway.

"In this field, as of course in many others, we have formidable problems still before us, but we find here, nevertheless, an illustration of the tendency of the recovery movement to accelerate."

INFANT DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. E. A. McLEAN DIES SUNDAY

MUSICAL CONCERT AT MONTGOMERY FRI. NIGHT

Prof. W.M. Devaughn announces a concert for Friday night of this week at the Madison Avenue Baptist Church, Montgomery, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The program will last for about one and one-half hours. This is a mid-term concert for the Higgins-Whitt-Devaughn singing school. There will be an admission of ten and twenty cents charged. Prof. Devaughn says that this bids fair to be a real A-1 program, consisting of varied numbers. Prof. Devaughn says that they are still figuring on having a night school at Clanton soon. Watch the papers for further announcements.

Bigger Farm Income Is Boosting Sales

THE above chart shows a substantial increase in sales to farmers for the first six months of 1935 as compared with the first half of 1932. This stimulation of business has resulted in an increase in employment and payrolls in many industries. In the farm implement industry, for example, employment in the first 10 months of 1935 was more than 2 1/2 times as great, and payrolls were more than 3 1/2 times as great as in the first 10 months of 1932. For industry as a whole, it is estimated that at least 40% of the increase in factory employment from 1932 to date is due to the improvement of rural purchasing power. In 1932 the farm cash income was $4,328,000,000, as compared with an estimated farm cash income of $6,800,000,000 for 1935.

Taps Sound For One Of Last Four Vets
Of The Confederacy

Taps sounded last Friday morning for one of the last four of the "thinning line of Gray" in Chilton County, when Uncle Bailey Cash, who fought during the Civil War in the 37th Infantry, died at the home of J.B. Sammons in the Mineral Springs Community. He was 98 years old.

The death of Mr. Cash leaves only three veterans of the Confederacy living in Chilton County. They are: Gen. F.W.E. Guldge, Thomas J. Teel, both of Clanton, and the Rev. R.M. Honeycutt, of Jemison.

Surviving Mr. Cash is one sister, Mrs. Polly Robinson, of Clanton R.F.D. During the war between the States he served with the 67th Infantry of the Confederate States Army. Funeral services were held Saturday from the Collins Chapel Baptist Church with the Rev. R.M. Honeycutt, also a veteran of the 67th, officiating. Burial was in the churchyard cemetery with Martin & Sons in charge.

Sore Throat Epidemic
Believed In County

Because of an epidemic of septic sore throat, which has broken out in almost every community in the county during recent weeks, local health authorities with assistance from the State Health Department are making a drive among operators of dairies, cafes, soda fountains and other similar establishments that cater to the general public to use greater precaution in seeing that all utensils have been thoroughly sterilized between usage.

Dr. D.G. Gill, head of the Bureau of Communicable Diseases of the State Department of Public Health; Dr. J. M. Kimmy, county health officer, C. D. Franklin, state dairy inspector, and C.A. Abele, director of the Division of Inspection, made a tour of inspection in this vicinity Tuesday, urging the cooperation of operators of the previously mentioned types of business in preventing the spread of this and other diseases.

Dr. Kimmy declared that they had received splendid cooperation in this work from every person or firm contacted.

C.C.H.S. BASKETEERS WIN 18-17
OVER ISABELLA HIGH FRIDAY

The castegers of C.C.H.S. in a heated contest with the boys of Isabella High School, won by the close margin of 18-17 last Friday night at the local gymnasium.

After leading the Isabella castegers through three periods, by a comfortable margin, the Isabella boys showed courage and perseverance in a last minute effort to even or exceed the count, but to no avail. The stellar performance of Clive Aldridge, Carl McDowell and Charles Wilson was pleasing to the supporters of C.C.H.S. These boys at their guard post showed they were interested in the hardwood pastime, and most of all their school.

The offensive attack of the local boys featured George Moore and Windal Massey, while Isabella offense rested with Williams and Powell.

Local boys are showing improvement and will continue to improve with your support. Come out and see the boys in action.

The schedule for the remainder of the season is as follows:

January 24—Montevallo High at Clanton.

January 31—Billingsley High at Billingsley.

February 7—Verbena at Verbena.

February 12—Montevallo at Calera.

February 14—Billingsley at Clanton.

Wetumpka, Holtville and Jemison dates pending on matching schedules.

"Yea, Tigers! Let's go!"

JAMES H. DANIEL IS NOW

According to announcement, James H. Daniel, Singer Sewing Machine agent for Chilton County, is now located at the Clanton Shoe Shop, where he has an attractive window display. He is in Clanton on Saturdays of every week, and most cordially invites his friends to visit him in his new location.

VERMONT

The boys and girls basketball team of here played Stanton at Stanton, last Wednesday night, January 15. The girls score was 27-15 in favor of Stanton. The boys score was 13-12 in favor of Stanton. The boys played Enterprise last Friday afternoon. The score was 10-6 in favor of Vermont.

The boys and girls of Stanton are going to play here Friday afternoon, January 24. Everybody is invited to come and see the games.

The 4-H club boys and girls of this school met with Miss Pardue and Mr. Fant last Wednesday, January 15. The girls met with Miss Pardue. The topic for discussion was "Arranging Furniture in a Bedroom." The group leader Miss Ruthie Nell Hayes, and her group rendered a very interesting program on the above topic.

The boys met with Mr. Fant, on the discussion of "The Raising of Poultry." Mr. Fant discussed the topic by different steps. The raising, and proper food. The date for the next meeting will be announced later.

All patrons who haven't brought your wool, or haven't paid your part in money, bring it in as soon as possible.

There will also be a fiddlers convention here Thursday night, January 30. Prizes will be cash awards. Everybody come. Admission will be ten and fifteen cents.

Mr. Dalton Champion and Mr. Donald Campbell visited Miss Delia Champion Sunday.

MRS. BOSHIA ROPER

On last Wednesday night, January 15, the sweet spirit of Mrs. Boshia Roper, 44, passed on at her home near Marbury, Ala.

She will be remembered by her friends in Clanton as Miss Boshia McKee, having lived in and near Clanton until her marriage to H.M. Roper in 1915.

She was a true Christian and God has called her home.

Surviving are her husband, three daughters, Augusta, Ovell, and Lucille and one son, Stanley; mother, Mrs. Georgia McKee, sisters, Misses Mattie and Ila McKee, Mrs. J.M. Parrish, Mrs. E. Dennis, Mrs. E.B. Clapp and Mrs. A.J. Devaughn; brothers, G.O., J.E., and E.M. McKee.

Funeral services were held at Samaria church Friday morning, the Rev. Ellisor of Verbena and Rev. W.S. Cox of Clanton officiating. Pallbearers were her six nephews, Herschel, Milton and Norton Dennis, James and Derrell Parrish and J.W. McKee. Interment was at Samaria cemetery, Griffin of Prattville, in charge.

Nehemiah Butler was sought for theft in Etowah, Tenn. Bloodhounds were put on his trail. When arrested Butler was found using one of the dogs named Sherlock Holmes, Jr. for hunting rabbits.

STUDENT IN VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE MARKETS HIS CORN FOR $2.05 PER BU.

Tankage And Corn As A Feed For Hogs Produce Excellent Gains

One of the purposes of Vocational Agriculture is to bring to the boys practical methods of improving the feeding of livestock on their farms. One of the jobs that has created most interest the past fall was the feeding of hogs. It was during these lessons that Carson Williams decided to put into practice something that he learned in the classroom.

Carson Williams, a senior in the Isabella High School, finds that tankage as a supplement to corn pays when fed to hogs. Feeding records have proven that it requires as much as 958 pounds of corn when fed alone to produce 100 pounds of pork.

Carson's records show that when corn and tankage are fed in proportions of 6 parts of corn to 1 part of tankage it requires 704 pounds of both to produce 332 pounds of pork or 212 pounds of both to produce 100 pounds of pork. Carson says that for each 100 pounds of pork he produced it took 182 pounds of corn.

The following is the record of Carson on his two pigs:

2 pigs, weight at beginning—125 pounds (both pigs).

Weight at close—427 pounds (both

BILLINGSLEY

Miss Bonnie Clyde Griffin of Tallapoosa was the week-end guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Griffin.

Mr. and Mrs. H.E. Nichols had as their guests during the week his sisters, Misses Abbey and Bill Nichols of Jacksonville, Ala.

Miss Bertha Dennis spent the week-end with her parents in Clanton.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Moates of New Cedron were guests of Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Marlar Sunday afternoon.

Those who attended the Baptist State Sunday school convention, which convened in Clanton last week were Mr. and Mrs. T.L. Patrick, Miss Emma Patrick, Mr. W.J. Patrick, Mesdames J.D. Griffin, J.J. Traywick, Minnie Carter and Mrs. J.C. Hughes.

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Donnelly left recently for King Port, Tenn., where he has accepted a position.

Miss Emma Patrick returned to her home in Prattville Friday. She was called here by the death of her niece, Mrs. Talmadge Gipson, who died January 13, and was buried at Big Springs Church cemetery Tuesday afternoon.

CARD OF THANKS

We are forced to take this means to attempt to humbly express our deep and sincere appreciation to our friends and neighbors for their kindness during our recent bereavement at the death of our daughter, Vivian Best.

We especially extend thanks to our neighbors, J. Mell Martin & Sons, Dr. J.P. Hayes and the Rev. J.S. Holland. May God's blessings be on each of you.—J.V. Best and family.

THE ALSO

"In the year that King Uzziah died

I saw also the Lord"—Isaiah 64.

It is very interesting to observe not only what one sees but also how and much one sees. When a crisis comes tragedy comes unless one is able to see the ALSO.

A crisis had come in the life of the southern kingdom of Israel known as Judah. Good King Uzziah died and his passing closed a period of material prosperity. Never before had the people experienced such a golden age of getting and spending. But almost suddenly conditions were changed. When the king died hopes died. Dark days came. Pessimism spread its black wings over the land. Gloom, disappointment and despair came trooping in. The people had pinned their hopes to things and a king. Things and the king disappeared. The people now saw tragedy where they had seen triumph. Where they had seen hope now they saw nothing but hopelessness and helplessness.

But there was one man in Judah that saw more than others saw. Listen to the young prophet Isaiah as he lifts his eyes above the tragedy and exclaim "In the year that King Uzziah died I saw also the Lord." He saw what others saw but he saw more.

How short sighted most people are! They cannot see very far and very high. They do not see the ALSO. It is said that two sisters went out into a rose garden one morning. One sister plucked a rose and a thorn pricked her finger. She threw down the flower and complainingly said: "I don't see why God wants to put thorns on these rose bushes." The other sister sweetly and gratefully said: "I was just thinking how good God is to put such lovely roses on these ugly thorn bushes." One woman saw the thorns. The other woman saw the thorns and also the roses. This thought is strikingly expressed in these two verses. A complainer and pessimist said:

"This old world of ours
Sure does make one sick;
You get ten thorns with every rose
And gosh, the thorns do prick!"

A singer and optimist, Frank L. Stanton, the Georgia poet, said:
"This old world of ours
Sure is hard to beat;
You get a thorn with every rose
But ain't the roses sweet!"

There are crises in every nation's life and in every individual's life, crises when men and women must see the ALSO, the Lord, or go down in despair and defeat. How many tragic lives in our country today because they were not able to see "also the Lord."

"Every day brings evidence that when a man centers his whole thought and affections on his own possessions, and those possessions fail him, he goes down under the blow. Having no secure anchor for his ship in which he sails life's sea, he is driven to destruction. It takes more than wealth to make life a success. Poverty is endurable—may even be a joy—if one's life is rooted in honesty and fed on righteousness."

Those who have been trying to journey through life "without seeing also the Lord" have found these times terrible and tragic. They have no faith upon which to fall back. Many when employed or making money did nothing to store up spiritual reserve and hence had none to draw upon when employment and profits vanished. It was natural that discouragement and bewilderment would come to them. If a man cannot see also the Lord he is ruined when financial reverses come. ALSO will save us when sorrow disappointment or a tragedy comes into the life.

The Master spoke of those who have eyes to see but see not. There are those who cannot see with their physical eyes but who have trained their spiritual eyes to see. Fanny Crosby walked in darkness for ninety-five years. She was totally blind from childhood. She wrote more hymns than any woman that ever lived. Someone speaking to Frances Havergal the gifted English poetess and hymn writer of Fanny Crosby's blindness, added the words "But her heart can see." This statement called forth from Miss Havergal a beautiful tribute in verse to her blind sister-poet across the sea in which she wrote the following tender and touching lines:

"How can she sing in the dark like this?
What is her fountain of life and bliss
With never the light of a loving face,
Must not the world be a desolate place?
"Oh, her heart can see, her heart can see!
And its sight is strong and swift and free.

Never the ken of mortal eye
Could pierce so deep, and far, and high

As the eagle vision of hearts that dwell
In that lofty sunlit citadel!
"For the King himself, in his tender grace,
Hath shown her the brightness of his face.

She can read his law as shining chart,
For his finger hath written it on her heart;
And she reads his love, for on all her way
His hand is writing it every day.

O, this is why she sings so free:
Her heart can see! Her heart can see!"

Thorsby Institute News

The Helen Keller Literary Society program was postponed from Saturday night to Monday afternoon on account of the bad weather. It is very rarely the Society has postponed a meeting, but it seemed best to do so.

Two weeks from Saturday at 3:00 p.m. in the auditorium Miss Foss music pupils will be presented in a recital. Everyone is invited.

Monday night three members of the faculty—Miss Leech, Miss Ford and Miss Mattingly, entertained at the dining hall for the rest of the faculty and wives of the two men teachers, and invited guests. Various contests were participated in, and much enjoyed. Delicious cake and sherbet were served.

Next Monday the second semester will begin. Anyone wishing to enroll should register at once with Mr. H. R. Maddox, registrar, and pay the registration fee of one dollar. Since Thorsby Institute started in 1906, it has never failed to run nine months, which has been a special advantage to those attending regularly.

We appreciate very much various canned fruits, vegetables, etc., that have been recently given to the boarding department by Mrs. Bob Davenport, and Mrs. N. Laurel.

The Ladies Guild have a social Thursday night at seven o'clock at the campus cottage.

Christian Endeavor News

On Sunday evening the Christian Endeavor Society had its usual meeting.

The topic was based on the parable of the "Lost Sheep" and various examples from present day living were given to illustrate how we may help to find those that are lost. In connection with the topic, Miss Mattingly told an interesting story of "The Abbess of the Glowing Light." Miss Leslie Rascoe and Miss Bernice Robinson sang "The Ninety and Nine." The program was under the leadership of Miss Margaret Golson.

Farmers Advised Not To Mix White And Yellow Corn

Auburn, Ala.—While the farmers are contemplating what to plant this year, more attention should be paid to the varieties of corn grown for sale," advises R. J. Goode, commissioner of agriculture, and Dr. M. F. Jackson, farm products agent of a leading industrial plant of Birmingham. "Growers should produce either white or yellow corn and not mix the colors," they state.

"The mills in Birmingham require graded corn of one variety, and cannot use mixed corn for conversion into grits, meal, or livestock feed. Corn that is to be converted into meal and grits must be white, free of weevils, and should not grade below No. 2.

"Corn for livestock and poultry feed should be a yellow variety.

"Thousands of bushels of corn," they continue, "are shipped into Birmingham each year from the West, due to the fact that the Birmingham mills are unable to procure their requirements of graded corn from Alabama.

"Therefore, if the farmers of Alabama will exercise more care in selecting their seed corn, growing either yellow or white corn and not allowing the varieties to become mixed, they will realize a better price for their product."

For information on the best variety of corn to plant, farmers are advised to consult their county agents.

Best Cotton And Corn Fertilizers Are Named

Auburn, Ala.—Dean M. J. Fanchess, director of the Alabama Experiment Station, has written all fertilizer dealers in Alabama urging them to cooperate with the Experiment in getting more farmers "to use the most economical grade of fertilizer" under their corn and cotton crops this year.

"We must learn to produce as cheaply as possible so as to be able to meet competition; and the proper use of fertilizers offers one of the most effective means of reducing the cost of production," he says.

After giving experimental facts showing that Alabama farmers need to "approximately double the nitrogen content of some of the fertilizers now sold," Dean Fanchess recommends the use of 600 pounds of 6-8-4 under each acre of cotton. He gives the following:

"Three and one-half acres of land fertilized with a ton of 3-8-5 (600 lbs. per acre), according to our experiments could produce 3250 pounds of cotton. In the other hand, 3 1/2 acres fertilized with a ton of 6-8-4 fertilizer would produce 4079 pounds of cotton. Subtracting the cost of the fertilizer in each case, we find that the value of the product from a ton of 3-8-5 would amount to $104.66, while the value of the product from a ton of 6-8-4 would be $133.53. Putting these results another way, they mean that the farmer who uses a ton of 6-8-4 is better off paying the code price for the fertilizer than the farmer who uses a ton of 3-8-5 if this be given him free."

The lower grades of fertilizer than 6-8-4 are used, the cotton should be dressed with nitrate.

Experiments have shown that it will pay farmers to use only a side dressing of nitrogenous fertilizers under their corn and that this be applied 40 days before planting, he states.

ROOSEVELT POLICIES ARE NOVEL SOLELY BECAUSE EXECUTED IN BEHALF OF THE WHOLE PEOPLE

"The One Honest Issue Is Whether the President Has Done Well or Ill By His Country"

"It will be a campaign of defamation on the side of our adversaries, a simple effort to break down the faith of the people in a President under whose leadership the Democratic Administration has lifted our nation out of the depths of despair to the broad way of hope and set it on the high road of renewed prosperity," Chairman James A. Farley said in addressing the meeting of the Democratic National Committee in Washington.

"He has accomplished this through certain legislative measures, startlingly in the circumstances, they developed from the habit of drifting; policies novel only because they were conceived and executed in the service of our whole people and not for the benefit of the greedy, selfish interests which dominated the government from the time Woodrow Wilson left the White House to the day Franklin D. Roosevelt took the wheel.

"Our adversaries try to represent the party conflict as a battle between the interests of the country and a mythical group bent on substituting a socialistic, communistic system for the economic processes that have made this nation the greatest, wealthiest commonwealth in the world. It is a ridiculous perversion of the facts. A great proportion of our commercial and industrial leaders are with the President. Why shouldn't they be? What business is there that has not been helped by the present administration?

"What accounts for the stupendous improvement in less than three years? Does the present solid foundation of business, as contrasted with the hideous insecurity of the previous period, come as the result of cosmic rays or black magic? Has there been any epoch-making change in world conditions to account for our recovery? No. The only difference is that we have had at the head of our government a President wise enough to see what had to be done and courageous enough to do it. It is that program alone that saved America.

"There can be but one honest issue in this campaign and that is whether President Roosevelt has done well or ill by his country."

"The answer stares at you from the pages of every newspaper in the land—not from the editorial pages, which mostly echo the desires of the big business group; not from the propaganda pages, which misrepresent and label the existing administration. The reflection I speak of is found in those commonplace pages which present the direct reports of the nation's business.

"The balance sheets of industry, commerce and agriculture tell you the story. The market quotations on commodities and securities cannot be faked. These figures tell you that the national wealth has increased 22 billions of dollars over their market values on the day our President took office. Being unable to deny the recurrence of prosperity, our adversaries are forced to the alternative of declaring that it was not because of but in spite of the Roosevelt policies. It was because of Roosevelt and in spite of the furious clamors of those who have tried to hinder him at every step—ever since the increase of business has rescued them from their panic fears.

"Aesop told the story a couple of thousand years ago—you know the one about the farmer who found a frozen snake in the barnyard and brought it in and warmed it back to life—and the snake bit the farmer's children."

It pays to trade in Clanton.

Try CARDUI For Functional Monthly Pains

Women from the 'teen age to the change of life have found Cardui genuinely helpful for the relief of functional monthly pains due to lack of just the right strength from the food they eat. Mrs. C. H. Haynes, of Essex, Mo., writes: "I used Cardui when a girl for cramps and found it very beneficial. I have recently taken Cardui during the change of life. I was very nervous, had head and back pains and was in a generally run-down condition. Cardui has helped me greatly."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

SPECIAL SUNDAY RATES

for Long Distance telephone calls

AND ### REDUCED PERSON-TO-PERSON RATES

after 7 every evening

Two reductions in long distance telephone rates now in effect, offer you even greater economy in conducting your social and business affairs with people in other cities.

1 The same reduced rates which have been in effect on long distance Station-to-Station calls after 7 P. M., are now in effect all day Sunday on most Station-to-Station calls on which the day rate is more than 35 cents.

2 Rates are now reduced on Person-to-Person calls every night after 7 P. M., and all day Sunday, on most calls on which the day Station-to-Station rate is more than 35 cents. Previously, only Station-to-Station rates were reduced at night.

These new lower "long distance" rate periods for Night and Sunday calls will make the telephone more useful to more people in more ways. It means a broader service at lower cost. Use "long distance" freely to keep in touch with friends and relative—to clear up the week's unfinished business.

Note the following typical three-minute rates.

Keep Up-to-Date with PAN-AM

PAN-AM

Brings You

A GREAT BASIC IMPROVEMENT IN GASOLINE

NOT just anti-knock—NOT just a new grade—NOT just a new color!

New Quick-Vapor Gasoline

A new modern quick-vapor volatility fuel for your modern motor. Even at winter temperatures it produces the necessary "gas" in your motor more quickly. That's important! For it's the "gas"—vapor—not the liquid gasoline that gives the power, the drive in your motor.

Refinery perfected to vaporize faster, more evenly and more completely, the new gasolines quickly give you all their smooth power.

Refining discoveries have set a new high in eliminating impurities such as sulphur and gum. The new gasolines are above best aviation specifications for purity.

- Easy Starting.
- Rapid Warm-Up.
- Smooth Acceleration.
- Full Power.
- Added Economy.
- Eliminates Vapor-Lock.
- Anti-Knock Performance.
- Uniformity in All Seasons.

Be the first! Good gasolines will all come to this within a year. Be first to thrill to the new performance of your car with this new fuel.

Give your car a fair test. To get the full new feel of this new fuel, use up the old gasoline in your tank. Try two complete tankfuls of this new gasoline to check the noticeably different performance. See, hear and feel the difference.

Today AT ALL PAN-AM STATIONS

"The finest fuel you can put in your motor. PAN-AM Extra specifications are even higher than aviation grade."

"New, improved Orange PAN-AM gives you finest performance with highest anti-knock properties at regular price."

"Quicker starting—quick pickup—more complete vaporization. Better than many old-style 'Hi-Test' gasolines."

Kiwanis Objectives

girls; the paving of the streets of Clanton; the continuance of work in behalf of the improvement of the airport here, the permanent establishment of a county health unit, and a program for crippled children.

During dry seasons, Clanton's water supply has proved inadequate. Members of the Clanton Kiwanis, which is composed of the city's leading business and professional men, will cooperate with the city government in remedying this condition. Perhaps water will have to be piped from a creek several miles away, or maybe other wells will furnish the needed water for a time.

One of the city's greatest needs, it is pointed out, is a public library. Holding of a county fair in Chilton County has been an unrealized dream for a long time, but it is argued that the time is ripe for this service to Chilton's farmers.

The congregation of Chilton's 4-H club boys and girls at an annual rally has been a feature of the Kiwanis program for several years. Paving of Clanton's streets is a much-needed improvement, and if the Kiwanis can be instrumental in selling this idea to property owners, its citizens will be greatly indebted.

Other objectives are: To hold two meetings with the county's farmers; extension and improvement, both storm and sanitary, of the city's sewerage; continue work for the erection of new buildings at the Clanton Grammar School; to carry a group of farmers to Auburn to make a study of methods at the Alabama Extension Farm; sponsor a trade week; equip the new city hall; sponsor a Christmas lighting program for the city.

The building of a public swimming pool; continuance of the Clanton CCC camp; and the erection of an annex to the courthouse. At present the courthouse is not of sufficient size to house the various county offices, and many outside offices are being rented.

Three other objectives include the improvement of local telephone service, the reestablishment of an up-town Western Union office, and making Clanton a regular stop for L & N trains One and Four.

Officers found that Thomas Green, arrested on charges of begging in London, had a fortune. Green owned a home and had a weekly income from rents.

don't think it should pass. I'm going to vote against it. Of course, I'm for a preferential primary—that's not the part I'm opposed to."

Earlier, by a vote of 50 to 15, the committee refused to rescind its November action electing the delegates from the state at large. In the resolution providing for the election of these delegates, the administration of President Roosevelt was praised but the delegates were not specifically instructed.

The resolution providing for the election of the district delegates by George P. Bondurant of Birmingham, who declared that a delegation headed by "its four party leaders" would have a leading part in Philadelphia convention and a "strong voice in our party councils."

Bob Bell of Birmingham told the committee that "if you support this resolution you have created and sustained a machine that eventually will destroy you. x x x It does not matter this year but it will matter in the years to come. I ask you to kill this machine in its infancy before it kills you in your maturity."

Hand-Picked Delegates

After ratifying the appointment of Graves, Bankhead, Black and McQueen delegates-at-large, the committee appointed as alternates Pitt Tyson Maner, secretary to Gov. Graves; Dr. Marion Hoge, Mobile; Mrs. Angus Taylor and J. P. Stokely, Birmingham.

District delegates, a great number of whom are members of the appointing committee, were named as follows: First District—M.M. Fountain, Wallace Lindsey, Henry McDaniel, R.M. Perry.

miles north of Jemison.

Heavy rains which began here noon Saturday flooded all the lowlands of the county. Streams were swelled out of their banks and roads and bridges were completely torn away, it is understood.

Seven weekend deaths chargeable to tornadoes and lightning were counted in Alabama in sub-freezing temperatures with rivers nearing anticipated flood stages in central and south portions. Snow blanketed the northern tier of counties.

Storm damage alone was estimated in hundreds of thousands of dollars, with an overflowing stream near Pansey, washing out a section of the Atlantic Coast Line Railway and causing the wreck of a passenger train in which six persons were injured early in the day.

Four persons were killed Saturday along Sand Mountain in North Alabama and Richard Burg was killed in Mobile County when struck by lightning. Those killed on Sand Mountain were Claude Portwood, 36, his wife, 32, Randolph Rowell, 87, and Janet Rowell.

Heavy rainfall, estimated officially to have averaged three inches, fell over the entire State.

Birmingham and sections north reported an inch of snow.

Pea River Over Highway
The Pea River near Arifton blocked traffic along the Bee Line Highway, and many feeder roads were reported covered by creeks or rivers.

ASSASSINATING FOOTPRINTS Of The Times

— Billy Smith

he Liberty League

Rumors have it that our one-time "Smile" "took a walk" in his speech Chicago recently. And the rumor would imply that "the walk" was so long and windy that it took him completely out of the picture so far as politics is concerned. Al was at one time a Democrat. We don't know which he stands on now. He's head of the Liberty League which he refers to as "we, the people." But we also remember that such well known millionaires as John J. Raskob, J. P. Morgan, and others are among the founders of the Liberty League. Personally, our ink account won't let us be classed on with that group of "reformers."

he National Poll

A more recent publication of the National Poll of Public Opinion, or, as such poll, showed that President Roosevelt was gaining ground considerably and fast. We also note that we went as yet seen a republican newspaper printing that. Don't say it, we won't print it when it goes the other way, and we're not printing the figures the last one either. (However it does look mighty good for the President.)

on't Laugh

No, no, don't laugh at this because a friend of mine, Newt Gray, the barber on Main Street, is the proud possessor of a Persian cat with most unusual intelligence for a cat. It is vouched that the cat, when in a room and wants out, if the door is closed, will jump to the door knob, turn it with its front paws, kick the door open and walk out. Jesse Jones and others say for it. We still want to see that cat.

he Congressional Race

We notice with a great deal of interest that Pete Jarman signs along the highway are increasing and that he is a daily expense account, we make comment. With that and the type men of the patrol, it should be a hind asset to the people of Alabama. Jarman is not on the roads to the west. Chief McAdory explains that there are to cooperate with the state to make Alabama's highways in every way possible. They must stern—but are also polite.

to See It

Two weeks ago we read with interest that Miss Frances Golsen has moved to her home in Wetumpka and take up the duties as manager of the Wetumpka Herald. We're glad to see you back, Miss Frances.

ing Close

The office of the Tax Collector will be a regular bee-hive with activity on Friday and Saturday of this week. Friday is the last day that poll tax can be paid by those persons who wish to vote in the forthcoming election. In other words, when Saturday night rolls around the dead-line is too close. Have you paid your poll tax? There are many questions to be decided by the voters this year and a citizen should be able to vote.

is Bad

They were driving over some of our roads the other night and with good lights on our automobile we were able to see the three wagons we saw at different times. Those wagons were lights or anything to denote they were on the road. When we saw them we were almost too close to comfortable. A small lantern is expensive and should be carried by wagons when on the roads at night.

the Little

The little curly-headed five-year-old is cold, in death, her family told. She was sitting in the front of a car, and her father had been driving at night on the back seat and they were tired. A man was driving his team and wagon on that road. There was no light on the back seat. The crash—it is horrible. The wagon was driven through the side of the car, through the body of the girl and into the back seat. She was pinned and a jellied mass. A little caution—a little careful—would have done in that case.

And Cold

One of our approached us the other day and quoted another person as saying that he blew "hot and cold." We appreciated that joke, and thanks to

NATIONS INCOME HAS BIG DROP UNDER HOOVER

Forty-Three Billions Shown
As Drop Under Republican Regime

"From J. P. Morgan down to the most obscure reactionary politician come warnings that unless the so-called 'spending program' of the Roosevelt Administration is speedily abandoned, our economic and political systems will be destroyed," said Judge Blanton Fortson, of Athens, Ga., in an address to the Roosevelt Young Voters' Club in Atlanta.

"Primarily, let us remember that most of the money the Government dispenses is lent or put into permanent improvements that for the money lent good security was taken, so that the borrower and not the taxpayer will pay it back.

"Thus of the 336 millions the Government has put out in Georgia since March, 1933, 195 millions was in loans, about one-third of which already has been repaid; 140 millions, or 40 per cent, has been spent in useful construction and only 63 millions, or less than one-fifth, has been given in direct relief. I suppose this percentage holds good throughout the nation.

"Now, will the citizens be able to pay the taxes necessary to retire the debt the Government incurs for public works and direct relief?

"That they can do so is demonstrated by very recent history. Soon after the World War began in 1914 conditions in this country became very bad. (Continued to Back Page)

LOCAL FARMERS RECEIVE INCOME FROM POULTRY

$5,264.53 Is Paid Farmers
For Poultry At Car During Past Week

Chilton County farmers last week had another reason to be grateful to and proud of the county farm and home demonstration agency here. When a poultry car, operated by the Farmers Marketing and Exchange Association, came to Chilton County last week, $5,264.53 worth of poultry of all types were sold by growers of this section.

A beautiful feature of this, as pointed out by County Agent J. W. Fant, was that the farmers received $2,189.53 more for the poultry sold than the market price in Clanton on that date. Heavy hens, which were being quoted here at 10 cents per pound, sold for 16 cents and stages, roosters, and other poultry for which there was no market, also brought good prices.

It is interesting to note that this (continued to back page)

Luther Patrick To Be At Verbena Fri. Night

The people of Verbena and surrounding territory will be given a treat next Friday evening, January 31, if they attend the program which will be presented at the Verbena High School by Luther Patrick, well-known Birmingham comedian and entertainer. The show will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock and to those who know Luther Patrick there is no reason for explanation of the program's merits.

Verbena Parent-Teachers Association is sponsoring the event. Mrs. Gladys DeRamus, president of the P. T. A., declared that she is expecting this to be one of the best programs ever presented at the Verbena school and she is urging everyone in that section to be sure to attend.

MARRIAGE OF INTEREST ANNOUNCED THIS WEEK

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jones, of Clanton, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Mary Edith, to Mr. William E. (Bill) Minor, also of Clanton. This announcement is of wide interest due to the popularity enjoyed by this young couple in this section.

The friend who told us. That gets us back to the point to where we changed our mind again and if the person who originally made the "hot and cold" statement will give us a wink or something sometime, we will be pleased to know into detail. We have long since learned not to become too angry when told of some of our short-comings—consistency, or lack of it.

Students' League of Many Nations Coming To Clanton Methodist Church February 4th

What is said to be the greatest one-night Evangelistic Service America has ever seen, The Student's League of Many Nations, will present its unique service at the Clanton Methodist Church on Tuesday night, February 4th, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. This Service has already been given more than 3,000 times, and has met with the acclaim of many thousands. No admission will be charged, and everybody is most cordially invited to attend this most unusual performance.

KIWANIS CLUB TO MEET WITH LOCAL CC CAMP

Splendid Program Is Set For Tonight When Kiwianians Gather

In keeping with the aims of the Clanton Kiwanis Club in promoting a better understanding and keener appreciation of improved farm methods, the membership of the club, with approximately fifty guests, will hold their regular weekly meeting at the local CCC Camp, Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, according to J. W. Fant, county agent, who is in charge of arrangements.

The program will be devoted to discussion of agricultural topics, with especial emphasis on soil erosion prevention and its benefits to those who till the soil. In cooperation with staff of the county farm agent, and local CCC Camp is devoting much time to soil conservation program in this county. Explanation of the work that is being carried on will be a feature of the program.

Principal speakers will be R. Y. Bailey, regional director of the Federal Soil Conservation Program, J. B. Wilson, also connected with this work, and George N. Mitchell, state administrator of soil conservation.

Approximately fifty leading farmers of the county will be invited as guests of the club. It is hoped these men will "spread the gospel" to their friends and neighbors and in this way a great part of the county may be directly benefited by these discussions.

Interest To All Ex-Service Men

To the World War Veterans:
We have received today a letter from State Dept. Adjutant stating that he would mail American Legion Post 2000, which they are now applying for payment of "Bonds" (Adjuster Service Certificates). We expect to have proper forms by next Monday night, February 4, when our regular meeting will be held at the local American Legion Post, at the courthouse at 7 p. m.

We feel that the American Legion in a large measure is responsible for this measure being enacted into law, and whether you are a member of the Post or not, we welcome you at this meeting where we hope to have all available information necessary to cash or reduce to cash your Adjusted Service Certificate.

Percy M. Pitts, Post Com.
V. C. McKee, Adjutant.

MATT WARE BACK IN CHARGE OF MATTS LUNCH SHOPPE

The many friends of M. L. (Matt) Ware, have been pleased to note his presence again at the popular Matts Lunch Shoppe, in Clanton. Mr. Ware has been back with the shop for several weeks now and is turning out the delicious coffee and meals with the aid of Mrs. Ware, that the cafe has been noted for.

Resettlement Committee Holds Important Meet

A special meeting of the Chilton County Resettlement Committee was held last Saturday morning in the office of County Agent J. W. Fant, when various problems with which the committee will have to deal were studied and discussed. One of the principal events was the examination and approval of several applications. Composing the committee are: County Agent J. W. Fant, Miss Ruth Padgett, county home demonstration agent, Miss Lena Downs, H. S. Shaw, and W. A. Gullledge.

Pastors Union Will Meet Monday Morn.

The Rev. J. W. Jones, of Thorburn, secretary of the Pastors Union of this county, has announced that a meeting of the union will be held in Clanton on Monday morning beginning at ten o'clock, at the Baptist church. This union is composed of the pastors of the Clanton and Unit Baptist Associations, with Dr. S. J. Ezell as president.

City License Are Due Says City Clerk Pipes

Final notice is being given this week through the News that all city licenses are now due and must be paid before February 1st, which is Saturday. To avoid a ten per cent penalty.

City Clerk Pipes stated that the city is many engaged in business in Clanton who have not yet purchased their city license and that he is urging them to attend to this before the first of the month to avoid the additional costs.

Home Com. Thanks Helpers In Convent'n

The committee whose duty it was to secure accommodations for visiting delegates to the recent Alabama Baptist Sunday School Convention held in Clanton has requested the News to express its appreciation to everyone who cooperated in making this one of the most successful conventions ever held here.

Mrs. J. P. Hayes, chairman of the committee, stated that she had never known such splendid cooperation as was shown by Clanton people in extending their hospitality to those delegates who came from every part of the South to take part in the three-day event.

"A READY-MADE FAMILY" WILL BE PRESENTED HERE FEB. 7TH

Work is well underway toward the presentation of an unusually fine play, "A Ready-Made Family" at the Clanton High School auditorium Friday night, February 7th. This play is being sponsored by the Clanton Dramatic Club, and is under the direction of Miss Poty Polk. Local talent will be used throughout, and the following people will have parts in the play:

Mrs. Hortense Glascock, Miss Mary Robinson, Miss Corinne Polk, Mrs. J. S. Jones, Miss Euzebia Lee, Mrs. Morris Jones, George Parr, Ed Glascock, Julian Evans, and Clifford Jones.

On Program Staged
At Gragg Field

Next Sunday afternoon will bring innovations to Clanton and Chilton County in the field of entertainment, according to Mrs. Lois Davis, who is staging the Big Thrill Show at Gragg Field. Beginning promptly at 2:30 o'clock, the show will continue for more than two hours, she stated.

As an introductory feature of the show, which, it is said, will pack more thrills than any show ever staged here, a blindfold drive will be presented Saturday afternoon. H. Lee Davis, Jr., husband of Mrs. Davis and one of the best-known stunt men in this section of the country, will drive an automobile, while blindfolded, through the streets of Clanton.

The blindfold will be securely fastened over Mr. Davis' eyes by Sheriff L. R. Hardy just before the drive is begun. Starting from the courthouse the drive will progress along Main Street to the (Continued to Back Page)

Popular Beauty Shop Name Is Changed

DeMabel's Beauty Shop, one of the first of its kind ever established in Clanton, is no more. The same high ideals of service which have made it popular, however, will continue in the same location, but henceforth this place of business will be known as The Artistic Beauty Salon. Miss Willie Maude Kelley and Mrs. Era Wyatt are the managers. Both have wide experience in this kind of work, and both have been connected with DeMabel's in the past. They most cordially invite their friends and patrons of DeMabel's to visit them for fine beauty work at reasonable prices. On another page in this issue will be found an advertisement from The Artistic Beauty Salon calling attention to several very special items for this week end only.

"AS YOU LIKE IT" CLUB HAS ENJOYABLE MEETING THURS.

The "As You Like It" Club was pleasantly entertained last Thursday when Mrs. V. J. Gragg and Mrs. Mattie Fox were joint hostesses at a splendid day party. At the noon hour a delicious luncheon was served to the following: Mesdames M. A. Gore, J. B. Atkinson, G. C. Walker, W. A. Reynolds, P. M. Pitts, L. H. Reynolds, D. Hogan, D. W. Waite, W. M. Polk. Invited guests were Mrs. J. E. Gowan, Mrs. Stanley, Mrs. Hogan will entertain the club at the next meeting.

RECREATIONAL PROGRAM HAS PEANUT PARCHING

Among the activities of the Recreational program in Chilton County was included a most enjoyable peanut parching and candy pulling party at the home of Mrs. Evie Crumpton recently. There were twenty persons present who enjoyed this affair.

REGISTRARS ARE IN SESSION FOR FEW MORE DAYS

People Urged To Pay Poll Tax; Important Items Are Coming Up

Only a few more days remain in which to pay poll tax. After this week it will be too late. Next Saturday, Feb. 1, will be the last day in which to take care of this very important duty.

So, if you expect to vote in the coming election, if you have not yet taken care of your poll taxes, you are urged not to neglect it longer. Everyone knows the importance of being able to express their wishes at the ballot box. It is the one time every so many years that the average man can speak and be heard.

The Board of Registrars is also in session this week to give opportunity to persons who have not yet registered in this county. Monday, some of the members reported the interest was keen. Before 10 o'clock 17 had already registered.

In the elections this year, several important offices in the county, state, and nation will be filled. It will be the voters who will decide if President Roosevelt will be kept at the helm of the nation and continue to steer through the troubled waters.

Selection of several state officials will also be made. A representative Congress from this district is to be elected. In Chilton County, it will be the duty of the voters to name a county treasurer, two county commissioners, two members of the Board of Education.

Women To Help In The Better Housing Prog'm

A Woman's Division in connection with the National Better Housing Program has been organized in Clanton. Mrs. Omar L. Reynolds, wife of a prominent Clanton attorney, has been appointed chairman of this organization.

Mrs. Mary Jarman Dent, woman representative of the Federal Housing Administration of Alabama, was in Clanton a few days ago, assisting in formulating plans whereby this newly established division may render a worthwhile service to the people in this section who might desire to avail themselves of the opportunities afforded through this program.

Women's clubs all over the state are participating in the furtherance of the program. It is understood that all local clubs will be contacted and invited to participate in this work.

35 Pneumonia Cases Reported During Jan.

Records of the Health Department show the following cases of reportable diseases during the month of January: 3 cases of diphtheria, 35 cases of pneumonia, 39 cases of influenza, 4 cases of chickenpox, 1 case of Tuberculosis, 1 case of scarlet fever. There has also been reported during the month quite a number of cases of septic sore throat, but due to the fact that many of those having this disease did not call a physician the cases that were reported by physicians do not represent all those that did occur.

It is of interest to note that of the 35 cases of pneumonia reported 16 of them were children. A very large per cent of the influenza reported was among adults as was the case with the septic sore throat. All three cases of diphtheria were among children, and bears out the statement that diphtheria is a disease chiefly of young childhood.

HIGH SCHOOL P.T.A. WILL MEET TUESDAY, FEB. 4TH

The News has been requested to announce that the Parent-Teachers Association of the local high school will meet at the school auditorium on Tuesday, February 4th, at three o'clock in the afternoon.

A special "cut prize" contest is to be enjoyed and each room having as many as ten mothers present at the meeting will be given a half-holiday. Get busy, pupils, and get your mothers to this meeting.

THE PIONEERS AT RANDOLPH

The public is cordially invited to hear the Pioneers at Randolph Friday night, Jan. 31, at 7 o'clock. An added feature of this program is the comedian in the person of Mr. Salter. Admission will be fifteen and twenty-five cents.

An Effective Penalty

It has recently come to our attention that the State of Alabama has revoked drivers' licenses held by several persons because of driving an automobile while intoxicated. This is one type of punishment which may be invoked through administration of the state's new highway patrol that is highly commendable.

Imposition of fines, whether light or heavy, has little effect on careless drivers. It cannot always be a fair and equal punishment because one person is better able financially to pay the fine than another. Then, too, a fine leaves the offender still on the highway with no assurance that he will not repeat the offense. Prisons are already crowded with persons guilty of minor offenses, and it would seem inadvisable to resort to that method of punishment.

Revocation of licenses to drive seems to be the ideal method of enforcing careful driving. It falls on rich and poor, important and unimportant alike, and our opinion is that once reckless drivers come to believe that recklessness will take them from behind the steering wheel, they will not mix, so freely, gasoline and alcohol and speed.

Alabama's highway patrol is moving in the right direction. These motorcycle boys can save a lot of lives in 1936, and it seems they have found an effective penalty for enforcing safety measures, if judiciously used.

Marriage and Divorce---

A Job for Pastors

"What will be the attitude and conduct of present day youth as they face the question of marriage and the home? It must be admitted that marriage has suffered terribly through the treatment of many adults of the present day. Trial and companionate marriage and the prevalence of divorce have lowered the standards of marriage and the home in the minds of multiplied thousands. Will the young men and women of today be content to have this attitude and condition to continue and grow worse? Or will they advocate and personally maintain the purity and sanctity and blessedness of marriage and the Christian home?—The Alabama Christian Advocate (Methodist).

Radio Or Newspaper?

In spite of much that has been written to the contrary, there need be no essential conflict between the radio and the newspaper as mediums for the dissemination of either news or advertising. Each has its place in modern life. As a matter of fact the radio could not, even if it would, usurp the recognized function of the newspaper.

Radio's prime importance, as far as news is concerned, would seem to reside in the fact of its value in connection with "spot" broadcasts, particularly in the event of a major catastrophe. Aid might be summoned hastily to an area devastated by flood or fire, torn by earthquake or tornado. It is hardly likely, however, that the average citizen will be content with radio flashes for his knowledge of the event. Here the newspaper steps in and supplies him with a complete and accurate story which the radio could not hope to provide.

It is an established fact that while manufacturers recognize the value of radio, they know from long experience that it does not pay to cut the newspaper off their appropriations for advertising. Eye appeal is still the persuasive force. In launching a new product, it is customary for the manufacturer of overcoming sales resistance, the constant repetition of the newspaper ad is the most effective method.

Listeners are easily disaffected by the announcer who too frequently repeats his sales talk on the air, but whether they like it or not the dial-turners must take it or interrupt whatever they may be doing to get another station. The newspaper reader can,

Let Republicans Answer This

None of the pamphlets bearing such titles as "Roosevelt the Waster," "Billions for Boondoggling," "Burdening Future Generations, etc., widely distributed by the divers Republican national organizations and their affiliates, contains any data, direct or inferential, which would permit comparison of the Roosevelt administration with its predecessor.

Just what do the records show with respect to the spending described in this literature as of astronomical proportions during any portion of the Hoover holocaust?

The public debt reached its post-war low-point on December 31, 1930, at which time the gross was $16,026,087.07. Deducting the general fund balance of $306,803,319 then in the Treasury, left the net debt at $15,719,283,768.

Twenty-six months later, on March 3, 1933, the gross debt had increased to $20,937,823,293. Mr. Mills, the Secretary of the Treasury, left in the cash box $158,527,671, about enough to finance the government for a fortnight, deduction of which left the net public debt on that date at $20,779,295,622.

Hence the net increase in the public debt during the last 26 months of the Hoover administration was $5,060,011,854.

It is proper, and enlightening, to compare this item—which is so scrupulously omitted in the luxury propaganda—with the record under President Roosevelt.

In making the comparison we do not limit it to 26 months of Roosevelt but to the entire thirty-four and a half months of his administration up to and including January 18, 1936. That period includes the sale of 500 millions of bonds in December, 1935, which issue was several times over-subscribed, notwithstanding the unprecedented low rate of interest and the ominous warnings of Messrs. Mills et al. that the offering would "fair dismally." That, incidentally, was precisely what did happen to Mr. Mellon's last offer of the same amount and it was withdrawn.

The gross national debt on January 18, 1936, stood at $30,521,248,638 at which time there was a cash balance of $2,097,827,147, leaving the net debt on that date at $28,423,521,491. Meanwhile, the recoverable assets of the Federal Government—secured loans and temporary advances to self-liquidating government lending agencies—increased from two billions under Hoover to more than $4,800,000,000. Therefore the total liability of the government is reduced to around $23,587,000,000 and that is $1,900,000,000 less than the war time peak debt in 1919.

However, disregarding that permissible deduction, which would include the RFC loans secured by gilt edge collateral, such as preferred bank stock, and reverting to the figure of $28,423,521,491, the increase in the public debt over the period of thirty-four and one-half months, from March 3, 1933, to January 18, 1936, was $7,644,225,869, as compared with the increase over the period of only twenty-six months from December 31, 1930, to March 3, 1933, of $5,060,011,854.

In other words, while business conditions were constantly growing worse during the final twenty-six months of the Hoover administration, banks were folding up, foreclosures on homes, factories and farms were proceeding on an unprecedented scale, and nothing was being done by the government to attempt to stem the tide of economic destruction and human misery, the net national debt was increasing at the rate of 195 million dollars per month.

During the thirty-four and one half months of the Roosevelt administration, at the end of which business is better than at any time in nearly six years, and during which more than a million urban homes and a million farms were saved from foreclosure, agriculture was rescued from ruin, factory payrolls increased 122 million dollars per month.

And now that government revenues are constantly increasing along with the steady, sustained gains in business activity, and the cost of carrying the present debt in a quarter of a billion a year less than during the era of Mellon-Mills-Hoover control, the question naturally arises—

Has the 221 millions a month average spending under Roosevelt, which has tapered off in recent months, been more beneficial to the people and the business of the country than the 195 millions a month average under Hoover? In short, is the Roosevelt administration worth more to the public welfare than the sort of government to which the Old Guard insists we must return?

If he desires, disregard the advertising. At least he is not offended by it—a fact that assures the advertiser of the reader's good will.

MORAL ECHOES

D. W. Haskew

My brother and I were walking thru a pine forest that lay along by the side of a peanut field. We came upon a number of swine and observed that they were as busy as pigs could be rooting the straw together to form a bed for themselves. They had found a peanut field and many good days seemed to be just ahead. The pigs did not know it but we knew that they only had a few more days to live. We had heard their owner talking of "Hog Killing Day" and that day was to be as soon as the weather grew cold. Many a time have I seen men who were so busy as they could be pulling the straw of this world about them. They found a place where good days seemed just ahead. They were so busy making things easy for days to come. At the longest it is not many years until a voice will echo, "This night thy soul will be required of thee." We had better get busy at something else than just "Rooting Straw" together for this world. It is not long before we must appear before God.

Mimeopolls put on a church campaign years ago. Large crowds were painted and placed in the street cars that read "A man needs God in Times like These. Let's Go to Church Sunday." Men read these signs but one day it was observed that a wag had written on the bottom of one of the signs, "I went once and He wasn't there." Often do I wonder if we are telling the truth when we claim that God is in His Church. Can it be said of that church where you go, "I went once but God was not there. Be it known that when God is not in His church that men have crowded Him out with formalism and selfishness. When we invite folks to go to church and find God, let us be sure that we have Him there.

I was in a pullman when a young man came dashing down the aisle of the car at breakneck speed. He ran over the porter and stumbled over the seats on both sides. As he ran he said, "Pardon me. Pardon me." He was running like a race horse and had nowhere to go. Outside of the coach he had formed the habit of running and on the inside of the car he kept it up. To sane folks it looked rather idiotic to see folks running like a race horse all the time and no where to go. I saw an upstart of a boy dash by five cars on the highway at breakneck speed and then stop his car to pick berries by the roadside.

While in the national capitol I saw a whiskey truck standing on the street. This truck had all kinds of fine whiskeys advertised and then in bold type I read this statement, "All worthy to be protected under the red, the white, and the blue. This truck was running, up and down the streets of Washington and reflecting on the flag of my nation and yours. Whiskey has no merit in it, it deserves the protection of the flag of the United States. That thing that murders, that thing that destroys young men and women, that thing that blights homes and hearts—crawling under the flag and saving, "I am worthy to be protected by the red, the white and the blue." That was blasphemy in the blackest form. My reverence and respect for the flag caused me to want to fling that truck into the Potomac river.

Just below Greensboro, North Carolina I overheard some college students relating an experience that came to them while traveling on a train going to a Christmas dance. It was very cold and they affirmed that the snow and ice reduced the steam from the engine so that the air brakes could not be worked, and the train stopped dead still in a snow bank, unable to proceed. There they had to wait until they were almost frozen. When this old world is headed towards a Christmas dance, revelry on Christ's birthday, we are not surprised that we froze. It does look so foolish and so defiant for a civilized world to pull some of the things that we hear about on the birthday of our Lord. The devil comes back on Christmas and says over and over to Christ, "Fall down and worship me." The way of the ball is the freezing way.

Man Is Victim Of Stab Wounds Near Here

James Elijah Easterling, of the Refuge community, is in the Central Alabama Hospital in a serious condition as a result of knife-wounds in his back, said to have been inflicted by Carlos Baker, a neighbor, during an altercation at Easterling's home about noon Monday.

Easterling told Dr. V. J. Gragg and others at the hospital that Baker stabbed him when he tried to prevail upon him to leave his home. He stated that he had come home for lunch and found Baker and another youth there in a drunken condition. They, he stated, had his wife frightened and had refused to leave when ordered to do so.

When he attempted to make them leave his premises, he said that Baker ran up behind him and stabbed him several times with a knife. The wounds are between the shoulders. Dr. Gragg said that Easterling had lost considerable blood, but stated he did not believe the wounds would prove fatal.

Baker was recently paroled from the penitentiary where he was serving a sentence for stabbing another man some months ago.

C. C. H. S. WINS DECISIVE VICTORY OVER HOLTVILLE 17-8

The boys from C.C.H.S. won their contest from Holtville High here Wednesday, January 22, in a very pleasing and spectacular manner. The local boys carried the offense to Holtville throughout the game. The burden of the offense for Clanton rested with George Moore and Clive Aldridge, each registering the same number of goals for high point honors. The outstanding offensive players for Holtville were Dennis and Thomas.

Mr. C. E. Hand of Atlanta, Ga., visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hand, of North Clanton, the past week end.

Gulf Official Urges Courtesy And Service

E. W. BROWN
Asst. Division Mgr. Gulf Refining

"Courtesy and Service earn big dividends," says Mr. E. W. Brown, Assistant Division manager of the Gulf Refining Company, in charge of operations. "In our organization, we continue to stress the importance of those factors: Good gasoline, good service, and a content and smiling employees, it made 'That Good Gulf Gasoline' installation."

Through the medium of education, Mr. Brown is endeavoring to have Gulf representative and employees of this Division live up to that tradition which has made so many friends of Gulf at their Service Stations.

"The merits of the many products sold 'At the Sign of the Orange' adds Mr. Brown, "has created a demand reaching into all corners of vast territory. The safe and efficient handling these Gulf products' offers a gigantic problem."

"Only with the aid of thousands of loyal and highly trained employees, this distribution be accomplished. Gulf Refining Company has had to organize its refineries, ships, rail lines, trucks and centralized points into one perfect functioning machine, to accomplish the task of constantly meeting the demand."

MONTEVALLO WINS BY 26-19 COUNT OVER C.C.H.S.

The plucky Clanton Tigers strove hard to overcome a comfortable lead by the boys from Montevallo Friday night. After getting off to a slow start the casters from Chilton outplayed Montevallo in the last half, but the lead was too much to overcome.

The outstanding play of Clive Aldridge, Frank Hogan, and George Moore was the feature of the offensive attack of Clanton. The leading scores for Montevallo were Findley and Edkins.

The local boys play the strong Wetumpka Aggies here February 5. Don't miss this one.

Old Clanton Resident Dies Here Last Week

W. F. (Frank) Culpepper, a well-known citizen of Clanton, died last Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at his home in West End, following an illness of several weeks duration. Mr. Culpepper was 64 years old.

Surviving him are his widow; one son, L. L. Culpepper, Clanton; one daughter, Mrs. W. C. Erwin, Calera; three sisters, Mrs. Ida Cotton, Birmingham, Mrs. Fanny Cotton, Sylacauga, and Mrs. Bama Gallman, of Tuscaloosa; two brothers, Charles C. Culpepper, Danville, Va., and Eddie Culpepper of Clanton.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the Liberty Hill Baptist Church, near Clanton, with Dr. S. J. Ezell, pastor of the Clanton Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in the churchyard cemetery with Spigener Funeral Home in charge.

The following friends of the family served as pallbearers: M. L. White, W. H. Sarton, Burns Goodgame, T. J. Littlejohn, W. W. Wingard, and M. Z. Atchison.

"Come To Church Sunday"

The attention of the readers of the News was called last week to a large advertisement headed "Come To Church Sunday" which appeared last week.

Your attention is again called to this space. Last week the Rev. A. E. Middlebrooks, pastor of the Clanton Methodist Church wrote a splendid sermon for the space. This week there comes to you a sermon from Dr. S. J. Ezell, pastor of the Clanton Baptist Church. The sermons will continue for two more issues. Thanks are due the firms whose names appear at the bottom.

A Matter of Confidence

The Funeral Director who does not win the trust and confidence of his clientele is doomed to early failure. Like the doctor, his standing in the community depends entirely on the faith people have in his good judgment, professional skill and complete dependability.

Through the years we have built a solid foundation of public confidence. Clients know that our service does not begin and end with the individual case; that we meet later obligations honestly and with an honest desire to serve as capably as we can.

That is why a funeral entrusted to this firm is handled efficiently and with a strict regard to the wishes of our clients. In such a policy lies the reason for our continued success.

ANNOUNCES $25-A-MONTH TIME PAYMENTS AND A NEW UCC 6% FINANCE PLAN

Any New Ford V-8 Car
Can Now Be Purchased for $25 a Month with Usual Low Down-Payment

This $25-a-month time-payment plan enables you to buy a New Ford V-8 car through your Ford dealer on new low monthly terms.

After the usual low down-payment is made, $25 a month is all you have to pay for any type of new car, including insurance and financing.

Your cost for this extension of credit is only 1/2 of 1% a month on your original unpaid balance and insurance. This plan reduces financing charges for twelve months to 6%. For example, if you owe a balance of $400 for your car and insurance, you pay $24 for the year of credit; if the balance is $200 you pay $12. Your credit cost for one year is the original unpaid balance multiplied by 6%.

UCC plans provide you with insurance protection at regular conference rates. You have not only fire and theft insurance, but $50 deductible collision, and protection against other accidental physical damage to your car.

The Universal Credit Company has made these plans available through all Ford dealers in the United States.

America's Future Youth

By James W. Creekmore, Asst. C.E.A.
CCC Co. 3481, Clanton, Ala.

As to the worth of CCC we have repeatedly said our nation's greatest asset is its youth. The future of America rests in the hands of our boys and girls because they are going to be our teachers, our doctors, our statesmen, our lawyers, leaders and our workers. What we have started they are going to carry on. Most of the young men of the CCC who read this article are going to be among those who will direct our nation a few years from now.

I can think of no better way in which to train our youth to be dependable, trustworthy, patriotic and sane leaders of our nation's future than to have a permanent CCC where the youth of today may have the advantage of a proven education in safe, sane and clean living, better education mentally, physically and a chance to prove their worth to the nation.

When we are released a better citizen will go back to his respective community, better prepared for the future.

We haven't been through depression before, as have our fathers and grandfathers and consequently we were not prepared to cope with its problems.

This came upon a huge army of us just beginning life and it is no wonder that confusion, disappointment and doubt resulted.

I think we all should be grateful to Mr. Roosevelt for this opportunity to work. I do not look at the CCC altogether as a relief measure, notwithstanding the fact that is what it started as. It has been a life saver for more than a million young men. It has given them a start for the future.

To eyes of the most severe critic, it is easily seen that the huge program carried out by the CC is not man power thrown away. It would well be worth the financial expenditures necessary to carry it out if half a million boys were given jobs this winter alone. Something definite is coming of the work expended and the dollars spent. Those who shall visit parks and forests through the coming years may bow their heads and thank God that it was made possible.

To the youth of the CCC I have the greatest confidence and under your leadership this nation is going to see the greatest advancement the world has

Our nation and our civilization are only as worthwhile as the individuals that make them up and these individuals are you, the young men of the CCC and other similar organizations. I

Bull Associations Improve Livestock

Auburn, Ala.—F. W. Burns, extension livestock husbandman, has launched a campaign to get bull associations organized throughout Alabama so that small dairymen and farmers with one to ten cows may use purebred bulls and increase their milk and butter production.

After stating that 86.2 per cent of Alabama's dairy cows are in herds of 10 cows or less, Mr. Burns points out that farmers and dairymen should begin producing better cows as "we shall have an increased demand for high-producing cows all over the state in the near future."

Observers Confident Tenant Bill Will Pass

Ashby Ala.—"Observers believe that the Bankhead-Jones Tenant Bill, known as 'The Farmers' Home Act' will be enacted into law at this session of Congress," advises Walter L. Randolph, executive secretary of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation, who is spending several days in Washington working on national farm legislation.

"The purpose of this bill is to promote home ownership by tenants," he says. "It would make available credit on a liberal basis in such a way as to enable worthy tenants to purchase and own their own farms and homes."

More eggs were being laid per 100 laying hens on January 1 than on the corresponding day in the last three years. The average for farm flocks was 19 eggs per 100 hens and pullets of laying age.

150,000 State Farmers Want New Program

Auburn, Ala.—More than 150,000 Alabama farmers have expressed the desire that a new farm program be worked out to take the place of the AAA, report county agents to Dr. N. Duncan, director of the state extension service. Very few farmers the state have expressed their desire that there be not such program.

Determined to fight for a new national farm program and other beneficial to agriculture, farmers the state continue to flock into the farm organization. Reports from the quarters of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation in Montgomery indicate that approximately 30,000 farmers the state have recently become members of their county and state bureaus. The membership of the Bureau is now the largest of any during the history of the organization.

COME TO CHURCH SUNDAY!

Have You Something For the Church --- The Church Has Something For You

DR. S. J. EZELL
Pastor, First Baptist Church, Clanton

"THINGS THAT CANNOT BE SHAKEN"
Heb. 12:27 — "That Those Things Which Cannot be Shaken May Remain."

The author of Hebrews is writing unto Christians who were greatly perplexed about the happenings of their age. He brings to them words of comfort—words of assurance—by calling their attention to God's ultimate purpose concerning human systems and institutions, and also God's purpose to set up among men a kingdom of righteousness in which His will should be done on earth as in heaven. He tells them that God has said "Yet once more I shake not the earth only, but also heaven." Then he goes on to assure them that God's purpose is to remove "those things that are shaken, as the things that are made, that those things that can not be shaken may remain." Finally he urges, "Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which can not be removed, let us have grace whereby we may serve God acceptably with reverence and fear."

Now these early Christians, like us, were living in revolutionary times when many things were going upon the rocks. To them it seemed that solid and permanent things were melting away—their land was being more and more Romanized and heathenized by foreign influences their ancient and God appointed sacrifices and ordinances were being displaced with a spiritual religion without forms and sacrifices. It is not strange that they were perplexed, and needed the information and assurance concerning God's ultimate purpose about matters. It is not strange that their hearts were raised the question: "Is there anything stable-fixed upon which we can rest?"

A like condition of change is upon the world today, and many are the anxious hearts asking: "Is there anything upon which we can rest our hearts?" Many are the changes taking place in the world's economic, governmental, and religious life. Changes in the things that we thought were fixed and permanent are all about us. We are distressed and baffled because we forget that change is the divine order of the universe—because we forget the Master's warning words, "Every plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted shall be rooted up." We forget that every falsehood—every false system—both in government and religion must be rooted up. The radical changes in the world's life since 1914 have shown us that governments, economic relations, dynasties, and religious systems are unstable things. There is universal upheaval everywhere, and the overturning of all things seems to be the order of the day. Thoughtful men are apprehensive, and are asking the question, "What can survive? What will remain?"

Now, what shall be the Christian's attitude and reaction to such times and changes? What may he rest his faith upon? For comfort and faith, let me point to a few things that can not be shaken—that will abide all changes, and all times.

In the first place, there is Jesus Christ as Son of God—the world's Hope—who can not be shaken. He has stood the test of the centuries. Neither infidels nor critics have been able to shake Him from His high place as Son of God—as the world's one hope. Men will never be able to "humanize" Him and count Him as a superior man only. His record still stands in the twentieth century. "That He spake as no man hath ever spoken." He is the revealer of the Father to humanity. God spake through Him, and revealed His purposes and plans for men and this world. He will remain unshaken, not only because He spake as no man hath ever spoken, but also lived as no man hath ever lived, and died as no man hath ever died. He is the unique character of the ages—the mystery of all ages save to those who know Him, and accept Him as the one unchanging and unshaken personality of all ages. Here is one upon whom the hope of the ages must rest. Here is one "The same yesterday, today and forever." No wonder that Lloyd George, the great English statesman, said to the House of Lords during the chaos of the world war, "It is Christ or chaos." Are you baffled and perplexed? Are you looking for a rock higher than yourself? Does your heart ask to whom shall we look and go? Let it find its answer in the unshaken and unchanging Son of God who must reign till He hath put all His enemies under His feet.

In the second place, you can rest your faith in the true and unshaken church of God. There is nothing sacred and unchanging in the world's religions. You need not be perplexed that Germany and Russia have largely outlawed and suppressed the religions of their lands. Those who know the difference between religion and Christianity are not disturbed over the religious changes taking place in the world. The world needs a religious change, and needs it badly. We believe that God is "uprooting every plant that He has not planted." He is uprooting that He may plant the tree of life—a good tree that will bring forth good fruit fit for the needs of the human heart—fit for the needs of human sin and destiny. Paul found Athens very "religious" with its multitudes of gods and altars, and lest they leave out one, they had erected an altar "To the Unknown God." They had "religions," but they did not have true Religion. So Paul began preaching and uprooting the false, and planting the heavenly Father's plant. God uprooted Judaism and the heathen "religions" that He might plant the good tree whose fruit would be for the healing of the nations. I care not what changes may come in the world's religious life, I can rest my faith upon His promise to the true Church. "The gates of Hell shall not prevail against it." His Church is the pillar and ground of all truth, and Christ the head and bridegroom will, at last, bring His bride to Himself without spot or wrinkle. Religious systems and ecclesiasticisms must and will fail, but the true Church of God will go on to sure victory. Yes, we can rest our faith in the true and unshaken Church of God that can not be moved.

Lastly, we can rest our faith in the unchanging needs of the human heart. Next to God, men in their very nature are the most unchanging thing of all creation, and Civilization can do many things, but they can not satisfy the unchanging need of the heart for God. They can not satisfy the heart's hunger for God, for immortality, and for eternity. God has so constituted man that he "can not live on bread alone." Yes, men will always need God—always find no satisfaction and peace except as they find it in Him. L. Stanley Jones tells of asking a bewildered heathen Hindu worshipping his idol: "Man, what is the matter with you?" The Hindu replied: "Sir, there is nothing the matter with me, except I have not found Him." No, there is nothing the matter with the sin-cursed world, except it has not found Him. The need remains and will remain till we find Him. Yes, there are things which can not be shaken, and will remain—Jesus the Son of God—the True Church—and the unchanging needs of the human heart for God.

Why The Lindberghs Left America

Reuters News Service, which supplies the European press, asked William Randolph Hearst for a statement on the departure of the Lindberghs from America.

HERE'S WHY.

Almost every newspaperman has been asked: "Why don't you fellows like Hearst?" If you care to know and will read the following, we believe you will see him as the newspaper folks do:

Hearst said, in part:

"I think it is extremely distressing and discouraging that this grand country of ours is so overrun with cranks, and criminals, and Communists that a splendid citizen like Colonel Lindbergh must take his family abroad to protect them against violence."

"When the American people recognize and perform their duty to their country and elect a more competent and patriotic lot of public men, America will be cleansed of its criminal vermin, and fine men like Colonel Lindbergh can live here with their families safely and proudly."

Hearst did not reveal:

(1) That photographers in the pay of Hearst endangered the life of little Lindbergh and were guilty of the most outrageous violation of a family's right to privacy.

Less than a month ago, Hearst men in two automobiles crowded a Lindbergh car to the curb in Englewood, N.J. The New York Times in its exclusive story from Colonel Lindbergh pointed out:

"As Jon was being taken by automobile from his school to his home a large car containing several men came close alongside and crowded the car containing the lad to the curb, forcing it to stop."

"Men jumped down. A teacher accompanying the little child clatched him tightly. Suddenly cameras were thrust into the child's face and clicked. Then the visitors jumped into their machine and sped away, leaving a badly frightened teacher and little boy.

"Since then Jon had not been to school."

Mrs. Lindbergh, who was in the car, was terribly upset by this incident. At the time she felt sure it was kidnapping attempt.

Colonel Lindbergh told his friends that had he been with Mrs. Lindbergh, he, too, would have thought it a kidnapping and taken "appropriate action." He is a crack shot and carries a gun.

He discovered the photographers were Hearst men.

Here is a fact that has never been published and which should be made known to the American public. Colonel Lindbergh made it clear to his intimates that this was a deciding factor in determining him to take his family out of the country.

Hearst's International News sent it out to all clients with the boast, "Another Exclusive Photo of Jon Lindbergh and His Mother!" One photographer got a $100 bonus.

And Hearst talks of vermin!

What Hearst did not reveal:

(2) That Hearst's New York Tabloid newspaper, The Mirror, trying to drum up circulation in Nazi circles of Yorkville, has been printing the sympathetic story of Bruno Hauptmann, written by the convicted murder-kidnaper himself. No other newspaper in New York would so much as touch his sloppily sentimental defense of the man convicted of America's most ghastly crime.

And Hearst talks of vermin!

What Hearst did not reveal:

(3) Hearst uses the Lindbergh "exile" to attack the New Deal. The kidnapping occurred during the Hoover administration. One of the first moves of President Roosevelt was to reorganize the Bureau of Investigation, the so called "G-men," to enforce the Lindbergh anti-kidnaping law.

Since the passage of the Lindbergh law the Bureau of Investigation, under J. Edgar Hoover, has killed four kidnappers, jailed 122 and has another 25 awaiting trial. The bureau has solved all the 55 kidnappings since the passage of the Lindbergh law.

What Hearst did not reveal:

(4) That it was New Jersey's anti-New Deal Governor, an special pet of Hearst, who visited Hauptmann in his cell, repented the case in the newspapers by casting doubt upon Hauptmann's guilt and dragging the name of Lindbergh into a political mess.

And Hearst talks of vermin!—New York Post.

Alabama Farmers Repay All Loans

Auburn, Ala.—"Alabama is the only state in the Union that met its production credit loans 100 per cent on the dollar in principal and interest in 1934," writes Jesse B. Hearin, president of the Production Credit Corporation of New Orleans.

Inquiry reveals that approximately $300,000 was loaned to Alabama farmers by the eight production credit associations located at Bay Minette, Ozark, Auburn, Aniston, Huntsville, Russellville, Demopolis and Montgomery.

Mr. Hearin reports that the Alabama Associations are at present receiving applications for loans in 1935.

NOTICE OF LOCAL BILL

State of Alabama, Chilton County.

Notice is hereby given that a Bill will be introduced and its enactment sought, at the 1936 extraordinary session of the Legislature of Alabama, which Bill is in substance as follows, to-wit:

A BILL
To Be Entitled
AN ACT

To authorize and empower the County Board of Education of Chilton County, Alabama to rent offices, buildings or parts of buildings for quarters or offices to be used by said County Board of Education and the Superintendent of Education and his assistants, of said county, and to authorize the Board of Education of Chilton County Alabama to purchase or buy necessary office equipment, supplies, stationery, postage, janitorial supplies, coal, telephone, lights and water and hire janitor services and to pay for the same out of the School funds of Chilton County Alabama.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF ALABAMA:

Section One.

That the County Board of Education of Chilton County Alabama is hereby authorized and empowered to rent offices, buildings or parts of buildings for quarters or offices to be used by said Board of Education, the Superintendent of Education and his assistant of said county, and to buy or purchase necessary office equipment, supplies, stationery, postage, janitorial supplies, coal, telephone, lights and water and hire janitor and pay for the same out of the School funds of Chilton County Alabama.

Section Two.

That this Act shall go into effect immediately upon its passage and approval by the Governor.

Section Three.

That all laws general, special and local which are in conflict with the provisions of this Act be and the same hereby are repealed.

C. B. OOX, Representative,
EARLE THOMAS, Senator.

IN MEMORY

On January 15, the death angel visited our home and took away our daughter and sister, Vivian. The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away. His will be done and not ours. But to know her was to love her.

But Vivian I hope to meet
In that sweet home above.
There I can fall at the feet of Jesus
And sing redeeming love.
Oh, won't that be a happy time,
When Vivian's face I see,
And the Golden Gate rolls open wide
And Vivian welcomes us all.
Then, oh, how sweet to dwell in heaven,
And see dear Vivian smile,
And hear her say as I go in,
"Oh, that is my darling friend."
Vivian is gone, I need not weep.
She cannot come back any more,
But soon I hope to meet her there.
And rest on Canaan shore.

Helped By Cardui

Why do so many women take Cardui for the relief of functional pains at monthly times? The answer is that they want results such as Mrs. Herbert W. Hunt, of Hallsville, Texas, describes. She writes: "My health wasn't good. I suffered from cramping. My pain would be so intense it would nauseate me. I would just drag around, so sluggish and 'do-lash.' My mother decided to give me Cardui. I began to mend. That tired, sluggish feeling was gone and the pains disappeared. I can't praise Cardui too highly because I know it helped me." ... If Cardui does not help YOU, consult a physician.

4-H Health Contest For Boys And Girls

Auburn, Ala.—Another state-wide health contest will be conducted for Alabama 4-H club boys and girls this year, announced T. A. Sims and Elizabeth Delony, state 4-H club leaders. The healthiest boy and girl will be given a free trip to the National 4-H Club Congress late in the year. County winners will also be recognized by awards and certificates.

The contest will be conducted as it has been during the past several years. Boys and girls in the various counties will compete in county-wide contests and then the winners in the county contests will compete in a state-wide contest to be held either in Montgomery or Birmingham. County and state health officers will cooperate.

ODIS JONES SERVES BEST BARBECUE AT LOW PRICES

Just what formula Odis Jones uses in the preparation of that delicious barbecue that he serves at his place, the well-known Boswell stand south of Clanton, is not known, but quite a few people are proclaiming it to be the best barbecue they have ever eaten. His prices, too, are very reasonable, just the regular price of an ordinary sandwich. Perhaps Odis has learned that his customers appreciate quality and service, the foundation of any business.

The week of February 3 has been set aside for "Visiting Week." Parents and friends of the school are especially invited to visit classes and chapel during this week. The chapel exercise starts at 8:30 in the morning. Classes run from 8:0 to 3:45 with an hour for noon.

Thorsby Institute News
The Girls Glee Club gave two selections of music at the chapel service Tuesday, under the direction of Miss Foss. They were very much enjoyed.

Two new students have enrolled, one a boarding student, Thelma White of Clanton, and the other, Florence McCary of Thorsby. Both are sophomores.

A week from next Saturday at three o'clock in the auditorium, the voice and piano pupils of Miss Kathryn Foss will give a recital to which every one is invited. No admission will be charged.

Last Thursday night the Ladies Guild Social was held in the newly enlarged living room of the Campus Cottage. (The enlargement and addition of two bedrooms were made possible through the generous gift of the Ladies Guild. Mrs. Jenkins also made a donation for this purpose.) At the social hour a program of piano music was rendered by the very young music pupils of Thorsby Institute. Those who played were: Percy Franklin, Annette Merchant, Helen Louise Meade, Charles Williams, Marjorie Bentley and Inez Cox. They played very well. Grace Mixon was to have played, but on account of sickness was unable to.

A CORRECTION

In last weeks News there appeared an item in the Thorsby News section to the effect that "Judge Flummer" the guest of Mrs. N. Laurell. This is an error and should have read "Mr. V. B. Hamilton" spent Thursday as the guest of Mrs. N. Laurell. The error was due to a missing line in the setting of the type. The News sincerely regrets this and offers apologies to those concerned.

Louise Fitzpatrick rendered two vocal solos which were much enjoyed. Also the program, group games were played. Fruit salad, crackers and coffee and cocoa were served. Every one had a good time.

The Junior and Senior classes are seeking subscriptions for the Saturday Evening Post, Ladies Home Journal and Country Gentleman. If you are thinking of subscribing or renewing please do it through them. Be sure to ask them if it is for the benefit of Thorsby Institute. Other schools in other towns are competing also.

IN MEMORY OF AUNT VIVIAN BEST

Go, pilgrim, to thy home,
To soothe her aching brow,
To cool her burning fevered lip
We have no Aunt Vivian now.
We should not wish her back again.
In this dark and dreary world,
Although I know she dearly loved
Her darling friends,
My Lord saw fit to take her home
And set her spirit free.
But while on earth dear Lord I roam
I humbly trust in thee.
I hope to meet her some day,
—Written by her niece, Ruby Foss.

Gulf Official Urges Courtesy And Service

"Courtesy and Service earn big dividends," says Mr. E. W. Brown, Assistant Division manager of the Gulf Refining Company, in charge of operations. "In our organization, we continue to stress the importance of these factors. Good gasoline, good service, and competent and smiling employees, have made 'That Good Gulf Gasoline' institutional."

Through the medium of education, Mr. Brown is endeavoring to have every Gulf representative and employees in this Division live up to that tradition, which has made so many friends for Gulf at their Service Stations.

"The merits of the many products sold 'At the Sign of the Orange Disc,' adds Mr. Brown, 'has created a demand reaching into all corners of our vast territory. The safe and efficient handling these Gulf products offers a gigantic problem."

"Only with the aid of thousands of loyal and highly trained employees can this distribution be accomplished. The Gulf Refining Company has had to organize its refineries, ships, rail facilities, trucks and centralized supply points into one perfect functioning machine, to accomplish the task of constantly meeting the demand."

Plantersville Truck Accident Is Fatal

Elmer Reynolds, 26, was instantly killed near Plantersville early tonight when the gravel truck in which he was riding skidded on a muddy road and threw him from the cab.

Reynolds was riding with Cecil Johnson, who reported Reynolds was lighting a cigar when the truck skidded. Reynolds was thrown from the right side of the truck seat. He suffered a crushed skull and other injuries.

Coroner Andrew Brislin, of Selma, went to the scene of the fatal accident and reported Reynolds died instantly. The death was held an accident and no charges were brought. Deputies H. N. Casey and Johnnie Moseley also investigated.

Surviving Reynolds are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Love Terry; two half-sisters Misses Frances and Margie Terry; and a half-brother, Mack Terry, all of Plantersville.

The funeral was held from the Plantersville Baptist Church at 3:30 p.m. Monday, with the pastor, the Rev. Bentley, officiating. Burial will be in the Plantersville cemetery, with Brown-Service in charge.

Farm Women Do Huge Business On Markets

Auburn, Ala.—Alabama farm women sold $291,689.67 worth of farm products on the 16 curb markets in the state last year, reports Helen Johnston, state home demonstration agent. The sales during the year were almost $300,000 more than in 1934 when $264,822.08 worth of products were sold.

Reports from county home demonstration agents indicate the following amounts sold on the various markets: Montgomery, $106,576.06; Mobile, $135,956.18; Dothan, $104,812.56; Florence, $7,635.41; Selma, $4,354.99; Decatur, $4,149; Opelika, $2,351.78; Auburn, $2,315.82; Athens, $2,189.59; Anniston, $2,062.72; Troy, $1,692.72; Tuskegee, $1,609.87; Talladega $951.09; and Jasper, $839.38.

MONTGOMERY IS TO REGULATE LIQUOR SALES

No Sales On Sunday, No Credit, And Fixed Cost Agreed On By Dealers

From The Montgomery Advertiser of Tuesday, January 21

Liquor prices advanced in Montgomery yesterday following a meeting Sunday of wholesalers and retailers in the city.

The action followed announcement of the city's new license schedule. Some liquor retailers, protesting the price rise, were whipped into line with the threat of wholesalers to cut them from their lists of clients.

Blue-law regulation of sales also was agreed upon at the meeting Sunday.

Briefly the results of Sunday's meeting of liquor dealers, as revealed yesterday, were:

Law for Dealers
Popularly priced whiskies, which for the last six weeks have sold for 85 cents a pint and 45 cents a half, will cost the thirsty consumer here $1 a pint and 50 cents a half.

Effective immediately, liquor stores in Montgomery will be closed from midnight Saturday to 6 a.m. Monday. No whisky may be bought in Montgomery during that 30-hour period each week.

These rules, laid down at the Sunday meeting, are to be enforced upon all retailers through their source of supply, the wholesalers, it was stated. Retailers who failed to attend the Sunday meeting have been advised to that effect, it is understood.

The new city license schedule will have the effect of closing many holes-in-the-wall liquor shops here, dealers expect.

A prominent liquor jobber who refused to permit use of his name said last night:

Jobber's Statement
'Every dealer in Montgomery is glad to help the city in any way he can, and if the imposition of the new license schedule will help our municipal administration during these trying times, we and every other worthwhile merchant are glad to help.

"We understand that this new beverage tax gives us no authority to sell liquor, but is only levied for revenue-raising purposes. Still, we are willing to cooperate in every respect."

"The meeting Sunday agreed on four main points:

"1. Prices will not be increased, but will be restored to the standard level that prevailed until the disastrous 'price war' that began among some of the smaller dealers a few weeks ago.

"2. No goods will be sold on Sunday.

"3. No goods will be sold to any person under the influence of liquor.

"4. No goods will be sold except for cash.

"Our chief concern is cooperating fully with city and county authorities 100 per cent. By raising the price of our merchandise to its former level, and by refusing credit, we will help to reduce the number of drunks in Montgomery and by eliminating Sunday business, we will keep the streets free of drunks on Sunday.

"Too often a man as bought a few drinks, intending to drink only a small amount, and later, out of money, has bought much more and charged it, with the result that he spent money he could not afford or did not intend to spend and also became drunk.

"These new rules of trade practice will eliminate such abuses. Hereafter that man will take the few drinks his purse affords him, then go home to bed sober.

"We are in the business we are in because the public demands liquor. If it is being sold in Montgomery just as it always has been sold in Montgomery, it has always been sold in Montgomery, but the brand we get now has paid tax to the Federal Government supervision and of a quality that will meet Federal standards.

"If bonded whisky was not available in abundance and at a reasonable price Montgomeryans would return to the poisonous corn whisky they drank here for many years.

"Not only are local liquor dealers glad to help the city raise any revenue possible, but we wish we could pay a reasonable tax to the county and to the State."

The city's new license schedule advanced the tax on malt beverage wholesalers from $150 to $1,500 annually.

Chevrolet To Scrap Old Cars In Safety Drive

How the Chevrolet Motor Company is cooperating in the war for traffic safety by staging a $1,000,000 old car scrapping program was described by J.W. Hayes of the Hayes Chevrolet Co., upon his return from an all-day meeting at Birmingham, conducted by P. Sever Manager of the Birmingham zone.

Chevrolet's old car disposal program," said Mr. Hayes, "is by far the most aggressive thing of its kind undertaken to date. For a limited time, under the Chevrolet plan, dealers will be reimbursed at a fair figure for every dangerously old motor vehicle taken in trade and scrapped. Since the program is in effect throughout the whole country, a tremendous reduction in the number of suc cars on the highway is certain to result.

Heavy advertising outlay in 1936, with the emphasis, as always on newspapers as the backbone of the entire program, is a major feature of Chevrolet's plans, Mr. Hayes said. "During December," he explained, "The Chevrolet Motor Company made extensive use of newspaper space in selling used cars. The fact that the sales eclipsed anything heretofore accomplished in December has strengthened the conviction of the advertising department that the choice of a medium was wise."

WORLD WAR VETERAN DIES HERE AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Funeral services for Edgar R. Baker, 48-year-old World War veteran, who died Saturday night at the Central Alabama Hospital of an attack of pneumonia, were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Mt. Pisgah Baptist Church with the Rev. Mr. Lockhart officiating. Burial was in the churchyard cemetery with Martin & Sons in charge of the services.

Born and reared in Chilton County, Mr. Baker was well known throughout the western section of the county, where he had lived most of his life. During the World War he was gassed and had been in ill health for several years.

Surviving him are his widow: three children: his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. (Bud) Baker; brother, M. O. Baker, all of near Clanton.

Farm Agencies Join In Erosion Control

Auburn, Ala.—The Soil Conservation Service, the Alabama Extension Service, and emergency work camps (CCC) have united in conducting in Alabama the greatest soil conservation program ever conducted in the country.

The joint program includes terracing, planting of vegetative crops for erosion control, crop rotation, and reforestation. In general, it includes protecting land from washing away and converting unprofitable land and fields into money-making projects.

Eleven assistant county agents have recently been employed to supervise the soil conservation work. These agents are J.W. Wible, Greenville; M.B. Smith, Dadeville; George M. Burns, Lineville; A.G. Harrell, Jr., Linden; T. G. Amson, Troy; T.A. Ventres, Clanton; W.H. Tucker, Opelika; Davis W. Pittman, Livingston; J.A. Medlock, Greensboro; T.D. Aldridge, Anniston; and P.L. Wright, Carrollton.

Trucking Misbranded Seed Violates Statute

Auburn, Ala.—Any trucker who is not a common carrier and who hauls misbranded seed from one state to peddle it in another state violates the Federal Seed Act, warns the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Selling misbranded seed in interstate commerce is also an offense, and the peddling trucker could be punished for either or both of these acts.

NATION'S INCOME

Due to the loss of German and other markets and severe restrictions of foreign demand, farm products fell below the cost of production; trade in general was depressed and our Republican friends talked of a 'Wilson panic.' But soon the Allies began to spend in this country enormous sums which they borrowed from American bankers and our national income began to rise. In 1917 we entered the war and our Government instituted the greatest spending program in its entire history. In two years it borrowed and spent at home over 23 billions. Contrast that with the 9 billions the Roosevelt Administration has been authorized by Congress to use in spending for recovery. In 1914 our national debt was 2 billion, 900 million dollars. By 1919 it had risen to 26 1-2 billions.

"But here is the other side of the picture. Our national income, which in 1914 had been 36 billion dollars, had by 1919 risen under the stimulus of this spending 70 billions. It averaged above 70 billions for each year until 1930 and in 1929 was 81 billions. Out of the increased national income more than 4 billions were paid on the debt by 1922. Then Mr. Mellon's so-called 'sound' fiscal policy was adopted; the income taxes in the higher brackets were reduced four times, and the average annual reduction of the debt fell off to a little less than a billion dollars. But even so, according to Mr. Mellon's annual report, by June 30, 1930, the debt had fallen to 15 billion, 900 million. And it has been plausibly argued that it should have been reduced considerably lower by retaining the high surtaxes on the larger incomes, with very beneficial results to the nation.

"Before Mr. Hoover's term expired, the debt had risen to 21 billions, an increase of over 5 billions. Since Mr. Roosevelt has been in office it has risen 9 billions to slightly more than 30 billions. But note the difference, while Mr. Hoover was spending the national income steadily declined. By 1932 it had dropped from 81 billions a year to only 38 billions, the lowest point since 1914. When Mr. Roosevelt started spending, the national income immediately began to rise. In 1933 it was 40 billions; in 1934, 51 billions and now, for 1935, it is conservatively estimated to be nearly 60 billions. The trouble with Mr. Hoover's spending was that it was not adapted to the problem he faced; it did not go far enough; it did not put purchasing power in the hands of the masses."

FOUR FINED IN CITY COURT

HERE LAST MONDAY MORN

Four persons, charged with public drunkenness who faced Mayor C. Fenn Jones in City Court Monday morning, were fined. The mayor stated that officers had apprehended them during a boisterous celebration the past week end.

It is really with regret, the mayor declared, that we impose punishment upon those who come into City Court, but it must be understood that public drunkenness can not be tolerated.

Miss Mae Aniece Polk, a student at Thorby Institute, spent the week end at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Polk.

President Urges

Poll Tax Pay

Wallace Cox, president of the Chilton County Unit of Young Democrats, is urging the young voters of this county to qualify and be ready to vote in the coming elections. Following is a copy of a letter from Mr. Cox on this subject:

Dear Friends:
 I want to take this opportunity to bring to your attention the fact that only a few days remain in which to pay your poll taxes and be ready to cast your ballot in the coming elections.

Saturday, Feb. 1, will be the last day that you can take care of this important privilege. I want to urge everyone of you to be ready when the battle begins. This is going to be one of the most important elections ever held in Chilton County. We will decide this year if we are to continue in the Democratic ranks, or if we are going to lose what we have gained.

There are several local offices to be filled. Many important offices in national government, including the President of the United States, will be filled this year. You are going to want a part in this election, and the only way in which you can have it is to be qualified and ready to vote at the polls.

Saturday may be too late. Something might happen that you can't get to the courthouse Saturday. Let me urge you to lose no time taking care of your poll taxes.

WALLACE COX.

THRILL SHOW

Wilson Hotel, along intersection street to the Clanton-Selma Highway, to the Clanton-Birmingham Highway, and ending at the McKee Service Station. The drive will start at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Before the commencement of the show at Gragg Field, a big dinner for those participating, including the Montgomery Motorcycle Club, a special rider from Selma, and a score of other well-known showmen, will be held at Nell's Eat Shoppe. Mayor C. Fenn Jones will be guest of honor.

Featuring some of the most widely known stunt men and women in Alabama, this show will be a revelation to the people of this section. Defying death, the riders will speed their machines in dangers that are almost suicidal. One of the outstanding events will be the crashing of a machine into a burning board wall. This is recognized as one of the most dangerous feats known to thrill riders.

The show will begin at 2:30 o'clock and will last more than two hours, every minute of which will be packed with hair-raising thrills.

POULTRY

transaction alone brought more extra money to the farmers of Chilton County than is annually appropriated by the county for both county farm and home agency. Chilton County's share at present in the expense of maintaining this service to its farmers is only $2,100, it is understood.

Without farm agency, this extra cash for poultry could not have been gotten. The Farmers Marketing and Exchange Association is operated only in connection with county agency and its benefits distributed in cooperation with this work.

Total poultry sold was 34,281 pounds, being as follows: heavy hens, 26,741 pounds; light hens, 3,553; fryers, 977; roosters, 1736; turkeys, 192; stags, 513; geese, 36; ducks, 12, and 11 guineas.

Another advantage, suggested by Mr. Fant, is that this amount of poultry was taken out of the county and therefore prevents overrunning of the local market.

PASSING FOOTPRINTS

Of The Times

— Billy Smith

It's Not A Habit

It's not a habit that we apparently are always mentioning the name of our good friend, Pete Jarman, in this column. It is a matter of admiration for that gentleman who has time and time again proven himself as a gentleman. But the thought struck us this week that opponents of Pete for Congressman (if any) will have to get busy. Pete won't have any opposing candidate when he enters the race to succeed our friend W. B. (Buck) Oliver. When we understand from reliable sources will not run again this time. We have during the past year or so seen very much in favor of younger persons being given opportunities to show their metal and what they can do. That feeling is growing stronger and so here's to Pete—he made a good secretary of State, and we await with interest his announcement as a candidate for Congressman from this district.

Advertising

This week we pay tribute to those business concerns who use space in the News to invite business to their stores. We deeply feel the need of words to express our profound respect for the persistent advertisers in newspapers. We lack the words—we can say, read the advertisements, they contain not only bargains, but information as well.

Looking Out

The News is saying this week that our candidates have announced on the Democratic ticket in Chilton County. We can remember way back yonder when it was most difficult to find a person who was willing to announce as the Democratic ticket in Chilton County. Our conclusion—the outlook for a Democratic victory this year is beyond a doubt the brightest seen in this county in over twenty-five years. The party has the leadership. The party is proven itself capable of producing men who are competent, and who can put that statement when referred to four candidates announcing this week or those already placed in offices this county.

Light That Time

In this column of January 16th, we pressed our unreserved guess that the legislature of Alabama would be called to session by the Governor not later than February 11th. We guessed correctly. The Governor issued his call last week to the representatives and senators to gather on Goat Hill on February 11th to get down to business in an extension of the Legislature.

Logistics

This week we do not hesitate to extend apologies to Mr. Bean, our Commissioner from near Thorsby. We have given to understand that Mr. Bean is forth every effort to make a certain check tire purchase recently and after nine tires at several places while in Birmingham, he found that a mail order of the price was lowest. So "The Man In The Moon" stated last week. He charged us with something—we weren't able to determine just which. We understand also from that Mr. Bean could not have turned an order from a bona-fide tire company in Birmingham through a local tire when in Birmingham. So, we apologize to Mr. Bean. And we might add that it was quite necessary the purchase be made before the tires could be brought back to the News. (That's the truth. No sarcasm here.)

Church Page

We pause right here to extend thanks to those who have made it possible to the half-page devoted to the news of Clanton can be carried in News. This week another good service is published. It was written by R. L. Huffman. We have carried midweek sermons by The Rev. Middlebrook and Dr. Ezell. Thanks to these leaders for their cooperation. Another will be published next week.

And Cold

With the weather—possibly the most used subject and the least done at. Nevertheless, if it continues to be hot and cold? we are on the verge of rising up in rebellion as such antics with all our vocabulary, however tired, do more than merely discuss it. We gave a sigh of relief Monday night when the thermometer rose to a comfortable position. But our car was up again Tuesday night and it dropped and we had to shut the waterworks and bring in more

Nothing Needed

While we hesitate sometimes to speak exactly as we think, we thought of the necessity of an election of a committee members so much the temptation got the best of us. We believe that the time has come. (Continued to Back Page)

R. L. OUSLEY IS CANDIDATE FOR COMMISSIONER

Is Widely Known; Seeks Office From Third Comm. District

A name that is familiar to the people of the county will appear on the Democratic ticket of Chilton County in the forthcoming primary—that of R. L. Ousley, one of the most widely known farmers of the western part of the county.

The News, this week, is carrying the official announcement of Mr. Ousley as a candidate for Commissioner from the Third District, on the Democratic ticket.

Mr. Ousley has a most unusual record and an outstanding record. He was born in this county and has lived within one-half mile of his birth place ever since. He has made a success of his business as a good farmer, and holds the respect of his entire community. He is a member of the Alpine Baptist Church and takes an active part in social and religious activities. He is also a Mason. Mr. Ousley comes from a family prominent in service to his community and a family that through the years has built up its standing to an enviable reputation. Mr. Ousley stated that he would have more to say to the voters of the county before the primary in May.

BAD WEATHER CAUSES THRILL SHOW PUT-OFF

Next Sunday Set As Day For Stunters To Do Stuff On Motors

The Big Thrill Show, scheduled for last Sunday afternoon at Gragg Field, was postponed until next Sunday afternoon, Feb. 9, because of the inclemency of the weather. Heavy rain throughout the day and the muddy condition of the field made it impossible to have staged the show.

Present plans call for the presentation next Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. Several new and thrilling acts have been added to the program and it is expected to be even better than the originally-planned program.

Such outstanding riders as those listed below will take part in making this one of the best shows ever seen in Clanton, according to Mrs. Lois Davis, promoter of the show.

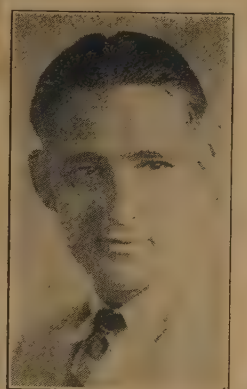

Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Haynie, Bert Ustry, Norman Ustry, Charlie Harris, Glenn Marshall, Aron A. Gordon, Gene Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Meeks, Mr. and Mrs. Borland, and Rock Stone.

Tickets may be had at Upchurch Drug Co., in Clanton, Gulledd's store and Howard Filling Station in Verbena and at Wright's Drug Co. in Thorsby. Admission, 25c and 10c.

MR. AND MRS. SAM WILLIAMS PARENTS OF FINE BOY

Mr. and Mrs. Sam B. Williams are the proud parents of an eleven pound boy, arriving Jan. 24th. His name is Omar. London.

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES TO COME BEFORE VOTERS OF COUNTY IN FORTHCOMING PRIMARY OF NEXT MAY 5TH

Three of the four candidates who have made their official announcements this week to appear on the Democratic ticket of Chilton County. Left to right, they are J. A. Crane, Pletcher, Ala., candidate for Commissioner from District 3; Joseph E. Easterling, Clanton, candidate for county Treasurer and J. Monroe Parrish, Clanton, candidate for Commissioner from the Fourth District. R. L. Ousley of near Plantersville also announced for Commissioner from District Three. Stories of these men will be found elsewhere on this page.

PLETCHER MAN CANDIDATE FOR COMMISSIONER

J. A. Crane Makes Formal Announcement From Third District

Among the Democratic candidates for the various offices of Chilton County who have announced this week is J. Arthur Crane, one of the county's well known farmers and business men of Pletcher, Ala.

Mr. Crane makes his official announcement in this issue of the News to the effect that he is a candidate for Commissioner from the Third District, in the western part of the county, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held in May.

He is the son of the late J. B. Crane, a widely known farmer of the county. He is a merchant, farmer and business man, and has been successful in his undertakings. Mr. Crane was born and raised in Chilton County and has made this county his home at all times and is familiar with the section of the county which he hopes to serve as Commissioner.

He is a member of the Woodmen, serving as clerk in that organization for approximately twenty years. He is a Mason, his membership being with the Billingsley Lodge. He is a member (continued to back page)

Democratic Executive Committee Will Meet

Following a short session held last Thursday afternoon, another meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee of Chilton County will be held at the courthouse in Clanton on Friday afternoon of this week at two-thirty o'clock according to Hon. P. D. Wilson, Chairman.

Dramatic Club Will Present Play Soon

"A Ready-Made Family," a three-act musical comedy, will be presented next Thursday, night February 13, at the Chilton County High School in Clanton, sponsored by the Clanton Dramatic Club and directed by Miss Patsy Polk.

There are two good reasons why the people of this section will be interested in this production and will want to have front seats at the presentation. The members of the dramatic club are popular in Clanton, and Miss Polk, who is directing the play, is a Clanton girl with exceptional talent in dramatic arts.

J. M. PARRISH ASKS OFFICE AS COMMISSIONER

Prominent Citizen Of County Seeks Office From Fourth District

The Democratic ticket of Chilton County in the forthcoming primary on May 5th will bear the name of one of this county's most prominent and highly respected citizens—that of J. Monroe Parrish of Beat 16—Providence community in the western part of the county.

Mr. Parrish makes his official announcement in this issue of the News as a candidate for Commissioner from District No. 4, on the Democratic ticket.

Born and raised in this county, one of a family that has made an enviable record of service, Mr. Parrish comes before the people with his past record which is most outstanding as a clean honest and worthwhile citizen. He is a farmer and a business man, having made a success of his own business. (Continued to Back Page)

JOHN BROWDER SUCCUMBS TO PNEUMONIA

Clanton's Police Chief Was Well Known And Popular Here

John Browder, Clanton's genial chief of police, died Tuesday afternoon at 5:18 o'clock at his home here, following an illness of four days. Stricken last Friday with pneumonia, his condition grew worse rapidly until Monday when it seemed certain that his chances of recovery were gone.

His friends on the streets of Clanton were encouraged, however, Tuesday morning when it was believed that he showed signs of being slightly stronger. He grew worse though about 11 o'clock and death came at 5 p. m.

For two years, "John," as he was known to almost everyone was a familiar figure on Clanton's streets. He was more than a police officer. He was an ambassador of goodwill for the city of Clanton. Joining the police force at the death of "Uncle Billy" Foshee more than two years ago, he became chief when Sheriff J. R. Hardy resigned to take over his duties as sheriff.

Surviving Mr. Browder are: his widow, Mrs. Mary Will Stewart Browder; two brothers, William Browder and Hubert Browder, both of Montgomery.

Born and reared in Montgomery County, he came to Chilton County about twenty years ago and for many years was connected with the Alabama Power Company at Lay Dam.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the home. Burial was in the Clanton cemetery. (Continued to Back Page)

4 CANDIDATES MAKE FORMAL STATEMENTS

Early Announcing Shows Optimism Over The Coming Elections

MORE CANDIDATES EXPECTED SOON

The age-old political pot of Chilton County, worn sometimes beyond recognition with its contents taking on various hues at times, is beginning to show signs of simmering with the usual boil in the offing. This week four candidates have thrown their hats into the ring and so by doing so, get well underway in their races on the tried and true Democratic ticket.

The first Democratic primary is set to be held on May 5th this year, and although it has not been announced, it is generally believed that the Republican party in the county will hold its primary on the same date.

This year does not hold many promises of being a very "hot" political year as there are only four county offices to be filled, outside of the members of the Democratic Executive Committee of the county.

It is also generally rumored that other persons have definitely made up their minds to enter the field as candidates, and that others are seriously contemplating announcing on the Democratic ticket, which apparently is attracting attention to such an extent that it is bringing out some of the best of them.

WELL KNOWN YOUNG MAN SEEKS OFFICE

J. E. Easterling Announces As A Candidate For County Treasurer

With the outlook promising for younger candidates, there comes before the voters of Chilton County in the Democratic primary of May 5th, the name of Joseph E. Easterling, as a candidate for the office of county Treasurer.

J. E., as he is known over the county, is no doubt one of the county's most enterprising young business men with a future that looms bright. He is now operating one of Clanton's popular service stations, the Woco Service Station, located just across from the courthouse. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Easterling of Clanton and a member of one of the oldest and most prominent families of the county. He received his education in the schools of Clanton and (Continued to Back Page)

Heaviest Snow Here In Years Last Week

What is recorded as one of the heaviest snows in many years fell last Thursday and Friday over this entire section. From Clanton north, the fall showed up as heaviest, and began to dwindle a few miles south of Verbena. Rockford, Goodwater, Columbiana, Jemison and on northward reported several inches of snowfall. The snow remained on the ground for several days north of Jemison. Record rains have also been reported during the past several days. The Coosa River was rapidly rising Tuesday and all streams in this section are badly swollen.

MANAGER OF HILL STORE ILL WITH PNEUMONIA HERE

L. J. Stewart, manager of the Hill Grocery Company's store here, has been confined to his home with pneumonia for more than a week. His condition has been grave, but it was thought Tuesday afternoon that he was slightly stronger.

T. W. CHILDRESS LAID TO REST TUESDAY AFTERNOON

T. W. Childress, one of the county's well known citizens, died at his home in Thorsby shortly after ten o'clock Monday morning of this week, following a lingering illness.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the home with the Rev. J. W. Jones, of Thorsby, officiating. Spigner Funeral Home of Clanton was in charge.

He is survived by one brother, C. R. Childress of Thorsby and three daughters, Mrs. E. C. Cox, Clanton; Mrs. Ernest Porter, Clanton and Mrs. Arthur Honeycutt, Thorsby.

LUTHER E. FOSHEE

LOCAL AUTO SALESMEN ARE HONORED AS CLUB MEMBERS

Luther Foshee Becomes A Member Of "100 Car Club" Of America

White And Jones Honored Through Selling Efforts

Announcement has just been made here to the effect that Luther E. Foshee, widely known and popular automobile salesman, has been made a member of the "100 Car Club" of America.

Friends of Mr. Foshee throughout this section are congratulating him on receiving this coveted honor among automobile salesmen. In order to become a member of this national club, a person must have acquired the necessary number of points in his favor through the selling of the required number of automobiles during a period of one year. Mr. Foshee, during the year 1935, sold eighty-two new Chevrolets and forty-nine used cars.

One of the crack salesmen of the Hayes Chevrolet Co., Mr. Foshee has built up a record for many salesmen to shoot at when it comes to selling automobiles. He will also be presented with handsome monogrammed sales equipment along with other honors in the club.

Sometime ago Mr. Foshee became a member of the "52 Car Chapter" which he held for two years. He has been connected with the automobile business in this section since 1925.

Recognition has recently been given two more of the salesmen of the Hayes Chevrolet Co. Rufus White and J. C. (Continued to Back Page)

The Campaign Is On!

With the announcement this week of four candidates for nomination in the Democratic Primary, May 5, Chilton County's political campaign has officially started. Every candidate has proved himself worthy of support in his ambitions. We think that each one is aware of the vital issues of human and economic welfare to be decided at the polls, and it is gratifying to the News to believe that whichever candidate the Democratic voters see fit to nominate, the party selection will be a man who can and will command the support of all citizens who are seeking better government.

The Democratic party has avowed its allegiance to the cause of all the people rather than a chosen few, and because of this it is not strange that our citizenship is rallying to the cause of democracy. These announced candidates deserve support, and the News is confident that more people than ever before will take a part in nominating the Democratic candidates May 5, and then unite for their election in November.

Fire Can Be Curbed

A decade ago the annual national fire loss was in excess of $500,000,000.

Today it is less than half of that, being in the neighborhood of $250,000,000.

That is definite progress. It gives sound reason for encouragement. But it certainly should not be productive of an unjustified feeling of security. We seem to have made a start toward mastering uncontrolled, destructive fire. But we are still a long way from having completely mastered it.

The fact that a quarter of a billion dollars is still destroyed by fire each year, leaves a "burning target" to shoot at.

Fire can be curbed. It is perfectly possible and practical to cut the annual loss to well below $100,000,000. But to do that, the energy and aid of every American citizen must be enlisted in the campaign. Fire is largely a "personal" matter. Communities can and should pass first-class building codes. They can and should maintain fire teams at class A standards. They can and departments, water facilities and alarm systems should carry on continuous inspection campaigns, backed by up-to-date laws, to force elimination of the worst community hazards.

However, the headway such community acts can achieve must be greatly limited if individuals continue to be careless in regard to their own property. Laws and fire departments cannot keep a man from being careless with inflammable liquids. They cannot make him take due care with tobacco and matches. They cannot make him maintain his heating plant in safe condition. And so it goes—these "little things," that are responsible for so large a part of the total national fire waste, can only be handled by personal, individual effort, thought and foresight.

It's safer to guess it is the approaching car's left-hand headlight that is out.

There are only eight Siamese in the country, according to the census bureau, and, strangely enough, there are no twins among them.

Cornwallis is remembered because he surrendered, but who remembers the British general who won the battle of Brandywine?

If some way could be found to tax the racketeers it would not be necessary to levy more than 10 cents a gallon on gasoline.

It may sound reactionary, but if the primitive justice formerly meted out to horse thieves and cattle rustlers were revived it might tend to check present-day banditry.

Another weakness of our distribution system is seen in the fact that with more than three million square miles of area in this country, it's so hard to find a parking place.

Inconsistent Critics

"The rebirth of the interest and understanding of a great citizenry in the problems of the Nation and an established government which by positive action has proved its devotion to the recovery and well-being of that citizenry."

Such was described by President Roosevelt, at the Jackson Day dinner in Washington, as "two great achievements that stand forth" in the thirty-four months of his administration.

Then he stressed a solemn warning. The long latent public interest must not be allowed to lag. Public understanding of the forces that this year are striving desperately for return to the type of government that was overwhelmingly voted out of power in 1932 must be strengthened and fortified with facts.

"The basic issue," the President declared, "will be the retention of popular government—an issue fraught once more with the difficult problem of disseminating facts and yet more facts, in the face of an opposition bent on hiding and distorting facts."

"That is why, in addition to organization, I make this specific recommendation," he continued, "that each and every one of you interested in getting at the truth that lies somewhere behind the smoke-screen of charges and countercharges, constitute yourself a committee of one. You will have to run down statements made to you by others which you may believe to be false. You will need to analyze the motives of those who make assertions to you, to make an inventory in your own community, in order that you may check and recheck for yourself and thereby be in a position to answer those who have been misled or those who would mislead."

And also there should be subjected to scrutiny the sincerity of those who advocate the return of the government to reactionary control. Do they fail to relate that such a retreat would necessitate the sacrifice of the numerous public safeguards that have been provided by the Roosevelt administration? Do they, in the role of public-spirited citizens professing to be deeply concerned about the economic and fiscal affairs of the country, disclose to their public the gains that have been registered by the corporations of which many of them are the executives?

There are plenty of such instances. Here is one that will suffice as illustration:

In Baltimore the president of one of the city's leading banks has served also as the head of a national organization devoted to chaste conduct of national affairs. In public speeches, in the press of his home city and elsewhere over the country, he has criticized the Roosevelt administration as inefficient and insincere. He has expressed fear for the future, consternation for the present and a reverence for the past. The steady progress toward normal conditions, following restoration of confidence and distribution of buying power from the bottom instead of from the Hoover top, these have been brushed aside as illusions.

Yet at the end of 1935 this gentleman's signature—in green ink—appeared on letters to the bank's stockholders which, after pleasurably referring to the enclosed dividend checks, announced:

"You will shortly receive the President's annual report which will include a statement of condition and detailed figures covering the year's operations, together with some interesting comparisons. You will be interested in knowing that YOUR BANK HAS ENJOYED THIS YEAR THE GREATEST VOLUME OF BUSINESS IN ITS HISTORY, THE GREATEST INCREASE IN DEPOSITS; ITS NET PROFITS REACHED A RECORD HIGH AND DELINQUENCY ON LOANS REACHED AN ALL-TIME LOW."

Of course this is a mild case of the sort of duplicity practiced by the minority of business men and bankers who attempt to discredit President Roosevelt's administration. It is not in the category of the luxurious propaganda by any means but it is indicative of the fertile field that awaits the fact-finding proposed by the President to the committees of one.

Possibly it would also be ethical to say "a lie for a lie and a truth for a truth."

The average pedestrian can testify that the value of walking as an aid toward longevity is greatly exaggerated.

Perhaps a gangster is consoled by the thought that he can not be put on more than one spot at a time.

An economist recommends the junking of obsolete homes as an aid to the building industry. But isn't the home idea itself rather obsolete?

MORAL ECHOES

D. W. Haslow

I witnessed a group of men as they threw out their nets to catch a school of fish, but I have never yet seen a man or a group of men who were foolish enough to stretch a new for a drove of birds. The difference is in the fact that fish have fins and move in the water, while birds have wings and move in the air. It is useless to spread nets for birds that have wings. When men lose all sense of truth and live below the level of a Christian life, it is no trouble at all for the devil to spread his nets and drag them in, but when they grow the wings of truth and character they become free indeed. It is a fact that truth has wings and when we grow truth in the inner life that truth will lift us above the fowler's nets. When the truth shall make you free, you shall be free indeed.

A minister visited one of his parishioners who lived on a farm. The farm had been known far and wide as a wilderness of rocks and thistles. At the time of the preacher's visit there were no rocks and no briars in sight, but he saw a crop growing that would make the heart of any one who tilled the soil. The minister remarked to the happy farmer "You and God seem to have made a success out of this farm." "Yes," replied the farmer, "but you should have seen it while it belonged to God only." It took God and man to put that rocky land into a field of production. It is the plan of Providence to take man into partnership with himself. It takes both God and man to produce a harvest on rocky land. God and man can make a success of life.

A rugged countryman drove his wagon up in front of a blacksmith's shop and offered a load of white oak timber for sale. It was inspected by the workmen in hardwood and then I heard him make this statement: "That timber is sound." I ventured to inquire what he meant by "sound timber" and his reply lingered with me. "Why, sir, sound timber is the kind that has no decayed spots, no snarls and no knots." Sound timber was the only kind that he could safely work into wagon wheels and plow stocks. Suppose that you should carry your brain before some brain specialist—he could say of you after he had looked your thoughts through, "Here is one man who has a sound mind." Is your mind sound in thinking? Your life is made out of the things about which you are thinking. If you have impure thoughts, if you have hatred and jealousy in your thinking, your life is sure to break down—like a wagon wheel when it is made of unsound timber. Paul instructs us to be of a sound mind.

In a community where I lived there was a half-witted young man who was the proud owner of a harp. This young fellow had learned one tune and he traveled up and down the highway every day playing that one tune all the time. When he was at home or when he was five miles away he harped on the same tune all the time. Have you not heard of some folks who were not exactly "half-witted" but they only had one tune. Whether at home or abroad they harped and harped about one thing. Sensible folks have formed the habit of harping on the weather, harping on their neighbors, harping on their ailments. Let me beg you to avoid the disagreeable habit of being a leather-tongued harper.

While I was a student the professor held up a bottle filled with a colored fluid and said to us: "Young gentlemen, I am going to pull the stopper out of this bottle and see how long it will take the odor coming out of the bottle to reach the last man on the back seat." Out came the stopper and almost as soon as it came out the boys on the front seats declared that they detected the odor. In a jiffy the boys on the back seats were making the same claim. Then the professor startled all of us by assuring that the water in the bottle was only colored water and had no odor. Our imaginations are great things. We imagine a thousand things that have no truth in them. Often you imagine that your neighbor has given you cold turkey. Not a word of it.

Enemies Of The President "Have Sworn To Destroy Him Because They Dread And Hate The Things He Stands For"

"Without candidate, or program or principles or clear conception of where it is heading, Big Business is determined to smash liberal democracy in the United States," said Gov. George H. E. E. of Pennsylvania, in an address in Philadelphia. "We know what they mean by 'ganging up.' We have seen Big Business gang up on the working man, on the utility rate payer, on the small merchant, on the farmer and the home owner."

"They say they are ganging up on the President. Actually they are ganging up on America. Their mass attack is more than a fight against a political party—it is a deliberate unscrupulous attempt to restore an autocracy of wealth more tyrannical than any people has seen since the dawn of history. It makes no difference whatever to them what political party is in power, so long as their assumed divine right to exploit the American people is not disturbed."

"They have sworn to destroy President Roosevelt. Not because he is a Democrat, not because he is Franklin D. Roosevelt. Simply because they dread and hate the things he stands for. They prefer the poorhouses to a decent system of social security. They much prefer breadlines to legislation to protect the man who would earn his bread. They would infinitely rather that Americans starve—and before Roosevelt entered the White House they DID starve—than have the budget unbalanced to pay the bill for relief."

"TO PROMOTE THE GENERAL WELFARE was the end the Constitution was written to achieve and must achieve to be a living charter of liberty. The very people who attempt to hide their greed, their lust for money and for restored power behind the cloak of the Constitution, are doing more than any other influence on earth to destroy the Constitution."

"To the arrogant would-be autocrats who openly attempt in 1936 to set up a monopoly of power over the people of the United States, President Roosevelt is giving the answer that Jackson flung in the face of Calhoun: 'Our Federal Union—It must and shall be preserved!' Men of great wealth are carping about federal expenditures. Why? Because that money is going to the needy and the underprivileged and it flows through small business in every section of the land—it is being distributed generally to the people of all classes everywhere, instead of into the pockets of the critics of the intelligent economic policies of Franklin D. Roosevelt. That money represents the shocking price America has had to pay for the years of heartless exploitation of her people."

"You will find no mention of that simple fact in the flood of printer's ink that pours from the luxurious offices of the American Liberty League. Do they mention the 14 billions of American dollars—your dollars—that they sent over to Europe and down to South America, never to return? Do they mention the 80 billions of inflated 1929 valuation that withered away? Do they mention the billions spent by Herbert Hoover to bring back prosperity by lining the pockets of the rich and by bolstering up shaky structures of financial and industrial barons?"

"Of course they do not. They would like to have the mantle of oblivion dropped over those tragic years from Harding to Hoover."

"There is only one answer that America can and must make: 'This nation is not for sale!' We have had enough of the rugged individualism of Charlie Mitchell and Sam Insull and Andrew W. Mellon, the only Secretary of the Treasury under whom three Presidents served."

Fifth Generation Arrives To Bless Chilton Co. Family

Mitchell Dam Cardinals

After winning 24 consecutive games from 13 different teams the Mitchell Dam basketball team were defeated by the strong Sand Mountain team by the score of 29-43.

We don't like the idea of offering alibis but our team was considerably weakened in this game. Cobb our "sure shot" forward and Dock Baker, our stellar guard were out on account of illness.

Mitchell Dam has won two games since playing the Sand Mountain team. One over Mack's Service Station in the Montgomery City League and the other over Selma Y.M.C.A. The score was 33-13 and 39-24, respectively.

We have a tough schedule facing us this week. Meeting the Men's Clothing Shop in Montgomery Tuesday night and the Sand Mountain team in Guntersville Saturday p.m.

We have entered the Gold Medal Tournament in Selma to be played on February 15.

PLEASANT GROVE

Winter is bringing us some bad weather this time.

We still have a few on the sick list but they are gradually improving.

Mr. Vance Franklin was home for the week end.

Mr. Vastene Davenport visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Davenport, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Champion spent Wednesday with the Misses Champion. Messrs. Dalton and Sanders Champion spent Thursday night with the Misses Champions.

Mrs. Roxie Price and Mrs. Clyde Champion visited a while Tuesday with the Misses Champion.

Mr. Paul Samples and family visited

Mr. Sam Woodley and family and Mr. Jim Woodley and family Tuesday.

Mr. Carl Dawson took dinner with the Misses Champion Thursday. He also, spent Wednesday night with Mr. Charlie Childress.

Mrs. Carl Dawson spent Wednesday night with Mrs. Monroe Franklin.

Miss Doris Martin has been visiting her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Erskin Martin.

Messrs. Maurice and Horace Smith and Walter Gentry from Autaugaville have been visiting Mr. J. N. Childress and family.

C. B. COX, Representative, EARLE THOMAS, Senator.

STATE OF ALABAMA, CHILTON COUNTY. Notice is hereby given that a Bill will be introduced and its enactment sought, at the extraordinary session of the Legislature of Alabama to be called in 1936, which Bill is in substance, as follows, to-wit:

A BILL To Be Entitled AN ACT

To require the Court of County Commissioners of Chilton County Alabama to set aside and appropriate, after payment has been made of the liability of Chilton County, Alabama, for its share of paying the Clanton-Selma Highway in Chilton County, Alabama, such part of the funds received by Chilton County, Alabama, from the State of Alabama as Gasoline Tax as will equal its part or share of said tax to the extent of 1c per gallon of said gasoline tax, for the purpose constructing and maintaining in said Chilton County, Alabama public Highway of a permanent type of paved road and to prohibit the Court of County Commissioners of Chilton County, Alabama from extending its gasoline tax received from the State of Alabama to the extent of 1c per gallon of said gasoline tax for any other purposes.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF ALABAMA:

SECTION ONE: That from and after such time when Chilton County, Alabama has fully paid said sums as it maybe liable for, on account of the paving of the Clanton-Selma Highway in Chilton County, Alabama, shall be required to set aside and appropriate from the gasoline tax received by said Chilton County from the State of Alabama, an amount equal to its share of said tax of 1c per gallon, for the purpose of constructing and maintaining, in said County public highways of a permanent type of paved road.

SECTION TWO: That the expenditure by the Court of County Commissioners of Chilton County, Alabama of the gasoline tax of said County to the extent of the amount equal to its share of said Tax of 1c per gallon, for any other purpose than provided for in this Act is hereby declared to be unlawful and is hereby prohibited.

SECTION THREE: That all laws or parts of laws in conflict herewith be, and the same are, hereby expressly repealed.

1-30-41 C. B. COX.

NOTICE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County. Circuit Court, in equity, No. 1288. Kate Loyd, Complainant, vs. Frank Loyd, Defendant.

In this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of J. B. Atkinson that the Defendant is a non-resident, and that his place of residence and post-office address is unknown; and that such address cannot be ascertained after reasonable effort; and further, that in the belief of said affiant, the Defendant is of the age of twenty-one years:

It is, therefore, ordered by the Register that publication be made in the Chilton County News, a newspaper published in the County of Chilton, once a week for 4 consecutive weeks, requiring him, the said Frank Loyd to plead, answer, or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 11th day of February, 1936, or, in thirty days thereafter, a decree pro confesso may be taken against him.

Done at office in Clanton, this 9 day of January, 1936.

W. D. SPIGENER, Register.

NOTICE OF LOCAL BILL

State of Alabama, Chilton County.

Notice is hereby given that a Bill will be introduced and its enactment sought, at the 1936 extraordinary session of the Legislature of Alabama, which Bill is in substance as follows, to-wit:

A BILL
To Be Entitled
AN ACT

To authorize and empower the County Board of Education of Chilton County Alabama to rent offices, buildings or parts of buildings for quarters or offices to be used by said County Board of Education and the Superintendent of Education and his assistants, of said county, and to authorize the Board of Education of Chilton County Alabama to purchase or buy necessary office equipment, supplies, stationery, postage, janitorial supplies coal telephone, lights and water and hire janitor services and to pay for the same out of the School funds of Chilton County Alabama.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF ALABAMA:

Section One. That the County Board of Education of Chilton County Alabama is hereby authorized and empowered to rent offices, buildings or parts of buildings for quarters or offices to be used by said Board of Education, the Superintendent of Education and his assistants of said County, and to buy or purchase necessary office equipment, supplies, stationery, postage, janitorial supplies, coal, telephone lights and water and hire janitor and pay for the same out of the School funds of Chilton County Alabama.

Section Two. That this Act shall go into effect immediately upon its passage and approval by the Governor.

Section Three. That all laws, general, special and local, which are in conflict with the provisions of this Act be and the same hereby are repealed.

Local CCC Basketeers
Are Going Strong

After getting off to a slow start the local CCC Quintette has now a much improved basketball team. During the past week they defeated Thomas, Maplesville and Dadeville CCC team. The defeat handed the Dadeville CCC team by a score of 44 to 23 was the ninth successive victory for them. The team plays this week at Maxwell Field, Plantersville, and Billingsley, and on Saturday they go to Bessemer to meet the strong CCC lads. The boys from Bessemer camp defeated the locals on the home court by a foul shot after the final whistle blew and the revenge will be sweet if they can take the boys in. The defeat of Bessemer would put the locals in the lead for the Sub-District Championship.

The team to date has played fifteen games and lost four of the fifteen. The teams handing the locals defeats were Bessemer, Weogucka, Mitchell, Dam and Mt. Pleasant Independents. Among those defeated were Maplesville, Verbena, Plantersville, Billingsley, Thomas, Canton, Ashland and Dadeville.

It is believed that the local team will be one of the strong contenders for the District Championship which will be held at Fort McClellan in March.

VERMONT

The boys and girls of Stanton played here Friday week, January 24. The girls score was 19-6 in favor of Vermont. The boys score was 22-15 in favor of Vermont. Everyone seemed to have enjoyed the games.

The boys played Billingsley last Saturday night on February 1. The score was 31-17 in favor of Vermont. The boys have played 14 games and haven't lost but 4. They are hoping to win many more games throughout the season.

There will be a fiddler's convention here on Thursday night, February 13. All fiddlers have a special invitation

IN MEMORY OF LITTLE EARL
CHANDLER

On Friday, January 31, the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Chandler of Fletcher, and bore away the spirit of their loving son, Marvin Earl, which left a vacant spot in their happy home.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Chandler, and a host of friends and relatives.

Weep not, dear friends and loved ones, and remember that our loss is heaven's gain. We know that it was hard to say good-bye to the little one but God knows best. The thing for us to do is live right and strive to meet the little one on the shores of gold, when the judgement day arrives. Then we will live with him forever and ever, and be much happier than we were here.

Gone but not forgotten. They have lost their darling son. He has bid us all adieu, And has gone to join the angels on the bright and happy shores. Where he will live in eternity for ever more.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. J. D. Hopper at Pilgrims Rest. —Written by a friend, Gertrude Carter.

Two graduates of the beauty school were awarded diplomas by Miss Elizabeth Lee, head instructor, having completed requirements of the school. They are Mrs. Louise Weldon of Verbena, and Miss Romie Lee Pate, of Thorsby. Games and other entertainment were enjoyed by those present.

LEGION TO HOLD MEETING
AT COURTHOUSE SAT. NITE

Because of the inclemency of the weather last Monday night, the regular meeting of Chilton County Post Number 1 of the American Legion was postponed until next Saturday night at 7 o'clock, according to an announcement by Percy M. Pitts, post commander. The meeting will be at the courthouse.

Mr. Pitts is urging a large attendance, as this is an important meeting. The bonus issue will be discussed, and explanation will be made of the routine required to secure its payment.

It was also announced that Mr. Pitts has necessary blanks and forms at his office for those wanting to secure these. They are cautioned to be sure to bring along "the pink slips." For 1114-c.

A Correction

In this week's Church Attendance advertisement sponsored by Clanton Merchants, several typographical errors got by the News proofreader. These errors were called to our attention by Mr. Huffman, author of this week's article, but as it happened this particular page of the paper had already been printed, so that it was impossible for the corrections to be made.

THANK YOU

I feel deeply grateful to my friends and customers who have made it possible for me to be honored with a membership in the "100 Car Club." Your splendid patronage and cooperation is appreciated.

Ruffin Shows Fine Egg-Laying Hens

Twelve English White Leghorn hens, each confined to a wire cage eighteen inches square, have been on exhibition at J. L. Ruffin's, Purina Store since October 12, 1935. The purpose of this display of laying hens, states Mr. Ruffin, is to prove to the public that scientific poultry feeding is both practical and profitable.

These twelve hens have not been out of their coop since October 12, yet they have laid 931 eggs, which at local market price brought $24.85. Each hen eats six pounds of all-mash laying mash per month costing three cents per pound. From October 12 to January 31 the total feed cost was $7.92. A matter of subtraction will prove that $16.93 has been made from these hens in a little over three months.

Simplicity is the keynote of this display. Each hen's coop is numbered and as she lays, the egg rolls into a trough where it stays until it is gathered and the hen is given credit for her day's work. The eggs produced by these hens are of a superior quality not only in looks but also in eating quality.

It pays to trade in Clanton.

Former Republican Governor Tells Why President Roosevelt Should Be Re-elected

Why a former Republican should continue to support President Roosevelt was explained in a letter to a friend by John H. Bartlett, former Republican governor of New Hampshire.

"My answer to your inquiry," he wrote, "is that in these days, because it has become more and more a question of the man, I mean of course the character, sympathies, brains and personal sincerity and purposes of the candidate himself, I must stand steadfastly for the re-election of President Roosevelt.

"His heart is right toward the welfare of the masses of the people of this country and he has the courage of his convictions.

"President Roosevelt has demonstrated that he neither loves nor fears the 'Invisible Government,' the name Theodore Roosevelt years ago gave to that powerful alliance of 'malefactors of great wealth' who seek to dominate our government. And he is determined that they shall be controlled and taxed sufficiently to preserve the general welfare.

"On this score I can see no chance for the Republican party putting up a man whom I think could be anywhere near as good for the people as Franklin D. Roosevelt. The 'Invisible Government,' through its power which has its switchboard center in Wall Street, have decided they can never control President Roosevelt. That fact throws their influence automatically to the Republican party.

"Some of the President's experiments were not fully successful but he dared and tried and I positively believe revolution was averted by his quick daring action. Here are some of the outstanding results of his experiments that ARE successful:

"Inaugurated old age pensions, unemployment insurance and other social justice reforms which the Republican party neglected during its entire regime.

"Guaranteed the safety of the people's bank deposits.

"Put a legal check nationally on selling worthless stocks and bonds, preventing men like Insull from robbing the public through stock-promotion corporations.

"Showed up in investigations the outrageously large salaries, bonuses and graft by which members of the 'Invisible Government' at the head of large corporations and banks fleeced their stockholders and customers.

"Aided states, counties and cities in raising for the poor and giving work to the unemployed, thus erasing local taxation.

"Aided banks and building and loan associations and private firms with loans.

"Built more needed public buildings and more roads than any administration in the history of the country.

"Prevented a million home foreclosures and saved another million farms from the same menace.

"Restored living prices to farmers.

"Saved a million and a half boys from the streets with jobs in CCC camps.

"Reformed the banking system of the country, saved our gold supply and maintained the soundest currency in the world.

"Did a sensational job to exterminate gunmen and decrease the cost of protection insurance.

"Strengthened and modernized our neutrality law to preclude our becoming involved in other people's wars.

"While the national debt was increased seven and a half billion dollars, the value of all property under Roosevelt was increased many times that sum and imminent starvation was prevented.

"Under Mr. Hoover the national debt was increased more than five billions, yet the value of all property decreased many times that sum.

"This letter is enough to satisfy my own conscience and that is the extent of my personal responsibility."

FORMER CHILTON RESIDENT DIES IN BIRMINGHAM TUES.

Funeral services for Mrs. Gladys Billingsley, former Chilton County girl, who died Tuesday at her home in Birmingham following a brief illness, were held Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock from the Pleasant Grove Baptist Church, near Clanton.

Mrs. Billingsley was born and reared in Chilton County, was educated at the Chilton County High School. She lived here until her marriage, when she removed to Birmingham.

Surviving her are her husband, Alvin Billingsley; three small children, all of Birmingham; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Culp; and one sister, Mrs. Nettie Copeland, all of Clanton.

Because he pulled out three lower teeth when she told him to extract two upper molars, a jury ordered a dentist to pay Mrs. Mary Harrison of Manchester, England, $275.

Michel Guerin, a bricklayer of Valognes, France, making good his boast to friends, ate six raw sausages in 50 seconds, followed by a large draft of beer.

CHILTON HAS BIG PAYROLL GOV'T FUNDS

Projects Now Underway Represent $40,487 In Federal Funds

Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 4.—A picture showing how Federal money is being spent for needed state, city and county improvements and to provide work for persons formerly on relief through the Works Progress Administration was sketched today by Ray Crow, State Administrator, who announced that projects now in operation when completed, would add $24,452,243 of tangible and intangible assets to the State.

Of this amount, $4,421,551 represents the pledged investment of the sponsors—usually the State, Counties and Cities—which make contributions in cash or in kind such as equipment, material and services. The remaining $10,030,691 will represent the investment of the Federal Government upon completion of projects now underway.

In Chilton County, projects now underway will represent an investment of $40,487 in Federal Funds. The Federal payroll for the county for the month of December totaled $2,868.94 for the 203 W.P.A. workers employed.

Highway paving and road, street and bridge construction make up the largest single item for the expenditure of these funds, Mr. Crow said. It comprises, in fact, approximately one-third of the entire amount. This is because, he explained, the sponsors make heavy contributions for this type of work. In the W.P.A. "three-way" paving program the State and counties bear two-thirds of the cost and the Federal Government the remaining third.

Further, he said, highway paving and improvement offer a satisfactory and economical method for utilizing relief labor. Relief labor is not only being used on "three-way" paving projects but on contract Federal aid paving jobs under supervision of the State Highway Department and the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads. The result, Mr. Crow said, is that relief labor today is laying more pavement in Alabama than was ever laid at any one time in the State's history.

Next in importance among the tangible activities is listed construction and repair of public buildings, recreational facilities, such as parks, playgrounds, and gymnasiums; malaria control and sanitation under supervision of the State Health Department; conservation, such as soil erosion control, reforestation (principally airports), and public utilities other than electric, which embraces principally improvement of waterworks and extension of such systems.

Have You Something For the Church --- The Church Has Something For You

R. L. HUFFMAN
Former Minister of Church of Christ in Clanton

WHY ATTEND CHURCH SERVICES

There is something in man called soul heart, life, the inward man, the hidden man of the heart. This heart thinks, reasons, believes, knows, loves and hates. This inward man is capable of rejoicing or sorrowing and of being terrified by anger and hate. This soul can suffer long, be gentle and kind, or be filled with malice, jealousy, and avarice. God made it. He gave it existence in man. God saw that His works were not only good, but very good. God made man in His own image. This inward life, like its creator, is eternal in nature; and will exist "somewhere" during all eternity. It possesses respectability and as long as it was free from Satanic influence, it chose to think, reason, love, and act pleasingly to God, and enjoyed His divine nature.

There is something we call death, destruction, outer darkness, bottomless pit, weeping and gnashing of teeth, a separation from life; a separation from love, peace, joy, happiness, kindness, goodness; and all the bliss of the divine presence of God. Death is the opposite of life. Life is to know God; to know Him in unexpressed love and obedience. Life carries with it liberty, light, love, joy, and peace. "Though the outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed day by day." 2 Cor. 4:16. Life is secured through the truth. Jno. 8:32. "It is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth." 1 Jno. 5:6 "The word is truth." Jno. 17:17.

The outward man may sink in pain, or with age, and yet the inward man may exult in praise, glory in peace, and rest in hope, death of the flesh, a separation from the soul, and a returning to its former elements, will sooner or later come to all. But death of the soul may be escaped. Life of the hidden man of the heart is companionship with Christ. A life separate from Christ is deadened in sins and trespasses. Sins and trespasses carry no light nor peace, nor joy. "The wages of sin is death." What is death of the soul but opposition to God and separation from Him? And what is life to the soul but Godliness and companionship with Him?

Our earthly dwelling is at the cross-roads of life and death. Our fleshly fallen nature tends to lure us in way of death to exist in and woe lacking the companionship of God. Our soul nature is the off-spring of God, (Acts 17:24-28) and capable of being led by the truth of the spirit of God to the realms of eternal day, where tears are unknown, and suffering has ceased. In a word, we are responsible beings and can choose good or evil. Not only so, but we have chosen, are choosing, and will choose. Justice demands it.

But God in plenteous grace sets a feast before us for our lives in His word. He thus furnishes us milk for babes in Christ and meat for the strong. In worship, the melody of praise is made in the heart tuned to songs that are filled with the Spirit of His word. In prayer we talk to Him, giving thanks for His blessings and make requests for His blessings of life. In His word He talks to us, reveals to us His will, grace, love and assurance. Our memories should be filled with the value of our souls, the price being the broken body and shed blood of Christ. How fittingly is the Lord's Supper upon the first day of the week—a day on which He arose from the dead. Then out of our purposes of heart and prosperity we should offer sacrifices of our substance, an investment in Godliness. Whosoever will, let him come and take the water of life free. Believe and live; don't doubt and die. To believe is to do the will of God. Death of the body is a gateway to the soul that lives.

"For a day in thy courts better than a thousand. I had rather be a door-keeper in the house of my God than to dwell in tents of wickedness." Psa. 84:10. "I was glad when they said, let us go into the house of the Lord." Psa. 122:1.

STATE OF ALABAMA, CHILTON COUNTY.

Notice is hereby given that a Bill will be introduced and its enactment sought, at the 1936 extraordinary session of the Legislature of Alabama, which Bill is in substance, as follows, to-wit:

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED AN ACT

To further provide for the control, making, maintenance, building and improvement of the public roads and bridges of Chilton County, Alabama; to create the office of road supervisor for said County; to provide for his election or appointment; discharge and removal; to provide for his appointment in the event the Court of County Commissioners fail to elect; to fix his qualifications and prescribe his duties, power and authority; to provide for the manner of allowance and payment of claims against the County approved by him; to fix his compensation and expenses and manner of payment; to fix his bond and to provide for the approval of same and

Children's Colds Should Have This Safe Treatment

Young Mothers Benefit from Two Generations' Proof of This External Treatment For Fighting Colds.

IT AVOIDS CONSTANT "DOSING"

There's nothing like a child's cold to upset a young mother. And mothers of two generations, anxious to help ease colds, have depended on Vicks VapoRub. It is effective—external—and safe. It avoids the risks of constant "dosing," so often upsetting to children's delicate digestion.

Just rubbed on throat and chest at bedtime, VapoRub acts two ways at once:

1. By stimulation through the skin, like a poultice or plaster—
2. By inhalation of its penetrating medicated vapors, released by body heat and breathed in direct to inflamed air-passages.

Continuing through the night, this combined vapor-poultice action loosens phlegm—soothes irritated membranes—eases difficult breathing—helps break congestion.

A Practical Guide for Mothers
Each year, more and more families are being helped to fewer colds and shorter colds by Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. Vicks Plan has been clinically tested by practicing physicians, and further proved in everyday home use by millions. Full details of the Plan in each package of Vicks VapoRub.

for the payment of the premium thereon by the County to provide that any section or provision of this Act being held invalid shall not affect the validity of any other section or provision; and the repeal of all laws or parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this Act, insofar as they apply to Chilton County, Alabama.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF ALABAMA:

Section 1. That there is hereby created in and for said Chilton County, Alabama, the office of Road Supervisor. That said Road Supervisor shall be appointed by the Governor of Alabama, immediately upon the approval of this Act, and shall hold such office until the first Monday in February, 1939, and until his successor is elected and sworn in. That if any vacancy in such office occurs before the first Monday in February, 1939 such vacancy shall be filled by the Governor. That for the term beginning the first Monday in February, 1939 and each four years thereafter, he shall be elected by the Board of Commissioners of Chilton County, Alabama, under this Act, and such Road Supervisor shall be elected by the Board of Commissioners of Chilton County, Alabama, from a list of two or more names, whose names shall be submitted to such Board by the Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama. That in the event that the Commissioner Court of Chilton County, Alabama, fail within the period of ten days after the first Monday in February, 1939, or at the beginning of any subsequent term or when a vacancy occurs in such office, as above provided, to select a Road Supervisor of Chilton County, Alabama, then, and in that event, the Governor of Alabama shall appoint such Road Supervisor to fill such vacancy.

Section 2. That the person so appointed and elected as Road Supervisor of Chilton County, Alabama, shall be a civil Engineer with at least five years experience in constructing, building and maintaining of roads and bridges during his term of office shall devote his entire time to the duties thereof and shall reside in Chilton County, Alabama. That before entering upon the discharge of duties of such office said Road Supervisor shall furnish good and sufficient bond executed by some Surety Company authorized to do business in Chilton County, Alabama, in the sum of Five Thousand & No 100 ($5,000.00) Dollars payable to Chilton County, Alabama, to be approved by the Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama and conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties as required by law and the terms of said bond to be paid by Chilton County, Alabama.

Section 3. That said Road Supervisor may be removed by the Board of Commissioners of Chilton County, Alabama, for neglect of duty or for any other cause which is sufficient grounds for impeachment of public officers in Alabama and said removal may be effected by said Court after giving ten days notice to said Road Supervisor who shall be entitled to a copy of the charges filed against him and to a hearing thereon. That the Board of Commissioners shall have the right within five days after any decision removing him from said office to appeal to the Circuit Court of Chilton County in which any such appeal shall be a preferred case.

Section 4. That the salary of said Road Supervisor shall be fixed and determined by the Board of Commissioners of Chilton County, Alabama, at the time of his election or appointment and shall be not less than Two Thousand Four Hundred and No 100 ($2,400.00) Dollars per annum nor more than $3,000.00 Dollars per annum. That the Board of Commissioners Court shall fix and determine the amount of said salary, as above prescribed, which is hereby fixed at the sum of Two Thousand Four Hundred $2,400 Dollars per annum.

Section 5. That the duty and authority as to the building, maintenance or repairing of public roads and bridges in Chilton County, Alabama, he and the same is hereby vested in said Road Supervisor, subject only to the control of said Commissioners Court of Chilton County, Alabama, as herein set forth. That said Road Supervisor is given the duty, power and authority to employ or hire such persons, laborers or helpers to properly construct, maintain and repair the roads and bridges of Chilton County, Alabama.

That said Road Supervisor shall not employ as an employee laborer or helper under this Act any person who is not a white male citizen of Chilton County, Alabama, by blood or marriage within the second degree. All materials, machinery, equipment and necessary supplies needed for the construction, maintenance or repair of the public roads and bridges of Chilton County, Alabama, shall be purchased only after written requisition therefor, by the Road Supervisor, which requisition shall be in writing, and stating the amount, quality and nature thereof and shall be filed with the Commissioners Court by the Road Supervisor and approved by the Judge of Probate of said County. That upon the filing and approval of such requisition, the duty of said Commissioners Court within the limits as provided by this act to make purchase of such materials, equipment and necessary supplies and same shall be paid for by said Commissioners Court, other than the general funds of said County, but only upon proper claim filed and approved by the Road Supervisor. It shall be the duty of said Road Supervisor to inspect all material, machinery, equipment and supplies purchased by Chilton County for the use on public roads and bridges when the same delivered in Chilton County, and same shall not be accepted without first having been approved by him.

Section 6. That said Road Supervisor shall be the custodian of all machinery, equipment, supplies or materials owned by the County under this act and shall be required and liable to account therefor to the Commissioners Court of Chilton County, Alabama, upon written demand by them, and shall render an account therefor at the expiration of his term of office.

Section 7. That it shall be the duty of said Road Supervisor, as soon as possible after his election or appointment to make a map of the road system of Chilton County and divide said County into road districts. That the same shall be divided so that at least each beat in said County is a separate district and may be divided into a larger number of road districts if deemed advisable by said Road Supervisor. That said Road Supervisor shall classify and number each road in said County and it shall be the duty of said Road Supervisor to see that as equitable as possible an equal number of funds of said County is expended in each of said districts having regard to the area and population served thereby. That the Road Supervisor shall file with the Commissioners Court of Chilton County, Alabama, an itemized statement showing the amount of funds expended on the roads of each of said districts during the first Monday in February, May and August and November. That the Commissioners Court of Chilton County, Alabama, shall have the right to audit and upon the amount of said Court fix and determine the amount of funds to be expended on the roads for the purpose of building, maintaining and constructing the public roads of Chilton County for the following three months period, and which amount, other than any of the said Road Supervisor and his necessary expenses shall not be exceeded by him in constructing, maintaining or repairing the public roads in Chilton County during said period, provided however, that said Commissioners Court is authorized from time to time within any such period to increase the amount so allowed to be expended by said Road Supervisor during any such period. Section 9. That no funds of Chilton County, Alabama, shall be expended or any liability created or assumed on account of the construction, maintenance or repairs of the public roads and bridges of Chilton County, Alabama, for supervision, labor, supplies, machinery or equipment in any other manner than is provided by the terms of this act.

Section 10. That said Road Supervisor shall be furnished an office and an necessary office supplies and shall be furnished with all necessary transportation in the connection with the performance of his duty under this act which expense for transportation shall not exceed one hundred & No 100 ($100.00) Dollars per month and that the salary and expense of said Road Supervisor shall be paid monthly by warrant drawn upon funds of Chilton County available road purposes, and if no such funds are available then the same shall be paid by warrant drawn upon the General Funds of said County.

Section 11. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith be and the same are repealed.

Section 12. That if any paragraph or part of this Act shall be declared to be unconstitutional, it shall not affect any other part or parts hereof.

EARLE THOMAS,
C. B. COX.

"I know the value of extra nitrogen!"

I may be an "old timer" but I keep in touch with new things. And when any new thing is better, that's what I want.

Ever since I learned that the Department of Agriculture and Immigration of Virginia reported that ARCADIAN, THE AMERICAN NITRATE OF SODA contained extra nitrogen over the guaranteed 16% with an extra cash value as high as 88c per ton, I have used no other.

I know the value of extra nitrogen and I make sure to get that extra value.

For cotton, corn and all other crops it is now proved that ARCADIAN, THE AMERICAN NITRATE OF SODA brings the farmer big value.

Clanton Shoe Shop
Has New Machinery
Installed Last Week

I. D. ARMSTRONG

"Service to the soles," the slogan under which the Clanton Shoe Shop has operated in Clanton for more than ten years, will be even more characteristic of this establishment's work in the future than it has been in the past, according to I. D. Armstrong, genial manager and proprietor.

With the installation of completely new equipment throughout the shop, Mr. Armstrong feels sure that he will now be in position to render an even greater service to this community than he has in past years. "It is with a great degree of pride," he declared, "that we have purchased this new machinery, which we believe will make it possible to do shoe repair work that will be second to none in this section."

The new machinery, installed last Wednesday by representatives of the American Machinery Company, of St. Louis, consists of a cement press, new sole stitcher, finishing machine, and a new and more modern patcher.

Mr. Armstrong declared, that he is especially proud to be able to give to his patrons the benefit of the cement machine, which will be used in cementing soles on ladies' shoes without use of either tacks or thread. This provides a much neater job, he explained. Resoled shoes on this machine can hardly be told from new ones.

The other equipment, too, will serve to make this shop one of the best in Central Alabama. With Mr. Armstrong's friendly men, "service to the soles" will indeed be characteristic of the Clanton Shoe Shop.

JAMES H. DANIEL MOVES TO CLANTON SHOE SHOP

James H. Daniel, exclusive agent in this section for Singer sewing machines and other products manufactured by this company, has recently removed his office and display from the Dollar Store to the Clanton Shoe Shop on Main Street.

At his new location Mr. Daniel explained that he will be in better position to demonstrate the superior workmanship of his machinery, and he invites all persons interested in any item in this line to visit him.

BOX SUPPER AT COTTON MILL SCHOOL SATURDAY NIGHT

The News has been requested to announce that there will be a box supper at the school building at the Clanton cotton mill village on Saturday night of this week. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. Proceeds will go toward paying for the piano at the school. Your help in this will be appreciated.

". a thing of the past"

Pictured at the left is the old way of fixing shoes. Of course, that was a long, long time ago. Anyway, we take pleasure in announcing the installation of

New Modern Equipment

Every piece of machinery in our shop has been replaced with complete new equipment throughout, and this places this shoe repair shop among the best in this section of the state.

We want you to come in and inspect this equipment. Considerable expense was incurred to give the people the best in shoe repair.

HUSBANDS SHOULDN'T BLAME THEIR WIVES

HUSBANDS shouldn't blame their wives because the household money doesn't go as far as it used to—shouldn't blame them because they're having to pay more for clothing and food.

The wife can't help it. The merchant she buys from can't help it. The manufacturer of goods can't help it. They've all got to share in paying the huge cost of conducting government nowadays. They've all got to help make up the government losses occasioned by its activities in such enterprises as the electric light and power and other businesses.

When a business man persists in selling things for less than what they cost—he "goes broke." When government sells things for less than what they cost, or engages in activities outside the realm of government, it makes up the loss by more taxation.

Wives and husbands may not be conscious of paying these taxes because tax bills are not labelled to pay for any particular venture.

Many people do not pay direct taxes. But pay taxes they must—the taxes are hidden in the price of things they buy.

DEVAUGHN-WHITT MUSIC SCHOOL AT COURTHOUSE

Prof. Eugene H. Whitt and W. M. Devaughn will teach a singing and music school at the courthouse beginning Monday night, February 10. Classes will be taught including theory for all ages, voice and harmony. There will be school five nights a week for four weeks.
All class work will be 75c per week. There will be fifteen minutes of class voice each night, taught by Mr. Whitt. Mr. Whitt will also give private lessons in voice, at the rate of 12 lessons for $6; there will be three of these lessons given each pupil each week. Mr. Whitt is said to be one of the finest voice teachers in this section of the country.
This school is intended not only for beginners and average students of sacred music, but for teachers as well. The above named two gentlemen are thoroughly competent to handle anything anyone wants to study in this line. If you already know music, this will be your chance to learn more. These teachers will be glad to work with you and assist you in unraveling any part of it you choose to tackle.
Messrs. Devaughn and Whitt invite you to get in touch with them at once if you are interested.

MAPLE SPRINGS

On account of the bad weather last Thursday night the Rev. Paul Oden did not put on the picture show on the Life of Paul. At this writing no date has been set for him to come again.

The many friends of Mr. Bill Mims are wishing him a speedy recovery. Last reports were that he was very low.

Mr. Maurice Dunlap, wife and mother from Russellville were here the past week end visiting Mr. Bill Mims.

Mr. Melvin Lansford was here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lansford, last Monday night.

Messrs. Arnold Glenn and Joe Lansford spent a while Sunday with Mr. Jeff Price and Newt Driver.

Mr. Jim Dunlap has just returned from a visit with his mother, who is now living at Trussville, Ala., with her son, Maurice. He reported a nice time and that his mother was well and likes her new home. Maple Springs folks were glad to hear from their old friend and we want to still hold a hearty welcome for her any time.

Little Thelma Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Wilson, has been very sick, though at this writing she seems to be improved very much.

Mr. Arnold Glenn spent Wednesday night with his brother, Mr. Oliver Glenn.

Mrs. J. L. Lansford and son, Joe, had as their guests for a while Saturday night Mrs. Lorraine Downs, Miss Downs and Mrs. Vonnice Lee Driver.

Mr. Otis Glenn made a trip to Calera Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Roberts have moved back to Clanton.

Mr. Jeff Price spent a while Saturday morning with Mr. W. F. Glenn and sons.

Mr. Joe Wilson was here visiting his father and brother, Mr. G. W. Wilson and W. H. Wilson, last week.

The many friends of Mr. Jasper Glenn are glad to know he is much improved. Last reports were that he had improved lots but was yet in a serious condition.

Mr. Arnold Glenn spent a while Tuesday morning with Mr. Claudius Lewis.

Will Make Home In Starkville, Miss.

J. P. MONTGOMERY

Friends of Prof. J. P. Montgomery, and Mrs. Montgomery, are regretting to learn that they left yesterday morning to make their home in Starkville, Miss., Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery have made their home in Jackson, Ala., where he has been engaged as vocational agriculture instructor in the high school. They have become a part of the social, religious and business life of Chilton County and will be greatly missed.

Mr. Montgomery resigned his position to assume charge of a large farm near Starkville which formerly belonged to his aunt, who urged him to make his home there and take charge of the property.

IN MEMORIAL OF JESSE EUGENE CULP

On January 24, the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Albert Culp and took away their darling baby boy, Eugene. He was sick only one day and night. He was loved by everyone who knew him.

Just why God saw fit to take this little eleven-months-old baby away, we cannot understand, but God doeth all things well and for the best.

Little Eugene leaves to mourn, his mother, father and two brothers, J. P. and Royce Culp. He was laid to rest at Liberty Hill on January 25th with the Rev. Holland officiating.

Thou are gone our precious darling, never more can thou return, 'til we meet thee o'er the river in that peaceful dwelling place where we meet to part no more.

—Written by ones who loved him, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Culp.

BROTHER OF LATE COM. MIMS DIES OF PNEUMONIA RECENTLY

Funeral services for J. T. Mims, 76, who died last Friday afternoon at the home of his son, S. F. Mims of Thorsby, following an attack of pneumonia, were held Sunday at 11 a. m. from the Collins Chapel Baptist Church with the Rev. W. P. Lowery officiating. Burial was in the churchyard cemetery with Spigener Funeral Home in charge.

Mr. Mims was one of the old settlers of this county and was widely known. He was a brother of the late J. M. Mims, former member of the County Commissioners Court.

Surviving him are: his three daughters, Mrs. Millie Honeycutt, Atlanta, Mrs. Eva Childress, Thorsby, and Mrs. Lissie Marcus, Thorsby; and one son, Sam F. Mims, also of Thorsby.

The confidence thousands of parents have in good, old reliable, powdered Theodor's Black-Draught has prompted them to get the new Syrup of Black-Draught for their children. The grown folks stick to the powdered Black-Draught; the youngsters probably will prefer it when they outgrow their childish love of sweets.

Mrs. C. W. Adams, of Murray, Ky., writes: "I have used Theodor's Black-Draught (powder) about thirteen years, taking it for biliousness. Black-Draught acts well and I am always pleased with the results. I wanted a good, reliable laxative for my children. I have found Syrup of Black-Draught to be just that."

IN MEMORY

On January 9, 1936, the spirit of Mrs. Jennie Allen (Grandma, as every one knew her) took its flight to a better world. She lived a long and useful life and was loved by everybody. She was Miss Satawhite before her marriage. She was married to Mr. John Allen on October 26, 1864, who preceded her the grave 27 years. To this union was born four sons and one daughter, of whom only two are living, Mr. Tom Allen of Cooper and Mr. Hardy Allen, who lived with his mother and took care of her. No child could be more attentive to a mother than he was. He devoted his life to her. She was 89 years of age the second day of this month. Grandma will be greatly missed but we know where to find her.

Written by a Neighbor, Mrs. C. F. Petridge.

Isabella School Activities

The faculty and Senior High School of Isabella held a meeting last week to elect "Miss Isabella" to enter the "Daughters of Confederations" contest. Lea Devaughn was bestowed the honor of being "Miss Isabella" and she has shown in her personality and school work that she has the qualities required for this honor and is a deserving girl.

The F.H.A. Club members gave a very interesting program January 23. The meeting was called to order by the president an dthe reading of the minutes was given by the secretary. This meeting was a very serious occasion for some who were present. The following pledges were initiated to be First Degree members of the Future Homemakers of America: Elaine Deason, Edna Johnson, Ethel Lee Griffin, Lona Cummings, Velma Conway, Willie Hayes, Marie Durbin, Adell Scott, and Ruby Mae Higgins, Mildred Oden, Gladys Sansom.

The Jeffersonian Society's program was as follows:
Devotional, by Calvin Smith.
Roll call, secretary.
"With the Nomads of Central Asia—Their Customs," Arnold Bryant.
"Public Opinion Turns Against Peace Plan of England and France," by Donald Calfee.
Poem, John Paul Jones.
Jokes, Napoleon Jones.

The Cosmopolitan Society met January 24, and rendered an interesting program.

The meeting was called to order by the president, J. C. Jones, and the officers for this semester were elected. Following is the program:
Devotional, Elwin Collins.
Report of Life of Huey Long, Melvin White.

17 Couples Married Here In January

Seventeen couples made application for marriage licenses here during January, according to records at the probate office.

They were: Edward Davenport and Miss Pearl Dutton; R. L. Moore and Miss Allie Williams; Wilburn Adolphus Woods and Miss Margaret Hill; J. D. Dawson and Miss Julia Compton; C. A. Moore and Miss Jettie Williams; Robert L. Robinson and Miss Laverne Terrell; Rufus Robinson and Miss Willie Mae Smith.

Curtis Hay and Miss Ruby Weldon; T. M. Mims and Miss Eunice Hazel Jones; Willie Foshee and Miss Dessie Wyatt; D. L. Burkhalter and Miss Ethel Sandlin; Leonard Ray and Miss Viola Noah; Woodrow W. Childress and Miss Evelyn Ciekler; Edwin Vines and Miss Flora Mae Mims; Luther Glenn and Miss Delene Thomas.

"What is a University," Mitchell White.
"Some Great Orators," Margarette Russell.

History of Saint Valentine, Charles Edwards.
Jokes and riddles, Elmer Huey.
Adjournment.

The Cosmopolitan Society seems to have improved since the last two meetings.

The F.F.A. Chapter met January 23, and had mostly a business meeting. The meeting was called to order by the president. The chapter, after the parliamentary procedure, was opened for various business matters. Chalmus Jones was elected treasurer. A membership committee of three was appointed by the president for the purpose of enrolling new members. A near date was set for the initiation of Greenhands into the Future Farmers Club.

of the Antioch Church and has served as Steward, Sunday school supt., and is now president of the Christian Endeavor Society of that church, taking an active part in all church activities. Mr. Crane is married and has five fine children. He is well posted on governmental matters regarding his county. He stated to the News that he comes before the voters of the county as a candidate soliciting their vote on his record, promising service and justice.

completed studies at the county high school. For a number of years he was employed with the former Dief's Service Station, leaving there to go into business for himself at his present location two years ago. J. E. is a member of the Clanton Baptist Church, Masonic Lodge and a member of the Clanton Kiwanis Club, taking an active part in both activities. He was one of the first members of the Alabama State League of Young Democrats. Eight years ago he married Miss Jessie Lee Littlejohn, a member of another of the county's well known families. To them have been born one child. Mrs. Easterling is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Littlejohn of near Clanton, a highly respected family. J. E., while comparatively young, has had a large amount of experience in the business world of Chilton County, fitting him for the office which he seeks.

financially and otherwise. He is a member of the Providence Baptist Church where he has been serving for sometime as a deacon and one of the most ardent supporters of his church. Mr. Parrish has a reputation that is so well known throughout the county that few things could be said to add to it. When referring to his work in his church and community, Mr. Parrish gave the News a clipping which shows without explanation how he stands. Following is the clipping:

WHAT IS CHRISTIANITY

"In the home it is kindness. In business it is honesty. In society it is helpfulness. In work it is fairness. Towards the unfortunate it is the helping hand. Towards the weak it is burden-bearing. Towards the wicked it is evangelism. Towards the strong it is trust. Towards the penitent it is forgiveness. Towards ourselves it is self-control. Towards God it is reverence, worship and Love. And the foundation stone, the undergirding motive of all the motives, is the Spirit of Christ."—Religious Digest.

Johns, who are connected with the large used car department of the company, have recently become members of the "32 Car Chapter," another coveted honor among automobile salesmen. Mr. White and Mr. Jones have been with the Hayes Chevrolet Co., of Clanton for sometime, as salesmen of used cars and are making a large number of friends throughout the county. Recently the Hayes Chevrolet Co. completely remodeled the interior of the large building occupying almost a quarter of a city block and enlarged their showrooms where the new Chevrolets are displayed. New and modern office space was also built in giving this company one of the most complete business houses in town.

The Ball Is Rolling

We have been sitting in the office all day Tuesday of this week wishing that we were down in the Capital City seeing the sights as the extra session of the Legislature got underway. From that we have read in the papers in accounts of the first day, the ball is rolling and accumulating heat as it rolls.

It is our guess that this session of the Alabama Legislature will be a real history making session. With the permission of Atticus Mullin, Ralph Hurst and the doorkeepers we hope to find ourselves down on one of the front rows before many days. And, if we are able to get in on the inside of what may be coming next, we'll be certain to pass it on to our readers.

B. Oliver

Definite announcement has been made by Representative Oliver that he will not be a candidate for re-election to Congress. Our personal opinion on this is that it was very wise decision on his part. Mr. Oliver has served his country well, and through personal contact and experience with many of his activities we have reason to pay tribute to him as he steps down to allow younger persons a more open road toward other things.

Two More Candidates

Through their usual modest ways, the photographs of two new candidates in this week's News, are missing. That is, we mean, the modesty of the candidates. We would have liked very much to have showed you their pictures along with their announcements, but they are both good men even if they are inclined to be camera shy. Anyhow, you will find the announcements and stories on John T. Thompson and M. Killingsworth, candidates on the Democratic ticket, in the News this week.

Young Democrats

While we do not now occupy that position as president of the local unit of the Alabama State League of Young Democrats, we still have down in our attic a very warm spot for this organization, and each of its members. As we take time and space here to say every member to be present at the meeting on Wednesday night of next week. The time is now fast approaching, if not already here, when the young people of voting age must give their thoughts in line with those tending toward a sane and economical government from city to national.

Bankhead Club

We understood this week that a Bankhead for "Senior Club" is in the narrative state in Chilton County and that this organization will endeavor to find the voters of the county of the standing benefits this Alabama Senator has brought to the Southern members. Senator Bankhead will come for re-election again this year. True, it will not do harm to bring to memory the benefits from this man.

Rat!

We told a few weeks ago of the excellent cat owned by Nevt Gray, Chilton barber, and now Vaughn McKee comes into our sanctum sanctorum where we were calmly looking over some calmer matters and tells us of the rats he has out at his place. The rat, so Vaughn says, are so intelligent that they will gnaw the rubber from around fruit jars, roll the jars around until the tops come off and enjoy a meal of preserves, etc. We believe it is high time for the establishing of a limit to rat stories. Now, we've got to go and check up on this rat story.

SIX WEEKS OLD

One of the most unusual window displays ever seen in Clanton is being observed at the Chilton County Exchange by hundreds of people. Twenty-five fine six-week-old chickens are the main feature of the display. Not a chick has died since they were put there. Not one has even looked sick, and they average a pound and a quarter each at the six-week mark. In fact, one of them weighed in at a pound and seven ounces.

Mr. Parrish, manager of the store, says that these are "Jazz Fed Chicks" and credits their one hundred percent livability and splendid growth to well-balanced feed.

LOCAL BILLS GET 'NO' VOTE

Committee Is Appointed To Confer With Legislators

RESOLUTIONS PASSED AT MASS MEETING

With the extraordinary session of the Alabama Legislature convening this week, considerable apprehension is being felt in certain quarters regarding the possible passage of the seven local bills for Chilton County, which are being advertised by Senator Earle Thomas and Rep. C. B. Cox.

At least four of the proposed bills are receiving condemnation, and efforts will be made to persuade Mr. Cox and Mr. Thomas to refrain from introducing them at all. Last Saturday afternoon at a mass meeting at the Courthouse here, an audience that filled the auditorium voiced unanimous disapproval of these four proposed pieces of legislation.

After approximately six hundred persons had risen to their feet in expression of opposition to these bills, a committee was appointed to confer with both the Senator and Representative in an effort to persuade them that they should not be introduced. There was not a single vote of indorsement in the courthouse. Composing the committee are: G. C. Walker, who was chairman of the mass meeting, Judge L. H. Reynolds, Hoyt Freeman, J. N. Dennis, and Hill Foshee.

The four bills condemned are: (1) Appropriating $3,000 for the maintenance of a county health unit. (2) In-

Oliver Will Not Enter Race For Re-Election

REP. W. B. OLIVER

Has 22 Years Of Active Service To His People

Bringing to a close one of the most colorful careers as a Congressman ever lived by one from this district, Hon. W. B. Oliver has formally announced that he would not enter the race to succeed himself as representative in the United States Congress from this, the Sixth District.

In a statement to Bruce Shelton, editor of The Tuscaloosa News, Representative Oliver was quoted as saying physicians and friends had urged him to retire from Congress because of his illness.

In authorizing the announcement Mr. Oliver said that his doctors and close friends had advised him against undertaking the arduous duties of another term in Congress, in view of his recent illness. He is now in Washington and visits his office daily to attend to business. He said that he plans to visit the district early this spring and that he will send a personal message to the citizens of this district at an early date.

The announced retirement by Mr. Oliver will come as the climax to many years of valuable service to this district, to the state and also the nation. He first entered Congress shortly before the World War, being elected in November, 1914. He was re-elected for 10 consecutive two-year terms, being without opposition in all but two of the primary elections during his 22 years in office.

Prior to entering Congress Mr. Oliver was a prominent attorney for 12 years solicitor of the ranking Democrat on the powerful Appropriations Committee in the House of Representatives.

J. T. THOMPSON

CANDIDATE FOR COMMISSIONER

Seeks Office From Fourth District; Well Known Lumber Man

One of Chilton County's most widely known farmers, sawmill and business man has announced as a candidate for the office of Commissioner from the Fourth District on the Democratic ticket. This is John T. Thompson, a member of one of the oldest families in the county.

Born in our neighborhood county, Coosa, in the Weogufka community, fifty-eight years ago, Mr. Thompson, when a small boy moved to Chilton County where his family settled. He is the son of the late J. J. Thompson. He received his education in the public schools of this county, and as he puts it "through hard work and hard knocks."

With a reputation as a very successful business man, Mr. Thompson is engaged in farming and sawmilling, and has been in these lines for approximately twenty-seven years in this and surrounding counties as the need required in the lumber business.

Mr. Thompson is a member of the Methodist Protestant church at Walnut Creek, and has at one time served as a steward in that church for a number of years. He is also a school trustee and his vision and opinions on business matters have meant much to his community. At present he is serving as a member of the Board of Registrars of this county.

He is a member of the Jemison Methodist Church, and has served as a steward in his church, always taking an active part in religious and civic activities of his community.

Mr. Killingsworth was educated in the county schools. He is married and has five fine children. He has also been serving for a number of years as a member of the Democratic Executive Committee of this county, and is fully capable of handling the duties of the office which he seeks on the Democratic ticket.

"A READY-MADE FAMILY" WILL BE SEEN AT C.C.H.S. TONIGHT

Sponsored by the Clanton Dramatic Club, "A Ready-Made Family," a three-act comedy will be presented Thursday night at the Chilton County High School here. Directed by Miss Patsy Polk, this is expected to be one of the most entertaining presentations seen here in some time.

The cast is composed of the outstanding amateur talent of the city. Miss Polk has had special training in coaching and presenting dramas, so her friends are sure that this is going to be a treat which cannot well be missed.

Friends of Odie Blackman, of near Clanton, will learn with regret that he is confined in a Montgomery hospital with inflammatory rheumatism. He was taken to the hospital Sunday in a Martin & Sons ambulance.

EACH BEAT TO ELECT TWO; BEAT 4 GETS FOUR MEMBERS

Names To Be Written On Ballots By Voters In Respective Beats; Must Qualify As Other Candidates Before March First

An election has been called, to be held in connection with the coming Democratic primary in Chilton County on May 6th, for the electing of members of the members of the Democratic Executive Committee of this county, or the re-election of the present members. This order was passed at the meeting of the local executive committee held at the Courthouse last Friday afternoon. The

CANDIDATES MUST QUALIFY BY MARCH 1ST

State Executive Committee Sets Dead-Line For Dem. Candidates

All persons who intend to announce themselves as candidates for any elective office on the Democratic ticket in Alabama to be voted on in the forthcoming Democratic primaries, must file their intention of doing so with the chairman of the county executive committee not later than March 1st, 1936, according to resolutions recently adopted by the State Democratic Committee.

The resolution also calls for a second primary to be held on the 9th day of June, this year, if necessary, following the first primary election which is set for May 5th. This dead-line for candidates leaves a short time over two more weeks for qualifying.

A&P STORE GETS CHANGE IN MANAGERS

D. W. Farr Succeeds G. Cleve Armstrong Who Resigned Position Here

The local Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company store, on the corner of Main Street and the Birmingham-Montgomery Highway, is now under a new management. D. W. Farr, formerly of Sylacauga, arrived in Clanton Monday to assume active charge of the company's business here.

Mr. Farr succeeds G. C. Armstrong, who has been connected with the A. & P. Company for several years, and comes to Clanton highly recommended. He has been connected with retail grocery business for 13 years and has been in the employ of this firm for the past four years.

Before coming to Clanton, Mr. Farr was manager of an A. & P. store in Sylacauga. He declared that his first impressions of Clanton have been pleasant ones, and he hopes to be able to serve the people here in a manner of which they will have no reason to disapprove.

Assisting him in the operation of the business will be Ralph Andrews, also of Sylacauga, who will be employed in the capacity of clerk. Mr. Farr stated that he hopes to get his family—wife and two small children—located here within a few days.

Young Democrats Will Meet Here Next Week

A regular monthly county-wide meeting of the Chilton County Unit of the Alabama State League of Young Democrats will be held at the courthouse in Clanton on Wednesday night of next week, February 19th, according to Wallace Cox, president.

Several matters of importance are on the program for this meeting and a special mention of all paid up members will be taken. Each member will be expected to bring at least one other person. The time of the meeting is set at seven-thirty o'clock.

MRS ERSKIN BURKHALTER DIES AT HOME LAST SUN.

Funeral services for Mrs. Erskine Burkhalter, who died last Sunday morning at her home on Verbena Route 1, were held Monday from the Floyd Baptist Church. Mrs. Burkhalter was 28 years of age.

She is survived by her husband and four small children. She is the daughter of the late Rev. J. W. Howell.

Must Qualify

Any person, man or woman, who is a qualified voter and a Democrat, who desires to become a member of the Democratic Executive Committee and who wishes to place his or her name as a candidate for such membership, must qualify just the same as any candidate for any other office. In other words, they must file their declarations with the probate judge and the chairman of the committee on or before March 1st, 1936.

Names To Be Written

The names of those to be voted on will not be printed on the official ballot, but spaces will be left on the ballots for the writing of the names of the candidates.

Each of the sixteen Beats in this county may elect not over two members of the committee, except Beat 4, which is entitled to four members, the order stated.

Immediately after the primary election, those who are elected will be called into session for the purpose of organizing and the selecting of a chairman and secretary.

Oliver Expresses His Thanks To Friends

Below is a statement received by the News yesterday morning from Congressman W. B. Oliver:

"I wish to express to the people of the Sixth Congressional District my deep appreciation for their very gracious and sympathetic consideration of me during my recent illness, from which I am making satisfactory recovery.

"I will not be a candidate for re-election, but hope to visit during the year all of the Counties of the District and to express in a more personal way my heartfelt gratitude for the friendship and confidence so generously extended me during the years I have had the honor of serving as your representative in the National Congress.

"With every good wish, I am Sincerely your friend, W. B. OLIVER."

G. C. ARMSTRONG EXPRESSES THANKS TO HIS CUSTOMERS

Following his resignation as manager of the local A. & P. Store, G. C. Armstrong requested the News to convey to the people of this section his deep appreciation of their splendid patronage and loyalty during the six years he has served as manager of the store here.

B. C. TRAYWICK FOUND DEAD LAST FRIDAY MORNING

Benjamin C. Traywick, age 61, of Highland community, on Clanton Route 3, was found dead in his bed at 4:30 a.m., last Friday, February 7th. Doctors stated that he had been dead for three or four hours, but it was not known until attempt was made at 4:30. He had been in ill health for about 16 years, and had suffered seriously for the past three years.

Mr. Traywick is survived by three sons—E. C. Traywick of Clanton Route 6, R. T. Traywick of Clanton Route 3, and R. E. Traywick of Clanton; three daughters—Mrs. A. J. Matson of Clanton Route 3, Mrs. W. B. Foster of Lanett, Ala., and Miss Roberta Traywick of Clanton; three brothers—J. J. Traywick of Billingsley, J. W. Traywick and G. C. Traywick, both of Haynes; one sister—Mrs. Ora Bell Coggin of Haynes; and eight grandchildren. Two of Mr. Traywick's sons are dead; these were Jess D. and Stanley Traywick.

Funeral services were held at Highland Church, four miles west of Clanton, at 3:00 p.m., on Saturday, with the Rev. M. Lockhart officiating. The remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at that place, with Spigener in charge.

Pallbearers were W. B. Foster, C. A. Hay, Grady Giles, A. J. Matson, Melvin Lockhart, and Howard Lee.

LOCAL YOUNG MAN PUSHING FORWARD IN AGRICULTURE

Marvin Durbin Makes Unusual Record In Farm Activities

PRESIDENT OF CHILTON COUNTY FARM BUREAU

Throughout the country surges the idea at this time to graft younger blood into almost every line of human endeavor. More so now than at any time in the history of this country, the youth of the nation is being challenged to step forward and take its place in the sun of accomplishment.

Recognition of this new trend of thought was recently seen in Chilton County, when the members of the County Farm Bureau, many whose hair have grayed as they fought the problems of earning a living by tilling the soil, selected Marvin Durbin, a young man, as president of the organization here.

Although only 25 years of age, young Durbin, without doubt, proves to be one of the best and most progressive leaders this organization has ever known. Born and reared on a farm, trained in the school of experience, a graduate of Isabella High School where

Change In Revenue Act

In another place in this issue of the News will be found a letter from T. L. McKee, explaining certain changes which have been made in Alabama's Revenue Act. This change is one of utmost importance to taxpayers in that it sets an earlier date when settlement for taxes must be made.

In that the law is specific about this, applying to what the Tax-Collector may do as well as the taxpayer, it seems proper that every person who is required to pay taxes look after the matter at once, so as to avoid any additional trouble and expense.

Before And After Roosevelt "Ruined" The Country

We are indebted to the able editor of The Montgomery Advertiser for the following facts and figures in regard to the national government and its strides of progress under the leadership of President Roosevelt and the Democratic Administration. After reading these figures, which cannot be disputed, anyone should readily see that the present administration has not "ruined" the country as some critics would make out:

In the three years before Franklin D. Roosevelt ruined this country and made the Liberty League necessary, unemployment increased (April 1, 1930, to April 1, 1933) from 3,188,000 to 13,178,000, or 313 per cent.

From April 1, 1933, to December 1, 1935, unemployment declined from 13,178,000 to 9,177,000, or 30 per cent.

In the three years before Roosevelt ruined his country (March 1, 1930, to March 1, 1933), the price of cotton fell from 15.10 cents a pound to 5.90 cents, or 61 per cent.

From March, 1933, to January 1, 1936, cotton advanced from 5.90 cents per pound to 11.35 cents, or 92 per cent.

From March 1, 1930, to March 1, 1933, wheat declined from $1.16 per bushel to 48 cents per bushel, or 59 per cent.

From March 1, 1933, to January 1, 1936, wheat rose from 48 cents a bushel to 101.5 cents a bushel, or 111 per cent.

From March 1, 1930 to March 1, 1933, the price of corn declined from 88.40 cents per bushel to 24.12 cents per bushel, or 73 per cent.

From March, 1933, to January, 1936, corn rose from 24.12 cents a bushel to 60.87 cents, or 152 per cent.

What of industrial production? Here's the record:

INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION (Index, 1926 equals 100 per cent)—Jan. 1, 1930, 110.4 per cent; Jan. 1, 1933, 61.4 per cent. DECLINE, 44 PER CENT.

STEEL PRODUCTION (Month Ending)—Jan. 1, 1930, 2,903,012 gross tons; Jan. 1, 1933, 861,034 gross tons. DECLINE, 70 PER CENT.

AUTO REGISTRATION (Month Ending)—Jan. 1, 1930, 161,830 units; Jan. 1, 1933, 55,105 units. DECLINE, 66 PER CENT.

When Mr. Roosevelt started in to ruin the country, how well did he do in the first three years?

Here's the record:

INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION (Index, 1926 equals 100 per cent)—Jan. 1, 1933, 61.4 per cent; Jan. 1, 1936, 92.9 per cent. ADVANCE, 51 PER CENT.

STEEL PRODUCTION (Month Ending)—Jan. 1, 1933, 861,034 gross tons; Jan. 1, 1936, 3,081,000 gross tons. ADVANCE 257 PER CENT.

AUTO REGISTRATION (Month Ending)—Jan. 1, 1933, 55,105 units; Jan. 1, 1936, 235,000 units. ADVANCE, 326 PER CENT.

What is the story of American commerce for the last six years?

In the last three years of the Old Deal the record shows:

WHOLESALE PRICES (Index: 1926 equals 100 per cent)—Jan. 1, 1930, 92.5 per cent; Jan. 1, 1933, 61.0 per cent. DECLINE,

34 PER CENT

TOTAL EXPORTS (Year Ending)—Jan. 1, 1930, $3,843,000,000; Jan. 1, 1933, $1,675,000,000. DECLINE, 56 PER CENT.

TOTAL IMPORTS (Year Ending)—Jan. 1, 1930, $3,061,000,000; Jan. 1, 1933, $1,450,000,000. DECLINE, 52 PER CENT.

What is the tale for the last three years, under the destructive New Deal?

Again we quote the record:

WHOLESALE PRICES (Index: 1926 equals 100 per cent)—Jan. 1, 1933, 61.0 per cent; Jan. 1, 1936, 81.0 per cent. ADVANCE 33 PER CENT.

TOTAL EXPORTS (Year Ending)—Jan. 1, 1933, $1,675,000,000; Dec. 1, 1935, $2,228,000,000. ADVANCE, 33 PER CENT.

TOTAL IMPORTS (Year Ending)—Jan. 1, 1933, $1,450,000,000; Dec. 1, 1935, $1,993,000,000. ADVANCE, 37 PER CENT.

What about securities under the constructive Old Deal and the destructive New Deal?

The Record shows:

LISTED STOCKS (Average)—March 1, 1930, 60.52; March 1, 1933, 15.20. DECLINE, 75 PER CENT.

LISTED BONDS (Average)—March 1, 1930, 96.19; March 1, 1933, 74.89. DECLINE, 22 PER CENT.

Here is how securities fared under the Great Red Plague for the last three years:

LISTED STOCKS (Average)—March 1, 1933, 15.20; Jan. 1, 1936, 35.62. ADVANCE, 134 PER CENT.

LISTED BONDS (Average)—March 1, 1933, 74.89; Jan. 1, 1936, 91.85. ADVANCE, 22 PER CENT.

Power production and consumption are now regarded as significant economic barometers.

What does the record show? Here it is for the last three years of the Old Deal:

POWER PRODUCTION (Month Ending)—Jan. 1, 1930, 7.87 Billion K.W.H.; Jan. 1, 1933, 7.14 Billion K.W.H. DECLINE, 9 PER CENT.

The record for the first three years of the New Deal shows:

POWER PRODUCTION (Month Ending)—Jan. 1, 1933, 7.14 Billion K.W.H.; Jan. 1, 1936, 8.50 Billion K.W.H. ADVANCE, 19 PER CENT.

MORAL ECHOES

D. W. Haskew

It was Christmas time and I was on the street taking an inventory of what people were carrying in their hands. Many had loaded themselves down with toys and fruits and we happy as they looked toward Christmas Day. I met a man who carried with him a pair of plow lines and a pair of plow handles. I shook his hand and inquired why the big idea at Christmas. He smiled and said: "Preacher, I got me a Christmas present, but I got something that would do me good in March." At Christmas thousands and thousands of dollars were spent for things that only lasted a few minutes and now those same folk are needing the necessities of life and have no money. When will folks ever learn to not waste money for things that will do no good.

In company with a banker we went to the bank vault. He turned the lock forward and backward and then pulled the heavy door back on its hinges. He had just one key in his hand and with that he opened an inner door. Then he lifted a bundle of keys out of a small box and with one of them he opened a door and brought into his hand a bundle of keys that would open many more doors. We have the key of prayer in our hands and that key will open one door—the door into the very heart of God, and then we find many more keys that are within our reach. The resources of heaven are at our command when we have the one key of faithful prayer in our hands. The key of friendship will open a door and behind that you will find a bundle of keys that will open many more doors.

When I was a boy I climbed a crab apple tree that was loaded with sweet smelling blooms. In my upward struggles I did not seize the branches full of blooms and by them lift myself into the top of the tree. Rather I seized the rugged limbs and by them I was able to climb until my head was among the branches of the tree. He who would climb a tree must cling to the body and climb by the rugged limbs and not by the branches and the blooms. Which means in other words that we climb to the elevations of life, not by the use of the easy things, but by mastering the rugged things of life. The trouble with the most of us is that we want to live among the blooms of life without climbing up the rugged way.

Ten boys of the community were playing about an old barn when one of them discovered a large snake. Two distinct cries were lifted at once. Half of the boys went about killing the snake while the other half pushed them back and said: "No, we are going to capture him and make him safe in a box." If you had been there, which group of boys would you have joined? I would have joined the bunch who said "kill that snake." A snake may be caged, but he is a snake still. We have discovered a tremendous reptile in the rum business of our country and nation. Some are saying "kill that snake," others are saying "no, do not hit the snake a blow, just put him under restriction." To which group do you belong? As for me, I believe in prohibition down to the last man.

And it came to pass that three little girls, one six, one five and the other four years of age, met and were discussing what they would do if they had their lives to live over again. The six years old philosophized: "If I had my life to live over again, I would have nothing to do with cereals. They make me sick." The five-year-old girl said: "If I had my life to live over again I would dig up every spicash plant in the world. Mama and the doctor have gorged me out on that stuff." The four-year-old child chimed in: "I tell you what I would be if I had my life to live over again. I would be a bottle baby. I am so tired of cigarette ashes falling into my eyes until I am sick of the whole business." Verily, verily, I say unto you no mother should be so criminal as to fill the eyes of her nursing babe with cigarette ashes. Amen and amen.

COME TO CHURCH SUNDAY!

Have You Something For the Church --- The Church Has Something For You

REV. C. C. ANDERSON
Pastor Clanton Presbyterian Church

GOD'S WORD

"They have Moses and the Prophets—Let them hear them." Luke 16:29. These words were spoken to a suffering man to a man who had passed from this world into the hereafter. He was an unsaved man, some men are yet unsaved. You may not be saved. This story was told by Jesus who knew all men and all the things that all men have and don't have. Jesus not only knew men, but Jesus knew God. He knew what God had for men—God's interest in men, what God had provided and had given to men and what God wanted of men. The man to whom the words of the text were spoken seemingly was interested in his "brethren" and asked that something might be done for them to save them, to prevent them from coming to the suffering he now endured; and he was told that his brethren "have Moses and the Prophets." That is the Bible of that day, and they are to hear the word if they are to be saved. "God will have all men to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth." (1 Tim. 2:4). The truth is "One God, and one mediator between God and men, the Christ Jesus, who gave himself a ransom for all." (1 Tim. 2:5-6). Again in (2 Peter, 1:3-4) we read: "His divine power has given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness through the knowledge of him that has called us to glory and virtue. Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises: that by these ye might become partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust." The unfortunate man to whom the words of this text were spoken had come to torments and "to glory and virtue." And so he is reminded that his brethren need not come to suffering—that God has provided salvation and that they have the means—"they have Moses and the Prophets."

The Bible has much to commend itself to us and it behooves us to "Hear" it lest we fail in life and come to torment. It is so plain that no man however simple need err. The wayfarer man, though fools, shall not err therein." (Is. 35:8, 1 c). The Bible is so full that if one fails to find saving truths on one page he most assuredly can on another. This story is told of a man who read for the first time in the Book said to his wife: "Mary, if this book is true we are all lost." (Rom. 3:23). Then he read on and found that God had provided salvation for all. (John 3:16); and then he cried, "Mary, if this book is true we may all be saved."

Yes, the Book is very plain and full—then too, we "have" the Book. It is so inexpensive that almost the poorest of us can own a copy and we all can read and have plenty of time to read; so none of us need perish but all may come to the knowledge of the truth. But, reader, there are many about us who are not saved, and it may be you are not saved, for you may not read the Book, and you may not believe.

Why do men not read this Book? By all odds it is the greatest book. But men do not read it.

1. Some are like the man to whom our text was spoken. They have ideas of their own and their ideas do not accord with the Book. It may be we all desire to be saved from suffering both here and hereafter, but our ideas of how to be saved may be different. The man said, send Lazarus from his place of comfort and men will repent. The Book says, "Let men hear Moses and the Prophets." Many have the idea that in this world we need not consider seriously to Bible and what it says; that it is old and out-of-date, and that it speaks much about so many things that men don't care to talk about. God and Meeting God. (Amos 3:12). "Prepare to meet thy God," and (2 Co. 5:10) "We must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ." Many, a great many, do not care to discuss and be reminded of the judgment and their sins and they refuse to think on these things. There are those who say "I live in one world at a time we will consider the next world and its things when we get there." Many also seem to have idea that all we have to do is to profess faith, join the church and be baptized—but the Bible speaks much about righteousness. Jesus said to his disciples (Matt. 5:20), "Except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the Scribes and Pharisees ye shall in no case enter the kingdom of heaven." Now the scribes and Pharisees were the churchmen of their day. They were generally more observant of the rules of the church of that day than we are—but Jesus says our righteousness must exceed theirs. In Luke 18:9-14 Jesus tells the parable of two men who went to the temple to pray—the one a Pharisee and the other a publican. "The Pharisee stood and prayed thus: God, I thank thee that I am not as other men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as you publican I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I possess." There the Pharisee had the outward marks or form of religion, prayer, fasting, giving, but inwardly not righteousness—"despising others." The Book calls for righteousness of life. (Titus 2:11-12). "For the grace of God that bringeth salvation for all men hath appeared teaching us that denying ungodliness and worldly lust we should live soberly, righteously, and godly in this present world." Again Jesus said (Matt. 5:7). "Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness," and other things.

"Choke the word" (Matt. 13:22). The cares of this life. "What shall we eat, what shall we drink, withal shall we be clothed?" (Matt. 6:25) Desire for pleasure. (Heb. 11:24-26). Moses, son of Pharaoh's daughter, had access to all treasures of Egypt, chose not to enjoy the "Pleasures of sin for a season."

3. Others are downright lazy and will not take time to read and consider God's word—as the modern youth expresses it, "I don't care to put-out." Many in our schools fail because they do not "put-out" and also in business. To attain anything we must apply ourselves. It is noticeable how many of the men of the Bible who attained were busy men before they became "Busy about the King's business." Both in old and new Testaments we see God calling men to undertake, and found them busy. "Moses kept flocks of Midian; and led them to the back-side of the desert." (Ex. 3:1-3).

"And there came an angel of the Lord, and sat under an oak which was in an orchard that pertained to Jothab the Abiezrite and his son, Gideon threshed wheat by the wine press to hide it, from the Midianites." (Judges 6:11). Thus Moses and Gideon were busy men, the one a shepherd caring for the flocks and was called to lead men, Gideon was trying to care for and feed his own family and was called of God to deliver Israel from captivity. David was also called from feeding the flock to become Israel's greatest king and singer. (Sam. 16:11-13). Elisha, the prophet, was called from following the plough (1 Kings 19:19). In the new testament many busy men were called by Jesus to follow him and further his kingdom by preaching his everlasting and all powerful gospel—Peter and Andrew, James and John, who were chief among the apostles, were all busy fishermen (Luke 5:1-11); also Matthew, who became an apostle and the writer of the gospel was a man of business; a tax collector and "sat at the receipt of customs." (Luke 5:27). And Paul, one of the greatest men of his day or of the world, was also a busy man. When Jesus called him, he was (in his ignorance) persecuting the church. Time and space would fail me to mention many great men of later years who were very busy men when called of God. William Carey, the first great Foreign Missionary to India, was a shoe-maker. Moody, the great Evangelist, who shook two worlds with his fiery gospel message, was a shoe salesman, and Billy Sunday who (maybe) spoke to more people than any one man in the world, was a famous baseball player. So God calls busy men and not lazy men to become great men. For these and other reasons men do not read God's word.

But I make mention of some reasons why we should read this great Book. Men from time of old have greatly prized this word of God. It has been and is yet, much loved and hated. The writer of Psalm 119 speaks much of the "word." This is the longest chapter in the Bible, with 176 verses. There are 22 sections of 8 verses each. In almost every verse some mention is made of God's word called by several names but referring each time to God's word. "Law," Ps. 119:1, "Testimonies" Ps. 119:2, "Precepts" Ps. 119:4, "Statutes," Ps. 119:5, "Commandments" Ps. 119:6, "Judgments" Ps. 119:7, "Word" Ps. 119:9. In verse 11 of Ps. 119 the writer says, "Thy word have I hid in my heart that I might not sin against thee," and in (Luke 4:1-13) we see how Jesus (who believed in and used the word of God) was able to withstand temptation and "Not sin against" God because the word of God was "hid in his heart." In Ps. 119:17 the Psalmist prays that his eyes may be opened to "behold wondrous things out of thy Law." It is a book of great wonders which God has performed in the interest of men. Once again in Ps. 119 verse 105 we read "Thy word is a lamp unto my feet and a light unto my path." This world through which we are passing is a world of darkness and only as we take His word as a "Lamp for our feet and a light to our path" can we keep from falling into traps and pitfalls which the Devil has put in our way. In (Ps. 19:7-11) the writer says, "The law of the Lord is perfect converting the soul," "rejoicing the heart." "Making wise the simple"; and to this agree the words of Paul to young Timothy (2 Tim. 3:15-17) "the holy scriptures are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith that is in Christ Jesus." In verse 16 Paul says, "all scripture is given by inspiration of God and is profitable." The man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works." With this word God begets men again—makes them "first fruits of his creatures" (James 1:18).

In (Luke 4:4) Jesus says "Man does not live by bread alone, but by every word of God." In Paul's letter to Ephesians 6:17 the word of God is called the "sword of the Spirit," which is a part of God's armour which enables us to fight life's battles. In (Luke 4:1-13) we see Jesus using the "sword of Spirit" and driving the Devil from the field.

The Bible is the greatest book in the world—none of us can hope to live joyful and successful lives, glorify our God and do our best for our fellowmen if we habitually neglect God's word. Read it with care, preparation and prayer every day, lay it up in your hearts and live it out in your lives.

Mt. Zion

The Rev. E. L. Smith will preach here the fourth Saturday night—February 22. Everybody is invited to come out as this is the place where he preached his first sermon about 30 years ago.

Ten Million Dollars For Alabama's Progress

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 3.—It was stated today by Alabama Power Company that it would spend more than $9,700,000 during the year 1936 in conducting its business in the State, exclusive of payments of bond interest and preferred stock dividends. Approximately $3,500,000 of this sum will go into wages and salaries for its employees in 60 of the 67 counties where they are residents and citizens. State, local and federal taxes will amount to more than $2,300,000.
Extensions and additions to the system will amount to more than $2,500,000, of which new rural lines under construction and planned for the year will require $1,200,000.
This program is designed not only to carry lines to communities now without service but to improve existing facilities so that service will be continuously made more efficient to all its customers.

The company will continue its policy of using Alabama material and purchasing in Alabama wherever possible.

What happens when a man and woman want to marry and their children object?—See "A Ready Made Family."

VERMONT

The P. T. A. was postponed to a later date due to the bad weather. The date for the meeting will be announced later.
The boys won another victory over Union Grove Friday by the score of 14 to 9. The boys and girls are going to play Cooper next Friday.
We are proud to say that the pupils' grades have been much better this month than before.

There will be a fiddlers convention here at Vermont school Thursday night, February 13, (tonight). Cash prizes will be awarded. Admission will be ten and fifteen cents. Everybody come and bring someone with you.
The play presented by Antioch Church last Saturday night seemed to be enjoyed by all.

The boys and girls of this school are going to present "Two Days to Marry" sometime in the near future.

ED WYNN RETURNS TO AIR

On Thursday night at 8:30 to 9:00 Central Time, Ed Wynn, one of Radio's mightiest laugh-makers, returns to his millions of fans over the Columbia Broadcasting System in brand new high speed air show—Plymouth's "Gulliver The Traveler."

Then every Thursday night at the same hour. On each program a New 1936 Plymouth Deluxe 4-Door Sedan will be given away for the best answer to a question which Ed Wynn ("Gulliver") will ask.

Interested in this contest will have a chance to win a Plymouth Dealer's decision and secure an official blank. "Gulliver's" question for this week will be, "Do back seat drivers ever talk sense? What's your experience?" Official blanks can be secured at POLK Bros. MOTOR CO. Listen in on your radio every Thursday night. It is an all-star, big-time show.

Get your official blank from Polk Bros. Motor Co., local Plymouth dealers, and win a New 1936 Plymouth Four-Door Sedan.

Watts Hat Shoppe In New Location

For some weeks past many people have observed work on the old Fair Store Building with interest. It has been evident for some time that when completed it would be one of the most attractive business establishments in Clanton. Further interest is being shown this week as Miss Callie Watts, popular manager of the Watts Hat Shoppe, has been busy moving her stock of merchandise into this new location.

For quite a number of years Miss Callie has served a large circle of patrons with the most fashionable garments in ladies' wearing apparel to be had, until now she has become recognized as an authority upon style trends, and her popular store has been serving well the demands of women throughout this section who desire to be well groomed at all times.

Her many friends are congratulating her now upon the growth of her business which has made possible this outstanding development in her business. Many people have commented upon the improvements made on this building and the addition it makes to the town's appearance.

of the amount originally set up for the paving of the Clanton-Selma Highway is now available, thus the shortening of the project.

Chilton County's share in the cost now will be reduced from $39,352.50 to $7,398.27. Under the provisions of the three-way plan, the State of Alabama and Chilton County shared equally with the Federal Government in the cost of the project. For several weeks now, a crew has been busy preparing the base of this road for the paving that was expected to be done in early Spring and Summer.

The voters of Chilton County expressed desire in a special election that the county cooperate with the state and national government in this work, but Judge Smith asserted Tuesday that he feared that years may elapse before the project is finally completed.

BANKHEAD FOR SENATOR SENTIMENT GROWING

Local Manager States That Many Expressions Endorse Candidacy

Friends of Senator John H. Bankhead are enthusiastically urging his re-election on the grounds that he has proved himself a friend to the farmer and is worthy of the support of all who are interested in seeing agriculture claim its place along with other industries, declared Vernie Teel, local campaign manager for the Alabama Senator.

"The people of Chilton County have every reason to know that Senator John H. Bankhead is a man worthy of their support," Mr. Teel asserted. "He has shown himself unqualifiedly a friend of agriculture and the men who till the soil for a living. He has demonstrated where and with whom his interest lies."

Even lifelong Republicans in Chilton County are forsaking party lines for the privilege of urging the re-election of this man who has served his people well, Teel declared. Although the action of the Supreme Court makes void the ideas upon which the AAA was built, every farmer who has tried to give the question unbiased study knows that Senator Bankhead has done much for the farmers of this state—and will do much more if he is re-elected.

PAVING PROJECT ON SELMA ROAD IS CURTAILED

Federal Allocations Are Much Less Than Anticipated; 3.8 Miles To Be Paved

There looms a grave possibility that motorists en-route from Clanton to Selma will have to drive over dirt roads for more years than might be desirable. In a letter to Judge J. Lee Smith Tuesday, F. A. Salmon, of the staff of the State Highway Department, gave notice that under present plans the 20.4 miles of paving on this road will shrink to a mere 3.8 miles.

This is being made necessary because Federal allocations for three-way projects in this state are much smaller than the original schedule called for, he explained. Only about 18.8 per cent

Helping Your Family to Better CONTROL of COLDS

When Colds Threaten... Vicks Va-tro-nol helps Prevent many Colds

If a Cold Strikes... Vicks VapoRub helps End a Cold sooner

At the first warning sneeze or nasal irritation, quick—a few drops of Vicks Va-tro-nol up each nostril. Especially designed for nose and throat, where most colds start, Va-tro-nol helps to prevent many colds—and to throw off head colds in their early stages.

If a cold has already developed, use Vicks VapoRub, the mother's standby in treating colds. Rubbed on at bedtime, its combined poultice-vapor action loosens phlegm, soothes irritation, helps break congestion. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

Follow Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds
A helpful guide to fewer colds and shorter colds. Developed by Vicks Chemists and Medical Staff; tested in extensive clinics by practicing physicians—further proved in everyday home use by millions. The Plan is fully explained in each Vicks package.

New Chevrolet Truck on Economy-Safety Run

Carrying a 10,000-lb. cement block from Los Angeles to New York, a 1½-ton Chevrolet truck—one of the new 1936 models just introduced—demonstrated that safe driving means economy. Speed limits were observed in every community, with 35 m.p.h. the maximum on the open road. The 3511.4 miles were completed on two quarts of oil and 306.6 gallons of gasoline, at a cost of 0.15 cents per mile, or one-third of a cent per tax mile. The entire run was completed without any mechanical failure, repairs, or even a scratched fender. The illustrations show the test truck and features of the new 1936 models. Coupe type cabs with solid steel roof, full-floating rear axle, and full-length water jackets, are some of the improvements. In the lower right, Harry Harts, who drove the cross-continent test, is seen beside the 10,000-lb. block. The test was officially observed by the American Automobile Association.

SPECIAL SUNDAY RATES For Long Distance Calls

YOU CAN now make Station-to-Station long distance telephone calls all day on Sundays at the reduced night rates. This applies to calls on which the day station-to-station rate is more than 35 cents. Reduced night rates are also now in effect on Person-to-Person calls every night after 7 P. M. and all day Sunday on calls when the day person-to-person rate is more than 50 cents.

These new "long distance" rate periods make long distance telephone service still more convenient and economical, and more useful to more people in more ways than ever before.

Take advantage of these new low Sunday rates and enjoy a voice visit by telephone next Sunday, with some of the folks back home or with sons or daughters away at school. A telephone call, you will find, is like a face-to-face visit and as satisfying. Ask "long distance" for rates to wherever you wish to talk.

Thorsby Pupils Are Preparing Contest Orations

Interest in the Oratorical Contest on James Madison, conducted with high school pupils, junior and senior, as well as with those doing some high school work, is increasing in this county by leaps and bounds.

In Thorsby Institute, of which Miss Helen C. Jenkins is principal, with the contest conducted by Mr. Rascoe Maddox, the following pupils are already preparing orations, with others expected to enter soon. Frederick Dunlap, Julia Johnson, Sarah Green, and U. L. Mims.

County contests are to be held on or before March 13. Congressional district contests in all districts except the ninth, Jefferson County, are to be held within the dates March 30 to April 11, inclusive. State Finals are to be held at Birmingham April 24. The winner of first place in that contest will be state champion, and all of the state finalists will receive cash prizes, as well as being entertained by the sponsors of the contest.

Schools which have not already enrolled have only a few days left in which to do so. The contest is sponsored by The Birmingham News-Age-Herald. Information may be obtained by writing to Artemus Calloway, News-Age-Herald oratorical contest editor.

“Just What the Doctor Ordered”

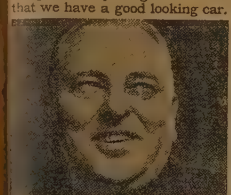

FOR MY FAMILY,” says T. L. Woolhouse, Cranford, N. J.

The popular phrase “Just what the doctor ordered” fits my big, new Dodge to a “T”—so far as my family is concerned.

My wife demanded safety, and I don't know where I could find a car with more safety provisions. My son was impressed by the quick responsiveness of the new Dodge; and my daughter insisted that we have a good looking car.

“Oh, Professor” To Be At Verbena Feb. 20th

See “Oh, Professor,” it looks different, it sounds different, it is different, sponsored by the Verbena P. T. A. Thursday evening, February 20, at 8:30 o'clock.

This production is a three-act musical comedy owned and managed exclusively by the Wayne P. Sewell Producing Co., Atlanta, Ga.

If you want to see a real show see the butterflies, Mr. Will Guldge, Mr. H. T. Williams, Mr. S. L. Gibson, Mr. John Lett, Mr. John Messer and the Rev. Ellis, do a snappy up-to-date step, which will give you many a hearty laugh. Also Miss Jettie Ward, the widow and matron furnishes enough entertainment to satisfy anyone.

Let's not forget Aubrey Robinson, the most bashful boy in town, coming out of his bashfulness and becoming a real he-man.

The Spanish dancer from the Ziegfield Follies will also be with us on that evening. She will give us a few snappy numbers and show us some of the latest steps.

Keep this in mind—do not let this slip by you. It will make you laugh even though you haven't laughed in years. Tell your friends, don't let them miss this wonderful opportunity of seeing a good play, with well-trained chorus girls and boys to add the remaining charm. Directed by Miss Era Bullard. The admission will be fifteen and twenty-five cents.

The cast of characters is as follows: Steve Crandell—Aubrey Robinson. Bob Davis—Coach N. B. Bryant. Professor Banks—Mr. Houston Robinson.

NOTICE TO FEDERAL INCOME TAXPAYERS

For the convenience of those who are required by law to file Federal Income Tax Returns a Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue will be at Clanton, Ala., February 24, 1936 to assist taxpayers in preparing their returns. No charge will be made for this service. The matter of filing your Income Tax Return should be given immediate attention, in order to avoid penalty and interest.

If your net income is $1,000 or over or your gross income is $5,000 or over and you are single (or if married and not living with husband or wife), you are required to file a return. If you are married and living with husband or wife and your net income is $2,500 or over or your gross income is $5,000 or over, you are required to file a return.

Form 1040A should be used if the net income does not exceed $5,000 and is derived chiefly from salaries and wages.

Form 1040 should be used for net incomes of more than $5,000, or net incomes regardless of amount if derived from a profession or business, including farming, or from rents or sale of property. All returns must be filed in duplicate.

Your return for the calendar year 1935 shall be filed not later than March 15, 1936, with the Collector of Internal Revenue for the district in which you reside or have your principal place of business.

A penalty of not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, is imposed by statute for willful failure to make return on time, and, in addition, five to twenty-five percent of the amount of the tax.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown us during the illness and death of our father, T. W. Childress.—Mrs. E. C. Cox, Mrs. Ernest Porter, Mrs. Arthur Honeycutt.

LONG ILLNESS FATAL TO W. M. ALDRIDGE OF CALERA

Funeral services for W. M. Aldridge, 77, who died last Saturday at his home three miles south of Calera, following an illness of four years duration, were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Calera Methodist Church. Burial was in the Salem cemetery, near Calera.

Born and reared in Chilton County, near Cooper, Mr. Aldridge spent practically his entire life in the county. At an early age he joined the Presbyterian Church and throughout his life was a constant church worker.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Annie Lake Aldridge; one son, Hillary Aldridge; two daughters, Miss Annie Mae Aldridge, all of Calera and Mrs. J. M. Kinser, of Sylacauga; two brothers, John H. Aldridge, Birmingham, and E. A. Aldridge, Calera.

Joseph Harkness of St Paul had his nose blown off when he accidentally discharged his revolver.

YOUNG DALLAS DEMOCRATS

CALL FOR STATE ECONOMY

Club Asks Graves Administration To Abandon All Plans For Further Taxes, Demands Cleanup On Political Jobs

Selma, Ala., Feb. 6.—The Young Men's Democratic Club of Dallas County today was in record urging the state administration "to abandon any and all plans for imposition of further taxes and substitute in lieu of said plans carefully planned economy."

The Young Democrats adopted the resolution at their meeting last night here that was attended by approximately 50 members, and further recommended that legislators in the employ of the state resign from the legislature.

"Should such legislators fail or refuse to resign," the resolution read, then we approve and suggest that legal action be immediately commenced to prevent said legislators from holding office as such is contrary to the intention of the constitution of the State of Alabama."

The resolution opened with the statement that "an efficient and economical administration of government is essential to the welfare of the people and the preservation of inherent rights and the vitality of the Democratic party," and closed with an invitation to all Democrats in the state to "join with this organization in expressing the desires and demands of Democracy."

The resolution also urged that education and health be placed on a parity with other government departments, and that members of the legislature "vote x x x according to the will of their constituents on all matters x x x and that in determining their manner of voting they refuse to consider any influence or pressure other than that seeking to inform them as to the will of their constituents x x x"

OFFICERS OF DOMINO CLUB ON RECREATIONAL PROGRAM ARE ELECTED RECENTLY

Sylacauga Hurt While Fixing Tire

Suspect Held In Shelby Jail As McGraw Loses Leg

G. D. McGraw of Sylacauga started homeward by auto Sunday night after visiting his sister-in-law, Mrs. J. O. Smith of Clanton, a patient at Highland Avenue Baptist Hospital.

A few hours later Mr. McGraw, about 30, was back at the hospital with both legs mangled, one so severely that it had to be amputated.

Near Harpersville in Shelby County, Sheriff V. H. Fore of Columbiana said, Mr. McGraw stopped his machine to fix a tire. As he was at the rear of his car another auto coming from Birmingham, struck him.

Mr. McGraw was rushed back to the hospital in a Dillon ambulance while Sheriff Fore arrested Lewis Rich, 23, of Vincent, Rich was held in Shelby County Jail at Columbiana today in default of $300 bond for driving while intoxicated.

MT. SPRINGS

Our Sunday school is progressing nicely. Next Sunday is our regular preaching Sunday, and we want to invite everyone out, especially the newcomers in this community.

Post Office Building Is A Monument To Popular Man

The announcement from Congressman W. B. (Buck) Oliver that he will not be a candidate this year to succeed himself, brings to a close a chapter of service of a man who has endeared himself to many.

Clanton, and Chilton County, will always have something to look to and remember this veteran representative in the United States Congress. The new federal post office building recently erected in Clanton was placed here through the efforts of this man.

Several persons, both young and old, owe a great deal to Representative Oliver. His feeling toward those persons whom he believed worthy of assistance and promotion has been most warm.

In commenting on Mr. Oliver's retirement, The Tuscaloosa News, the newspaper of his home town, had the following to say:

"Congressman William B. Oliver's announcement that he will not be a candidate for re-election marks the pending retirement of a public servant whose work for his district, his state and nation has resulted in a permanent contribution to the general welfare.

"Constituents in the Sixth District, who have sent 'Buck' Oliver to Congress for 11 consecutive terms, totalling 22 years, well know the services that he has rendered the citizens of West Alabama. As one of the three senior members of the Alabama delegation at Washington he has been a major factor in all legislation aimed at helping his native state.

"Outstanding for his quiet and diligent efforts in behalf of his own district, state and section, Mr. Oliver has also been able to grasp the larger view in legislation affecting the entire nation in its general prosperity and in its relations to other nations.

"In this day when so much congressional effort and time are taken up with knocking over straw-men, tilting with windmills and gesticulating wildly for mere effect upon the voting public the Sixth District has been fortunate indeed in having on the job such a man as 'Buck' Oliver. His axiom has been work instead of words, devotion to duty instead of political maneuvers for public consumption.

"Twenty-two years of solid service will remain his contribution to the history of that eventful period which began a short time before the World War and will end with the dawn of 1937. He went to Congress as a distinguished citizen of the State of Alabama and he will come from Congress as a distinguished citizen of the nation.

"Mr. Oliver was one of three Alabama 'freshmen' Congressmen who began their terms in 1915. Congressman George Huddleston of Birmingham and Congressman Henry Steagall of Ozark are the other two who entered the national capital at that time, to remain until the present day. Mr. Oliver is the oldest of the trio, beginning his Congressional career at 48 years of age.

"Members of the Alabama delegation will greatly miss the wise counsel

REDUCTION IN GASOLINE TAX BEING SOUGHT

Local Secretary Tells Of Increase In Auto Purchases

Motor vehicle owners bought so many more cars and used motor vehicles so much more extensively in 1935 that automotive tax revenues increased to an extent which should make possible an early reduction in gasoline tax rates, it was said today by Mr. J. F. Lawrence, Secretary of the Chilton County Motorists Tax Relief Association. Mr. Lawrence explained that preliminary nationwide estimates for 1935 indicate increase of four per cent in motor vehicle registration, of six and one-half per cent in gasoline consumption, and of nearly eight per cent in gasoline collections.

"Increased buying and use of motor vehicles in 1935 not only reflected economic improvement," said Mr. Lawrence, "but produced a large gain in tax revenues. Gasoline tax collections, which comprise an accurate measure of motor vehicle use, appear to have increased in virtually every state. Total state gasoline taxes apparently exceeded $6,000,000,000 for the first time, and federal gasoline taxes again produced close to $170,000,000 additional.

"Indications are that the same factors will improve tax collections in 1936, making possible in many states the early reduction of gasoline tax rates without curtailing highway programs. Motor travel is now to a great degree interconnected with the national government.

There is much satisfaction awaiting Mr. Oliver as he looks back upon the permanent services that he has rendered his district. A major project, one on which he spent much of his energy and health, is the now assured development of the Warrior River system. Through his efforts the general plan of improvement was conceived and adopted. Through his work approval was given the big Lock 10 here, a project which is now included in the regular appropriations bill of the War Department for rivers and harbors. Thus the works of 'Buck' Oliver will continue after his term in Congress has expired, welding more links in the chain of service with which he has encircled his entire district.

"Friends of a life-time and associates of two decades at Washington will regret to see him leave the national scene of legislation, but they well know that he has richly earned a rest from the arduous duties which have attended his services in Washington."

PUD WALKER HAS GRAND TIME ON WEEK END IN TUSCALOOSA

Pud Walker, a familiar figure on the streets of Clanton, returned here last Monday morning in a jubilant mood, and proceeded to tell all his acquaintances what a grand time he had last week end while visiting relatives and friends in Tuscaloosa.

Firemen of Pocatontos, Va. were routed out of their slumbers to find that it was their own firehouse on fire.

Food Canning Record Made By Rural Women

Auburn, Ala.—Rural women in 45 Alabama counties canned and preserved 5,953,739 quarts of fruits and vegetables and cured 1,235,184 pounds of meat in 1935 for home use and relief of the needy.

Reporting this to Helen Johnston, home demonstration agent, consultants over the state valued the products at $2,114,303.42. The rural women also produced $4,495 worth of garden, dairy, and poultry products which were consumed at home. In addition, they sold $1,826.67 worth of products making a total of $7,525,625.09.

Facts Given About Growing Butterbeans

Auburn, Ala.—Because of its high value and the ease with which it can be grown, each Alabama farmer should produce the lima bean, generally known as the butterbean, for home consumption.

It can be used fresh, as a canned product, in soup mixtures, and as a "dried" product," says the Alabama Extension Station.

Under Alabama conditions the small-medium-seeded varieties," the station reports. "Four plantings of bush beans per year for four years at Auburn on soil of low to medium fertility produced an average yield (green in the pod) of 4,500 pounds for the small-medium-seeded varieties and 2,000 pounds for the large-seeded varieties."

The small-seeded varieties compare in quality with the large-seeded varieties. The Henderson and Woods Profligate and Jackson Wonder (colored) are good bush varieties," says the station. "Carolina Sieva, Willow Leaf, Yoppas are good white-seeded pole varieties. The Florida Speckled is also a good pole variety."

The bean makes its greatest yield on moderately-heavy, fertile soil, although it fruits a little earlier on light, well-fertilized soil. It responds to a liberal application of fertilizer, soil of low fertility at Auburn, an application of 1000 to 1500 pounds per acre of fertilizer analyzing 4-8-4 has given good yields. Very good yields have been obtained also by applications of tons of manure.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to all our friends and neighbors who have given a word of sympathy or a helping hand to our father, Traywick, through the years of suffering, and for further expressions of sympathy and kindly deeds during his death and burial. We pray for the richest blessings on all of you and the family.

PLESVILLE MAN SUFFERS BROKEN LEG LAST SUNDAY

Bill Moore, farmer, who lives ten miles west of Maplesville, is being cared at the Central Alabama Hospital here for a broken left leg, suffered last night when he was trampled by a horse. While attempting to treat a horse for a neighbor, Mr. Moore was knocked down and his leg broken. He was brought to the hospital by Martin & Sons ambulance.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the family, wish to take this opportunity to thank the many friends of this and all the adjoining communities for the kindness shown us during the illness and death of our husband and father, John P. Jackson.

We also wish to thank our friends in Birmingham who were so kind to us. Especially do we wish to thank the attendants of Woodlawn Hospital and Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Williams, Miss Doley Belle and Fora Harris, Mrs. Mary Lilla Cox and others.

Refreshing Relief When You Need a Laxative

Because of the refreshing relief it has brought them, thousands of men and women, who could afford much more expensive laxatives, use Black-Draught when needed. It is very economical, purely vegetable, highly effective. Mr. J. ## Clanton Methodist Church News

Rev. A. E. Middlebrooks, Minister

Did you hear the excellent choir of sixteen young people at the Methodist Church last Sunday night? If you did not you missed a rare treat. The largest attendance of any night service in several weeks heard this new choir. Mrs. Percy Pitts is directing the choir. Mrs. L. E. Dief and Prof. J. T. Searcy are in charge of the young people's work as Counselor and Superintendent of the Young People's Division, respectively.

Be at church Sunday for both the morning and evening services. You will enjoy the new Hymnal that the church has recently purchased. A dedication service at which time the Hymnals will be dedicated is to be held Sunday morning, February 23. Plan to be at this service. The names of those who have given a Hymnal in memory of some loved one or friend or who have made the church such a gift will be announced.

Dr. Middlebrooks is speaking at the Christian Workers' Institutes being held Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of this week in the Troy, Dothan, and Marianna Districts, at Brundidge, Dothan, and Bonifay, Florida. He is the Alabama Conference Director of Adult Work and is speaking at these Institutes on the conference program for adults. Such an Institute is to be held in every district in the conference during February.

Is it time for you to renew your subscription to the Alabama Christian Advocate? Mr. Vernie Teel is the church's Advocate representative. If you do not see him he will see you within a few days and get your renewal. If you have not been a subscriber give Brother Teel one dollar and get a year's subscription.

LAMAR COUNTY BOYS TO PLAY BASKET BALL HERE

Lovers of sport, especially athletic contests, will enjoy the basket ball game Saturday, February 15, between the Jemison High School team and the Lamar County High "Bulldogs."

"The Bulldogs" will be on a championship tour and have scheduled a game with the Jemison boys. Previously announced plans called for a game at Clanton with the Chilton County High Five, but for some reason this contest has been cancelled.

A game will be played by the Lamar County boys on Thursday, February 13.

30,000 State Farmers Enroll In Farm Bureau

Auburn, Ala.—Membership in the Alabama Farm Bureau now exceeds 30,000 with 23 counties reporting over 500 members each.

"The decision of the Supreme Court which made it necessary for farmers to act in an organized way if they are to have a farm program, has stimulated increased interest in the Farm Bureau in Alabama as well as in other states," says J. Litt Edwards, president of the State organization.

Leading counties in Alabama in Farm Bureau membership are as follows: Monroe, 1,621; Hale, 1,500; Butler, 1,261; Tuscaloosa, 1,200; Lowndes, 1,016; Marengo, 831; Dallas, 715; Autauga, 710; Escambia, 700; Perry, 670; Pike, 70; Crenshaw, 659; Montgomery, 650; Choctaw, 646; Morgan, 639; Mobile, 618; Wilcox, 554; Sumter, 549; Cenicuh, 533; Clarke, 517; Baldwin, 500; Bibb, 500; and Henry, 500.

More Farmers Now Using Electricity

Auburn, Ala.—As increase of approximately 175 per cent in the number of American farms electrified during 1935 compared with the previous year, announces Morris L. Cooke, administrator of rural electrification, who predicts a new peak in rural electrification activity in 1936. Approximately 827,000 farms now have central station electric service. There is a total of more than 6,800,000 farms in the country.

Farmers Advised To Use Purebred Boars

Auburn, Ala.—"Always use purebred boars," advises F. W. Burns, extension husbandman.

"If you want to produce pork rapidly and economically you cannot afford to use scrub boars," he says.

An experiment conducted at Auburn comparing pigs sired by purebred boars with scrub pigs showed the following:

1. The time required by the grade pigs to reach a weight of 200 pounds was 201 days compared with 243 days for the scrubs.

2. For each 100 pounds of gain produced the grade pigs required 403 pounds of feed while the scrubs required 465 pounds of feed.
3. With feed costing $30 per ton, the average cost of producing 100 pounds of pork with the grade hogs was $6.4 compared with $6.97 for the scrubs.

DEATH OF MRS. ALVIN BILLINGSLEY

On February 5, the death angel visited the home of Mr. Alvin Billingsley and family in Birmingham and took away his loving wife, Gladys, home to live with Jesus.

She was born and reared in Chilton County and obtained her education in C.C.H.S. Everyone knew her as Miss Gladys Culp, before her marriage. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Culp of Clanton.

It was hard to give Gladys up but the Lord knew best.

Oh, dear Gladys, how we miss you. No human tongue can tell. You are gone never to return no more. Best we hope to meet you on that bright and happy shore.—Written by ones who loved her.

MARVIN DURBIN

he specialized in agriculture, and above all a level-headed, clear-thinking young man, Durbin shows promise of getting somewhere in his chosen field.

In connection with his work with the Federal Resettlement Program, he has supervised the operation of 160-acre farm in the Isabella community. His interest lies in improved methods, with special emphasis on cattle and hog raising.

While a student at Isabella, he was honored by being named president of the County 4-H Clubs, president of several school organizations, awarded the American Farmer's Degree in F.F.A.

One of his chief ambitions as president of the Farm Bureau in his native county is to increase the membership of the organization. Believing that only along this route lies accomplishment, he is urging everyone interested in agriculture to align themselves with the organization and fight the battles in cooperation. Especially would he like to see every young man in the county who expects to make his vocation a life on the farm join hands with the organization and march forward to better things for Chilton County and its rural population.

"T. L. McKee, Tax Collector, Clanton, Alabama.
Dear Sir:

"I wish to call your attention to Section 195, page 112, Section 202, page 113, Sections 215-216, pages 117-118, of the Revenue Act, approved July 10, 1935.
"Section 195 states that the Tax Collector must make final settlement on or before July 1, 1936 and each year thereafter with the County Treasurer and School Treasurer or if there be no County Treasurer or School Treasurer in the County, to custodian of the funds of the county.
"Section 202 states that the Tax Collector must make final settlement with the State Comptroller on or before July 10, 1936, and each year thereafter. Said Section also states that for failure of any Tax Collector to make any of the settlements herein required to be made, he shall forfeit ten dollars ($10.00) per day, which shall be deducted from the amount of commissions due and payable to him on such settlements. It also provides that the Collector shall forfeit all commissions in case where the Tax Collector fails to settle with the County and School Treasurers within the time prescribed by law.
"This is to officially notify you that the penalty will be enforced upon failure to comply with the provisions of this Act.
"Sections 215 and 216 state that on or before March 1st, the Collector must prepare and deliver to the Probate Judge in a substantially bound book each parcel of real estate or right or interest, or assessment therein assessed to any person against whom taxes have been assessed which are not paid.

MASS MEETING

creasing the appropriation for the farm and home demonstration work in the county from $2,100 to $4,300. (3) Provision for the employment of a county road supervisor. (4) The allocation of one cent of the county's gasoline tax for the building of permanent roads.

Judge L. H. Reynolds was the principal speaker at the session Saturday afternoon. He charged that passage of these bills will rob the people of the right of self-government, inasmuch as the commissioners whom they have elected would no longer have any influence in local affairs. "In my opinion," he declared, "these are the most dangerous proposed bills I have ever read."

Others who expressed disapproval of the bills were: Judge J. Lee Smith, Commissioners Howard Oden and J. P. Bean, Tax-Assessor A. D. Martin, and several candidates in the coming election.

The following resolutions were read by Gene Wyatt, publisher of the Union-Banner, and were adopted by a unanimous vote:

We, the people of Chilton County, in mass meeting assembled for the purpose of discussing certain local bills which are being advertised vitally affecting the affairs of our county, do hereby declare our unqualified disapproval of certain of these bills, as follows:

The Bill to create a Road Supervisor for the county will place added burdens on the County and will take away from our elected officials their duties, authorities and responsibilities of their respective offices. Such laws are undemocratic and unsound and tend to foster hatred and strife among our citizens.

Especially do we condemn and disapprove all that part of this Bill which seeks to set up under the guise of a road supervisor a DICTATOR appointed by the Governor of Alabama to take charge of our road affairs. This Bill on its face strips all authority with reference to road matters from the Court of County Commissioners, elected by and accountable to the people of the County for their actions, and places all such power and responsibilities in the hands of a foreigner, and who is accountable only to the authority responsible for his appointment. Vast and unlimited power and authority in the purchase of materials, supplies and equipment and in the selection of county laborers and employees is placed in this Supervisor and without any adequate safeguards for the protection of the County or to prevent the corrupt and illegal traffic in jobs and road machinery and materials at the County's expense.

The Bill to require Chilton County to appropriate annually not less than $3,000.00 to the Chilton County Health Unit, takes away whatever authority and control the County officials have with reference to this Health Unit. At present the only control any agency or court has over this Health Unit is by virtue of the appropriation, which now does not exceed $2,000.00, together with offices, lights, heat, stationery etc. Under this Bill which makes it mandatory that the County appropriate not less than $3,000.00, the appropriation will be increased substantially $1,000.00 and all vestige of authority and control over this Unit will be relinquished to the Unit solely and completely under the domination of the State Health Department, and the officials and citizens of Chilton County will be absolutely without any rights, although county funds will be used to support this Unit.

The Bill to require the Court of County Commissioners to appropriate not less than $4,300.00 annually for the County Agricultural and Home Demonstration Agents, will nearly double the appropriation now being made to these agencies, and will remove any authority or control the Court of County Commissioners or the people of the County now have over these agencies and place them solely under the domination and control of the Extension Service and the United States of America. It is evident that the purpose of this Bill is to further create more useless office and agencies and to burden the county with the expense of the same.

The Bill to require the Court of County Commissioners to set aside one cent of the funds received from the sale of gasoline, which is now used for maintenance and repair of the county roads, will not become effective for eighteen months or more and there is no necessity at this time for such a law. Conditions at that time may be different and this law, if passed, may impede and hinder the Court of County Commissioners in properly building and maintaining roads of the County, and is a further effort on the part of the Bill's proponents to take away the power and authority vested in the Court of County Commissioners.

These Bills take from our elected officials the duties, authority and responsibilities of their respective offices and such laws are undemocratic and unsound and are a reflection on the citizenship of our county, in that they take from the voters of the County their rights and privileges to govern themselves and vests these duties and responsibilities in persons who are non-residents of the county, and not accountable to the voters of the County, thereby wounding our pride and destroying our rights of self-government.

BE IT, THEREFORE, RESOLVED by the people of Chilton County in mass meeting assembled, that we do hereby implore and beseech our Senator, Hon. Earle Thomas and our Representative, Hon. C. B. Cox, that they not introduce and permit the passage of these Bills in the Legislature of Alabama, and thereby take away from the people of Chilton County their right of self-government and substitute their judgement for the judgement of the people of the County; and further that a copy of these resolutions be delivered forthwith by the Chairman of this meeting to Senator Thomas and Representative Cox, and our newspapers published in Chilton County, Alabama.

SHERIFF'S FORCE NABS STILL NEAR MAPLESVILLE MONDAY

A whiskey still, approximate capacity of 35 gallons, and a quantity of beer and mash were captured Monday afternoon by Deputies J. A. Niven, Charlie Smith, and T. J. Thornton. The raid took place near Lawley, nine miles west of Maplesville.

Although there was no one present at the time of the raid, Sheriff J. Hardy indicated that warrants will be issued for persons believed to be operators.

Four other arrests were made during the past week, and Tuesday afternoon only five were incarcerated in the jail.

Fred Christeleit of Sterling, Colo., jail for a minor offense, was visited by his wife. Then police rushed the both home, for it was discovered Mr. Christeleit had smallpox.

QUEEN OF ALL THE HENS

AMONG THE MILLIONS of hens in America today, the blue ribbon for egg production goes to only one. She earns first prize with 324 eggs a year for two consecutive years—more than four times the national average of 70.

Suppose every hen did that. Think what profits that would mean to poultry men. But most hens are just hens, common, ordinary hens. There is only one champion. To just one single hen, Nature gives the vital spark—that perfect natural balance of all the elements that make a champion.

The champion hen is Mother Nature at her best—one of Nature's rare masterpieces. Because she stands out from the flock, because she does things that other hens can't do, she is worth her weight in gold, while the rest of the flock is worth just about two bits a pound—dead or alive.

And here is another of Nature's masterpieces—Natural Chilean Soda. Like the champion hen, Chilean has Nature's priceless gift—natural blend and balance—many fertilizer elements—vital purities. The vital spark—the secret of every champion—is in Chilean Nitrate, born there, and kept alive through centuries of aging and mellowing in the ground.

Natural CHILEAN NITRATE

Natural Chilean contains almost two score of major and minor elements such as boron, magnesium, manganese, iodine, calcium, potassium, etc.—each a vital element in growth and development of plants.

Presenting To You

The News this issue is carrying the formal announcement of Hon. Pete B. Jarman, Jr., as a candidate for representative in Congress from this, the Sixth Congressional District. Our latest report from Pete was that he is connected to his home for a few days due to a slight illness, but expects to be right away, and will be around to visit the people of the county. If you haven't met him, don't expect to see an elderly man—and, don't be misled by the youthful appearance of Pete, behind him is a background that looms full of fruitful experience fitting him well for the position he seeks. At the present writing, it would appear that Pete will have no great opposition in this race. So far, only one other person has announced his intentions of running. That is Thomas Maxwell of near Tuscaloosa who also ran two years ago with no alarming strength.

Off Until Friday

We visited the halls and corners of the Legislature this week to see what we could see—and hear what we could hear. Tuesday was a quiet day—that is, to a certain extent. The U.D.C. with the Huntington College Glee Club, a band and the boys' Scouts presented a program and created a little noise but a splendid program. The quietness was most noted in the corners and such places where nothing was being done at its best. We wanted to get an idea, if possible, as to what the Sales Tax proposition looked like. You'll find very little talk going on in regard to that, unless it is done over coffee cups or beer glasses. Which reminds us that so far as we are able to ascertain the trend of the public mind and the sentiment of the Capitol is toward the legalizing of wines, beer and whiskies with taxes and strict control. Conservative estimates say that this step would provide the State with all necessary funds.

City At Work

Initiations from the recent meeting of the City Council are that things are occupying the busy minds of these gentlemen who direct the affairs of our city. Especially do they have to keep busier these days—they are beginning to learn that with a larger city, more territory and more people, demands are showing a little increase on the treasury.

No Candidates

With the exception of the announcement of Pete Jarman, the front page of the News is void of political announcements this week. What is one to expect with the weather still cutting the capers around the weatherman and spring thermometers undecided indications. The News has no such position as a weatherman and if we did we owe our patience has been so taxed, we believe we would stop his pay—less he promised to do better.

The Highway Journal

We ran into our friend Jack Dair in Montgomery this week. Jack is editor of what has been known as the Alabama Public Works & Highway Journal. He told us that the name of that useful and interesting publication had been changed with the next issue. Jack, with Roy Brown, is bringing the magazine right up to the front ranks of such publications and we find ourselves looking forward to each issue. His magazine will give one a closer insight into the workings of many matters connected with our state, our towns and cities—information which we have not found available at any other place. It is easy to read and worth reading. We congratulate Jack and his work on his publication.

The Worm Turns

We have been laying in ambush for Webb Stanley, of The Greenville Advocate for a long time and at last our patience has been rewarded. No longer can Mr. Stanley deride us, ridicule us and otherwise talk about us in the late for an appointment (as usual). We now have the satisfaction of reminding him that Monday afternoon is not Tuesday afternoon and that we were at the appointed place at the appointed time. We are not necessarily going for an explanation, Webb. Just reminding you that such things can happen to the best-regulated newsmen, and calling attention of this to other newspapermen.

Are Grateful

During the past several weeks the News has been receiving many renewals, subscriptions and many new ones. We are indeed grateful for this cooperation and patronage. We pause here to tell those new subscribers that we are as we tell the old ones—if the News prints articles displeasing to you, we won't get angry if you tell us.

Pete Jarman To Ask For Post In Congress

HAS UNUSUAL ARMY RECORD

Well Fitted To Occupy Position He Seeks From District

SENDS MESSAGE TO PEOPLE OF CHILTON

The official announcement that Hon. Pete Jarman, former Secretary of State will be a candidate for member of Congress from this, the Sixth Congressional District was received yesterday by the News and is being carried this week. This announcement has been awaited with interest by the large number of friends of Mr. Jarman over this entire county. Up to this date no other candidate has filed his announcement with the News for this office. Hon. W.B. (Buck) Oliver, who has served this District for 22 years as representative in Congress has formally declined to enter the race due to his health. Mr. Jarman is no stranger to the people of Chilton County, nor to the people residing over the Sixth Congressional District. Although barely within his forties, his record of accomplishments is one of the most outstanding in the state. He was born in Greensboro, Ala., the son of Judge P.B. Jarman, probate Judge of Sumter County for twenty-nine years. He received his education in public schools and attended the old Southern University at Greensboro until the year 1910. In 1913 he graduated with an A.B. Degree at the University of Alabama. Beginning in that year and until 1917 he served as chief clerk (Continued to Back Page)

CITY DECLINES TO TAKE OVER LOCAL SCHOOLS

State Supt. Advises Against Move; Mayor Explains To Council

It was definitely decided at the meeting of the City Council Tuesday night that Clanton will not assume the responsibility of operation of the city schools for at least another year. For some time, the idea of the establishment of a city school system has been discussed, but Mayor C. Penn Jones explained Tuesday night that he has recently conferred with Supt. of Education J.A. Keller regarding the advisability of such a step and Dr. Keller did not offer much encouragement in the matter.

The mayor stated that the state superintendent of education declared that he had never known the system to work satisfactorily in cities of less than 5,000 population. It always increases the cost of operating the schools, he said, and tends to create a bad political influence between the city and the rural section outlying.

In view of this, and the fact that the city's financial obligations at present are rather pressing, Mayor Jones advised the council to continue under the present set-up for at least another year. This viewpoint was shared by all members.

Miss Nolan Meroney, public welfare superintendent, will be in Montgomery next Friday, where she will attend a special district meeting of public welfare directors.

THE LEADER BEING RE-MODELED INTO MODERN DEPARTMENT STORE

Merchandise Will Be Classified In Up-To-Date Departments

The Leader, one of Clanton's popular department stores, is a scene of busy workmen these days. A remodeling program that will convert this store into one of the most up-to-date mercantile establishments in this section of the country, is being carried on.

Centering around the idea of a big city department store, the remodeling reaches into every nook of the building and will make shopping a much easier and more enjoyable task, is the opinion of Maurice Lande, proprietor.

The entire stock is being rearranged and segregated, classified into a ladies' ready-to-wear, men's furnishings, children's department, and one of the most modern shoe departments in the city. The shoe department is Mr. Lande's pride. Featuring Star-Brand and Friendly Fives, he declared that the plans provide space for shelving 4,000 pairs of shoes, and sizes ranging from AAA to FIVE will be stocked.

New linoleums, new seats, and many other improvements are being installed; and the interior of the building is being completely renovated. Mr. Lande believes in two weeks, when this work is scheduled to be completed, this will be one of the most up-to-date min-

CO. SCHOOLS TO BE CLOSED NEXT FRIDAY

Supt. Little Has Hopes Of Aid From Legislature In Short While

Chilton County schools, along with those in about forty-five other Alabama counties, will close their doors next Friday afternoon because of lack of funds. The fatal message was sent to teachers and bus drivers in this county Wednesday by Supt. Luther E. Little, after it was learned that the Legislature had recessed for two days without offering any relief to the educational dilemma.

Though the situation is a gloomy one, a slight ray of hope was held out to the teachers in this county in Mr. Little's letter. He declared that he has (continued to back page)

POLICE CHIEF NOT NAMED AT COUNCIL MEET

16 Applicants For Place; Will Be Named At Next Meeting

Naming of a chief of police for Clanton to succeed the late Chief John Browder, who died recently of pneumonia, was deferred until a later date by members of the City Council at regular session Tuesday night.

After Mayor C. Penn Jones had read the list of 16 applicants who aspire to wear the "blue uniform" of the head of Clanton's Police Department, Councilman W.L. Popwell suggested that action be postponed until a later date.

H. M. Simpson, for mer state license inspector, is now serving as day policeman and has been since Mr. Browder's illness took him away from his duties. Mr. Simpson, it is understood, is among those making application for the place permanently.

Still Possibility For Paving Streets

There is still a possibility that Clanton's streets may be paved in the near future under the provisions of the WPA plan, which was presented to the people by Mayor C. Penn Jones some months ago, and which received the endorsement of almost all property-owners along the streets in question.

Mayor Jones explained at the council meeting Tuesday night that he had recently received letters inquiring further into Clanton's application. This, he said, gives him renewed hope that this application may still receive favorable consideration.

Circuit Court To Be Held Here In March

Judge Arthur Glover has announced the convening of the regular Spring Session of Circuit Court here Monday, March 16, to be in session for two weeks. The first week will be devoted to the hearing of criminal cases and the second week to civil suits. Announcement of the dates was made by Judge Glover last week when he visited the office of the circuit court clerk, J.C. Pattillo.

THOMAS A. PALMER LAID TO REST HERE LAST FRIDAY P.M.

Funeral services for Thomas A. Palmer, 68, who died at his home in Clanton last Wednesday night at 10:15 o'clock from the parlors of the Spigener Funeral Home. Dr. S.J. Ezell officiated.

Mr. Palmer is survived by his widow; one son, B.T. Palmer, Sulphur Springs, Texas; one sister, Mrs. O.E. Lathan, Clanton; and one brother J.F. Palmer, Birmingham.

CITY GRAMMAR SCHOOL TO GET NEEDED FUNDS

City Appropriates $500 In Order That School May Continue

Four hundred children, pupils at the Clanton Grammar School, will perhaps owe their opportunity to complete a grade this year to the action of the City Council at its regular session Tuesday evening.

It was voted unanimously to appropriate $500.00 of the $940.00 necessary to continue this school for an extra month, making it possible for these children to pass their grades. The motion, donating this amount, was made by Councilman H.S. Shaw and seconded by Councilman W.L. Popwell after U.H. Abrams, principal of the school, and W.W. Bean appeared before the body and made petition for aid.

The $940.00, which is necessary for the operation of this school, does not include the expense of transportation. But it is believed with spring nearer that most pupils will be able to walk to school during this month. The appropriation was made with the provision that should other funds become available the city would not be liable for this amount. Mr. Abrams explained that it is absolutely impossible for (Continued to Back Page)

Business Census Of Co. Is Being Taken By U.S.

A business census of Chilton County is being taken under the direction of the United States Department of Commerce and information secured by this survey will become a part of the statistical records kept by the department. Johnny Eller, well-known Clanton man, is in charge of this work here. He explained that all information is strictly confidential and is urging the cooperation of all business firms in the county. This is a part of a nation-wide survey and it is hoped that it will be completed by July 1, 1936.

New Bridge Installed On Kincheon Road

Work or re-installing the bridge across the creek on the Kincheon Road near West End, was begun this week by workmen engaged by the city. It was learned at the office of Mayor C. Penn Jones.

This bridge was torn out by the recent high waters and weather conditions prevailing during the past two weeks have made it impossible to repair the bridge sooner, it was explained. However, the new bridge will be far superior to the one it replaces, and the inconvenience experienced will soon be forgotten in appreciation of it.

NEW MANAGEMENT OPENS CITY CAFE AT THORSBY RECENTLY

The City Cafe & Soda Shoppe, Thorsby, has changed management and was opened for business last Saturday morning, after having been closed for several days. Miss Opal Lynch, former Clanton County girl and well-known to many in this section, is manager of the establishment. Miss Lynch is inviting her friends to visit her at Thorsby. This is one of the most inviting eating shops anywhere in Chilton County and under Miss Lynch's able management should become very popular.

FUNDS WILL PAY SOLDIERS BONUS

House Is Expected To Push Vote Also On Appropriation

NEW FARM PROGRAM INCLUDED IN FUNDS

Washington, Feb. 17.—The Senate today broke all speed records for appropriation bills by approving in less than half an hour a $2,889,751,995 measure including $1,730,000,000 to pay the bonus and $440,000,000 for the new farm subsidy program.

The remaining $719,751,995 is to pay the running expenses for the Government's host of independent agencies in the next fiscal year. Voice votes put through the bill itself and the bonus and farm fund amendments offered by Senator Byrnes (D).

In the House, where the new farm bill has yet to run a gauntlet of Republican opposition, Democratic leaders laid plans seeking a vote by Friday night.

Chairman Jones (D), Texas, of the House agriculture committee, said he would request five hours for general debate, beginning Wednesday, and consideration under a rule that would permit amendments. He plans to call up the Senate-approved Smith-Bankhead bill and substitute his own, which is very similar, as an amendment.

Bill Replaces AAA (The legislation would replace the Agricultural Adjustment Act. It would authorize Federal subsidies to farmers for taking crop land out of production to conserve the soil. The money could be paid either directly or to states (Continued to Back Page)

BASKET BALL TOURNAMENT TO BE HERE

Ten Jr. High Teams To Meet In Seventeen Hard-Fought Contests

Sponsored by the members of the "C" Club at the Chilton County High School a County-wide Junior High School Basketball Tournament will be staged next Friday afternoon and Saturday, according to information given the News this week.

Featuring 17 hard-fought games between 10 junior high school teams of Chilton County, this is expected to be one of the most interesting sports events ever seen here, it is claimed. Beginning Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the first game of the series will be played by Stanton and Mt. Pleasant teams. This is expected to be one of the best of the entire series.

This tournament is being sponsored by the members of the "C" Club, let- men of the Chilton County High School for the purpose of promoting a better inter-school spirit and a keener appreciation of amateur sports.

Teams participating in the tournament are: Mt. Pleasant, Thomas Jr., Enterprise, Stanton, Collins Chapel, Cooper, Thorsby, Concord, Vermont and Union Grove. All of these schools are said to have strong teams and each will be anxious to carry home the banner. An admission charge of 25 cents per day will be made if tickets are purchased in advance, or 25 cents for each section if bought at the gates.

Pilot To Have Play Here On Mar. 12 or 13

According to announcement of Mrs. Mamie C. Smith, President of the Clanton Pilot Club, March 12 or 13 (depending on weather conditions) is the date set for presentation of their play "Sky High."

This play is a production of the National Producing Company who will send a coach to direct the play, and Mrs. Smith states that "Sky High" has been selected by the local Pilots after careful investigation of several plays, and that the club is confident this play will delight the Clanton play-goers. Her advice to everyone is to reserve a date to see this play.

Dr. A.E. Middlebrooks spoke at the Greensboro District Christian Workers Institute held at Greensboro Tuesday of this week. He will speak at the Montgomery District Institute to be held at Tallahassee Friday.

A Campaign Of Many Words

By Charles Nickelson

There appears to be little progress in the efforts of the Republicans, open or undercover, to solve their twin problems—their candidate for the Presidency and the platform on which he will stand.

There never was a more vocal party. It is a poor day that does not bring a speech. More words already have been expended in their assault on the Roosevelt administration than suffice for an ordinary full campaign—and we have nine months to go, and yet it is undisclosed what policies they ask the country to accept, or what kind of a man they mean to offer to carry out their non-existent program.

Even Alfred E. Smith, their latest apologist, in his "Liberty League" tribute said nothing that has not already been said in a hundred forms by every yearning candidate from President Hoover down to Senator Dickinson of Iowa in inveighing against the President and his emergency program. At that it was a good political speech, with plenty of humor, sarcasm, a proper amount of humility, and a suitable seasoning of disclaimer of personal ambitions officeword.

He said what he came to say under the auspices of the duPont organization much better than his predecessors on the same theme. He is a better workman on the hustings than any of them. He did not explain how the militant Liberal-of his Gubernatorial days, and of his Presidential candidate period came to be the spokesman of the most reactionary outfit in the picture. He did not once refer to the innumerable speeches he made during the years of his Democratic activity, in which he took a position as vehemently for the things Roosevelt is standing on now, as he did against them when he discussed the high character and altruistic motives of the Liberty League the other night.

He told us that there could be only one Capital, Washington or Moscow. It used to be Washington and Wall Street in those so different days. He assured us there could be only one flag—the stars and stripes or the red flag of the Godless union of the Soviet, and eloquently assured us that our country would brook no dictator. Now, I don't recall a Supreme Court upsetting the plans of Mussolini, Hitler, or Stalin, nor do I recall any of these despots patiently seeking a method to bring his objectives within the limitations set by the court.

Our Air Defense

When the world is uneasy and upset by war clouds hanging over almost every nation, it is heartening to note that our own aviation industry, in spite of many handicaps, has been steadily forging to the front.

The air transport industry of the United States, even though hampered by a reduction in mail payments, has gone ahead, increased its service to the public in speed, comfort and regularity, to a point where it is a daily peace-time necessity and undoubtedly an indispensable, if not the most important single factor in national defense.

Other governments recognize the value of this most modern form of transportation as an important and necessary adjunct of military service. They subsidize the air lines on a mileage basis, to an extent as high as ten times that of our lines, and yet our lines are faster, more regular and the planes are more comfortable, as is shown by the fact that the Dutch, Swiss and Polish air lines, having the world from which to choose, buy American air liners.

Citizens of this country can be proud of their aviation industry. It is another example of American initiative and enterprise. In the air, it puts us in a position of supremacy that our world famed clipper ships did three generations ago, in sea trade.

This country must maintain its lead as an air-minded nation.

They Cry "Dictatorship"

In certain quarters today Franklin D. Roosevelt is a much maligned man. The latest attack seems to be an epithet contest. Since he was not satisfied with the old Republican way of letting things go from bad to worse, he is called a "dictator." Because he had the courage to remember the needy man after he was in office, he is called a "socialist." Various other epithets have been thrown at this administration, which is to be expected from the type of Republican leadership the American people discharged from the White House in 1932.

In fact, this thing started even before Roosevelt was elected. Hoover, instead of doing something worthy of his high office in the last campaign, led an attack on the Democrats, charging among other things, that if Roosevelt was elected grass would grow in the city streets.

Since this grave prophecy failed to materialize, the charge has been re-named, but fundamentally it is the same. It was not constructive argument when Hoover made his prophecy. Then it was an attempt to defeat what the Democratic party hoped to do. Now it is an effort to destroy what the Democratic party has and is doing.

When the Democratic party gave assistance to the Southern cotton farmer, and the Western wheat grower, it roused the ire of Eastern capitalists. When social security for the masses was attempted another cry was heard. Yes, the wail of the Al Smiths, the DuPonts, the Hoosac Mills, and the Union-Banner, is loud in the land today.

But what is their program? Their attack upon administration policies is vigorous enough. But if their campaign of destruction should be successful, what would they substitute? Who is their candidate; what is their platform?

Would they have us re-elect Hoover to the presidency? Do they believe the American people would endorse his type of administration? If not Hoover and his platform, who then will it be, and what will the Republican party offer?

Apparently they object to aiding the farmer. Social security is displeasing to them. The fact that practically no banks have closed during Roosevelt's administration has won no approval from them. We realize that it takes no great brilliancy to object to what is being done and point out what displeases.

It would seem, however, more might be expected of Republican leaders, that at least they might have some program other than an attack on existing facts.

They do cry for a return to constitutional government. Somehow, this strikes us as beneath the intelligence of the men who are supposedly leaders in the Republican party, in view of the fact that the constitution is still as important and sturdy a document as at any time since it was written. There is no Democratic talk of destroying or weakening that document. Apparently, even the idea of amendments as provided for in the constitution itself, is improbable. Since the constitution does remain the supreme law of the land, and every indication points to a continuance of that fact, why then, the cry of "dictator"?

It points directly to one conclusion: The Republicans have nothing better on which to base their cause than petty dissatisfaction and trumped up charges. They have done nothing for the people in the past; they plan to do nothing in the future; and they hope that the voters will again place their party in power.

Home Talent Wins Acclaim

One of the most delightful plays ever presented in Clanton was witnessed last Thursday night, February 13, at the Chilton County High School. It was sponsored by the Clanton Dramatic Club; and was coached by Miss Alice (Potsy) Polk, who has already won quite a few honors in the dramatic field.

The News is pleased at this opportunity of commending these young men and young women who have taken the initiative and done such a good piece of work. Staging a play involves considerable thought and hard work, and when it is done in as fine a manner as was the case with "A Ready-Made Family" last Thursday night, the audience is simply bound to sit up and take notice, which is exactly what happened.

Many who have a worthy aim in life persist in shooting blank cartridges.

A good Alabama sister wrote her local paper, praising her pastor for his great courage in publicly censuring the devil.

Antisic publishing house reports the acceptance of only three songs out of 5,000 submitted. And safe to say they were the sickest three.

MORAL ECHOES

D. W. Haskew

The preacher was visiting at a country home and he saw lifted high above a barn a weather vane. On either side were to be seen in clear type "God Is Love." The pastor looked for a moment and then remarked, "Why, my brother, you are teaching that God's love is as changeable as the wind." "Not so," replied the farmer, "I am saying that it matters not from which way the wind blows that God is Love." Would that we could get the message of that weather vane into every heart. The most of us think that when the sun is shining and when the gentle breezes blow that God is love, but when the storm comes and misfortune chills our very being, then there is no love of God. It matters not from whence the winds may blow God is love. Learn this and you will be happy all the time.

I saw an old ox in the mud up to his knees and he was slaving about in the mire picking the tender buds of grass. All around this quadruped there were blooming Azaleas that would dazzle any eye, but this uneducated brute seemed to care nothing about the beauty that was on every side. Only one thing called him into action and that was his appetite. Many human beings are very much like that ox in their relation to life. They look upon their existence as a means to and of satisfying the flesh. They leave off the beauty of the world and push aside all the finer things of living just to slash about in the mire and satisfy their appetites. We are beings of another world and should not become pandered with the ways of the flesh. Life is not above the brute standard when it is just a slash and a push after the things of the flesh.

I visited in a well to do home and near by his house I saw an humble house in which lived an aged couple. Everything about the house indicated that the old people were in absolute want. Later the well to do man related to me in a feeling way the poverty of this family and how he had prayed over the matter. He said that for weeks he had been praying that God would do something about it and send the old people fuel and food. I suggested to him that he stop bothering God about doing something he could do himself. I said, "The next time you pray just tell God that you love Him and that because of that love you are going to send a load of groceries and fuel to that old couple." Many of us bother God a lot with things that we could do ourselves if we only love Him.

The Pullman porter sat across the aisle waiting for a call to serve when the preacher ventured to inquire into his religious life. The porter confessed that he was not a Christian. Then he asked why he was delaying the matter. His reply was, "I tell you doctor, I know I should be one and some day I hope to be one, but just yet I am dreading the process." Many who read this are in a like position with the porter. You expect some day to be a Christian but just yet you are dreading the process.

A representative of one of those slot machine companies entered the drug store of a noble-minded man and presented his machine. He informed the druggist that he could make a hundred dollars clear every month out of the machine and it would be of no expense at all. Here is the reply of that man: "Yes, that may be true, but I am not recovering by taking from my customers their money and not giving anything in return. You cannot place that thing in here." Folks listen to me, there is no greater curse in our midst today than the slot machine line of business. All gamblers prosper only when some other man loses. If you win in a slot machine, you can console yourself that you have taken that amount out of the pocket of someone who lost. You cannot win unless someone other one has lost. Let it be known far and wide that any man who plays a slot machine is lacking in something.

PNEUMONIA IS OFTEN FATAL SAYS DOCTOR

Thirteen Persons In Chilton Have Succumbed To Disease Since Nov. 1

Pneumonia is fast taking its place as one of the chief causes of death in Chilton County. Since last November 1, 13 persons have died from this disease in various sections of the county, according to records in the office of Dr. M. Kimmy, county health officer. Within this period, 72 cases of this illness have been reported. With 13 succumbing to the disease, the percentage of death resulting is approximately 20 per cent. In other words, chances of recovery when stricken with pneumonia are about four or five to one, based on this report.

Dr. Kimmy pointed out that not any person recognize pneumonia as a contagious disease, but it is and if more precaution was taken in nursing and being around those ill with it, there would be a great reduction in the number of cases and death. Only lobar pneumonia, of which there are 32 types, is contagious. It is this type which often results in death to the victim.

In enumerating possible preventives, he declared that the all-important thing is to keep as nearly physically fit as possible. Weakened conditions so often develop into pneumonia. Loss of too much sleep, colds, improper diets, overweight, and excessive use of alcohol may contribute to a case of pneumonia.

Chilton County Is Well Represented At Ala. University

That Chilton County is unusually well represented by students at the University of Alabama is evidenced by the list which follows, and which was prepared for the News by John Ponder Lawrence, a student there. Those from Chilton County attending the University are as follows:

From Clanton: Charles Strook Deason, Jesse Frank Foshee, Alex Hayes, John P. Lawrence, Jr., Elizabeth Johnson, Priscilla Johnson, Louise Knox, J. C. Massey, Grady Reynolds, Jr., Sidney Reynolds, Joe Vanderveer, Dan White, G. C. Weiden, Lawrence F. Gerald, Jr., From Maplesville: Margaret Nix, Charles N. Parnell, Jr., Ruth Judson Parnell.

From Verbena: John Daniel Eiland, Joseph B. Gaines.

From Jemison: Ervin Lee Beasley.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my thanks to my friends for their liberality and kindness to me in helping me go to the hospital and for their kindness while in the hospital and also for their help after my return home. I also thank Dr. Gragg and Miss Robinson and all the nurses for their kindness shown me while in the hospital, and also Mr. Samuel Martin. May God's great blessings be with every one of you.—Dulcie Champion.

Mrs. A. E. Middlebrooks is attending the Woman's Missionary Society Conference in Pensacola this week representing the Clanton Methodist Church Missionary Society, of which she is president.

Vermont School News

The fiddlers convention last Thursday night seemed to be enjoyed by everyone. Cash prizes were awarded as follows:

First prize, Orville Wright, $200; second prize, Fonzie Smith, $150; third prize, Henry Klinner, 75c; fourth prize, Coy Klinner, 50c; fifth prize, Jasen Turner, a pair of suspenders.

After expenses were paid the balance amounted to $1210. The proceeds will go for the benefit of the school.

The boys won a victory over Baker at Jemison last Saturday night, with the score of 22-7.

The boys are expecting to play in the basketball tournament at Clanton Saturday, February 22. We hope they will be successful in winning.

All who are interested in the P.-T.-A. are urged to meet at the schoolhouse Thursday night, February 20, for discussion of important school matters. The room having the largest number of parents present will be awarded a half holiday.

The boys and girls have been very busy selling candy for the benefit of the school.

JUDGE RUTHERFORD TO SPEAK

A convention in the city, February 22 and 23. Macmillan will be co-sponsor in Birmingham until 2 p. m., February 23.

A MESSAGE TO THE VOTERS OF THE SIXTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT FROM PETE B. JARMAN, JR.

"Having been affiliated with the public life, first of my county and later of my state throughout my life, I like to think of myself as a public servant. To serve my fellow Alabamians, my party and my nation to the best of my ability has ever been my keen desire."

"I am appreciative, indeed, of the general sentiment, which seems to have crystallized throughout the Sixth District shortly following my good, but unsuccessful, race for Congress two years ago, that I should run again which race would prove successful."

"Because of this sentiment my announcement for Congress will cause no surprise. My campaign will, of course, be waged upon a high plane. While in the final analysis all candidates must primarily stand on their records, the other plans of my platform will follow in due course."

"While I was reasonably acquainted with the District when I announced before, many new acquaintances ripened into friendships during that campaign which will afford me much pleasure throughout the remaining years of my life. During my visits in the District since many other strong friendships have occurred, literally thousands, who for various good reasons could not support me before, having assured me of their support in the event of another race."

"In announcing my candidacy, I desire to gratefully acknowledge all of these assurances of support, new as well as old, and to pledge you my best efforts to make you a good Congressman. It will be my purpose to be your representative in Washington, rendering allegiance to the whole people of the great Sixth District, poor and rich, low and high, without favoritism to any clique or group. Toward that end, I want you to always feel free, during this campaign, as well as in the future, to discuss with me any issue in which you may be interested."

"While it is my keen desire to see every voter in the District prior to the election, and frequently henceforth, I can scarcely hope to be so fortunate to contact you. I hope you will get in touch with me or inquire from some friend as to my qualifications and experience for this very important post of service."

"While my election appears most probable, the fact that politics is quite uncertain causes me to urge my friends to take nothing for granted and to continue their magnificent efforts in my behalf, particularly interesting themselves in getting out the vote, which will otherwise not be large in this off-year. If the opinion of many that we have an open road to this broader field of service is erroneous let's open it. If it is correct, let's make the victory certain, positive and overwhelming."

"Your efforts in my behalf will be deeply appreciated. I want, not only your vote, but your active, energetic influence. Afterward, your affairs at the Nation's Capitol will be regarded as an avowed public trust, and I will strive earnestly to serve my People, my District, and Party and my Nation well."

"Together we cannot, must not, will not fail."

Sincerely,
PETE B. JARMAN, JR.
(Pd. pol. av. by Pete B. Jarman, Jr., Livingston, Ala.)

A Six-Point Pullet Production Program

Auburn, Ala.—A six-point profitable pullet production program for Alabama is described by John E. Ivey, extension poultryman, as follows:

Clean Chickens—Secure chicks from flocks and hatcheries having a known, definite breeding and disease-control program.

Clean Ground—Move brooder house to new location, or use rotation with double or triple yards, or use wire or slatted sun porches.

Clean Brooder House—Several days before the chicks arrive thoroughly clean brooder house; wash with hot lye water (1 pound lye to 15 gal. water, or spray with a good, strong disinfectant).

Clean Litter—Use a reasonable amount of good absorbent litter; keep dry; clean house and change litter every 3 to 5 days.

Clean Feed and Water—Use approved hoppers for all feed. Prevent chicks from getting in hoppers. Feed a balanced ration at all times. Scrub water fountain daily.

Clean Care and Management—(1) Sanitation is the best known prevention. It is always cheaper, more effective, and more satisfactory than using commercial remedies. (2) Amount of heat required depends upon kind of house, kind of brooder, and age of chicks. Keep chicks comfortable; avoid overheating. (3) Allow 1 square foot floor space for every two chicks. (4) Start chicks early. (5) Never place over 250 to 350 chicks around one brooder. (6) One 4-foot hopper for each 100 chicks. (7) Two half-gallon jugs of water per 100 chicks. (8) Provide plenty of green feed. (9) Teach chicks to roost early. (10) Get chicks outside early. Allow plenty of sunshine. (11) Place pullets on clean range at an early age. (12) Vaccinate pullets against fowl pox.

FARMERS GET $202,584 FROM CO-OP HOG SALE

Auburn, Ala.—Farmers of Dale, Geneva, Pike, Coffee, and Houston counties sold 13,961 hogs cooperatively for $202,584.72 during January of this year, report county agricultural agents.

DOMINO CLUB MET LAST THURSDAY AFTERNOON

The Girl's Domino Club met Thursday afternoon at the Recreation Center and played a number of games. A large number of members were present and several new members. All enjoyed the afternoon.

The directors of the Recreation Center gave a Valentine party Friday, February 14, in the Recreation Reading Room. A large crowd was present. Hand-made Valentines were given and games were played and contests had. Lemonade was served to all. A most enjoyable afternoon was spent.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. O. M. Webb entertained last Thursday afternoon with a birthday party in honor of her six-year-old son, Bobby.

The dining room was beautifully decorated in Valentines and balloons. The table was arranged with dainty heart boxes of candy for favors.

The children present were: Polly Webb, Harold Gene Parr, Jon Will Pitts, Jack Elmore, Crutcher and Janet Ross, O.K. Welch.

CARD OF THANKS

Henderson—We wish to thank our relatives and friends for their kindness and sympathy shown during the illness and death of our mother and grandmother, Mrs. Nancy E. Henderson, and also for the beautiful floral offerings.—Mrs. C. C. Messer and Family; Mrs. F. M. Keith.

CHILTON GROWERS PROFIT BY CO-OP POULTRY SALES

Clanton, Ala.—Chilton County farmers profited by over $2,000.00 through selling 33,706 pounds of poultry cooperatively for $5,178.28, reports County Agent J. W. Fant. The farmers were paid considerably more than the prevailing prices on the local market.

Nervous, Weak Woman Soon All Right

"I had regular shaking spells from nervousness," writes Mrs. Cora Sanders of Paragould, Ark. "I was all run-down and cramped at my time until I would have to go to bed. After my first bottle of Cardui, I was better. I kept taking Cardui and soon I was all right. The shaking quit and I did not cramp. I felt worlds better. I gave Cardui to my daughter who was in about the same condition and she was soon all right."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

MRS. OLIVER SMITH LAID TO REST AT NEW SALEM SUNDAY

DAYBREAK FERTILIZER

We are pleased to advise our many customers and friends that we are now in a position to serve their needs in anything they may require in the way of high grade fertilizers.

We have made arrangements with an old reliable manufacturer of high grade fertilizers for the past fifty years, to distribute their products here at Clanton.

As the intelligent and discriminating buyer turns naturally to fertilizers of high quality, he logically prefers DAYBREAK Brand—the fertilizer that has attained a Standard of Excellence seldom equalled, and never surpassed in the field.

We are handling this brand of fertilizer on a very small handling charge, which assures you the lowest possible prices for high grade fertilizer.

We now have this fertilizer in stock, and will be gla to serve your need.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR ODIS BLACKMON HELD SUNDAY P.M.

Funeral services for Odis Blackmon, 29, who died Saturday at a Montgomery hospital, following an extended illness, were held Sunday from the Samaria Baptist Church with the Rev. J. W. Jones officiating. Burial was in the churchyard cemetery with Spigener in charge. Members of the Woodmen of the World were in charge of the interment. Mr. Blackmon is survived by his widow and one young son, Grady Lee Blackmon; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Blackmon; one brother, Cecil, all of Clanton; two sisters Mrs. Nattie Belle Nobles, Syacauga, and Mrs. Evelina Minor Clanton.

"I want to see what kind of a housekeeper she is," explained John Hahn, 80, of Plaines, Ill., when he took out a license to marry Lillian Snyder, 72.

PILOTS HOLD MEETING

The Pilot Club held its regular bi-monthly meeting Tuesday night, February 11, at the Methodist Church. Business matters were attended to and plans were discussed for the convention to be held in Mobile in March. An interesting reading was given by Frances Moore.

Delicious plates were served by the Methodist ladies to the following members: Irene Smithner, Dellah Grant, Frances Moore, Lona Thompson, Laura Little, Eleanor Warr, Dewey Branch, Alma Allen, Madge Mullins, Bo Searcy, Gertrude Fiquette, Zora Smith, Sophia Jones, Ruth Martin, Ruth Pardee, Willie Maude Kelly and the president, Mrs. Mamie Smith.

Thomas A. Fogarty of St. Louis has seen 108 years roll by, and recalls he has been ill only once.

AVIATION TO BE FORCE IN THE FUTURE

Dr. Gragg Thinks U. S. Is Lagging In Interest In Aviation

Millions of guesses have been hazarded during recent years regarding the part to be played by aviation in the future development of this country, and the whole world for that matter. Or maybe it would be more appropriate to say that this discussion has centered more or less about the destruction that can be wreaked by aviation in the years to come.

Anyway, it is safe to determine that aviation will be one of the strongest forces in the hands of mankind in the years to come. It is no longer necessary to guess concerning this possibility. It is easily seen to be true.

This week, Dr. V. J. Gragg, Chilton County's own aviation enthusiast and to some degree, authority, cites some facts that without doubt illustrate the importance of aviation, not only in the future, but to those who live today. He is just a bit worried about the apparent lack of preparedness along these lines should this country be called upon to protect its citizenship from foes in the air.

According to plans recently published, the United States will maintain only about 2,000 fighting planes in 1942, he pointed out. Today, Italy has 4,000 planes ready to wreak destruction to any foe that may show its head, and Russia has more than 20,000 parachute jumpers—to say nothing of pilot.

Recently, Russia illustrated what may be an important role in future wars. Three thousand men with machine guns were dropped from transport ships behind the lines of supposed enemies, and not a casualty was suffered.

The people of the United States must awake to progress that is being made in aviation and exert some effort to see that our country does not lag to its own detriment, he declared.

"HAPPY HITTER" QUARTET TO GIVE PROGRAM AT JEMISON

The W.M.U. of the Jimson Baptist Church will sponsor the "Stamps-Baxter 'Happy Hitter' Quartet in a delightful program on February 27, at 7:45 o'clock, at the Jimson High School auditorium.

The "Happy Hitter" Quartet is one of the most popular quartets on the air this season, and this will be their first public appearance in Chilton County.

Whether the public prefers dressy, waltz music or snappy, modern blues, old time favorites, or a good comedienne, the "Happy Hitters" have promised them a brilliant and successful program. You will thrill when you hear them laugh when you see them.

Admission will be ten and twenty cents. Proceeds will go to the benefit of the W.M.U. The public is cordially invited.

Put this extra money in your own pocket!

Every Southern farmer knows that ARCADIAN, THE AMERICAN NITRATE OF SODA increases yields of cotton, corn and all other crops. But not all know about the Extra Nitrogen in "Arcadian". And that Extra Nitrogen is something really worth knowing about.

In cash value the Extra Nitrogen over the 16% guaranteed, runs as high as 88c per ton. This is reported by the Department of Agriculture and Immigration of the State of Virginia. Every time you buy "ARCADIAN", you are sure of two things: 1—superior crop-growing value as proved by many tests; 2—Extra Nitrogen which does not cost you one extra cent.

When you buy ARCADIAN, THE AMERICAN NITRATE OF SODA

you get extra cash value which is just like putting money right in your own pocket.

WOMEN MAKING BROOMS BAGS AND PLATE MATS

Marion, Ala.—Making of hearth brooms, knitting bags, and plate mats is becoming popular with Perry County women, reports Sue Mills, home demonstration agent.

The women are making the hearth brooms from ordinary broom edge and are using wool thread or bias binding to bind them together. They are using burlap sacks with wool thread to decorate them in making the knitting bags, while the hot plate mats are being made of plain wrapping cord.

Alabama Penalized On Short Staple Cotton

Auburn, Ala.—Emphasizing the importance of farmers producing better varieties of cotton, J. C. Lowery, extension agronomist, states that "Alabama ranked first in 1935 in the production of cotton shorter than 7-8 inch in staple length—a most expensive distinction."

After giving figures showing 34.6 per cent of the cotton crop produced by farmers of the state in 1935 was shorter than 7-8 inch, Mr. Lowery states that "In an effort to solve the problem, the Alabama Extension Service has launched a cotton-improvement program based on the development of one-variety cotton communities."

"In one-variety communities already in operation in Alabama it has been found that the staple length is averaging around one inch, whereas in other communities in the same counties the cotton is largely 7-8 inch or shorter," he says.

"Cotton-improvement programs are underway in Tallapoosa, Coosa, Chambers, Perry, Monroe, Butler, Wilcox, Mobile, Tuscaloosa, Jackson, Walker, Etowah, Madison, Cullman, DeKalb and Winston.

"More than 10,000 bushels of pure seed direct from breeders have already been placed in one-variety areas. This should give more than 100,000 bushels of good planting seed in the fall of 1937.

"D.P.L. and Stoneville 5 are the principal better staple varieties adapted to Alabama," he concludes.

Chevrolet Announces New Model Cabriolet

A new cabriolet, embodying many distinctive features of design and convenience, is announced by Chevrolet for immediate introduction as an addition to the line of 1936 body models offered on the Standard chassis. The cabriolet, a rumble seat model, long and rakish in appearance, combines the individuality of a sport model with the all-weather utility of a business coupe.

The folding top, of durable tan waterproof material, closely follows the smoothly rounded lines of the coupe models. When the top is raised, the cabriolet serves as a closed car. By folding down a wide rear panel of the top, readily released by means of zipper fasteners, and lowering the coupe-type windows into the wide doors, the car is converted into an open model. With top lowered, the cabriolet is a sport model of dashingly appearance.

The top is smoothly tailored, and sealed at all edges where it is attached to the body. When lowered, it folds away into a recess back of the front seat, lying flush with the top surface of the body. This recess, when the top is raised, provides a roomy space for use as a place for packages or small articles of luggage.

The doors are furnished with complete Fisher no-draft ventilation equipment, and both the adjustable ventipanes and the rear windows are bound in steel moldings as reinforcement of the glass.

The front seat is adjustable by "finger-tip control." The seat cushion and seat back cushion facings are trimmed in genuine leather of a rich brown shade. The instrument panel, hardware, garnish moldings, and other trim features are of the same distinctive style and trim as in the other Chevrolet Standard models.

A Correction

Editor, Chilton County News,

The News of the past week carries a statement that Mr. Will Moore, who is in the Clanton Hospital suffering with a broken leg, was trampled on by a horse. This is a mistake and I wish to correct it.

A neighbor's horse had a stick in its foot and Mr. Moore was trying to get it out when he fell and broke his leg; the horse did not hurt anyone, and was only indirectly responsible for the accident, having a stick in its foot and Mr. Moore being so good as to be helping at the time he fell and broke his leg, is the only way the horse could be responsible for it.

I am sure you do not care to leave such a mistake without correction. I hope you can understand this as I have explained it.

Sincerely yours, Mrs. N. E. Smith.

pose of constructing and maintaining, in said County public highways of a permanent type of paved road.

SECTION TWO: That the expending by the Court of County Commissioners of Chilton County, Alabama of the gasoline tax of said County to the extent of the amount equal to its share of said Tax of 1c per gallon, for any other purpose than provided for in this Act is hereby declared to be unlawful and is hereby prohibited.

SECTION THREE: That all laws or parts of laws in conflict herewith be, and the same are, hereby expressly repealed.

IN MEMORY OF JOHN P. JACKSON

On the night of February 3rd the spirit of our dear father winged in flight from this world of pain and sorrow. For some reason unknown to us God, in His infinite wisdom, saw fit to call him from our midst.

We know that it was God's will for him to leave us, but some sweet day we will better understand why God called him away so soon. Let us not grieve but rather say, "The Lord Giveth and the Lord taketh away—blessed be the name of the Lord." We know that he trusted in God for he prayed from the very beginning of his illness.

He had the ability for gaining friends. Everywhere he went the clouds seemed to disappear. May God bind our broken hearts and cheer us as we look forward to the reunion beyond where we will never part.—M. C. Henley.

Clanton Methodist Church News

Rev. A. E. Middlebrooks, Minister

A service for the dedication of memorial and gift hymn books will be held Sunday morning at eleven o'clock. The church has recently been supplied with the new Methodist Hymnal. The members are presenting memorial and gift copies to the church. If you have purchased your copy or copies get in touch with a member of the Committee or the pastor at once in order that your name and the one you honor will be included in the list to be announced Sunday. The price is $1.00 per copy. You may give the book as a memorial to a loved one or friend or simply make the church a gift of one or more copies. An appropriate plate will be placed in each book with the name of the donor and the person honored. Members of the Hymnal Committee are: Dr. and Mrs. C. O. Lawrence, Mr. Evan Parrish, Mrs. Barney Sherts, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Pitts, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Seary, Prof. and Mrs. Ed Glasscock, Mrs. John O. New, Mrs. John Armstrong, Mrs. Reid Williams. The pastor will speak briefly at the dedication service on the theme "The Peace and Power of Music in Life." Don't miss this service.

Sunday at 7:00 the large choir of young people will sing. Those who have not sung have praised them most highly. It will be a treat to hear them. "Young People and Their Pleasures." Let all church school officers and members be present for the staff meeting. The theme to be discussed by the pastor Sunday at 9:30. The church school begins at 9:45. Young People's League service is 6:15 p.m.

Phil Baker And Stooges Salute N. Orleans, 23rd

Phil Baker, the famous radio and stage comedian, and his troupe of high-provoking entertainers will salute this city when they observe "New Orleans Night" on their "Great American Tour" program over the Columbia network, including WWL, on Sunday, February 23, at 6:30 p.m., CST. The show will be a presentation of the M. Refining Company, supporting the accordion-playing artist and his comic assistants—Beetle Bailey and Agnes Moorehead—will be Ed Kemp and his internationally popular orchestra and the Seven G's a novel group of mixed voices under the direction of Ed Smalle being heard on air for the first time this season. The "Great American Tourist," Phil Baker's musical automobile trip through the United States via the week-end broadcasts. It is his custom to salute various cities en route. On his February 16 program the comedian and his troupe hailed Miami.

N.Y. Celtics Meet C. Tide In B'ham Friday

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 6.—Basket ball, ordinarily, is looked upon as a sport. That was Dr. Naismith's intention when he founded it 45 years ago. But when the New York Celtics, owned by Kate Smith, perform, it is an attraction, and not a game.

This is why the Birmingham Athletic Club will be packed to the rafters next Friday night when the Celtics stage their second "attraction" of the season here, meeting the Crimson Tide of Alabama.

The Celtics fill every gymnasium in which they appear. They have drawn as many as 18,000 people in one night, and basket ball fans from coast to coast and from the Gulf to Canada look forward to the annual appearance of the Celtics in their community.

Friday night Birmingham gets the biggest basket ball attraction ever held in Alabama. Every seat will be sold by the time the two teams take the floor at the B.A.C., and only standing room will be available. It is estimated, with the advance sale already above the 500-ticket mark.

Henry (Dutch) Dehnert, Joe Lapchick, Davey Banks, Polly Birch, Nat Hickey and Paul Herlihy will give an encore to their previous game here with the Y.M.H.A. this season. This was described as the greatest showing the Celtics have ever given here and they promised to return providing a strong force could be found.

The desirable tickets to this game are urged to write immediately to the B.A.C. in Birmingham for tickets, which are available at prices of $1.10, reserved and 55c general admission.

Friends of Miss Louise Martin, daughter of Tax-Assessor A. D. Martin, will be glad to learn that she is doing nicely in a Birmingham hospital where she was taken a few days ago.

NOTES FROM COUNTY HEALTH OFFICE

(A Well-Known "Fact" That Isn't So)

"A clean tooth never decays" was the slogan devised by the pioneers in dental hygiene, nearly a generation ago. It sounded well and was a great encouragement to tooth-brush drills and such efforts toward cleaner teeth. Unfortunately, perhaps, the idea was seized upon by the producers of pastes, powders, brushes, and other things for sale with the result that the statement is still frequently offered to us as the whole truth.

Were it possible to keep the teeth perfectly clean, decay would probably be very slight, but since they must stay in our mouths, which are always crowded with germs, "bacteriological cleanliness" is out of the question.

To more nearly tell the real story regarding the prevention of tooth decay, we must revise our slogan to something like this: "Plenty of tooth-building food for mothers and babies will do the most to prevent dental decay." This food must contain an abundance of calcium, phosphorus, and vitamin D, and it is of the greatest importance that the diet of the mother, before the baby is born, should contain these food essentials.

For calcium and phosphorus we depend first of all on milk. It is difficult to get a liberal supply without milk, as the diet would be too bulky if dependence were put on vegetables alone as the source. Milk, eggs, meats and fresh vegetables will furnish phosphorus. Milk also contains some vitamin D, which is essential if the calcium and phosphorus is to be properly utilized. Eggs also contain a quantity of vitamin D. Other important sources of this vitamin are cod-liver oil and sunshine.

And so, in addition to brushing our teeth regularly, and making regular visits to the dentist, let us remember the importance of proper food elements if we are to prevent tooth decay.

Local Firm Displays Newest Dodge Trucks And Commercial Cars

Several more of the new 1936 Dodge trucks and commercial cars have just been received by the H. N. Smith Motor Co., local dealers, and are now on display in their sales rooms. These new vehicles represent the latest in truck construction and noticeable examples of power combined with beauty in design.

Outstanding features of the 1936 line of Dodge trucks and commercial cars are: "fore-point" load distribution, pre-proved economy, Amola steel springs and other innovations which place them in a distinctive class.

Rugged in construction, yet beautiful in appearance, these trucks and commercial cars are built in sizes which meet all types of transportation needs, with the following chassis models available: One-half, three-quarter, one, one and one-half (in two series), two, three and four ton models, specially built Air-flow models also are offered.

Further description of the unusual mechanical features follows:

One of the most unusual features of the new line of trucks is the "fore-point" load distribution through which the load is shifted forward in relation to the axles, thus insuring a minimum of over-all length, greater stability and more nearly equalized wear on brakes and tires, all of which result in a more efficient hauling unit.

Body and cab designs of the new Dodge truck permit greater advertising value because of the smoothly flowing lines which are seen throughout the entire line. The panel models have the latest type of slanting rear end contour and have been given special attention to embody in them the greatest amount of beauty.

One of the major changes in the construction of the new models is the adoption of a strictly truck-type of frame on the one-half ton commercial car. This double drop frame is deeper in side rail cross section and has five truck-type cross members, including the rear engine support. The commercial sedan is an exception, in that Dodge uses its passenger car chassis to afford passenger car riding comfort for the commercial traveler and other large groups of users whose personal transportation needs also call for load capacity for the carrying of merchandise.

Vital in the construction of the 1936 line of Dodge trucks and commercial cars is the "pre-proved" economy which permits noticeable savings in fuel and oil. This is made possible through the development of six major mechanical features and advantages. They are: Aluminum alloy pistons, four piston rings, full-length water jackets, valve seat inserts, spray cooled exhaust valve seats and special oil cooling.

Springs of the new trucks are of Amola steel, a recent metallurgical development of the Chrysler Corporation. This steel has high fatigue resisting qualities and furnishes an additional factor of safety.

Offered throughout this line is a wide range of axle ratios, coupled with three, four and five speed transmissions, as well as several wheel-base lengths. Practically any transportation requirement can be met with these features.

Isabella School Activities

The F.F.A. boys' and F.H.A. girls' signs that were mentioned in a preceding paper, have been completed and put up at two different places which lead to Isabella. The boys and girls are very proud about their joint project and think it will help to advertise their school.

There has been a discussion about another similar project. We believe the work of these two clubs has proved successful in reaching the homes of many of the club members.

We regret that Mrs. Foshee was not with us last week, and we are proud to have her with us again.

Our entire school became interested last week in a mock trial that was presented by the Business Law class. The judge was Melvin White; the two lawyers were A. D. Headley and J. C. Jones; the sheriff Harry Fox.

The case was a breach of promise. The plaintiff was Johnnie Lou Coburn and the defendant, Andrew Jones. No decision was reached by the jury.

The trial was beneficial as well as much fun.

The Seniors wish to express their appreciation for the response the people of this school and community gave to buying the candy we were selling. A nice profit was made.

The reporters wish to call the attention to the correction of a title given two weeks ago. The correct title of the organization that has put on a contest for all eligible high school girls is "The Daughters of the American Revolution."

The Cosmopolitan Literary Society met Wednesday February 5. The program, due to several absent members was short. A better program is expected next time.

The F.F.A. Chapter presented a very good program on February 5 as follows:

MISS GLENNIE MAHAN WEDS ROY L. GOODWYN RECENTLY

Mrs. J. M. Mahan of Clanton, Ala., Route 5, announces the wedding of her daughter, Miss Glennie Mahan, to Mr. Roy L. Goodwyn, of Montgomery, on Thursday, February 6th.

Mr. Goodwyn is employed by the L&N R.R. in Montgomery and Mr. and Mrs. Goodwyn will make their home in this city.

Jokes—Cecil Mills.

Business in which a date for an initiation, to be set, was discussed. There were other discussions on various topics.

Wednesday night, February 12, the chapter initiated four new members of First Degree and several more are to be initiated into the Future Farmer's Degree next week.

Mr. J. L. Conway of the Isabella community was a pleasant caller at the News office last Saturday.

reason to hope that schools will be reopened in about two weeks and continue for the regular-length terms. However, to date, he stated, the County Board of Education has been given no assurance of additional funds, and schools will have to be closed and remain closed until the State Department of Education certifies additional revenue for Chilton County.
"Along with the above official notice I wish to express to you my personal attitude toward the developments at Montgomery at this time. I have full faith in the Governor and the personnel of the Legislature and feel that such arrangements as are necessary will be made to enable us to re-open our schools within about two weeks and to continue until our full times have been completed," Mr. Little told the teachers.

children to be promoted unless they have had at least seven months preparation. He asked for aid to guarantee the seventh month, and perhaps the eighth.
All schools in the county are scheduled to close next Friday unless some additional revenue is raised. With the Legislature adjourned for the rest of this week, it seems unlikely that any immediate help may be anticipated.
For three years, it has been necessary for the city to come to the rescue of the Clanton schools, and although every member of the council expressed willingness to sacrifice for the benefit of the city's schools, they were unanimous in their criticism of the system which makes this question an annual problem, threatening the very existence of education in this country.

Even with the city's donation of $500.00, it will still be necessary to raise another $440.00 to supply funds needed for teachers' salaries. This will have to be raised by popular subscription, and the idea isn't so popular any more, it was explained by Mr. Abrams, who stated that contributions were hard to get last year. The entire amount needed is only $270 per child enrolled, but there are many parents—indeed, most parents—who cannot afford to pay even this small sum on top of all other taxes that are being exacted from the people of Alabama.

In his motion, however, Mr. Shaw made provision that no child be excluded from school because of the inability to pay supplement, should this method of raising funds be found necessary for the continuance of schools.

APPROPRIATIONS

which enacted authorizing legislation. After two years, the subsidies would be limited to state administration.)
Close to a peace-time record total for a regular appropriation bill the measure passed by the Senate today now goes back to the House for action on the bonus and farm funds and a few other minor amendments.

Besides the $440,000,000, the Byrnes amendment reappropriated $30,000,000 of unexpended balances in the old AAA fund for the new farm subsidies. The Smith-Jones bill authorized $500,000,000. The total cost of paying the bonus in baby bonds cashable next June has been estimated at $2,491,000,000.

Byrnes said only $1,730,000,000 in new money was required since $254,000,000 already was available in the adjusted service certificate fund and transfer of $507,000,000 to reimburse the Government life insurance fund for loans made on bonus certificates was simply a "bookkeeping transaction," with no direct appropriation needed.

WHOA MULE

Quite a number of Clanton stores have won distinction for unusual window displays of their merchandise, and it is always interesting to observe the ways in which articles are brought to the attention of the public. However, it seems that Muray-Bell Hardware Company is at least one in the lead for unusual displays.

Just in front of this popular store for the last few days, a most unusual mule has been attracting wide attention. From far down the street casual observer first notices a pair of ears, generally known to be deer, the hearts of Southern darlings aroused, and as he draws nearer, curiosity becomes keener, until comes up for a close inspection, then finds the mule perfectly out of the very latest things for the dressed mule of 1935—all items may be found at this popular hardware store.
Yes, many persons have declared to be a very unusual mule!

PASSING FOOTPRINTS
Of The Times
— Billy Smith

Congratulations
We note in this week's News that our friend, Lawrence B. Tipton, has been appointed in the President's committee on public safety. Congratulations, Tip. Lawrence has been connected with the Alabama Highway Patrol since its recent enlargement as publicity director and contact man, under Chief Walter McDuffy. He is a handsome man—but for some never explained reason he is too busy to interrupt any of his work.

The Deadline
If anyone is expecting to announce a candidate for any office in Alabama in the forthcoming primaries, he will have to get busy on the qualifying end of the matter. There are only three more days in which anyone may qualify as a candidate in Alabama. It would appear at this writing that the office of member of the county Board of Education that is to be elected this year may go lacking for candidates unless someone qualifies before Sunday which is March 1st, the deadline.

Congratulations, Again
It is not difficult to reason that this column is a supporter of the program carried out by the newly created Alabama Highway Patrol. We congratulate Officers Waiters and Henley, who are stationed at Clanton, for the splendid work they are doing to make the highway here safer. They stated at considerable effort is being made to curb driving a motor vehicle by persons under the influence of liquor, improper lights, or no lights, and reckless driving. These two officers are congenial and polite, even when making an arrest or calling attention to some violation that the toughest highway road-hog finds it difficult to stop rough.

Clanton's Photos
We recently dropped upstairs to the old Studio and were pleasantly surprised to find a most decided and improved change there. Clanton now has a good photo studio and a glance at the growing business. One possibly new addition is the fact that it is now a Matt's Lunch Shoppe.

These Wyatt Here
We are delighted to know of the continual improvement of L. J. Stewart, the congenial manager of the Hill Grocery Store here, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia. During his absence, Reese Wyatt, a Clanton County man, is taking his place. Reese is not here now, but has been away, and we are glad to see him back.

Good Music
We had the pleasure recently of attending a social affair given at the community house at Kilby Prison, where a prison orchestra known as "The Prisoners" furnished the music. Immaculately clothed in white trousers, coats and black ties, members of the excellent orchestra made a pleasant appearance. We understand the funds derived from public appearances of this orchestra go toward a recreational fund the members are pushing themselves and toward the purchase of music and instruments. The music they make can be compared with any orchestra in Alabama, and the concert and instructions they are receiving should not doubt be a splendid step toward making a correction that bars stripes would not.

To Havana
Do you want to take a trip to Havana, Cuba this summer with all expenses paid? We would like it, and so do the News. We are making an announcement that should interest many young ladies who are looking around for something to do and some place to go on a well earned vacation. Yes, sir, there are several of these trips to be given to the person for a little work during the time. Keep up with your News and this.

Wyatt's Death
The untimely death of Jim Wyatt, brother of Gene Wyatt, publisher of the Banner, and W. M. Wyatt, publisher of the Montevallo Times, brought sorrow to many hearts, this week. We extend to this family our sympathy. We know the vacancy created by the loss of one's father. We know that loss some fifteen years ago.

Other Visitors
The News office recently had as its visitors Miss Mollie Belle Ousley and her family, both of Fletcher, and are very much interested in the family of their father, R. L. Ousley, who is a candidate for Commissioner of the District. While in town they

MRS. DERAMUS SEEKS PLACE ON CO. BOARD
Has Outstanding Record Of Educational Activities To Her Credit

With a most outstanding record of activities in the educational world, Mrs. Gladys Deramus, wife of T. B. Deramus, merchant of Verbena, will come before the voters of Chilton County in the forthcoming Democratic primaries, as a candidate for a place on the Board of Education of this county.

Mrs. Deramus authorized the News to make her formal announcement this week. She has had experience that makes her unusually well qualified to hold a position of such responsibility as that of a member of the County Board of Education.

She graduated from Howard College after completing her studies in the schools of Birmingham, as Miss Gladys Watlington, and now holds an A. B. Degree. She later took up graduate work at Columbia University of New York City.

While attending Howard College she was honored with a membership in Alpha Delta Pi Sorority, and after completing her studies served nine years as teacher in some of the state's well known high schools, including Woodlawn High, the Verbena High School, Marbury High and elementary schools, each change being made by her own choice.

In 1926 she was married and moved to Verbena to make her home where she is now serving as president of the (Continued to Back Page)

NEW THEATRE EXPECTED TO BE READY SOON
Tentative Opening Date Has Been Set For Next April Third

Clanton's new theatre, which has been under construction for several months, will soon be opened to the public, according to present plans revealed by C. W. Wade, Jr. Mr. Wade announced that according to present plans, the building will be completed and the official opening will be held Wednesday and Thursday, April 2-3.

He declared that it had not been definitely decided with what picture the opening will be made, but indicated that it will be either with Mae West's latest production or with a musical revue. Detail of the program will be announced later, however.

With a seating capacity of 606 and the installation of entirely new and the most modern equipment, this will be one of the best small-city theatres in Alabama, is the expressed opinion of young Wade. It will be equipped with the latest new Symplex-Super projection machine and with RCA High Fidelity Sound equipment, which will provide increased enjoyment and appreciation. (Continued to back page)

SEVERAL DESERVING YOUNG LADIES HAVE TREAT COMING
Full Week Of Pleasure With All Expenses Paid

Would you like to spend a full week in Havana, Cuba, with all expenses paid? Naturally you would, and that is exactly what will be made possible within a few days through the Chilton County News. This newspaper will award a very limited number of these trips this year, the first ever to be offered in this county in many, many years. There is no catch to this—several young ladies of Chilton County will have the opportunity to make this trip in June—vacation time.

What would be more pleasant for a real vacation than a trip to Havana with all transportation, meals, hotel accommodations, sightseeing trips and many other courtesies paid for by the Chilton County News? Not only that, but the Cuban government is expecting these visitors and is making plans for their entertainment, during the several days and nights they will be there.

Next week the News expects to have all the details on these trips completed and will make an announcement that will thrill many young ladies of Chilton County who would want to spend a week of real fun and relaxation with a visit to Florida and Cuba—with expenses paid.

Make up your mind and see next week's issue of the News for details of this wonderful opportunity. It will amaze you to learn how easy it will be to receive one of these trips. Get ready to come to the News office as soon as next week's paper is out and tell us you want one of these trips.

Mazer's Showing New Spring Footwear Now
An advertisement from Mazer's, "The Friendly Store," in this issue of the News announces a showing of new white oxfords for ladies in the well known lines of "Stylish Steppers" and "Collegiate Style" and attractively low prices. They also announce some low prices on wash frocks in stripes and plaids and a complete line of childrens and infants dresses.

Singing At Clanton On Next Saturday

You are cordially invited to attend community singing at the court house Saturday afternoon, February 28, at 2 p. m., sponsored by the leaders of Chilton County Recreational Department. Be sure and bring your song books. A good time is expected by all, so come early and be prepared to make this a singing to be remembered by all.

JEFF COBERN IS CANDIDATE FOR COMMISSIONER

Mapleville Resident Seeks Office On Democratic Ticket Of Co.

This week the News is authorized to announce that C. J. (Jeff) Cobern is a candidate on the Democratic ticket for Commissioner from the Third District.

Mr. Cobern is a well known resident of Mapleville where he has been engaged in business and as a farmer, making a success of his business. Born and raised in this county, Mr. Cobern received his education in the county schools. He is the son of the late C. J. Cobern, Sr., who was a widely known business man and farmer of the western part of the county.

Mr. Cobern is known as a sober, conservative and straightforward citizen who has been anxious to serve his people. He is an active member of the Chilton County Post of the American Legion. On his mother's side, his grandfather served as a member of one of Alabama's early Legislatures. There still remains in this family a copy of the Code of Alabama which is approximately seventy years old, showing the laws regarding slavery of that day and time.

Mr. Cobern stated to the News that if he is elected he will give of his best to make his administration as a Commissioner one of the best, promising fairness to all and with the interest of his county at heart at all times.

Change In Postoffice Services Effective Here

Several changes in the services at the Clanton Post office will be made, beginning next Saturday, according to announcement by Dr. Hosea F. Downs, postmaster.

After Friday, the delivery and stamp windows will not be opened until 7:30 o'clock, instead of 7, in the mornings and window services can not be given from Saturday noon until Monday mornings. This change has been necessitated by the fact that during this time only one clerk will be on duty.

This will not effect either rural or city delivery services, and those who have postoffice boxes will be able to get their mail as usual. Postmaster Downs declared that it is not the wish of the department to work an inconvenience on anyone and is urging patrons to see that they have stamps and other requirements sufficient to last through this period.

J. M. Wyatt Died Suddenly Last Week

James Madison Wyatt, 64, father of T. E. (Gene) and W. M. (Mack) Wyatt, well-known throughout Alabama as publishers of the Union-Banner and the Montevallo Times, died last Sunday morning of heart attack. His body was found in his boat on Lake Mitchell, near the Wyatt Camp, about noon by Reuben Popwell.

Evidently he had been rowing the boat across the lake when he was stricken. It was learned that he was apparently in perfect health at 10:30 o'clock when he was seen by several people in that vicinity. His body was still warm when found, so it is thought that he could not have been dead but a short time.

Born and reared within two miles of the spot where he died, Mr. Wyatt was a lifelong resident of Chilton County. Until a few years ago, when he retired from active work, he was a prominent farmer. He was a member of the Friendship Baptist church.

Surviving him are his two sons, W. M. Wyatt and T. E. Wyatt; and two daughters, Mrs. Jesse Baker and Mrs. Dalton Bice, both of the Concord community; two brothers, Reuben F. Wyatt and T. G. Wyatt, both of the Friendship community; and two sisters, Mrs. John Maddox and Mrs. W. W. Robinson, both of Clanton.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Providence (Beat 16) Baptist church with the Rev. W. E. Robinson officiating. (Continued to Back Page)

SUNDAY S. CONVENTION WILL MEET SUNDAY

Poplar Springs Church To Be Scene Of Sunday School Convention

The Chilton County Sunday School Convention will be held next Sunday afternoon, March 1, at the Poplar Springs Baptist Church, according to an announcement by H. D. Durbin, president of the organization, and Mrs. Sarah Collins, secretary.

Following is an outline of the program to be presented: 2:30 p. m., devotional, J. Z. Mims; 2:45, "How to Teach the Word," the Rev. Dewey Robinson; address by Mrs. Davis Cooper, State Department of Education and Training, at 3:15 o'clock; and at 4 o'clock, election of departmental officers.

All Sunday schools in Chilton County are urged to send delegates. The Poplar Springs church is located about two and one-half miles southeast of Clanton.

DEADLINE FOR QUALIFYING IS DRAWING NEAR

Saturday Is Last Day On Which Candidates May Qualify

Judging from present indications, a last-minute rush may be made by would-be candidates for political offices during the next three days.

March 1st, which is Sunday, is the deadline for candidates to qualify names printed on the ballots for the forthcoming primary to be held on May 5th.

The number of candidates who have already announced for the county offices to be filled this year, makes it appear that some warm politics will be in the brewing, even prior to the primary election.

So far, only one candidate has announced for member of the Board of Education on the Democratic ticket. That is Mrs. Gladys Deramus, of Verbena, and whose many friends are discouraging any other prospective candidates.

G. C. Armstrong Now With Big Four Hdwe.

One of Chilton County's most popular business men, G. C. Armstrong is now connected with the Big Four Hardware Company, of Clanton.

Mr. Armstrong was formerly manager of the A & P Store in Clanton and recently resigned that position. He stated to a representative of the News that he would like for his friends to drop in at the Big Four Hardware store, on the corner and let him be of service to them in that line of business.

The Big Four Hardware is announcing this week elsewhere in this issue a most complete line of farming implements. Turn to their large advertisement for further information.

Eventful Year Is Seen For Young Democrats

Producing Many Candidates For Membership On Democratic Executive Committee And Other Places In County Government

With the membership of the Chilton County Unit of The Alabama State League of Young Democrats showing a steady increase each week, this year promises to be one full of accomplishments and activities for this organization. With the announcement that candidates must qualify for election on the Democratic Committee of the county, the local Unit immediately qualified several of its members as candidates.

Striving for recognition and more important places in county and state governments, the League of Young Democrats is making considerable headway toward its objectives. Already, the State has made appointments for various positions from members of the League and it is understood that others are to follow according to Hon. John P. Kohn, Jr., of Montgomery, president of the state organization who is co-operating with Wallace Cox of Clanton, president of the local county Unit. As long as Alabama remains under Democratic rule, and there are few persons who remember it ever being anything else, only those who have proved themselves Democratic supporters received the wholehearted endorsement for such appointments. The League of Young Democrats now has a voice in such matters and is producing members who are qualified for these places.

Indications are, according to Wallace Cox, that considerable weight will be shown in the forthcoming elections by the local Unit of the Young Democrats. Community meetings are being held over the county and a county-wide meeting is to be held in the very near future.

J. R. MULLINS & SONS HAVE CARLOAD FARM IMPLEMENTS

J. R. Mullins & Sons, "The Farmers Friends" are announcing in the News this week that they have received a solid carload of the famous "Avery" farming implements. This announcement states that this car brings the new "Avery" plows, points, planters, distributors, cultivators and harrows.

Miss Johnson Wed To Mr. Wilbanks At Clanton Home

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Johnson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. N. S. Johnson to Simeon Sely Wilbanks of Alexander City took place Saturday, February 15th, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. N. S. Johnson.

Dr. C. C. Anderson, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, performed the ceremony. The young people, both graduates of the University Law School, will reside in Dadeville where they will practice their profession.

Elizabeth is the daughter of pioneer citizens of Chilton County, both her maternal and paternal ancestors playing a part in the early history. She received her education in the public schools of Clanton and the University of Alabama.

Mrs. Wilbanks is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Wilbanks of Alexander City. He is an alumnus of Emory University and the University of Alabama where he was president of the Senior Law Class.

Hill Grocery Co. Observes Birthday

In a large advertisement in this issue of the News, the Hill Grocery Company is announcing a birthday party for its customers in Chilton County, in observing its twenty-fifth birthday.

For twenty-five years, the Hill Grocery Company has been pushing forward to greater heights in popularity among the people it serves, and this week the Clanton store is offering some exceptional bargains in groceries in this celebration.

Turn to the large advertisement in this issue for further information.

Notice To Subscribers

The News is having considerable trouble in seeing that some subscribers receive their papers regularly when they change their addresses. This is due to the fact that when they advise us of their change they fail to give their old addresses.

In the future when having your address changed, please give your old address as well as the new one. Otherwise you may miss several issues.—The Editor.

E. N. SHANKS

E. N. SHANKS IS CANDIDATE FOR COMMISSIONER

Well Known-Mapleville Man Announces This Week On Dem. Ticket

Bringing the number of candidates for Commissioner from District Three on the Democratic ticket up to four, E. N. Shanks, of Mapleville, has made his formal announcement this week.

After being urged by his friends over the county to make the race, Mr. Shanks "is out to get the votes" he stated to a representative of the News.

Born in Lowndes County, Mr. Shanks came to this county over ten years ago to make his home. He is one of the county's widely known business men and farmers. He has been engaged in the drug business in Mapleville for a number of years and has been a student of local government believing in upbuilding his country.

Mr. Shanks has for some time been actively connected with the Woodmen of The World, now serving as District Manager and clerk of three camps, proof of his ability as a business man. He is a member of the Church of Christ and takes an active part in church activities.

He believes that he is thoroughly qualified to handle the responsibilities of the office which he seeks and stated he hoped to see all the voters before election day.

Pilots Are Given Painting Of Emblem

The Clanton Pilot Club was recently the recipient of a beautiful painting of the International emblem of the organization of the Clanton Club. This painting was presented by Mrs. Edith McCutchen, a member of the Clanton Club, and was painted by P. W. Thompson, Jr., of Memphis, who is a nephew of Mrs. McCutchen.

Young Thompson is fast winning recognition as an artist. He made this painting at the request of Mrs. McCutchen. It will be hung in the club-room.

DR. AND MRS. HANCE ALRED RETURN FROM FLA. TRIP

Dr. and Mrs. J. Hance Alred, and two children, Callen and Jerry, returned to Clanton Saturday from a week's visit to Miami and other parts in Florida.

Dr. Alred is back in the drug store now and advises the News this week that he is ready to supply everyone with all the garden and field seed they will need this year. With twenty-five years of experience in the seed business here, the Alred Drug Company, "Home of Quality" is prepared to serve you.

We Extend Our Sympathy

The News this week extends its sincere sympathy to T.E. Wyatt, publisher of The Union-Banner, and W.M. Wyatt, publisher of The Montevallo Times in the loss of their father, Mr. J.M. Wyatt, who was laid to rest in Providence cemetery Monday afternoon of this week.

Mr. Wyatt was well known in Clanton, and was affectionately known as "Uncle Jim" and "Mr. Jim" to a wide circle of friends. May the Supreme Comforter lighten the burden of sorrow cast upon relatives and friends by Mr. Wyatt's passing.

William Allen White Returns To America

Nearly four months ago William Allen White, editor of The Emporia Gazette, left his home in Kansas for a tour of the Orient. While he was away the paper was in charge of men he had trained for many years, and it fared well.

But now W.A.W. is back in Emporia. He is again treating the readers of The Gazette to his delightful editorials. Here is the one he wrote when he first returned:

After three months and nearly three weeks' absence from Emporia, we have returned to 927 Exchange, the vine-covered cot. We have wandered far and wide. We have seen many strange things and some strange lands. We have seen international turmoil on continental Asia, and the birth of a new commonwealth in the Island of the Sea. We have met with queer ideas and philosophies of old races, so different from our own. We have seen astonishing ways of living which are the result of curious ways of thinking.

We have seen many flags flying on many seas. But never in all the time we have been gone have we seen a people so happy, so sturdy, so prosperous even in the depression, so well fed, so well clothed, so well educated, so hopeful as the American people. And no other flag is floating so fine and gay over so much justice, even amid a depression and want, as our flag flying bravely over the civilization.

More than all that, no town in all our far wanderings seemed so beautiful as Emporia. This morning the frozen mists had outlined the trees and the shrubs and the houses in crystalline silver beauty. The grass was matted with a light snow. It was as if the ghost of Spring waiting to be born had been hovering over the town ready to descend, bringing its day of joy. How lovely it was! How good! How American! How beautiful!

"Mid pleasures and palaces," the heart turns back to the humble thatched cottage. And be it ever so humble, there's no place like 927 Exchange Street, Emporia, Kan., U.S.A.

And the beloved friends that cluster around about! We are a lucky people, we Americans! We have many hardships, 'tis true. We have had depressions in which suffering is acute. But in all the world is there a finer place to live? Is there a more democratic and a more humanitarian government anywhere? Or a happier people?—B'ham News.

Be Captains Of The Road

There is an unwritten law of the sea that is followed religiously—namely, the desire to save life. Why can't we have the same high purpose on land?

Such voluntary action is always based on necessity. Life-saving in automobile traffic is now as important as life-saving in sea traffic. Such rules as the following, adhered to with sincerity, would save life a hundred-fold.

1. Before making a turn, get in traffic line nearest desired direction.
2. The rear view mirror is for something beside looking for traffic officers—watch cars behind you.
3. Never take chances in passing and do not crowd the right-of-way. Saving seconds is no excuse for causing one unnecessary risk of life.
4. Learn the feel of the car on the road, like the captain does his ship. Study the action of the car on the dry pavement, wet pavement, gravel road and icy road. Even the highest ability is not one hundred per cent perfect in driving.

5. Take driving seriously; you are probably no smarter than the last person whose neck was broken on a windshield. The smartest men (supposedly) met with unfortunate disaster through gross carelessness.

Courtesy is not a sign of weakness; it is a sign of character and wisdom, and the ability to be foresighted and obliging.

The sea captain doesn't unnecessarily take chances when they can be avoided, but

Pete Jarman For Congress

"The retirement of the veteran Congressman Oliver indicates that Pete Jarman will go to Washington. Mr. Jarman ran a close second to Mr. Oliver two years ago. Anyone that could give "Buck" Oliver any kind of opposition has to be considered as a dangerous opponent. We are not meddling in politics outside of our own bailiwick but we'll put our money on Pete Jarman to represent the Sixth District."—From The Greenville Advocate of Feb. 14, 1936.

The Roosevelt Way

For more than a year the editors of scores of orthodox Republican newspapers in all sections of the country have urged their party leaders to proclaim a farm program. These include the Chicago Tribune and Senator Arthur Capper's Topeka Capital in the Midwest, the Los Angeles Times and the Portland Oregonian in the Far West, the Hartford Courant and Boston Transcript in New England. In January of last year William Allen White and other liberals started a movement in the plains states with that definite purpose in view. They proposed a grass roots conference—a real conference—of progressive Republicans at once familiar with the problems of agriculture and willing to formulate for the guidance of their Eastern brethren a plan which would not ignore the fact that the measures adopted by the Roosevelt administration had saved the farmers from ruin.

But the gathering at Springfield was promptly taken over by the Old Guard and was an auspicious flop. Subsequent conclaves in the Rocky Mountain region, in Cleveland, Ohio, and elsewhere were called for the same purpose but none was productive of the semblance of a plan.

Now, however, the situation has changed.

Speaking at Des Moines last week Senator L. J. Dickinson, arch foe of the New Deal, proposed a farm relief program. He said it "... should embrace erosion, soil conservation—with the Federal Government appropriating funds to be allotted to the states in such cooperative work."

Governor Landon of Kansas was speaking at the time and he announced his farm program. He said:

"The proper application of soil conservation principles would help materially to prevent the production of price-depressing surpluses"

The previous week Col. Knox, Chicago publisher, proposed his program. He said:

"It is a simple proposal that the American Government, representing all of us in the protection of an asset that belongs to all of us—the fertility of the soil—shall aid the farmer by a direct subsidy from the Treasury."

And ex-President Hoover in his speech at Lincoln, Neb., said:

"I believe we must be prepared to subsidize directly such special crops until agriculture has again been brought into balance. At the end of such a road we could hope for a balanced agriculture in full production and increased fertility in our soils."

In other words, every one of the major Republican candidates favors crop restriction in precisely the manner recommended by President Roosevelt two weeks before Knox, Dickinson and Landon had submitted their "programs" and several days before Mr. Hoover's speech at Lincoln. And it is significant that not one of these four constitutionalists dared to look eye to eye with the Supreme Court and say that the agricultural problem is one for the states alone.

So until our energetic and resourceful President had found a way, and the bill was being debated in Congress, these aspirants were as much in the dark as they were more than a year ago. Now all of them would do it the Roosevelt way.

None of the many vital national problems inherited by the Roosevelt administration from the Hoover administration had caused more human distress and economic disarrangement than the farm problem. All four of these aspirants know it developed under Harding and Coolidge and became dangerously acute under Hoover. It was decidedly a Republican problem.

After this performance the public has a right to expect that their pitiful record in this respect is symptomatic of their capabilities to cope with the general task of rehabilitation—FROM WHICH MR. ROOSEVELT HAS NEVER FOR A MOMENT FLINCHED.

he willingly risks his life and his ship to prevent an accident or aid another vessel in distress. But automobile drivers willfully risk their own lives as well as the lives of others, for no good reason at all; it doesn't make sense.

If ordinary rules of common sense and courtesy were followed in driving (unwritten laws), accidents would be caused only by freak circumstances.

MORAL ECHOES

D. W. Haslow

The rain fell in torrents during the day and toward night the streams were raging and roads were giving way. At a certain bridge the water was washing away the buttment and to cross was extremely dangerous. A roadman, knowing of the danger, stationed himself near the bridge to warn people. When a car approached he would wave the red light and stop the car and inform the driver of the danger. All night long the man stood there in the rain and delivered his message of warning. The next morning he gave out this statement: "I warned every car, but about half of the drivers would curse me and take the risk of crossing." Is that not true of every man who preaches the gospel of Christ? We are stationed on the road of life to warn people. We tell them where danger is to be found. Many of those who are warned by us, spurn our advice and take the risk. When people spurn wholesome advice it often appears like they are determined to commit suicide. Preachers warn but people take no heed.

Recently I visited one of the largest department stores in Houston, Texas. It covered nearly a block and was many stories high. In this store there were more than five hundred clerks waiting on the trade. I wondered at the organization and the clock-like work that was carried on. I knew that somewhere there was a master mind that directed the contacts of the public. I met this man and then I saw how all of this business could be supervised. He owned the store and was the master mind back of every trade. We look at this Universe, we look at the church and we wonder how all things are made and directed. Behind all that we see and know, there is an owner, there is a master mind, and this is none other than Jesus Christ. We are in His employ and we should strive to know His mind and His will.

I knew a farmer who would see each year how much land he could plant. He would start early to breaking the soil and then he would plant and keep planting until late in the spring. He never failed to plant more that he could cultivate. I knew another farmer who figured out how much land he could cultivate and he planted only the amount that he could cultivate well. It is needless to say which farmer made the larger crop. In the church we know folks who take on more than they are able to do. It is far better to assume only the things that you can do and do well. There are plenty of folks in every church to do all the work and why should one man or woman, have to do the most of it. Do not attempt to do more than you are sure that you can do well.

While crossing the Bayou at Pascagoula, Miss., we looked out and saw a scattered deck of cards floating on the water. Someone on the train ahead had decided to discard the cards and out of the window they went. That was a good way to get rid of useless rubbish. We all know men and women who would be of more use to the world if they would only throw their cards into the bay.

A fastidious woman sat across the aisle in the diner and she talked long and long about the menu on the card. She let it be known that she did not like this and that. After discussing everything in the menu she finally ordered a bowl of vegetable soup. She wanted her audience to think that she did not order certain things because of her appetite. There was one at least who knew that she was lying to herself and the rest of us. It was not her appetite that kept her from ordering steak, mutton and oysters; it was her pocketbook. I was in the same boat with her but I had sense enough to keep my mouth shut until I could open it to drink my soup. It is false pride for folks to say that they do not like steak when they do not have the price. Few diner car owners will get to heaven.

MRS. MARGARET J. CULP LAID TO REST AT PLEASANT GROVE

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret J. Culp, who died last Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C.N. Glenn, Mountain Creek, Route One, were held Thursday at 11 a.m., from Pleasant Grove Baptist Church with the Rev. Ocie Payton officiating. Burial was in the churchyard cemetery with Martin & Sons in charge. Mrs. Culp was 85 years of age.

TRIP TO CUBA IS ARRANGED BY THE PRESS

Special Train And Extra Low Rate Making Trip
Attractive

The Alabama Press Association will make a trip to Havana, Cuba, in June and all the arrangements are complete for a wonderful trip. The party will leave Montgomery on the morning of June 24th, will reach Tampa that afternoon and board the steamer "Cuba," for a 24-hour water trip to Havana, reaching the latter city Monday afternoon. Four nights and nearly four days in this most marvelous city will be filled with sightseeing and various entertainments, which are now being planned by the various organizations of Club. The party will sail Friday and reach Montgomery again on Saturday night.

The trip is to be made available for many friends of the press, and they will be able to take advantage of the low rates which have been made. The details have been figured out and for the sum of $73.15 one may make the trip. This will cover all transportation from Montgomery back to Montgomery, every meal while on the train, the boat and in Havana, the hotel and two very interesting sight-seeing trips. Even the transfer of the baggage is taken care of in this all-expense trip to the "Paris of the Western World."

Gov. and Mrs. Bibb Graves and other notables will be members of the party and their presence assures a semi-official atmosphere that will open many doors that the average tourist could not hope to enter, and will provide entertainment that will be most interesting and enjoyable.

Cuba has a delightful climate in the summer and those who are interested in going with the Press Association would do well to see the editor of their local paper and get full information and make their reservations.

TRITES HELD FOR JEMISON AT ROCKY MOUNT MON.

Monroe Avery, 56, died Sunday night at his home, Jemison Route. He has suffered about a new era in economy, comfort and speed to farm operations. The farmyard setting, pictured above, was installed in a Firestone Company building in Akron to emphasize the many opportunities presented in this new field to serve the farmer and to illustrate the many possibilities the farm market provides for rubber products.

At the county jail in Kalamazoo, Mich., there awaits a letter for an unnamed inmate. Sheriff Charles Struble is carrying out instructions, "Hold until he arrives," written on the envelope.

Harvey S. Firestone Puts The Farm On Rubber

With an open barndoor, haymow and corner as a background, Harvey S. Firestone tells an audience about putting the farm on rubber and describes how it has brought about a new era in economy, comfort and speed to farm operations. The farmyard setting, pictured above, was installed in a Firestone Company building in Akron to emphasize the many opportunities presented in this new field to serve the farmer and to illustrate the many possibilities the farm market provides for rubber products.

On a farm in Columbiana county, Ohio, his family's old homestead, Harvey S. Firestone conceived and developed the idea of making farm work much more economical and far less arduous by the application of pneumatic tires to all farm vehicles and implements.

Mr. Firestone was born and raised on this farm, which has been in his family since 1803. Mr. Firestone spends much time there and has always taken a keen interest in the improvement of farm operations and the progress of the farmer. As a result, he has developed a pneumatic tire, known as the Ground Grip, for every kind of farm vehicle and every implement on the farm, from the wheelbarrow to the combine, is now operating on rubber tires.

Mr. Firestone has proved that this tire, which has great traction and flexing life, will save from 25% to 50% in power and do the work 25% to 50% faster, with less loss to crops as the soft pneumatic tires will not destroy growing plants as steel-studded iron wheels do. Further, it can be used under weather and soil conditions where the old steel wheels would sink in and not be able to get through.

Mr. Firestone's practical development of a rubber tire for all farm implements means a great new market for tires. There are more than 25,000,000 wheeled vehicles and implements in use on the farms of America today and all of them can use rubber with economy. It is the biggest field for rubber products since the introduction of the automobile.

In the development of the new Ground Grip tires for farm vehicles Mr. Firestone realized that the first cost of pneumatic equipment was the important factor if the change was to be made available for farm machinery already in use. Therefore, along with the development of a practical farm tire the Firestone Company, under his direction, evolved a method for changing over the old steel tires to rubber. This is a simple process that can be accomplished in the farmer's barn yard if necessary, consisting of the removal of the steel tire from the spokes and welding on a mountable rim with rubber tire.

This pneumatic tire and rim equipment has been so standardized that it is interchangeable on several farm vehicles and implements, thereby enabling the farmer to use the equipment on one type of vehicle during one season and change the same tire equipment to another type of implement with only two or three sets of pneumatic tires, he is able to use rubber on the majority of his farm machinery.

With this service available the farmer does not have to wait until he needs new implements to have the advantage of pneumatic tires but is able to modernize his present equipment immediately and obtain the greater economy in operation and the comfort which rubber will contribute to the country's loss.

Sometime ago Mr. Firestone predicted that within a comparatively short time every farm vehicle and implement would be equipped with pneumatic tires. The farmers' acceptance of this new tire equipment was immediate. Thousands of inquiries are being received daily with the result that farm tire production in the case of the Firestone Company has only recently caught up with demand.

One observer commenting upon the situation stated that the economies effected by the greatly increased speed with which crops could be planted, tilled and harvested with rubber-tired equipment would change the whole economic picture of farming in this country.

Copy Of Newspaper Printed 136 Years Ago Brought To News Office Recently Gives Account Of Death Of George Washington

All the literary commotion during the past few days about Walter Johnson, "the Big Train," emulating the boyhood prank of George Washington by tossing a silver dollar across the Delaware River has been responsible for bringing to light in Chilton County a rare old newspaper, rich in historical information and carrying a story of the death and burial of the "Father of Our Country."

After reading newspaper accounts of Johnson's ambition to repeat Washington's feat, Mr. George T. Guy, of near Verbena, recalled that somewhere he had a copy of an old newspaper filled with stories of the first president of the United States. He rambled through a bunch of old, musty papers -- and there it was.

To the student of history, this paper would be considered a most palatable morsel, and to the average American citizen it is extremely fascinating. Published Saturday, January 4, 1800, at Kingston, in Ulster County, Texas, by Samuel Freer and son it is filled with news of the day that reads like a chapter from early American history.

The chief story is the obituary of George Washington and this offers much that is fascinating to the newspapermen of today. All set by hand, and incidentally filled with typographical errors--which proves that the profession still lives true to precedent--the account of the former president's death is illustrated with a drawing of the casket and the arrangement of the pallbearers standing alongside. All column rules on the inside pages are turned bottom upward, mourning for the country's loss.

In another column is found a memoir by President John Adams, who was successor to General Washington and his vice-president during the two terms he served his country as chief executive.

There are many other features of the paper that are interesting. One want ad especially reminds us of the change in economic conditions since that day long ago. It reads: "For Sale --The one half of a saw mill, with convenient place of building, lying in town of Rochester. By the mill is an inexhaustible quantity of pine wood--And also, a stout, healthy, active Negro Wench. Any person inclined to purchase, may know particulars by applying to John Schoonmaker." This advertisement is dated Nov. 13, 1799.

"Luther Andres & Co. have this day been opening goods both fresh and gay. He has received near every kind. That you in any store can find. And as I purchase by the bale, I'm determined to retail. For speedy pay a little lower. Than ever have been had before. I with my brethren mean to live. But as for credit shall not give. I would not live to rouse your passions. For credit here is out of fashion. My friends and buyers one and all. It will pay you well to give a call. You always my find me by my sign. A few rods from the house divine. The following articles will be received in payment. Wheat, rye, buckwheat, oats, and rawhides. Those articles will be taken in at esopous prices. CASH will not be refused."

PROCUREMENT DIVISION, Public Works Branch, Washington, D.C., Feb. 20, 1936--Sealed bids in duplicate will be publicly opened in this office at 10 a.m. Mar. 13, 1936, for furnishing all labor and materials and performing all work for insect screens in the U.S. P.O. at Clanton, Ala. # SALES TAX WOULD BRING BURDEN TO CHILTON CO.

WOULD COST CITIZENS OF THIS COUNTY $69,187.50 IS ESTIMATE

Co. Chairman Points Out Disadvantages Of Proposal

Just what a three per cent sales tax "luxury" tax would cost the citizens of Chilton County was made public today by J.B. Atkinson, County Chairman of the Consumers Anti-Sales Tax Association of Alabama, in a statement based on estimations made by F.W. Gist, state statistician.

According to Mr. Gist's figures it would cost the citizens of the county $69,187.50. This is based on the U.S. business Census figures for 1933, which showed retail sale amounting to $1,845,000 were reported in Chilton County during that year. By adding a 25 per cent increase Mr. Gist estimated that the total retail sales in the county for 1935 totaled $32,306,250.00.

"Keep in mind all this extra tax would be in addition to the regular taxes you now pay," Mr. Atkinson pointed out.

"This so-called luxury tax is no more than a sales tax with only the necessities of life exempted—if there are any exemption," the sales tax official said.

"The adoption of a sales tax by the special session of the Legislature means that the politicians will reach into the pockets of the poor and extract millions of dollars to be used in stuffing pay envelopes of useless employees of the state," he said.

According to the statistician estimated the state would collect more than one million dollars on the three per cent sales tax.

"Unless the taxpayers rebel against this unjust levy the politician will try to force this added burden on the people of Alabama," Mr. Atkinson said.

Lady Took Cardui

When Weak, Nervous

"I can't say enough for Cardui. I talked all day," enthusiastically writes Mrs. L. H. Caldwell, of Statesville, N. C. "I have used Cardui at intervals for twenty-five years," she adds. "My trouble in the beginning was weakness and nervousness. I read of Cardui in a newspaper and decided right then to try it. It seemed before I had taken half a bottle of Cardui I was stronger and was soon up and around."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

BENEFIT-PARITY-PRICE PAYMENTS COMING SOON

Auburn, Ala.—As soon as contracts and forms can be cleared, farmers will begin receiving rental, parity and price adjustment payments due them under the 1935 cotton adjustment program, announces W.H. Robertson, member of the state allotment board.

F.W. Burns, extension livestock specialist, also advises that AAA officials in Washington have authorized the completion of all 1935 corn-hog contracts so that farmers may be paid their benefit payments at the earliest date possible.

When the Supreme Court ruled the AAA unconstitutional all work on contracts and forms was suspended until the approval by congress and the president of an appropriation of $296,185,000 to make benefit, parity, and price adjustment payments to producers for performance in connection with the adjustment programs.

Microscopic Buying Introduced During Norge Show Week

"During our Norge show week, February 10-15," said Geo. C. Polk of the Polk Bros. Motor Co., Norge dealers at Clanton, "we invite the public to study, explore, examine, compare try, test and discover the vital differences built into each Norge refrigerator range, washer and ironer. This new microscopic method of buying will be first introduced by us locally in connection with the initial public showing of the full line of Norge products. Many special educational activities are being organized to give our store spectacular interest to all homemakers during the period of the show."

"The average housewife is the shrewdest of buyers and is now more interested in quality, convenience, use value and the self-financing abilities of home appliances than ever before. She selects cautiously after exhaustive comparison and we shall encourage this habit of careful selection through the use of this new microscopic buying method."

"Mass selling activities, the use of entertaining sound-films, the offer of home tests without obligation, special educational displays and demonstrations are but a few of the activities that have been arranged during our Norge show week," Mr. Polk concluded.

APPRECIATION

The family of D.R. Bryant asks the Chilton County News to express to their friends and neighbors their thanks for the sympathetic help extended them during their recent bereavement in the death of their wife and loving mother, Katie Bryant. They especially thank Dr. John Eiland, The Spigener Funeral Home, and the Rev. J.W. Jones for what they did in that hour of need. May God bless each and every one of you.

Christian Endeavor News

On Sunday evening, February 23, the Christian Endeavor Society had one of the most interesting programs of the year. It was in the form of a Standard Contest. The members were divided into two sides. A judge was appointed. The opening devotions were in the form of responsive reading between the two sides. Following this the leader asked questions based on various programs which we have had in the past. Some of the topics were "What it means to be a Christian," "Friendship," "Good Sportsmanship," etc. Each question was asked to first one side and then the other. The side giving the best answer was given a point. During the program each side was given opportunity to present a special music number. The program was under the leadership of Miss Mary Christ.

Thorsby Institute News

Saturday night one of the best Declamatory Contests ever held at Thorsby Institute was given in the auditorium. The winner among the girls was Mary Nelle Pate, and among the boys Lewis Wilson. Five dollars was given to each. The prizes were made possible by a gift from a retired minister in Elgin, Ill.

Sunday afternoon at five o'clock sixteen members of the Girls Glee Club gave a sacred program at the Vesper service of the Congregational Church, Birmingham. Several Thorsby Institute Alumni were present. Mr. Maddox, Mary Claude Knight and Miss Jenkins made short talks in reference to the school. This church has been helping the school and a collection was taken for the school on Sunday evening.

Next Saturday school will meet. It will close at 1:15 p.m.

Next Sunday night the Girls Glee Club will give a program at the Congregational Church, Thorsby, at 7:15. Everyone is invited. A collection will be taken for the Institute. The Club will sing "Love's Appeal" by Chas. Gounod; "Come Unto Me Ye Weary," by Handel; and a medley of Negro Spirituals. The Sextette will sing "Faith, Hope and Love." Miss Foss will sing a solo. There will be two or three short talks followed by a duet "Consolation" by Carrie Jacobs Bond, sung by Leslie Rasco and Dora Holt.

Mary Belle Bean of Clanton has recently enrolled as a boarding student. Burnace Powell from Clanton has entered the Freshman class.

A week from Thursday term tests begin.

Music Appreciation Club Hears Mrs. Longshore Tuesday

Mrs. Burr Neighbors, Pianist, And Mrs. Bullock Soloist, Contribute To Program

An unusual feature of the regular monthly meeting of the Music Appreciation Club was enjoyed on last Tuesday evening when a musical program was rendered by three outstanding musicians of Birmingham.

"Mrs. Longshore needs no introduction to a Clanton audience," said Mrs. Reid Mullins, president in presenting her to introduce the other guest artists. She is a favorite to the chieftany of our town who love good music. She is instructor of music in the local high school.

Mrs. Neighbors, a former head of the music department of Alabama College, played two numbers on the piano in addition to accompanying the violinist and soloist.

Mrs. Bullock, yric, soprano, sang several numbers to an appreciative audience of club members and guests.

Artistic arrangement of spring flowers throughout the lower floor of the home of Mrs. J.C. Jones, where the meeting was held, added to the gaiety.

The members and guests were greeted by the hostesses, Mrs. J.M. Shepherd, in white satin, with corsage of freesias and snapdragons, and Mrs. J. Lee Smith, in gray chiffon with corsage of orchids.

The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. John Durwood Mullins, in black velvet and Mrs. Otto Jones in combination of black and white crepe with gold and Miss Ruth Pardue in blue chiffon; Mrs. Lillian Smith in pink lace, and Nell Ross Mullins in national blue velvet.

The guests, other than members, attending were: Miss Sophia Mullins, Mrs. J.T. Ellis, Mrs. Kimmey, Mrs. Grady Reynolds, Miss Mary Courtney Jones and Messrs. J. Lee Smith, Reid Mullins, Otto Jones and J.T. Searcy.

For the privilege of over-parking, L. E. Davis, of Denver, has paid his customary "rent." He mailed a $1 check, the 53rd this year, after receiving a police ticket.

The thief who stole a Bible from the Community Church at Ruridine, Ky., certainly hadn't "got religion" yet. The members of the church think him the meanest of rogues.

Without work for five years, W. Harris, of Flint, Mich., finally obtained a WPA job and lost his first pay check of $18.

With a toy pistol he purchased at a five and ten cent store, Elmer Ford held up the First National Bank at Custer City, Okla., and robbed it of $800.

Clanton, Ala.

Gentlemen:

Campbell-Ewald Company celebrated its twenty-fifth birthday on Saturday, February 1, and I want to take this opportunity personally to express my appreciation of the fine spirit of cooperation that always has marked our relations with your paper, and that has helped to no small degree in the successful development of our business.

We are, as you know, firm believers in newspaper advertising. Other media are important, but the newspaper is the final vital link between the producer and the consumer that must be, in the very nature of things, an essential part of any well balanced advertising program.

It has been a great source of gratification to me all through my business experience to note the friendliness and courtesy that we have received invariably from publishers in the newspaper field, and it is because of this that I am impelled to write to you this expression of appreciation now that we have been doing business together for ten years or so.

You will be interested to know that our business for last year was the best we have had since 1931, and that I have every confidence of still steeper and better conditions in the coming year.

Sincerely,

H. T. EWALD, President.

Former Chilton Pastor Now Residing In State of New Hampshire Gives Facts on Government Says Roosevelt Being Unduly Criticised

The following letter to the Editor of The News was received from a former resident of Chilton County who at one time was a supporter of the Republican ticket, and who has since made his home in New Hampshire, yet keeping up with conditions in this country. At his request his name is not printed. Editor, The News:

A few comments on the opponents of the Roosevelt Administration. According to these opponents, everything Roosevelt does is the wrong thing. In other words, according to his critics, he is just following a course of committing political suicide. If these critics could properly evaluate, and show by their attitude that they would be willing to give some credit of good intentions, they would better establish themselves as intelligent critics. Absolute partisan criticism is both unintelligent and worthless.

To these critics, let us point to a few evident truths.

1. The Roosevelt administration policies entire have received more support from the opposition party than any administration in peace time since Washington retired from the Presidency. This could not have possibly been had not his policies appealed to the good sense of both parties in the main.

2. Since a time, when the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, we have heard that our Government was for the rich man and the corporation. For the first time almost in history, we have an administration that is for the poor man, and no question. Now, the rich man, some of them, and the big corporations are crying. Help! Help!—appealing to the poor man to come to their rescue from a President that is trying to make life easier for the poor man.

3. Opposition papers and would-be candidates make much of Al Smith's speech at the Liberty League meeting. Backing Smith at that meeting was the multi-millionaire DuPont, but no farmers were there—it wasn't a farmer's meeting. Do not the partisans know that Al Smith soured on his best friend, and is now trying to knife him, forgetting that Roosevelt did everything he could do for twelve years to make Smith President.

4. Western Republicans have been saying for years that every Republican administration, since Grant, except possibly Theodore Roosevelt, was a rich man administration. In other words, the rich man and rich corporations were the dictators behind those Presidents. The present President is hailed as a dictator by the critics. Granted so, we may take our choice between presidents with rich corporations behind them as the Dictator, or the present President, who is doing his dictating for the poor man of the country.

5. Next, the criticism about the administration spending so much money. Granted the Administration has increased the public debt in three years, 12 billion dollars. But to offset that, during the same three years, under the policies of this Administration, the listed stocks and bonds of the country have increased in value to the extent of over 50 billions. There is a net gain in value of listed stocks and bonds

SPEAKING CONTEST FOR RURAL WOMEN

Auburn, Ala.—A nation wide public speaking contest is open to Alabama farm women. The subject is "What is ahead of Rural America?"

The contest is being sponsored by the American Farm Bureau Federation which will give prizes to the best rural women speakers in the nation. First prize is $25 and a gold medal, and second is $15 and a silver medal. All other contestants entering the final contest will be awarded $10 each.

In announcing the contest to Alabama women, Helen Johnston, state home demonstration agent, advises all women interested in entering to obtain full information from County demonstration agents. County contests will be held in practically all counties of the state and the county winners will enter a state-wide contest in December.

alone of 38 billions. That 38 billions of value belong to the people, taxpayers, who did not have it in 1933, when Roosevelt was nominated.

6. Next, the so-called inequalities of the outlawed AAA. There were a few inequalities, no doubt, that no bill by Congress could solve in every case. But the AAA found the cotton farmer getting five cents for his cotton, and the AAA immediately raised that to nearly twelve cents. But for the triple A, half the farmers would have lost their farms. It saved the farmer, even if it was outlawed. Still some of the biggest lawyers in Congress, Republicans at that, say the Supreme Court was wrong in outlawing the Triple A.

7. So, Mr. Working Man, vote against this administration if you wish, but it will go down in history as the one administration that did its darndest to do something for the hard-pressed working man. Let small local politicians abuse the Administration all they wish but the Institute of Public Opinion has just announced after an impartial poll that Roosevelt would be elected just now by a good majority, and the betting odds for Roosevelt in N.Y. is strong.

8. The truth is just out. The biggest critic of our Country wants an office. He realizes he can get that office perhaps best by turning the people against Roosevelt, because it was Roosevelt's strength that turned the tide in Chilton County at the last election. This writer would say, elect whom you please to your County offices—Republican or Democrat—get the best man for the place, but don't let any man's desire for an office turn you against a National Administration that is moving heaven, and a little bit of the other place lower down, in order to make life a little easier for you, and at the same time take away some of the advantages that wealthy men and Corporations have been enjoying to your disadvantage for these many years.

Three cheers for Roosevelt—the next president of the United States. —FAIR MINDED.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

"Liberty League Frankly Adhorses All Government Acts Interfering With Selfish Will Of Very Powerful Groups"

"The so-called Liberty League, composed of representatives of very big business and the very enormous fortunes, corporation lawyers who are being well paid to belong, and others, held a widely heralded dinner in Washington a few evenings ago. The objective being to attack and undermine the Roosevelt administration and its accomplishments," said Chairman James A. Farley of the Democratic National Committee in an address at the Roosevelt dinner in Miami, Wednesday night. "They have at their command, of course vast sums of money and the ability to purchase propaganda in unlimited amount and they have made so much noise they perhaps have convinced themselves that the racket of their own raising is a voice of the business community."

"They know it is absurd to charge the Roosevelt administration with being the enemy of business. Its whole successful effort has been to save and restore business and it has accomplished that very thing, just as it has removed the great mass of our people from the jeopardy of economic destruction."

"This Liberty League recently announced its program for the Congress of the United States. That helped to clarify its purpose in having organized its own Supreme Court of 52 distinguished corporation lawyers to pass upon the constitutionality of Roosevelt legislation. Under these circumstances, it is not amiss for the Liberty League to assume the functions of the President in sending a message. Ninety-five per cent of Americans may be astonished at the nature of its 'demands.'"

"It demands the immediate balancing of the budget, knowing full well that this would mean the abandonment of all activities for the creation of work and prevention of starvation of those without work. It proposes 'moderate relief appropriations,' which means abandonment of relief, and demands that public works, which have given employment to three and a half millions be abandoned. It naturally demands the repeal of the recent measure which increases the taxes of the enormously rich and the inheritance tax. This last is to be made up, as pointed out at the meeting of the great industrialists, by denying exemptions of children to the taxpayers, by increasing the taxes of the poor and by adding to the list of income tax payers those who barely earn enough upon which to live."

"It demands repeal of the Wagner Act, which guarantees collective bargaining and protection to the toiler his right to organize, and throwing out-throat competition of his coal operators that was drawing coal companies to bankruptcy and reducing miners to the status of serfs. And it rushes the defense of unscrupulous holdups by Sam Insull, to the end that a few companies of the type made notorious porch climbers of high finance may continue to enrich themselves by robbing stockholders and consumers."

"It proposes to destroy the President's social security legislation, the most humane, progressive and decent in history, by divorcing the people's national government from any connection with it. This would mean the destruction of the act and that is what is intended."

"If the party opposing Roosevelt the coming election is honest with the people it will incorporate all these demands in its platform."

"The so-called Liberty League, the center and soul of the predatory powers. Its program is frankly plutocratic and asks for the rule of money over men as during the 12 years before Roosevelt's administration. It frankly adhorses all governmental acts that offers interference with the selfish will of very powerful groups and demands that workers and farmers 'put in their places.'"

"This Liberty League will do more to advance Socialism and Communism. It speaks as conclusively for the actionaries as does Mr. Hoover. It is composed in large part of the representatives of that big business which brought the nation to the outer rim of ruin."

ALABAMA FARMERS HAVE MORE HORSES AND HO

Auburn, Ala.—More horses and but fewer mules, cattle and sheep found on Alabama farms this year than a year ago, reports J. C. Garrett, state and federal agricultural statistician. Throughout the United States there are fewer horses, mules, cattle and sheep but more hogs than a year ago, he states.

On January 1 of this year there were 317,000 mules and mule colts in Alabama, 51,000 horses and colts, 1,000,000 cattle and calves, 436,000 cows and heifers, 47,000 sheep, lambs, and 969,000 hogs and pigs.

"Big Man Of Sand Mountain To Make Tour Of Alabama; Going To Hollywood, Is Plan"

Walt Cagle of near Sand Mountain, in Alabama, showing the size overall he wears. An interesting story is connected with Cagle.

Walter Cagle, the biggest man in Alabama is on his way to Hollywood and fame if Cagle Week to be held at Melancon's Department Store in Birmingham March 2 'til 8, is a success.

Walt, age 42, wears size 74 overalls. He is six feet, eight inches tall, weighs over 550 pounds, wears size 29 shirts, 12½ shoes, and he predicts the hottest Summer for 1936 America has known in 50 years.

His prediction of a cold winter Cagle Day Dec. 18 held at Boaz, Alabama, proved true—seven snows, three sleets, 21 rains and shivering winter blasts have raked Sand Mountain since he came to Boaz to get his winter clothes, and the town launched the biggest celebration in its history.

The above picture was carried all over America by the Associated Press, and hundreds of other pictures of Walter Cagle appeared in such papers as The New York Times, New York Daily News, and a Wire Photo the same as the above made front pages all over America. Some idea of the size of the giant can be gotten from the fact that Charlie F. Schuford, the Editor of The Sand Mountain Sun, who first wrote Cagle's story to the world is standing behind Walter Cagle's Overalls and Shuford weighs 240 himself and is six feet tall.

The public is invited to come see Walter Cagle at Melancon's March 1

'til 8. There will be no admission charge and no buying is required to see him. The store is paying Walter Cagle enough for him to get a mule, and The Giant from Sand Mountain is going to buy his mule first whether he gets to Hollywood or not.

Accompanying The Giant to Birmingham will be Mrs. Walter Cagle, and Charles F. Schuford. They will leave Boaz Sunday, March 1, and will arrive in Birmingham by train.

"Come up to see me," says Walter Cagle in the words of Mae West.

Melancon's, pronounced Mel-an-suns), is located in the heart of Birmingham, corner of 2nd Avenue and 19th Street.

SPECIAL FEATURE OF SERVICES AT NEW SALEM NEXT SUNDAY

On Sunday, March 1, the Rev. Paul Oden will be with the pastor, the Rev. Homer Carroll, at New Salem. At the evening service he will show stereoscopic pictures of the life of Paul. There are forty of these pictures describing different scenes in the life of the Apostle Paul. They follow the story as told in the Book of Acts. All the people of the community are invited to attend the services.

Fiddlers Convention At Verbena Recreat'n Park

Next Saturday afternoon, according to announcement of Hollis Hiten, director of Southern Aces Orchestra, there will be a fiddlers convention at the Recreation Park in Verbena, with several valuable prizes offered to the winners. The program will begin at about 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon, and the fiddlers contest will appear on the program about 3:30 o'clock.

The Southern Aces Orchestra is composed of Verbena talent, and it is under their sponsorship that the fiddlers convention is being given. No admission prices will be charged, and everyone is most cordially invited to attend. The prizes are being furnished through the cooperation of Verbena business houses.

According to Mr. Hiten, plans are well underway to make this a weekly affair, and to give a fine musical and recreational program at the park in Verbena every Saturday afternoon. All fiddlers are invited to enter the contest and compete for prizes.

Earl M. Cox of Clanton spent the past week end with his best friend, Jim Williams, in Gadsden.

Catholic Women To Meet In Clanton

The Conference of the Montgomery Deanery of Catholic Women will be held in Clanton, Sunday, March 1.

The Wilson Hotel will be headquarters for the meeting, and High Mass will be held at 10:00 o'clock. The Rt. Rev. James B. Rogers of Montgomery will be celebrant, and the choir from St. Peter's Catholic Church, Montgomery will sing the mass from Gounod. Miss Ann Bradford of Selma, president of the Deanery, will call the meeting to order at 12:00 o'clock. Between fifty and sixty delegates are expected, as the Montgomery Deanery comprises Clanton, Thorsby, Marbury, Greenville, Troy, Eufaula, Montgomery and Andalusia. These places have affiliated organization in the N.C.C.W. Luncheon will be at 1:00 o'clock followed by a short business session.

COTTON IS NOW MOVING WITHOUT RESTRICTIONS

Auburn, Ala.—There are now no restrictions on the sale and transportation of cotton either with or without lien tags or bale tags, says a telegram received here by Dr. L. N. Duncan, director of the state extension service, from C. A. Cobb, director, division of cotton, AAA.

After quoting a telegram sent to collectors of internal revenue by the Bureau of Internal Revenue, Mr. Cobb explained that this means that cotton which carries lien or bale tags may now move into the channels of trade without restrictions.

Dan Smith Chosen By National Honor Society

Dan Smith, son of Mrs. Mamie C. HER WELL-KNOWN "FACT" THAT ISN'T SO

A Cold and Starve a Fever" is misinformation that has been down through the years, and is particularly hard for us to that this is not good advice. Matter of fact, it has been found person with a cold feels better comes the milder quicker by down on the amount of solid taken and increasing the amount of fruit, juices, and other liquids. On the other hand a long-continued requires a relatively large amount of energy-producing foods, and unless supplied this energy must be at the expense of the tissues of the body. Never, it is not to be assumed that a fever and a cold is a fever and a cold is a fever in all cases, or even in the majority of cases. The safest practice is to be very sparing of solid food. This avoids the possible complication of an upset stomach and gives the body a better chance to make a diagnosis.

J. A. HEADLEY WRITES

Chilton County News:

I don't understand as to how the citizens can offer such things as a bill and let these New Deal folk down to Montgomery and make the Governor and Legislature think they are the only ones who are for them and that they have got to them and do just as they come, or they will throw them out others in their places, when a single one of them voted for helped in the least in getting office for them. They are only the administration and try to confuse the minds of the people make the people think they are fools and the upbuilding of our country when their platform is to down and drag out everything that the schools and the upbuilding of government. That bunch that is going to Montgomery to keep the Governor and Legislators from passing a tax, luxury tax or any other that the schools stand steadfast anything that is for the upbuilding of the community, home county, or nation. Schools are anything except a joy ride and then they out, "we are the bosses and they are servants."

My way I view that bunch they are capable of dictating to a black man and say nothing of true citizens are holding office. Shame on Alabama that we are knocking and holding whip over the heads of our Governor and Legislature to keep them passing a law that we can have school term.

My people, you see as well as I that bunch of crooks are going to make our schools closed if we don't do anything. Let the schools run regardless of how the money comes, if we schools we have got to pay for it anyway. The way people are part of the people want the part to pay the whole bill and then just step out. Now that isn't pass the law so all will have to be pro rata share.

And like for the Governor and the Legislature to shut the door on this bunch of crooks who are hanging there until they adjourn—pay attention to any of them—kick them the way and let's have schools. Get uneasy, we people are going to be by you and vote to keep every you if you will quit paying attention to that bunch of crooks. If we will pass you over the fence and pasture with them.

Many of these New Deal critics are for any kind of tax? Not a one of them. They say they have no tax on any kind, then vote man like that to hold office. If the minds of the people of Alabama had just as well hang up as far as anywhere is concerned. The Governor said that if he was elected he would see to it that the Legislature run to a full term. He thought that he would have the cooperation of the people. He had no idea the Legislature had gone crazy and would meet down at Montgomery with their hands and mob him if he did. They have told him at that time that they were not interested in schools, but that they were going to take them regardless of his steps in getting them on might be.

That bunch of crooks who have in the Legislature and pre-empted and caused the schools to be shut soon be running around and the Governor and Legislature the whole blame for the schools and work as hard to get them closed on the next election time and

'AIRY NOTES'

Compiled by Dr. V. J. GRAGG

Our own country has in times past felt a maximum degree of security for the simple reason that a great ocean lay between the U. S. and any other world power that might be a menace in times of war.

However, it has recently been demonstrated that an airplane can fly from California to New York in nine hours. And a mass flight of large bombers flew from the Pacific Coast to Southern Florida in 15 1/2 hours flying time. The Pan American Clippers are flying 6,000 miles across the Pacific from California to China. The Graf Zeppelin has made one hundred successful scheduled flights across the Atlantic from Germany to South America.

So we readily see that such security is a myth and no longer exists, and that we must admit the fact that if our country should find it necessary to defend itself from invasion, that the first stroke of an invading enemy would, in all probability be from the air.

This being the case let us take off a little time and compare our air strength with that of a few of the great powers of today as shown by figures obtained from the joint committee on Air Defense. Expenditures for the fiscal year for air forces by World Powers; from the Congressional Record, Feb. 12, 1936:

|                           |               |
|---------------------------|---------------|
| Great Britain             | $145,930,500 |
| France                    | 194,354,087   |
| Germany                   | 84,769,000    |
| Italy                     | 116,404,250   |
| Japan                     | 182,304,000   |
| United States (est. only) | 47,507,440    |

According to reliable information, England will have 5,600 fighting planes by March 1, 1937, and according to testimony before the house appropriations committee the U. S. army air corps will have only 658 by June 30, 1937.

While this comparison with Great Britain is amazingly unfavorable to the U. S., the conditions seem even worse when we take into consideration that experts are of the opinion that Germany's air strength is twice that of Great Britain and that France and Italy are far ahead of Germany. Russia is generally believed to have the make it look black as jet on their part and never say one word about themselves being the cause of the schools stopping. It is a dirty shame on Alabama to tolerate such stuff. Let the schools run regardless of how the money comes if we have the schools we have got to pay the price. So what difference does it make whether it is a sales tax, luxury tax or any other kind of tax.

You say that the penitentiaries should be enlarged, but what about the insane asylum? People, let's start from this day on and try to use judgement and stay away from the capitol hill and let our Governor and Legislators alone. If they stay in bounds of reason and have our schools regardless. From the way the people are acting they want to exchange governors with Georgia and that loving Talmadge down there and some New Deal critic legislators. If that is where Alabama wants to head in, please leave me out.

I just can't sit still, seeing the people of Alabama think more of a dime than they do their babies. Is it these joy rides that is adding the minds or have we just drove up to a week place. These New Deal critics are not going to let us slipping and they are not going to let us have schools or anything else if they can help it.

J. A. HEADLEY.

FAIRVIEW H. D. CLUB

The Fairview Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Minnie Mullins on February 18.

Miss Pardue gave an interesting and helpful demonstration on how to make inexpensive floor wax, stain, and furniture polish.

The club voted to raise one dollar for the Crippled Children's Clinic.

After a discussion on "Save the Surface of Floors and Furniture," a very interesting and helpful dialogue was given by Miss Mable Nelson and Mrs. Minnie Mullins.

The next club meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Sam Jones.

largest air force in the world. While we have only about 14,000 pilots (Civil, army and navy all told), it is said that Russia has 7,000,000 parachute jumpers, and is now practicing air maneuvers in which whole armies equipped with machine guns, etc., are successfully dropped behind the enemy lines with parachutes.

Another consideration is that while European powers are much stronger in the air they have far less territory to defend. Germany has a land area of little more than 181,000 miles. France a little more than 212,000 miles; while the U. S. has more than 3,000,000 miles at home, besides nearly 1,000,000 miles of possessions.

Now I do not want to be an alarmist, but would it not be well for us to awake to the realization of the fact that if we do not, at once, enlarge our air force three or four fold, both in ships and pilots, that we would be helpless should any world power see fit to invade our country with its vastly superior air force?

We certainly should encourage the development of such protective measures locally and nationally. Such measures cannot be consummated in a short time, but will require several years. Therefore the earlier begun the better.

Jemison F.H.A. Initiates New Members

Wondering what would befall them, twenty girls entered the Home Economics Department on Wednesday morning, February 12, 1936, to become members of the thriving chapter of the Future Homemakers Association.

These girls had earned their way into the club, not through the initiation, but through their work in home economics and scholarship in school.

With the addition of these members there are a total of fifty-six now actively engaged in club work.

The following girls were initiated: Thelma Barnett, Elizabeth Bald, Bernice Dean Cobb, Mildred Crowson, Lorene Davenport, Floya Grey, Katherine Green, Doris Guy, Maxine Glass, Geraldine Hubbard, Bessie Hilson, Janie Horn, Jodie Bell Lowery, Eunice Lowery, Kelly Moore, Juanita Maddox, Myrtice Posey, Magie Reynolds, Ruth Stockdale, Louise Yeager.

After the initiation refreshments were served by the social committee.

Get Rid of Poisons

Produced by Constipation

A cleansing laxative—purely vegetable Black-Draught—is the first thought of thousands of men and women who have found that by restoring the downward movement of the bowels many disagreeable symptoms of constipation promptly can be relieved. . . Mr. J. P. Mahaffey, of Clanton, S. C., writes: "I have found that Black-Draught is very effective in the cleansing of the system. When affected by the dull headache, the drowsiness and lassitude caused by constipation, I take Black-Draught."

She Has....

A RIGHT TO BE PROUD

SHE lives in a modest home—one built away back in 1920—but it isn't out of date. Her husband makes just a modest income, but in their home she enjoys the conveniences of the wealthy. How? Because everything that can be is being done electrically.

She began being proud of her kitchen years ago. She was one of the first. She started with an electric refrigerator. Then step by step, she added the electric range, and water heater and dishwasher.

TODAY SHE'S ENVIED

She's proud of her complete electric kitchen and she has a right to be.

FARM BOYS PAYING SCHOOL EXPENSES

Auburn, Ala.—With earnings from their home and farm projects, many Alabama boys are financing themselves through high school, report Dr. J. B. Hobby, director of vocational education, and R. E. Cammack, supervisor of vocational agriculture, in pointing out that the 168 vocational teachers of the state are helping 5,250 high school boys, 10,000 adult farmers and a large group of out-of-school farm boys in solving their farm problems.

Many vocational boys who have graduated from high school have gone into partnership with their fathers on their farms, while others have used their savings during their four years in vocational work to make the first payments on farms of their own, state the educational leaders. "Some have financed themselves for one or more years in college."

FUNERAL HELD FOR LEVI SIMPSON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Funeral services for Levi Simpson, 34, who died last Friday night at his home, two and one-half miles south of Clanton, were held Sunday afternoon from the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. W. H. Thomas, near Clanton, with Dr. S. J. Ezell, pastor of the Clanton Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in the Popwell Cemetery with Martin & Sons in charge.

Mr. Simpson, who moved to Chilton County from Tennessee two years ago, is survived by his widow and two small children.

MRS. DERAMUS

Verbena Parent-Teachers Association and taking a most active part in the educational activities of this county. She has also been active in the work of the Woman's Missionary Society and all church work.

An active member of the Alabama State League of Young Democrats, she was recently appointed by state officials as National Committeewoman from Alabama, of this organization.

At present it appears that Mrs. Deramus will have no opposition on the Democratic ticket for the position she seeks, and the voters of this county may feel well assured that a vote cast for Mrs. Deramus will be one for a person whose qualifications along educational lines and business judgment is beyond question.

Her announcement as a candidate for this place came only after considerable urging by her friends and others who know of her ability.

Mr. Charlie Gullede of Montgomery was a visitor here Saturday.

ciation of the entertainment offered.

But one of the greatest improvements will be the seats. These will be upholstered and will have spring-cushions, which will mean greater comfort while one watches the scenes on the silver screen.

The new building is 30 by 130 feet, which is almost twice the size of the Wadesonian building. Mr. Wade said that a name for the new theatre has not been decided.

The management will continue to operate the Wadesonian which will specialize in westerns and second showings it is understood.

J. M. WYATT

Burial was in the churchyard cemetery with Martin & Sons in charge. Preceding the services at the church, a short prayer service was held by Dr. A. E. Middlebrooks, pastor of the Clanton Methodist church at the home of W. M. Wyatt.

The church was crowded with friends of the family and the many floral tributes was testimony of the esteem in which both Mr. Wyatt and his family are held by the people of this section.

The following friends of the family served as pall bearers: K. M. Vinson, M. D. Foshee, B. F. Higgins, Dr. J. P. Crumpton, J. E. Easterling, and D. A. Wingard.

MR. AND MRS. AARON DENNIS HAVE FINE NEW BABY GIRL. Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Dennis, of South Clanton, have announced the arrival this week of a fine baby girl. ## On Traffic Committee

LAWRENCE TIPTON

Lawrence Tipton, State director of public safety, was appointed yesterday by Secretary of Commerce Roper to represent Alabama on President Roosevelt's national committee on Uniform Traffic Regulations. News of his appointment was contained in a telegram from Congressman Emmett O'Neal, of Kentucky, representing Secretary Roper, in which uniform traffic regulations throughout the nation were urged.

Mr. Tipton recently was appointed Alabama "contact man" on the national safety council by its president, S. H. Watson, of Chicago. As "contact man," he was given the responsibility of forming permanent safety councils in each city of Alabama, and to have them enter the national traffic safety contest.

Mr. Tipton is well known in Chilton County through his activities in connection with the organizing of the local Unit of the State League of Young Democrats. He has visited here several times and attended meetings of the League in this County.

MRS. ALEXANDER'S BUSINESS SCHOOL HAS TYPING CONTEST

Clanton's only business school, conducted by Mrs. R. J. Alexander in the New Mullins Building, recently held a typing contest among its students. The contest was conducted for perfect typing copies and not for speed, and was most novel in its arrangement.

At the close of the contest, Miss Sue Prater won first place in the senior or advanced group. She was closely followed by Miss Ruth Gray. In the Junior group, Miss Evelyn Barrett won first position.

Pilot Club Holds "Guest Night" Here Recently

Social, or Guest Night was celebrated Tuesday night by the members of the Clanton Pilot Club, when 17 members of the club and 11 guests gathered at the clubrooms in the basement of the Clanton Methodist church.

The program was devoted to discussion of famous men and women whose birthdays are in February. Mrs. Hortense Glascock was in charge of the program, and had arranged an interesting contest in connection with this idea.

Those present were: Mrs. Mamie C. Smith, Miss Willie Maude Kelley, Miss Alma Allen, Miss Frances Moore, Mrs. Bo Searcy, Mrs. Madge Mullins, Mrs. Laura Little, Miss Nolen Meroney, Miss Edith Mae McCutchen, Miss Irene Smithman, Mrs. Zora Guy Smith.

Miss Ruth Pardue, Mrs. Hortense Glascock, Miss Gertie Fiquette, Mrs. Ruth Martin, G. C. Weldon, Jr., Thomas Searcy, Luther E. Little, Mrs. Ruth Sheppard, Ramond C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. Hayes, Miss Margaret Floyd, Mrs. R. K. Welch, Mrs. B. J. Sessions, Mayor C. Fenn Jones and C. H. Pipes.

Mayor Jones addressed the group, paying tribute to Pilots for their efforts in behalf of the improvement of the city. The Mayor declared that he knew of no other civic organization exerting greater effort for a better Clanton.

Flu Epidemic Is Evident In County

A mild epidemic of influenza is sweeping this County, according to information from the local health office. More than 100 cases of this disease, which took such a great toll of lives in 1917-18, have been reported here already. Fifty, or more, cases were reported during the past week.

Although the disease is in much milder form than it was in the well-remembered epidemic, several deaths have resulted and the rapid spread is indicative that the ailment is more contagious than the ordinary form of flu, with which this country is infected every winter.

In a number of instances, the disease is developing into pneumonia and perhaps most of the deaths reported have resulted from pneumonia instead of from flu, it is believed. The number of cases of pneumonia in this county since the beginning of winter weather has almost reached the 100 mark, and the number of deaths is close to 20.

Dr. J. M. Kimmey, county health officer, believes with the opening of spring that there is every reason to expect relief from both of these ailments. However, he stated that it is in this type of weather that people should exercise the greatest caution.

You Can Pay For On Installment Plan To City

This seems to be truly an age "a dollar down and dollar when you are caught." With a few dollars pay the "down" costs, a man may most anything he happens to want, of course, the trouble comes with other dollars that must be paid.

Mayor C. Fenn Jones has introduced this installment idea into City Court. Several offenders marching into the clerk's office Monday morning and paying a small amount on their fines.

The mayor declared that he has this plan very successful. "I leave the impression with those who come before me in City Court that we have no wish to be unnecessarily severe with them, but at the same time let them realize that they, along with the rest of us, must pay for their mistakes. But I can see no reason why we should not cooperate with making this retribution to society. Asked if he had experienced a trouble with collections, the mayor smiled and said, the City really is the ace. If the culprit stays in the he can always be brought in to the same charges again if he fails to pay his fine—and if he should fail to pay his fine, it is a notion to visit parts unknown. Often the City will find itself much better off than had he stayed and the fine.

Eight persons were tried in court Monday morning. One, with carrying a concealed pistol, fined $180.00, three facing charges of disorderly conduct, and four for drunkenness were also fined.

MRS. LOUISE HIGGINS BEAUTY SHOPPE IN TEMPORARY HOME

Mrs. Louise Higgins announced last week that her Beauty Shoppe is located in its temporary home in Roper home, in West End, just off the J.H. Broadhead Store.

Mrs. Higgins stated that this was her location for the next several weeks and until a permanent place was arranged. Her specials in all work continue, she stated, and a large will direct to her new location.

Woman Exonerated Of Murder Charge

Mrs. Lillie Mae Melton, 19-year-old housewife of Beat 13, was exonerated of blame in the fatal shooting six days ago of Claude Killingsworth, a neighbor, when she faced preliminary hearing last Saturday in Justice Peace, J. L. Wilson's court.

Killingsworth died at the Central Alabama Hospital of blood poisoning, resulting from a gunshot wound inflicted by Mrs. Melton, when the young said to have attempted to break the door and enter her home over protests and in the absence of her band. The 19-year-old mother of children fired a single shot through door and the load from the 20-caliber shotgun struck Killingsworth in upper part of his right hip.

Luther Morris, another neighbor, testified at the hearing that he had Killingsworth away from the Melton home a short time before and had Mrs. Melton that he would be calling distance if the youth, who was said to be intoxicated, returned. Shortly after he reached his home, he stated he heard the shot and returned back to the Melton home to find Killingsworth seriously wounded.

Mr. Wilson declared that he found no reason for holding the woman over to the grand jury, as she evidently had done nothing more than protect herself and her home from would-be invader.

Shell Service Station Has Been Enlarged

In keeping with its growing business the Shell Service Station, located on the highway, across from the place, has been recently enlarged to meet the increase in business.

Included in this improvement a popular station is a modern grease outfit, with hoist and grease gun, the high pressure type.

The Shell Service Station is under the active management of Mr. Culp, who is widely known over county. A complete line of Good tires is also handled by this station. Mr. Culp has as his able assistant Hershel Gore and Jack Armstrong of Clanton's most experienced station men.

Miss Lorena Guy is spending time with her parents in Montgomery due to the fact that the Clanton City High School has closed. Miss Lamar is also spending the time relatives in Montgomery.

The second candidate to announce on the Democratic ticket for the place of member of the Board of Education of Chilton County, is Dr. W. L. Parrish, the county's well known and popular veterinarian.
Dr. Parrish made his formal announcement last week after carefully considering his candidacy. Born and raised in the county, he is a true Chilton product. He is the son of one of the county's pioneer citizens, E. H.
Parrish.

forthcoming primaries, Harrison N.
Smith, well known automobile man of Clanton, and Cooper, has announced his candidacy for the office of Commissioner from the Fourth District.
Although Mr. Smith's home is at Cooper, he has become one of Clanton's business men, being head of the H. N.
Smith Motor Co. here. He was born in Elmore County, and while young he,
with his family, moved to this county where he has made his home ever since.
For approximately twenty years, Mr.
Smith was actively engaged in the lum-

Culver Appointed Chief Of Police

Night Policeman Reuben F. Culver, who has been connected with the department for several months, was named Chief of Clanton Police Tuesday night at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the City Council.

Mr. Culver was promoted to fill the vacancy created by the death a few weeks ago of John Browder, who had served as chief since Sheriff J. R.
Hardy resigned to assume the duties of his office last January. Browder succumbed to an attack of pneumonia a few weeks ago, and since his death
H. M. Simpson has served temporarily.
Arthur Willis, well known Clanton man, was appointed to succeed Mr.
Culver on the night force. He will work with B. R. Plyler, the oldest member of the city's law enforcement department.

These changes will become effective March 15, it was announced. Until that date it is understood Mr. Simpson will continue as "day man" and Mr.
Culver will serve in his present capacity.

THOS. MAXWELL TO SEEK POST IN CONGRESS

Visits In This County Last Tuesday; Has Statement For Voters

The Hon. Thomas H. Maxwell, of Woodbank Farm, Tuscaloosa, Ala.,
Route 1, whose announcement appears on another page in this issue, is a candidate for Representative in Congress from the Sixth Congressional District which includes Chilton County and the counties of Bibb, Greene, Hale, Perry, Shelby, Tuscaloosa and Sumter.

Mr. Maxwell was born on the farm where he now resides and has arranged for his brother, James S. Maxwell, to manage his farm operations for the crop of 1936. Mr. Maxwell is a widower, the father of two sons who are making their own way in the practice of law.
He was a volunteer in the war against Spain and in the war against Germany, in France during a period of seventeen months. In 1931, he initiated the move for control by states and continued until he obtained the promise of Federal aid by Franklin D. Roosevelt, in a letter signed by the latter, dated October 12, 1931, at Warm Springs, Ga.

As President, Mr. Roosevelt kept his promise and is now about to approve the Smith-Jones Bill to take the place of the repealed crop control laws. The new law will get cooperation from states in two years.
Mr. Maxwell was the first to advocate old age pensions in this District and continues to do so.
Mr. Maxwell stated that he knows

DR. C. N. PARNELL THROWS HAT IN POLITICAL RING

Is Candidate To Represent
The Third District In Comm. Court

The race for Commissioner from the Third District of Chilton County promises to become more interesting with the announcement of Dr. C. N. Parnell, of Maplesville, and one of the county's most widely known and respected citizens, has announced as a candidate for this office on the Democratic ticket.

The name of Dr. Parnell is well and favorably known over the entire coun-

IRBY DERAMUS CANDIDATE FOR COMMISSIONER

Well Known Business Man
Of Verbena Seeks 4th
District Place

With a reputation of being a broad-minded and far visioned business man,
I. D. Deramus, of Verbena, will come before the voters of Chilton County in the forthcoming primaries as a candidate for Commissioner from the Fourth District on the Democratic ticket, having filed his announcement last week.

Mr. Deramus is a member of one of the oldest and most widely known families of this county, being the son of the late D. L. Deramus, Sr., for a number of years a prominent merchant of Verbena.

He was born in this county and received his early education in the county schools, entering the business world at an early age, joining his father in the mercantile business and engaging in farming in the county.

Mr. Deramus is member of the Verbena Methodist Church and at one time served that church as steward.
His broad business experience is well known, and his announcement as a candidate came only after his friends and supporters throughout his home beat persistently urged him to become a candidate and promising their support.

Mr. Deramus stated to a representative of the News that he would see many voters as possible before the primary in May and trusted that those he might miss will know he will appreciate their vote.

Alabama Power Company To Hold Interesting Cooking School Tonight and Tomorrow Night

A general and cordial invitation is extended by the electrical dealers of Alabama and the Alabama Power Company, to an interesting presentation of the miracle of electric cookery in Clanton tonight and tomorrow night, according to T. L. Williams, local manager of the power company.

The presentation of this interesting subject will take place at the high school auditorium in Clanton beginning at seven-thirty o'clock each evening.

Miss Vivian Hester, who is connected with the Alabama Power Company, arrived in Clanton Monday morning to take part in this presentation of the miracle of electric cookery, which promises to bring out a large crowd.
Mr. Bill Engh, who is located in Clanton, and who is connected with the

The ballots for the primary to be held on May 5th will carry the names of fourteen Republican candidates seeking nominations for Chilton County offices, not including those for members of the executive committee and for justices of the peace.

The Democratic ballot will have printed upon it the names of sixteen candidates seeking the Democratic nominations, not including those for Justices and members of the Democratic Executive Committee.

Forty-four persons have qualified as candidates for membership on the Democratic Executive Committee of this county. It is understood that separate ballots will be furnished both the Democratic and Republican parties for the election of their commit-men.

Th Democratic ticket will have some of the most outstanding men and women as candidates that have ever en-

A. T. DAWSON IS CANDIDATE FOR COMMISSIONER

Prominent Maplesville Merchant Seeks Office From Third District

Voters of this county will have to fore them in the forthcoming Democratic primary on May 5th, the name of one of the county's well known and prominent merchants and farmers—that of A. T. Dawson, of Maplesville.

Mr. Dawson filed his formal announcement last week and with his fine record as a citizen of the county, will no doubt pile up a large number of votes. Born and raised in Chilton County, he is the son of the late John S.
Dawson, who was a well known farmer and lumberman of his day and time.
He is also grandson of the late Dr.
J. J. Dawson, who was at one time one of the most outstanding physicians of this county and who is possibly well remembered by many of the older people.

Mr. Dawson received his early edu-

New Moto-Sway Lubrication Plan Introduced Here

J. E. Easterling, Mgr. Woco Service Station Invites Friends To See New Machine

Revolutionizing the automobile lubrication business, the Woco-Service Station, J. E. Easterling, manager, this week introduces the Moto-Sway, a unique device that puts a typical road action under a car while the car is being lubricated.

This remarkable innovation has accomplished what engineers have tried to develop for a decade. It creates road action while the car is not in motion and permits the lubricant to easily reach every point. When a car

The ladies especially are invited and the men are urged to come. There will be no charge for admission and a feature of each evening's program will be the awarding of prizes.

COMMISSIONERS MEET MONDAY BUT IT WAS A DULL SESSION

Members of the County Commissioners Court were in regular session Monday, but no matters other than regular routine business came before the body.
It is understood. Most of the day was spent in auditing and passing claims against the county.

Jarman For Congress

The announcement of Pete Jarman as a candidate for Congress in the Sixth District is made formally this week, and is not at all unexpected in political circles.

It has been generally recognized since the last campaign, in which Mr. Jarman made such a gratifying race, that he would be a candidate again this year. His chances for success have been growing better all the time, and it has been freely predicted he would win the Sixth District seat in 1936, regardless of any and all opposition.

Now, since the decision of Congressman Oliver that he will not run again, it is generally accepted that the road to Washington is left wide open for Pete Jarman.

It is not known yet whether a candidate will oppose Pete. We see no use of it, because on the one hand Pete will beat anyone who may oppose him. And on the other hand, Pete is plenty good for our representative at Washington, and we can see no use in complicating things by a useless political scrap.

Mr. Jarman deserves the honor he seeks because he is able to and will make what to him is an honor an instrument of service to the people. He has had many other honors placed upon him by the people of his State, and he has, in every instance, been more concerned about serving his people than he was about glorifying himself.

That's the kind of stuff Pete is made of, and we say it is good enough to make anybody a good Congressman.—Montevallo Times, Shelby County.

Why Women Buy

It is well known by all live merchants, and by husbands as well, that practically all buying for the home is either actually done by women or directed by them. For this reason the merchant's greatest problem is to attract the favorable attention of women to his wares.

Women are alert to grasp opportunities to secure merchandise at a bargain and they are more discriminating buyers than men, as a rule. They read advertisements and act upon the information obtained thereby.

In order to determine just what advertising mediums have the greatest influence on women's buying, a recent survey made by a Los Angeles advertising club developed some interesting facts. Replies from 1,000 women of all classes were obtained in answer to a questionnaire listing the various advertising mediums and asking what form of advertising influenced them most.

Newspapers were credited with most influence by 36 per cent of these women, magazine advertisements 22 per cent, street car advertising by less than 4 per cent, while booklets, pamphlets and circular letters influenced less than 2 per cent.

Thus again is demonstrated what every wide-awake merchant must have already observed—that newspaper advertising is the most potent medium for reaching women buyers. And this applies with equal force to men buyers, too.

Boosting "Surplus" Income

What does the thrifty family do that wants to get ahead in the world? It studies how to save by eliminating waste. If it spends fifty dollars a month for food, a ten per cent saving on price would mean an increase of $5.00 per month in the family purchasing power.

The great bulk of the average family's income must be closely budgeted—so much for food, so much for rent, so much for clothing, and so on. It is reliably estimated that not over ten per cent of that income is "surplus" that can be used for amusement, savings and similar things beyond mere existence.

Take a family with an income of $150 per month. If it now has a surplus of $15.00 per month, that is 10 per cent of its in-

Much Eloquence--Few Facts

During the past fortnight there have been speeches from one end of the country to the other directed to the sins of the Roosevelt administration and the beatific purposes of the Republican party.

A good deal of this eloquence was probably provoked by the speech of Governor Landon of Kansas. Not that the Governor said anything, for even the editorial spokesmen who most applauded his utterance felt compelled to slip in an apology for the lack of ideas, drabness of expression and absence of constructive suggestion, and they all hastened to assure the country that a man did not have to be an orator to qualify as President of the United States. However, the rest of the candidates did not intend to let the Kansan have whatever advantage there was in the resulting publicity, so they all turned loose speeches. Ex-President Hoover repeated everything he has said in every other speech solemnly and vehemently. Col. Knox of Chicago viewed with alarm everything he had viewed with alarm at any time since he was bitten by the presidential bug. Even the remote asteroids of the political firmament, like Senator Dickinson of Iowa, and Bert Snell, shot off their firecrackers, while Senator Vandenberg contributed the one new thought of the bombardment with brilliant suggestion that if the "Jeffersonian Democrats" would quit their party and throw in with him he was quite prepared to give one or two of the New Deal Democrats places in his cabinet.

Vandenberg's ingenious thought was the only novelty in the whole presentation. Indeed it represents perhaps the only contribution from the Michigan Senator to the gayety of the campaign. He has not yet disclosed that he is for anything, against anything, committed to anything, or even that he joins Colonel Knox in his viewing with alarm. This rough presentation of his principles is perhaps what makes Senator Vandenberg one of the leading candidates for the Republican nomination for the Presidency.

None of the others seem to agree with candidate Hoover that he had the depression licked six months before the 1932 election. It is equally true that the hopeful ones do not go along with the Ex-President in his discovery that it was only the shadow of the impending New Deal that brought about the crisis that compelled the closing of the banks by the incoming President.

Necessity for a Balanced Farm Program in Alabama

"Balance" may well be said to have become a major objective of the American people in these hectic years when so many balances have been upset by the worst depression in our history.

Cries for balancing the budget, for balancing the farmers' income on a parity with the income of other producers for a balance between the capitalist and the worker are heard on every side.

Farmers, especially, are learning the need for balance in their farming program. They realize that they no longer can mine the soil of its fertility without restoring the balance through fertilizers or soil-building crops—that a single cash crop such as cotton or tobacco, must be balanced with livestock and other crops.

Cottonseed Meal and Huils are Alabama products that should prove a fundamental "balancer" for the agriculture of this state. As feed they are essential in a balanced ration for horses and mules, beef animals and dairy cattle; and Cottonseed Meal is an excellent source of organic nitrogen for restoring the balance of plant food in the soil. The fertilizer value retained in the manure after Cottonseed Meal is fed to livestock, is also high and the feeder can get back on the land the liquid and solid manure.

Wider use of Cottonseed products is one of the important ways by which Alabama can achieve a balanced farm program, increasing the income of farmers, improving the fertility of soils and expanding the market for cottonseed, a leading product of this state. And for the individual farmer it is safe to say that "Balance on the farm means a balance in the bank."

come. If its food bill is $50.00, a 10 per cent reduction would add $5.00 to its surplus, an increase of 33 1-3 per cent.

Thus, a mere ten per cent saving in the monthly food bill would increase our family's "surplus" by one-third—more money for everything that makes life pleasurable and secure. And when millions of families have such an increase in their surplus, the total runs far into the billions each year—purchasing power released for other uses,

MORAL ECHOES

D. W. Haskew

Upon good authority we have the statement that nearly two thousand visitors go through the Swift Packing House plant in Chicago every year. Of those going through who ask to witness the slaughter of the animals, there are two women to every man. Time after time the men of the party will wait outside while the women go inside to see the blood spurt from the throat of dying animals. Is that because women have more curiosity than men, or is it because they are less humane than men? I am not saying that women are worse than men, but it does seem to me that when we know them, their soul and life, they are not very much better. This I know, if women would let go the vices of men and cling to the virtues of women, they would be far better than they are.

Believe it or not but the story is that a careless Scotchman tossed a crown into the collection plate, thinking it to be a penny. After seeing his mistake he went to the deacon and asked that he return to him the crown in exchange for the penny that he had intended to give. "Never on your life," replied the deacon. "When you dropped that crown into the plate you parted with it forever." Then the Scotchman growled, "Well, let it go; I will get credit for it in heaven." No, no," responded the deacon, "you will only get credit for the penny that you thought that you gave." It is a fact that we will be rewarded for what we intended to do and not by what we really do. Many a man has intended doing a magnanimous thing but failed, many a man has accomplished wonders intending to do things from a selfish standpoint—each will be rewarded, not by what was done, but by what he intended to do.

Not long since a prominent man came upon a college graduate sitting on the curbstone. He was asked if he had been successful in finding a position. The reply was in the negative and then the man asked what was the mental attitude of this trained, efficient man after failing to find a place in life. The young man looked into the eye of his questioner and replied, "I tell you, sir, what is my mental attitude, I am learning to hate." Folks, that is the danger that is confronting our American life. There are thousands and thousands of college graduates, men of training, men of efficiency, who are shoved out of life by our economic condition, and there is a revolution brewing. Trained and untrained minds are learning to hate and something is going to take place in this world not many years hence.

We have a thermometer just outside our window and it is faithful in telling us the temperature, but that is all that this little instrument will do. It tells us that it is freezing weather, but it creates no heat to relieve the suffering caused by the cold. It can tell the temperature but does nothing to moderate it. We have found some preachers who seem to be great community thermometers. They can tell us all that is wrong, but they never do anything about it. We have a stove on the inside of our room and that stove has nothing to say about the temperature, but when I fill it with coal, it drives out the chill and brings in comfort. Which are you—a thermometer, or a heated stove? Blessed is that individual who howls little about the meanness of the world, but does much toward making it better.

I walked into a shop just before the Christmas holidays and found the owner tinkering on one of those "hip flasks" that men carry. The man was ashamed of his job, but he said that a man brought it in for repairs and that was his business. When a man's stomach is out of order he is injured, but when his "hip flask" is out of order he is tremendously benefited. That was a silver "hip flask" but it was a curse to its owner. To have it repaired was like putting poison into a serpent's tooth that was preparing to bite.

Highest Peak In History Bank Deposits In U. S.

The 5,392 active national banks in the United States had aggregate deposits on Dec. 31, 1935 of $24,847,783,000, the highest amount reported in the history of the national banking system. The report of J. F. T. O'Connor, comptroller of the currency, on the last bank call showed the following gains:

Three and 39 | 100ths per cent over Nov. 1, 1935;
Fourteen and 63 | 100ths per cent over Dec. 31, 1934;
Forty-eight and 13 | 100ths per cent over June 30, 1933 and
Two and 6 | 100ths per cent over the deposits reported by 7,635 national banks on Dec. 31, 1928, the previous high record.

As of June 29, 1935, the latest date for which figures are available, total savings accounts in the 10,622 State and other non-Federal chartered banks amounted to $15,903,482,000 and commercial deposits $9,215,493,000. At that time the total savings accounts of all reporting State, national and other kinds of banks were $22,793,298,000 and commercial deposits $18,890,416,000, grand total deposits 41 1/2 billions.

This is the second session of the Autauga organization, and the official reporting prospects for a very fine day singing.

NEWSPAPER FACTS

Some interesting facts concerning newspaper and advertising are contained in a book by Fred J. Haskin, a syndicator of information, which the following are condensed. Egyptians used advertising 4,000 years ago. Most early advertising was in the form of a notice or a notice in character. The first newspaper advertising is said to have appeared in Germany in 1591.

It is estimated that about 100,000 and a half dollars are spent annually for all kinds of advertising in the United States. More than 350 American daily newspapers are equipped to handle advertisements in color.

The fastest modern newspaper in the world can turn out about 34,000 papers an hour, and a somewhat smaller number of 12-page or 16-page papers.

The first news agency in the world was established in Paris in 1835. In 1840 he established a service between Paris, London, Brussels, using carrier pigeons. James Gordon Bennett began publication of the first review of financial news in the New York Times in 1835.

Newspaper editorials were originated by John Dillingham, an English journalist, and one of them got him into jail in 1645. Sometimes justly and sometimes unjustly, other editors have met a similar fate many times since.

In Martins Ferry, O., the population of the municipal cemetery is the same as that of the city itself.

ROOSEVELT SIGNS $500,000,000 SOIL SUBSIDY BILL

NEW FARM ACT WILL BEGIN OPERATING FIRST IN SOUTH

REGIONAL MEETING President Says Measure Aims At Long-Time Prog'm For Agri.

Washington, March 1.—Acting swiftly to get the AAA replacement program into motion, President Roosevelt announced today that he had signed the $500,000,000 soil conservation subsidy bill which reached his desk Friday.

“The statement added significantly: ‘They and we have not abandoned and will not abandon the principle of equality for agriculture.’”

Asserting that consumers would be benefited as well as farmers, the President reminded that “in years of surplus, consumers may lightly take for granted the continuance of adequate supplies of food and fiber; but the recurring dust storms and rivers yellow with silt area warning that nature’s resources will not indefinitely withstand exploitation or negligence.”

“The only permanent protection which can be given consumers must come from conservation practiced by farmers.”

Praising the act’s provision for State-Federal cooperation in the soil program, Mr. Roosevelt said that would “mark a further application of the principle of shared responsibility.”

“The history of every nation is eventually written in the way it cares for its soil,” he continued. “The United States as evidenced by the progressive public opinion and vigorous demand which resulted in the enactment of this law, is now emerging from its youthful state of heedless exploitation and is beginning to realize the supreme importance of treating soil well.”

AAA officials said the program will be put into operation first in the South, where planting in the cotton area starts soon.

Maplewood Youth Enlists in U. S. Marines

Macon, Ga., March 2.—The enlistment of Edie C. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Smith, rural route, Maplewood in the U. S. Marine Corps, was announced today by the officer in charge of the District Recruiting office, Macon municipal auditorium.

Headquarters for Marine activities in Alabama. He has been assigned to Parris Island, S. C. for basic training.

Upon completion of training he will become eligible for service at marine stations at home and in foreign countries, and with marine detachments serving on battleships, cruisers and air-plane carriers.

The Macon office is accepting applications for enlistment from young men between 18 and 25 years of age. Full information can be obtained from that headquarters.

Farm Meetings Called

Immediately issued a call for regional meetings of farmers and representatives, at which details of the new set-up will be explained.

The first two will be held at Chicago, Memphis next Thursday, Friday, Saturday. The others will be in New York and Salt Lake City March 11 and 12.

Incidentally, administration sources said that a major objective under the new plan would be the division of 25,000,000 acres of land to soil conservation uses.

The new law various versions of which were introduced in Congress by Mr. Smith (D), South Carolina, Bankhead (D), Alabama, and Representative Jones (D), Texas, amounts up to $500,000,000 in Federal aid in any one year to farmers for soil conservation and economic use.

The subsidies will be paid directly or to states which set approved programs. After two years the act would only be effective in states which have such provisions.

President Roosevelt’s statement lists three major objectives of the act. He said are “inseparably and inextricably linked with the national welfare.”

The first of these aims is conservation of the soil itself through wise proper land use. The second purpose is the reestablishment and maintenance of farm income at fair levels at the great gains made by agriculture in the past three years can be saved and national recovery can come. The third major objective is protection of consumers by assuring adequate supplies of food and fiber and in the future.

“The President said that such absence of program control might make ‘impracticable’ the attainment of ‘parity’”

KIWANIS CLUB URGES MORE AIR FORCES FOR THE UNITED STATES

Passes Resolution At Last Meeting To This Effect

The Kiwanis Club of Clanton passed a resolution on Thursday evening of last week urging the strengthening of the American air defense.

The resolution stated that the United States is vulnerable to attack and that the best defense is an adequate air force. Congress was called upon to pass suitable legislation building the air strength of the Army and Navy. The relative position of the United States with reference to air strength was shown in an article which appeared in this paper last week. This report showed the United States in the seventh place from the top in air power.

The Kiwanis Club of Clanton is a service club with the motto "WE BUILD." The interest of this club is not confined to the Town of Clanton, but extends throughout the County, State and Nation. Dr. C.O. Lawrence is president of the local club, Percy M. Pitts is secretary.

The complete resolution is as follows: WHEREAS, the great importance of aircraft in modern warfare is becoming increasingly evident, and WHEREAS, the United States is vulnerable to air attack and all major nations today have modern air forces superior in number to ours, and WHEREAS, our scheme of national defense is based on enemies approaching via the sea, necessitating a mobile fleet with a powerful air arm, and WHEREAS, of the number of air-planes on hand in the GHQ Air Force, approximately fifty per cent are rapidly approaching obsolescence and the same is true throughout the rest of the Air Corps,

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Congress of the United States pass suitable legislation with the necessary appropriations, to provide the Army and Navy of the United States with equipment and personnel in sufficient numbers to build up an efficient air force, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Army and Navy be provided by Congress with funds necessary to procure efficient aircraft and train pilots in such numbers as will safeguard us against foreign attack,

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished to the Hon. W.B. Oliver, the

Interesting News Sheet Is Issued For CCC Camp

The News is in receipt of a copy of "The Clanchial Bugler," the official newspaper of the Clanton CCC Camp, dated February 27th, 1936.

The front page of this issue carries the name of the paper with a drawing of the entrance of the camp, all done by J.A. Martinez, one of the Camp members, and Art Editor.

Throughout the pages will be found well written editorials and articles written by members of the paper's staff, under the direction of T.H. Walker, Camp Recreational Advisor.

These boys are to be commended on this splendid arrangement of a newspaper for the camp and those who are fortunate enough to receive a copy will do well to read it throughout. It gives a better understanding not only between members of the Camp, but between citizens of the county and the boys at the Camp.

The staff of the paper is as follows: Editor—James W. Creekmore. Associate Ed.—Wygatt Montgomery. Art Editor—Jose Martinez. Social Ed.—Sam C. Nummy. Camp Reporter—Hope D. Lester. Joke Ed.—Carroll White. Reporters—Kelly P. Warren, Jose Martinez, Perry B. Clay. Advisor—T.H. Walker.

Feed Cottonseed Meal It's good sense to save cents

Supplement home grown grains with a rich Protein Feed, Cottonseed Meal. Sumter County, Georgia, farmer states "We place daily 1 1-2 to 2 pounds of Cottonseed Meal with a little salt per mule in the feed troughs in which 25 mules are fed. It is distributed over the corn on the cob. Next morning the meal has disappeared. The mules are in good condition—sleek and glossy—and this method of feeding is much cheaper."

All Fertilizer had best have some Organic Nitrogen. Nothing is better than Cottonseed Meal for all crops. Call on your nearest oil mill for free literature on feeding all livestock and for fertilizing crops.

Business Men Who Don't Use Advertising Copy Pay For It And Get No Benefits, Expert Holds

Business men who do not use advertising are paying for a colossal appropriation without its benefits, Charles A. Hammarstrom, account manager of Kenyon & Eckhardt, Inc., told the International General Association, New York branch, late last week.

Explaining how these men pay for the appropriation, Mr. Hammarstrom said: "First, through the large sales mortality of their customers. Second, through the increase of sales resistance which their representatives must overcome. Third, through lack of representation in area the salesmen cannot cover. Fourth, through lack of support of dealers and agents, and finally through the price concessions that must frequently be made in order to get the necessary business to keep the plant going.

"Magazines give intensive coverage as to classes of people and are important to a hotel with a nationally distributed patronage. Just as newspapers, magazines announce to you the events of the world, so too, advertisements announce to you the store news or the factory news of the advertiser. In other words, advertising is a form of salesmanship by which the story of the advertiser is communicated to large numbers at one time.

"Good hotel and restaurant advertising has these characteristics. First, it is integrated with the sales efforts of the hotel as a whole. Second, it is directed to the area that holds potential business for the hotel. Third, it is keyed to the logical prospects of the hotel in those areas. And fourth, the individual advertisements adequately represent the hotel and make the hotel a dominant factor in the day's hotel news."—Newsdom.

BIBLE THOUGHTS

Much has been said and no doubt much will be said in the future about "Interpreting" the scriptures. But to this scribe it appears that we should endeavor to learn what the scriptures are rather than to place too much confidence in what people say about the scriptures.

Often there is a wide difference in what the scriptures say and what people say about them. When we invest in real estate we wish to know what the deed says rather than what people say about the deed. We should know what God says rather than what people say about God. It is good common sense to believe that God said what He meant, and meant what He said.

God has said all that He means; and means all that He said. Man's obligation is to learn what the Great God of heaven has said. What are brains for but to be used? What are eyes for but to see? What are ears for but to hear? And greatest of all, what is the Bible for but to look at, listen at, and to learn? No man can come to Christ except he be drawn. (Jno. 6:44) Everyone that hears and learns of God comes to Christ. (Jno. 6:45). The parable that brings salvation teaches us. (Mt. 23:11). God commands us to teach us. He says in His word. (Matt. 28:19-20 Rev. 22:17) But a curse is added to anyone who adds to or takes from His word. (Gal. 1:8-9; Rev. 22:18-19).

God knows what He wanted to say and said what He wanted to say. He gave us His word to guide us, our relation to Him and our fellow men. He invites us into the avenues of life that are best for us.

The devil would have us wait until we are converted, before we pay attention to what God says. This would be like a boy, waiting until he was good swimmer before going into the water. The devil would have us believe that we have Christian experience before we are Christians. But Christ says for us to come to Him and learn and that He would give us rest. Experience comes with the learning and practicing. Practical experience is a kind that counts in Christianity as well as in anything else.

The devil would have us believe that we should receive some other spirit separate and apart from the word of God, but Christ said that His word were spirit and life. (Jno. 6:63).

Two Leap Year Babies Reported; Or Maybe Three

The News is somewhat in a dilemma regarding a story which can be construed two ways. Is it three Leap Year babies—or two. We leave it to you.

The honor of being the first Leap Year baby reported to the News, born on February 29th, 1936—goes to the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Clements of Jemison, who was born last Saturday morning at nine-forty o'clock.

The honor of being the second Leap Year baby reported to the News, goes to Joe Ronald Parrish, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Parrish, of Route 6, who was born last Saturday, also.

The news extends heartiest congratulations.

Now—here's the problem. In the report of the birth of young Clements, come another report of another baby at the home of W. R. Clements, also of Jemison, at almost the same hour. A fine baby heifer calf arrived at the barn on February 29th. So—we leave it to you. It will be four years hence before these new arrivals will have a birthday.

NOTICE OF LOCAL BILL

is hereby given that there will be a presentation of the bill for the State of Alabama, a local bill for Chilton County, in substance as follows:

A Bill To Be Entitled "An Act"

for the relief of Elizabeth Jeffcoat, widow of C. P. Jeffcoat, and Eva Pickens, Zula Hill, Willie B. Dawson, Bessie Tucker and Minnie Binion, children of C. P. Jeffcoat, deceased, and to authorize, empower and require the Auditor of the State of Alabama, in and to the State to execute and deliver to the named parties a deed without warranty of any kind on the part of the State, conveying to them all the right, title and interest of the State in and to certain land described in this Act, which land formerly belonged to said C. P. Jeffcoat in his lifetime and through inheritance to said Elizabeth Jeffcoat and was sold by said C. P. Jeffcoat and was sold by said C. P. Jeffcoat for unpaid taxes and which was purchased by the State.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF ALABAMA:

Section 1. That the State Auditor of the State of Alabama, on behalf of the State shall execute and deliver to Elizabeth Jeffcoat and Eva Pickens, Zula Hill, Willie B. Dawson, Bessie Tucker and Minnie Binion, a deed, duly acknowledged, without warranty or covenant of any kind on the part of the State, expressed or implied, conveying to them all the right, title and interest of the State in and to the following described real estate:

The Southeast Quarter of the Southeast Quarter of Section 2, Township 21, Range 11, and the East Half of the Southeast Quarter of the Southeast Quarter of Section 2, Township 21, Range 11, Chilton County, Alabama.

Section 2. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this Act are hereby expressly repealed.

Witness my hand and the Great Seal of the State of Alabama, this 5th day of March, 1936.

NAT'L YOUTH MOVEMENT IS IN THIS COUNTY

Administration Plans Are Explained By Ala. Administrator

The National Youth Administration for Alabama now has employed on N. Y. A. projects throughout the State approximately 3,000 boys and girls from WPA families. The quota has not yet been reached; the goal which has been set for March 1 is the employment of 6,000 youths. The tentative quota for this district is 800.

Boys and girls between the ages of 16 and 25, who are members of families which have been certified as being eligible for employment on N.Y.A. projects, are eligible for employment on N.Y.A. projects. It is not the intent of the N.Y.A. program to take boys and girls out of school. The N.Y.A. program has two distinct phases, employment and school aid. Boys and girls from WPA families who are in school should in most cases remain in school and if they need assistance should apply to the principal of the school they attend for N.Y.A. aid.

It is the purpose of the employment program to provide not only employment, but training. Youths work 1-3 of the time worked by WPA workers and receive 1-3 of the wages paid unskilled WPA workers. The program includes provisions for reclassifying those youths who have special skills or training in order that they may be placed in a higher wage group, if they are qualified. have been released in the State in an effort to give boys and girls congenial and suitable employment and at the same time provide real training. There are recreation projects, clerical projects, projects in sewing, book-binding, domestic service, rural library service, social and public service, construction, and auto mechanics.

Boys and girls who are members of WPA families, who are between the ages of 16 and 25, and who have not yet been interviewed or made application for employment on the N.Y.A. program may apply by calling on the N.Y.A. director, Mr. A. J. Mapes, District No. 3, at 820 Bell Bldg., Montgomery, or by writing for an application blank. It is requested that only persons within the specified age limits and who are members of WPA families apply. Other persons are not eligible for assignment to projects and letters and calls from the simply result in disappointment and in slowing up the program because of the time required for unnecessary interviews and letters. It is believed, however, that some of the projects, such as the recreation projects and the rural library service projects, will be beneficial to boy and girl of the community not eligible for assignment to projects.

J. Z. Mims Purchases Matts Lunch Shoppe

J. Z. MIMS

A change in business in Clanton that will be of wide interest took place last week when J. Z. Mims purchased the Matts Lunch Shoppe, one of Clanton's most popular eating places.

For a number of years this well-known cafe has enjoyed the patronage of local people and tourists and has a splendid reputation for good, wholesome foods and coffee.

With Mr. Mims, former circuit clerk, as owner, this cafe takes on additional popularity. Experienced waitresses, cooks, etc., will be employed by Mr. Mims as has been the practice of this cafe in the past.

The name of the business will not be changed, Mr. Mims stated, and he is extending a most cordial invitation to the general public to visit his place of business.

The cafe business is not new to Mr. Mims. When he first entered the business life of Clanton several years ago, it was through the cafe and bakery business. Since that time Mr. Mims has become one of the most widely known citizens of the county, having served as Circuit Clerk of the county for a number of years.

RED CROSS FIRST AID COURSE TO BE GIVEN CLASS IN CLANTON

Dr. J. M. Kimmey, county health officer, announced this week that a special training course in First Aid, sponsored by the local chapter of the Red Cross, will be started this week.

First aid training will be given in a class composed of foremen and workmen on various WPA projects that are underway in Clanton County. A limited number of these will also be given an opportunity to take part in this program, he said.

After this week the class will meet at his office each Saturday morning. The first class was given Wednesday.

Fire Truck Recently Paid For, Mayor Says

"When you see the Clanton fire truck going along the streets, you can say that it's ours," Mayor C. H. Jones reminds the people this week. The last installment was recently paid and all the fire fighting equipment in use is the property of the City of Clanton.

Bought in 1927 for $7,000, approximately $3,000 has been paid in on this obligation, and when Mayor Jones took office the debt was near five thousand. This is just an example of how the finances of the city are being handled under his administration.

TO SERVE YOU BETTER

We've Obtained Another Building

It's Plowing Time

With weather conditions favorable, much plowing will be done in the next few days in preparation for planting. May we suggest that you visit our store now for the seeds you will need. Probably you are already planting for early vegetables. We have one of the most complete stocks of high quality seeds in the South, and our prices are fully as low or lower than mail order houses, and you get four seeds without delay.

Potato Seed & Onion Sets

We are right in the season for planting Irish Potatoes and Onions. We have been furnishing farmers of this section Irish Potato seed for years, and our Certified Triumphs and Maine Cobblers can't be beat for A-1 quality.

All varieties of Onion Sets you want are in the racks at our store. Come in and select the kind you prefer, as this is a mighty good time to get them in the ground and started to growing.

OUR CREAM STATION IS NOW IN THE OLD POST OFFICE BUILDING WITH TWO TESTERS; TWO OPERATORS

Due to the fine patronage you have given us, the larger stocks we have put in, and the increase in our cream business, our present building is inadequate to properly serve our customers. Therefore, we have rented the old post office building near us, and have installed our cream station there, and added another tester and another operator to give you quicker service with your cream. We deeply appreciate your fine patronage which has made possible this growth in our business, and assure you of still better service in the future. This added building will also be used as a warehouse for some of our stocks.

Pasture Grasses V-C Fertilizer

Chilton County farmers are realizing more and more the importance of planting their pastures to Dallas and Carpet Grass, Lespedeza, Etc., as a means of making their pasture land produce a profit. This is the time of year to get your pasture ready for some real grazing. We have the seed you will need. We will be glad to give you any suggestions you want, and the expense is small compared to the results you may expect.

FINANCES OF CITY SHOWING UP WELL NOW

Mayor Jones States It Is Difficult To Purchase Bonds Of Clanton

That the bonds that have been floated by the City of Clanton are truly desirable, is evidenced by a letter received this week by Mayor C. Fenn Jones from Weil Brothers' dealers in stocks and bonds.

Mayor Jones wrote the brokers seeking to redeem a City of Clanton bond that is not due until 1937 and Weil Brothers replied to the effect that they did not wish to sell the paper until it was due, indicating that so far as they are concerned these bonds are "worth their weight in gold."

Eighteen months ago, when Mayor Jones took office, there were bonds totalling $8,000 on the market at that time for sale.

Another incident this week speaks well for the financial condition of the city, according to Mayor Jones, who stated that a citizen of Clanton volunteered a loan of $1,500 to the city at the low rate of six per cent. At the present time the city is paying eight per cent interest on loans. Mayor Jones stated that he intended to make some arrangements to exchange the eight per cent loans for the offered six per cent, thereby saving the city the difference in interest.

Singing In Clanton Sunday, March 8th

A reminder of the singing at the courthouse in Clanton on next Sunday, March 8th, is being sent out this week by Jesse Jones, one of the county's well known singer and chairman of the program for Sunday.

The program will begin promptly at two o'clock in the afternoon. A general invitation is extended to everyone to attend and make it the best singing yet, Mr. Jones stated.

Extra Nitrogen in "ARCADIAN" with an extra cash value as high as 88¢ per ton

When Southern farmers buy Nitrate of Soda they want Nitrogen, the "growth element", and they want all they can get for their money.

The Department of Agriculture and Immigration of Virginia, after official tests, reports that ARCADIAN, THE AMERICAN NITRATE OF SODA contains extra nitrogen over the 16% guaranteed with an extra cash value running as high as 88¢ per ton.

This is good news for farmers. For Cotton, Corn and also for all other crops. ARCADIAN, THE AMERICAN NITRATE OF SODA brings the farmer big value. Big value in extra nitrogen. Big value in crops.

Sponsored For Benefit Crippled Childrens Clinic Here

ADVANCE TICKETS ARE NOW ON SALE

"Sky High" a three-act comedy-drama with musical specialties, will be presented Friday night, March 13 at the Clanton High School auditorium at eight o'clock. This production, which is entirely local talent will include seventy-five of the best actors, actresses, and musicians of Clanton.

"Sky High" is sponsored by the Clanton Pilot Club for the benefit of the Crippled Childrens Clinic, one of the several worthy causes being pushed by the club.

To accomodate patrons of the play, advance tickets may be exchanged for reserved seats at the Upchurch Drug Store next Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock without extra charge.

"Sky High" is a new, vivid drama airplane race. Walter Stephens (George with the action centering about an Parr) has designed the new wonder ship "Sky High" which flies noiselessly at a tremendous speed, and which he hopes to enter in the World's Super Race. One hour before race time the pilot (Julian Evans) is missing. The wise little Gypsy fortune teller, Carina Norro (Mrs. Reid Mullins) had warned the pilot of ill luck and suspicion points to that flirtatious air hostess, Eva Cord (Mary Heard).

The plot moves swiftly as the audience hears the race broadcast from the field. The disappointment as "Sky High" is left without a pilot, the surprise as "Sky High" rises with an unknown at the controls—all furnish plenty of exciting moments and thrilling climaxes.

Plenty of comedy is provided by those two Irish characters, Mrs. Stephens, Walter's mother, (Alice Polk) and Sidney Carney independently rich old uncle (Robert Reynolds).

Irene Smitherman is the secretary; Dr. Sam Gowan is manager of the Speed Travel Air Corporation; Marvin Marcus is the lazy negro porter, who sings "I Ain't Lazy—I'm Jes' Dreamin'."

Clever choruses and snappy dances to the vivid drama. There will be a all in attractive costumes, and variety special Dutch dance in Dutch costumes by members of the Pilot Club: Edith Mae McCutcheon, Frances Moore Zorra Guy Smith, Hortense Glasscock, Ruth Pardue, Gertie Fiquette, Dewey Branch, Alma Allen, Lona Thompson, Nolen Meroney, Cleo Broadhead, Bo Searcy, Madge Mullins, Ruth Martin.

There's a clever High Hat dance, a pretty Sweetheart chorus, a Trooper's tap dance, and a militaristic Air Hostess drill. Some of the girls in these are: Mary Newell, Helen Newell, Pauline Hazan, Elizabeth Hogan, Nell Jones, Olive Rainer, Elmore, Billie Johnson, Eugenia Newton, Dean Hollis, Elizabeth Williams, Jane Pitts, Grace Plyler, Sara Lawrence, Gertie Wilson.

There's a pretty Gypsy love song by Dr. C.O. Lawrence, and a specialty dance by Jean Atkins.

A social scene is presented by Philip Nelson as Pepper, L.D. Hester, and as Sully, John Thomas Marlar as Rusty; Morgan Reynolds as Rusty; Emmett Parrish as Lucky and Cecil Jones as Sully.

Mary Armstrong is pianist. Officers of the club are: Mrs. Mamie Smith, president; Mrs. J. C. Ware, Mrs. Sophia Jones, Mrs. Laura Little, and Mrs. Zora Smith.

ANOTHER "WELL-KNOWN "FACT" THAT ISN'T TRUE

"For centuries the Chinese have paid their doctors to keep them well rather than to cure them when they were sick." Many an effort has been made by inquisitive visitors to China to check up this well-known bit of scientific information. The results have been discouraging, however, showing that until recently the Chinese have had no doctors worthy of the name to practice preventive medicine, or any other kind. Evidently the old theory, that since China was on the bottom of the world everything there must be topsy-turvy, was adapted to his uses by some skillful health publicity agent who invented this interesting idea.

Even though the Chinese doctor story is evidently a myth, it carries a valuable suggestion. Positive health, periodic medical examination, early diagnosis, prevention of disease make up the message that is beginning to avoid much suffering and save many lives.

LOCAL FARMERS DISCUSSING BALANCED FARMING PROG'M

County Agent With Teachers Advising With Farmers

In the interest of a better balanced farm program, County Agent J. W. Fant and vocational teachers of Chilton County, have been busy for several days, visiting every community and discussing with groups of farmers the all-important problem of budgeting their acreage and production to better advantage.

The idea of a better balanced farm program had its birth, so to speak, with the Agricultural Administration Act, which aimed to set into motion keener appreciation of planning farm programs.

Discussing these problems with more than 1200 farmers in 25 meetings, the consensus of opinion was that 25 per cent of land now in cultivation should be retired; 10 per cent should be devoted to gardens and fruits; 10 per cent to hay, and 25 per cent to cotton. It was pointed out, however, that with the present production basis, it will take at least 50 per cent of the county's farm acreage to produce enough corn for home needs.

This is one of the biggest problems in mapping a new program, Mr. Fant explained. Unless corn land is made to produce more than it has in the past any program that seeks to regulate acreage planted in various crops will be handicapped. This can be remedied by use of cover crops, he stated, as the average shows that an acre planted in cover crops will produce at least 20 bushels more corn the following year.

Almost all the farmers in this county agree that some type of control program is needed. Mr. Fant stated, "and it is my belief that we will be able to make some definite announcement within the next ten days regarding the new set up."

Farmers are more closely allied to a common interest than ever before. With this new appreciation of the accomplishments that can be had from constructive organization and cooperation promise much for the future of agriculture. The attendance at the recently-held meetings, and at other farm meetings throughout the year, indicate that this is true, Mr. Fant declared.

Termining snow suits and ski pants immodest, Rev. B. F. Redburn of the Sacred Heart Church of Pawtucket, R.I., announced that girls attired in such costumes will not be admitted to his church.

EASTER SEAL CAMPAIGN TO GET UNDERW

Chilton People Urged
Buy Seals For Aid
Of Cripples

Directed by the Chilton County Society for Crippled Children, the annual sale of Easter Seals will March 5, and continue until April 1. Sold at a penny each these seals a steadily increasing share of the of discovery, care, cure, education, training, placement, and prevention of crippled children.

Based on a sketch by Donahy, cartoonist of the Cleveland Dealer, this year's seal pictures fram of Easter lilies a boy with crutch sitting patiently before Door of Opportunity, which is slightly ajar. Above are the "Open Wide the Door," and below Crippled Children.

Many buyers of these Easter Seals doubtless will be reminded by phrase "Open Wide the Door" favorite old hymn that goes like

"Let a little sunshine in,
Let a little sunshine in,
Clear the darkened windows,
Open wide the door.
Let a little sunshine in."

Many will find themselves hum or singing this refrain, which is admirably into the whole spirit of Easter Seal for 1934, and of the humanitarian movement which it supports.

Each year more states and communities participate in the sale of Crippled Children Seals; and by the sale more people not only become of seals, but they also develop a keener interest in what the stand for and what they make. Ninety per cent of the proceeds main in Chilton County to help and extend the established program of work for physically handicapped girls and boys. The remittances to the International Society for Crippled Children, Inc., which sponsors the seal sale and spurs the wide interest in the whole problem of treating and preventing crippled

THE NEW special Sunday rates for out-of-town calls provide an unusually low cost long distance service all day Sunday for both Person-to-Person and Station-to-Station service.

Another new feature is the introduction of a reduced night rate period every night after 7 P.M., on Person-to-Person long distance service. Formerly, reduced night rates were in effect only on Station-to-Station service, but now reduced night rates are in effect every night after 7 P.M., and all day Sunday on Both Person-to-Person and Station-to-Station service.

Take advantage of these bargain hours to keep in close personal touch with out-of-town relatives and friends by telephone. There is likely some one who would greatly enjoy a telephone visit with you tonight. Ask "long distance" for rates. You will probably be happily surprised to learn how much you can save by calling during the bargain hours.

Church News

Rev. A. E. Middlebrooks, Minister

Sunday is one of the BIG days of the year. At the eleven o'clock hour the Church School Day program will be held in which a large number will participate. In the evening at seven o'clock the young people will observe Anniversary Day. They will have charge of the entire program. The public is cordially invited to both of these services.

This week every member of the church will receive an envelope of Fellowship League of Sharing. If you fail to get one please see the pastor

by Sunday. We are in the Lenten season and it is a time of special denial and sharing as we emulate the life of Jesus. This period climaxes with Easter

Sunday. Please keep your envelope and share and save one penny per meal from March 8 to April 12 (Easter) and bring the amount in your envelope on that date to the church. This is our special Lenten offering for the beneficence. Such an offering was taken last year in this manner. Children not members of the church are asked to save and share one penny per day during this period.

The pastor is planning to have pre-

-Easter services each night of the week

April 5-12. Further announcements will be made a little later.

National Council Of Catholic Women Held Conference In Clanton On Last Sunday

The Montgomery Deany of the National Council of Catholic Women, held its conference in Clanton on Sunday, March 1, with Our Lady's Guild as host organization of which Mrs. Anna Phalin of Thorsby is president.

The meeting opened with High Mass at 10 a. m., celebrated by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. James B. Rogers, V. F., pastor of St. Peter's Church in Montgomery, in the parlor of the Wilson Hotel, which was converted into a chapel for the occasion.

The Rev. H. C. Cazalas delivered a most forceful sermon on Catholic Action. The Mass was sung by St. Peter's choir from Montgomery.

The first business session was called to order in the parlor of the Wilson Hotel at noon—Miss Ann Bradford of Selma, Deany President presided. Rev. James B. Rogers, V. F., gave the invocation.

Mayor Jones of Clanton delivered a most cordial address of welcome to the women of the Deany. and Miss Mary Courtney Jones welcomed them in the name of our Lady's Guild.

Miss Flora Elder, president of the Montgomery club responded graciously to these addresses.

The regular business was featured by reports from the clubs in Montgomery, Selma, Greenville, Troy and Clanton.

Luncheon was served in the spacious dining room of the Wilson Hotel at 1 o'clock. Blue and white, the colors of our Lady and of the Diocese, prevailed in the table place cards and decorations. The tables were centered with white carnations, and the place of each guest marked with a flower. Covers were laid for 78 and a most delightful course luncheon was served. Mrs. Hugh Jones was toast-mistress. Brief addresses were made by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Rogers, V. F., who also gave the invocation. The Rev. Herman Cazalas, the Rev. A. W. Terminiell and a number of Deany members.

This was followed by a Major Bowes Amateur Hour with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Rogers acting as Major Bowes. The Rev. A. W. Terminiell returned thanks.

The main feature of the afternoon session, which convened at 2:30 in the parlor of the hotel, were the presentation of the gavel by the Rev. H. C. Cazalas and an invitation extended by Mrs. Richardson of Greenville to meet there in July.

The ladies felt honored to have Mrs. Lucas, Diocesan President, Mrs. Grubb and Mrs. Neville of Birmingham as guests on this occasion.

An appreciation of thanks was extended to the management of the hotel for the perfect service and courtesies extended.

Adjournment was followed by a tea given at the home of Mrs. Hugh Jones.

SINGING AT COURTHOUSE NEXT SUNDAY AFTERNOON

There will be regular monthly singing at the courthouse next Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock. The chairman, Mr. Jesse C. Jones extends an invitation to all singers to attend. If you have a new Showalter or Stamps book, be sure to bring it along, or if anyone has some other kind of book, you will be welcome to bring it along; the more the better. Quartets have a special invitation to attend.

Answering an emergency call to attend a woman taken ill at a theatre, Dr. Rance O'Neal of West Point, Ga., found the patient to be his wife. She died before he reached her side.

Son Of Late Physician Ranking Cadet G.C.M.

Among ten cadets at the Gulf Coast Military Academy, Gulfport, Miss., who lead the school in scholastic attainments with an average of above 93.8 in all their studies for the first semester is found the name of a Clanton youth, Joe Hall Johnson.

Joe Hall is the son of Mrs. Arthur Johnson and the late Dr. Arthur Johnson. To be among ten outstanding cadets in a school of more than 400 enrollment is an accomplishment of which young Johnson has a right to be proud, and no doubt his friends in Clanton will share his pride.

Completing his work at the Gulf Coast Military Academy this year, Joe Hall is planning to begin his studies for his degree in medicine. The Johnson family is often referred to as "a family of doctors" and Joe Hall's decision to follow in his father's footsteps is a worthy ambition.

To Discuss Control Of Diseases And Common Insects

A letter mailed out this week by County Agent J. W. Fant, calling a meeting at the courthouse in Clanton and one at Jemison to discuss the control of common insects and diseases that attack fruits and vegetables is as follows:

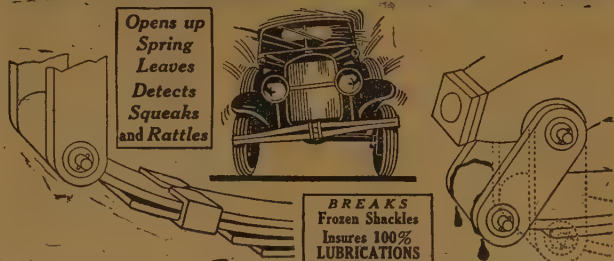

Dear Sir:

I am calling a meeting at the Court House in Clanton, 7:30 p.m., and one at Jemison at 4:00 p.m., Friday, March 6th, for the purpose of discussing the control of common insects and diseases that attack fruit and vegetables.

We will be glad to have all who are interested in the control of insects and diseases of fruits and vegetables, and we especially invite those who are producing fruits.

Very truly yours,

Democratic Women From Eleven States Will Meet In Tampa, Fla., March 19th and 20th

Democratic women from eleven states will meet in Tampa Fla. March 19th and 20th to lay plans for the coming campaign and bask in Florida's famous sunshine. A regional conference women from the following states will be in attendance: Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky, West Virginia, Maryland, and Florida. Almost a full week of educational meetings and sightseeing has been arranged for those who make the trip. A two day intensive program, designed to encourage women in a study of governmental affairs and to strengthen organization lines for the '36 campaign will precede a week-end trip to Havana and a subsequent tour of the Florida coast.

Heading the list of those who will address the conference is Miss Josephine Roche, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury and one of the finest women speakers in the country. Her subject is the "Public Health Program." Mrs. James H. Wolfe, Director of the Women's Division of the Democratic National Committee, will come from Washington to speak at the conference, and Mrs. Charles Tillet, Jr., of Raleigh, North Carolina, will lead a panel discussion. Mrs. Hortense K. Wells, Florida's National Committeewoman, is sponsoring the meeting.

Music Program Creates Interest At Verbena

According to Hollis Hiten, director of the Southern Aces Orchestra, the musical program put on at Verbena last Saturday was a success, with much interest being manifested for this and future programs. Mr. Hiten, in cooperation with others in Verbena, has instituted a series of weekly musical programs along with the recreational activities being sponsored in this community.

Several prizes were awarded last Saturday to fiddlers who participated in the contest, and more are expected to be given next Saturday. Verbena business houses make the awarding of prizes possible. In addition to the fiddlers contest and orchestra music, several other features of recreation will be on the program next Saturday, March 7, such as bicycle races, relay races, and other types of recreation suitable for both young and old. Everybody is most cordially invited to attend, either for the entire afternoon or for an part of the program. No admission is charged.

to Havana has been planned. Immediately following the close of the second day's session, visitors will leave by car for Miami, via the famous Tamiami Trail through the Florida Everglades, to embark on the S. S. Florida. Two days will be spent in Havana, where special entertainment features will be offered. Returning to Miami the group will proceed to Coral Gables, Palm Beach and St. Augustine to stop at the renowned Fountain of Youth—and on to Jacksonville. There the Mayor, John T. Alsop, Jr., and the Democratic Organization will entertain for them.

For those making the trip to Cuba, a motor-trip from Tampa to Jacksonville has been arranged.

FOR COMMISSIONER, DISTRICT 4

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of member of the Commissioners Court of Chilton County, Alabama, from District No. 4, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held in Chilton County on the 5th day of May, 1936.

My record is well known and I will deeply appreciate your vote and influence in my behalf.

H. N. SMITH

 reputation has become widely known as a fair-dealer, paying good wages and securing good labor.
 At one time Mr. Smith was also in the cotton and fertilizer business and stated that he remembers the time when farmers of this county were more or less up against a financial situation that was hard. Mr. Smith furnished many of them with needed fertilizers, hauling it to their farms with no charge and sacrificing a part of his profit in each deal so that crops could move on as usual.
 Mr. Smith has been a member of the Democratic Executive Committee of this county for something like twelve years. He has always taken an active part and kept interest in those matters that were of interest to the welfare of the county, and has made a success of his own business.

FREE CUBAN TRIPS

 a small amount of work.
 This is no contest. Any young lady, married or single, eighteen years old or older who will bring to the News 125 one-year cash subscriptions between now and June 1st will join the Alabama Press Association on its special train and the S.S. Cuba on this week of fun and vacationing—with transportation, meals and hotel accommodations paid for.

Present plans are to leave Montgomery on Sunday morning, June 14th at seven o'clock, spend four days and four nights in Havana, returning to Montgomery on the following Saturday night, early.
 To make this proposition a bit more attractive, the News will give to those persons who fail to reach the required number of subscriptions a twenty percent commission on all they sell.
 The time to start is NOW. Start selling subscriptions, new or renewals. You have three months in which to do this and plan to spend a week of real vacationing with the jolliest crowd of Alabama people you have ever associated with.

If further information is desired, get in touch with the News, or write F. W. Stanley, Greenville Ala., or to E. C. Hall, Alexander City Ala., the committee on arrangements.
 To those who plan to join the Press on this trip, taking advantage of the low rate of $73.15, should advise the News at the earliest possible date. Reservations will probably be limited.

 tered politics in this county in many years. They include successful business men who seek only to serve the county and who are progressive, conservative and who are not seeking any political or financial gain through the office they are seeking for.
 The two districts, Third and Fourth, from which Commissioners will be elected this year have produced six and four candidates each, respectively, on the Democratic ticket which will call for a run-off in the June 9th primary.
 In the race for Congressman from this district there are only two candidates this time—Hon. W. B. Oliver having declined to run. Only the Democratic ballots will carry the names of these two and the candidates for U. S. Senator.

 out this section.
 In addition to the attractive arrangement of the automobile end of the business, they have added a new and modern service station, located at the front of the building. A large advertisement from the H. N. Smith Motor Co., which appears in this issue, tells more of the improvements they have made for the benefit of the many customers they now serve, and extends a cordial invitation to everyone to visit their new home. An outstanding feature of the business will be the complete one-stop service station where all modern conveniences have been installed for the pleasure of their customers. Mr. Smith stated that this station will remain open day and night. It is easily reached from the highway with plenty of room.
 Having used the products of the Standard Oil Co. for a number of years, operating lumber trucks and cars, I am partial to the Standard line, Mr. Smith stated, "and am recommending it to our customers."

 fession. While attending the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, he was a member of the Alpha Psi fraternity, a coveted honor.

Following his completing his course at Auburn, Dr. Parrish returned to his home county to make his residence and follow his work as a veterinarian and no doubt has been most instrumental in saving thousands of dollars for cattle owner and owners of livestock in this section through his untiring efforts. He has been practicing here for approximately nineteen years.

Dr. Parrish is intensely interested in the educational affairs of his county, and it is through this interest, he stated, that brought about his decision to enter this race.

He is a farmer and a business man with broad vision. At present he is serving as chairman of the Board of Trustees of the City schools and is familiar with the local situation. He is a member of the Concord Baptist Church, and a member of the Alabama Veterinary Medical Association.

The confidence shown in Dr. Parrish by the people of the county, is proved by the large and extensive practice he has here, which has been built through fair dealing. Dr. Parrish stated that he would like to get around to see as many persons as he could, but that he realized his duties would not permit this, and he would be forced to attend to his work of "doctoring the cows, horses and hogs" over the county during the course of the campaign.

At all times, Mr. Dawson has been a booster for the educational system of this county, taking an active part in all moves toward the improvement of the schools and other progressive steps for his county.

At present Mr. Dawson is engaged in the grocery and general mercantile business in Maplesville, as well as operating a fine farm in that section. There is an interesting story behind the climb to success that Mr. Dawson has made—and made himself. In other words, he can truthfully be termed a self-made man, and his present standing is evidence that he is a good business man with splendid judgment.

A tax-paying citizen of Chilton County, Mr. Dawson stated to the News, in making his announcement, that he is free to assure the people that if he is elected, they can depend on complete fairness in his administration of his duties as Commissioner, representing the Third District.

Mr. Dawson stated he hoped to get around to see all the voters possible before the first primary.

worthwhile. He was reared on a farm in this county, securing his own education and degree in his chosen profession.

Through his broad experience, Dr. Parnell has placed himself in a position to know and understand the needs of his people. Especially is he thoroughly capable of knowing the essentials of a healthy county. He is a member of the Chilton County Medical Society and respected by his colleagues. Dr. Parnell is a man who stands for progressiveness, having demonstrated his opinions on this through his own business and profession where he has made an outstanding success, a tribute not paid to every man. The many successes of Dr. Parnell who have consistently urged him to seek office as one of Chilton County's Commissioners, stated they have long realized the need of a business man of Dr. Parnell's calibre on the governing body of the county's affairs who seeks only to be of service to his county—to think and work for the better interests of the county, with no thought of political gain.

LOCAL CCC BASKET BALL TEAM TO PLAY MITCHELL DAM THUR.

The local CCC Blue Jackets will play the fast stepping Quintette from Mitchell Dam in what promises to be one of the best games of the season. Both teams have a good record and the Mitchell Dam Cardinals have been going places in the Independent tournaments of Selma and Montgomery. The local CCC team has played 23 games and won sixteen which is an excellent record. The Cardinal team is composed of ex-high school stars from over the county and also out of the county and when they meet the local Blue Jackets they should give the public some good basketball. The game is to be played in the local High School Gym. The admission will be fifteen and ten cents. Time, seven-thirty.

Chilton Co. Exchange Adds To Floor Space

Steady Increase In Business Of Local Concern Necessitates Adding Another Buiding To Its Already Large Quarters

In the future, customers of the Chilton County Exchange, Inc., of Clanton will receive more efficient and prompt service, according to Evan Parrish, manager of this concern.

The Chilton County Exchange, Inc., will now occupy an additional building in order to take care of the growing business it has been enjoying for some time. Arrangements have been made for this expansion and Mr. Parrish stated he intends to have the new quarters all ready by the latter part of the week.

The building formerly occupied by the post office, located on Main Street, just below the present location of the Exchange has been secured and a part of the business will be housed there.

Mr. Parrish stated that with this improvement, he will have two cream testing stations, employing two testers and two operators giving those who sell their cream prompt service, and avoiding any delay in the testing of their product. The cream stations will be located in the new annex, the old post office building, which will also be used for the storage of feed, etc.

Since the founding of the Chilton County Exchange, with Mr. Parrish as manager, it has continuously showed a tremendous gain in business and has grown by leaps and bounds until it is now one of the most outstanding places of business in Clanton.

Mr. Parrish has ever been on the alert to see that patrons of this place of business received the best service possible at all times, and this new expansion of quarters will be a splendid step toward the goal Mr. Parrish hopes to reach for the convenience of the farmers of the county.

The office and headquarters of the Exchange will remain in the same place as heretofore. Mr. Parrish stated that the department for seeds, fertilizers etc., is located.

Mr. Parrish stated also that he appreciates the growth in his business and wishes to extend his sincere appreciation to the people of Chilton County and surrounding areas for the confidence they place in the Exchange. A large advertisement from the Exchange appears elsewhere in this issue of the News, giving further information.

HON. PETE JARMAN, JR.

ONE IS KILLED IN ACCIDENTS DURING WEEK

Five Persons Are Injured
In Automobile Wrecks
Near Here

Festus Jackson Scott, 43-year-old World War veteran was killed outright early Tuesday night when the car in which he was riding overturned near Jemison, planning him underneath.

Russell Peterson, driver of the car, suffered a fracture to his left shoulder and severe cuts and bruises about the body. He was given treatment at the office of Dr. H.N. Franklin in Thorby. Returning from a fishing trip on the Coosa River, the car overturned against an embankment as they rounded a curve about two and one-half miles east of Jemison. Both men lived at Jemison and are well known throughout this section.

Scott was widely known in Central Alabama as one of the best amateur baseball players in this section. During the World War he served his country overseas.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. from the Jemison Baptist Church with the Rev. Maurice Hodgins officiating. Burial will be in the churchyard cemetery with Martin & Sons in charge.

He is survived by five sisters, Mrs. W.G. Atkinson, Mrs. F.T. Atkinson, Mrs. J.A. Cocker, Mrs. L.R. Cobb, all of Jemison, and Mrs. James Philpot. (Continued to Back Page)

QUARTERLY CONFERENCE TO BE HELD AT WHITE CITY SUN.

The second quarterly conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, of the Verbena Charge will be held at the White City Methodist Church Sunday, March 15, according to the Rev. Cecil Ellis, pastor of the Verbena church.

Following preaching at 11 o'clock by D.D. Slaughter, presiding elder, dinner will be served at the church, and the conference will begin promptly at 3:30 o'clock, it was stated. All officials of the several churches are requested to be present.

JOE MULLINS RETURNS TO HOME COUNTY TO MAKE HOME AND TO PRACTICE LAW

Has Opened His Offices In New Mullins Building
In Clanton

Among the new-comers to Clanton's business and professional life, is the Hon. Joe Mullins, attorney. Perhaps it is an error to say that Mr. Mullins is a new-comer to Clanton and Chilton County, because he was born here, received his early education here and has a wide circle of friends among Chilton County people.

The son of the late Tipton Mullins, who was for a number of years one of the leading attorneys of Clanton, he is no stranger in Clanton. He attended the Gulf Coast Military Academy, from there going to the University of Alabama, where he received his A. B. degree. He studied law at Columbia University in New York, completing his studies in the Spring of 1929.

In his office in the new Mullins Building on Main Street over A & P Store Mr. Mullins comes here highly recommended from those he has served as a partner in the practice of law for six years. He was a member of the firm of Mullins & Derramus, one of the outstanding law firms in Birmingham, composed of Clarence Mullins and Harry Derramus, both former Chilton County men.

Mr. Mullins stated that he would engage in the general practice of law. He with Mrs. Mullins, a former Louisiana resident, have already moved to Clanton to make their home in the Gowin Addition and will become affiliated with the social life of the city and county.

"SKY HIGH" TO BE SHOWN

WARNING IS GIVEN DRIVERS
WHILE DRUNK

Persons Driving Automobiles
While Intoxicated Will Get Heavy Fines

According to records of arrests, in this county during recent weeks, there is reason to believe that an increasing number of persons are attempting to operate motor vehicles on the highways while under the influence of intoxicants.

The number of arrests during the past week or ten days on charges of driving while intoxicated has reached the dozen mark. State Patrolmen Wallace Waites and Earl Henley reported that they arrested six on this charge during last week, all in Chilton County. Jail records at the office of Sheriff J. R. Hardy show no less than half dozen arrests on the same charge, and city police officers have also made two or three arrests for this offense.

These officers seem to concur in the opinion that there has been an increase in the number of drivers who attempt to operate their machines on the highways while drinking whiskey. Much of its existing condition they are blaming on the fact that motorists imbibe in Montgomery or Birmingham and are really just reaching the drunken stage by the time they get to Chilton County.

Patrolmen Waites and Henley declared that they mean to show no mercy to men and women who so far forget the dangers incurred to the lives of others that they will drive a car while intoxicated. "It is the strict orders of (continued to back page)"

CIRCUIT COURT WILL CONVENE HERE MONDAY

Large Number Of Cases Are On The Docket For Coming Term

Circuit Court will convene here next Monday March 16, according to information from the office of Circuit Court Clerk J.C. Pattillo.

A two-week session is scheduled, with the first week devoted to the trial of criminal cases and the second to hearing civil suits. This is one of the largest dockets to face the court here in some time, it is understood.

FINES IMPOSED ON FIVE IN CITY COURT BY MAYOR

Five faced Mayor C. Fenn Jones in City Court Monday morning and after entering pleas of guilty were fined. The offenses were listed as two for public drunkenness and three for disorderly conduct.

Friends of R. J. Alexander will regret to learn that he has been confined with illness to his home here.

Selected For Beauty
Section By College

MISS HELEN ROBERTS

Announcement has just been made of the Huntington College girls whose pictures will appear in the beauty section of "Bells And Pomegranates" student annual publication for this year. Among those chosen for this honor is Miss Helen Roberts, daughter of Mrs. Elma Roberts, and one of Clanton's most popular, talented and attractive young ladies. The final choice following a student vote, was made by Mrs. Bibb Graves, wife of Alabama's Governor.

Don't Wait Too Late To Get Started To Havana

Free Trips, Expenses Paid, Offered
By News For Few Subscribers

For a small amount of work, some young ladies of Chilton County are going to enjoy a week's trip to Havana, Cuba—with expenses paid by the Chilton County News.

Leaving Montgomery early on the morning of June 14th, spending four days and nights in Havana, enjoying the many courtesies extended to newspapermen and their friends, and returning to Montgomery the following Saturday night, is the outline of the week.

For a mere matter of only 125 one-year subscriptions to the News—these trips await these young ladies who will be properly chaperoned. This is the annual summer outing for members of the Alabama Press Association, their families and friends.

Any young lady, eighteen years old or older, who is interested in this call at the News office for the few instructions—NOW. This is no contest—first come first served. Follow the News each week for information about this wonderful trip.

MURRAY-BELL HARDWARE ADDS TO FLOOR SPACE

Workmen are busy this week erecting an annex to the building occupied by the Murray-Bell Hardware Co., here which will add a great deal more space to this growing concern.

The Murray-Bell Hardware Co., is among Clanton's newest business concerns and since its opening here, has been enjoying a continual growth in business, according to Mr. J. B. Bell, the general manager of the store.

The annex to the store, which is at the rear will enable Mr. Bell to add to his already complete establishment and provide more space for the displaying of the large line of merchandise they carry at all times.

SHERIFF AND DEPUTIES ARE HAVING BUSY TIME RECENTLY

The sheriff's force has been having a rather busy time for the past week or ten days. Records in the office show that 22 persons have been arrested within this time and 12 are still being held in jail. The others have been released on bond.

Offenses listed were: four for driving automobiles while intoxicated; four for violation of the prohibition laws; three for grand larceny; three for burglary; two for assault and battery; and one for each of the following charges: public drunkenness, assault with intent to murder, trespassing after warning, and crazy.

Musical Comedy At High School To Be

Splendid

WILL BE PRESENTED
HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

A plot, woven about an exciting airplane race, swiftly moving action, exciting climaxes, pretty songs, hilariously funny situations, comic characters, snappy tunes and clever choruses in attractive costumes—all will furnish plenty of variety and entertainment in "Sky High," local talent three-act play to be presented Friday night, March 13, at the Chilton County High School auditorium at eight o'clock.

Reserved seats may be obtained now at the Upchurch Drug Store without extra charge.

This production is sponsored by the Clanton Pilot Club for the benefit of the Crippled Children's Fund. This fund is to help crippled children of Chilton County, who, otherwise, might go thru life as cripples. This fund pays for the hospitalization of the crippled children and is not used for salaries or doctors' services. If Chilton County can raise $250 the federal government will match that amount for our county. The local committee is responsible for the expenditure of the funds, and cases for care are selected by this committee upon recommendation of the Department of Public Welfare and the Department of Health.

"Sky High" includes much of the best talent of Clanton. Leading roles are played by Miss Irene Smitherman and Julian Evans. J. R. Kemp is the pilot of the new wonder plane "Sky High"; Dr. Jesse Sam Gowan is manager of the Speed Travel Air Corporation; C. (Continued to Back Page)

MCKEE BROTHERS TO MODERNIZE SERVICE STATN

Work Is Now Underway To Improve Local Sinclair
Filling Station

An extensive remodeling program is being underway at the McKee Bros. Service Station in Clanton, which when completed will make this one of the most modern service stations anywhere in this section of the country, is the belief of Thomas W. McKee, manager of the establishment. For some time this work has been contemplated, he stated, and with the opening of spring weather, it is hoped that it can be completed within a few days.

Plans for the remodeling include rearrangement of the floor plan of the station. Erected ten or twelve years ago when automobiles were built higher from the ground, more recent models have experienced trouble in approaching and leaving the station. Correction of this is one of the main reasons for the work that is being carried on now, young McKee explained. When the remodeling program is completed, there will be few filling stations in the country that will afford better service to its patrons.

The entirety of the present floor plans will be changed and the gas pumps are being rearranged to afford greater convenience to the motorists who come by for service. These pumps will be placed so as to permit service from either side and will be arranged to care for as many as four cars at once without crowding.

Oyster Supper With Music At Jemison

Announcement has been made that on Friday evening, March 13th, the ladies of the Jemison Methodist Church will sponsor an oyster supper and ice cream supper at the Jemison High School auditorium. This affair will have as a feature a program of special music arrangements. The public is cordially invited to attend this worthy and entertaining program which begins at six o'clock.

PLYER-NIVENS MARRIAGE IS AN EVENT OF WIDE INTEREST

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Plyer announce the marriage this week of their daughter, Pauline, to James F. (Dutch) Nivens. The ceremony took place recently.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Nivens are widely known in this section, both completing high school work at the Chilton County High School. Mr. Nivens is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Nivens, and for some time has held a responsible position with the Alred Drug Company here.

The couple will make their home in Clanton.

TWENTY TRUE BILLS RETURNED BY JURY

In compliance with demands made by the recent session of the Chilton County Grand Jury, Sheriff J. R. Hardy began a sweeping clean-up campaign of all slot machines and other forms of gambling devices in the county this week. This includes all types of machines operated by a coin in the slot, he explained.

Immediately after hearing the report of the grand jury, Sheriff Hardy began notifying operators of these devices that they must be rid of them no later than Monday of this week. He declared that he did not want to be too severe with them as the county and state had accepted license fees for their operation, so naturally the operators had reason to believe they were within the law.

Mayor C. Fenn Jones, when told of the grand jury's recommendation that these machines be seized and their operators charged with operating gaming devices, declared that the City of Clanton will refund all licenses paid to the city. "I do not believe it is right to sell a man a license to operate a business and then tell him that it is in violation of the law without making some retribution for funds accepted from him in the form of licenses," the Clanton mayor averred.

Special attention was given by the grand jury to the operation of slot machines in the report returned to Judge Glover. Following is a copy of the report:

STATE OF ALABAMA,
CHILTON COUNTY.

Circuit Court of said County and State.

To the Hon. Arthur Glover as Judge of said Court:

We, the Grand Jury, empanelled for the January Term, have completed our investigation of all matters that we felt needed our immediate attention and herewith submit the following report:

During our investigation we have considered 28 cases and have examined 57 witnesses and are returning herewith 20 true bills.

We have made a personal inspection of the county jail and believe it to be sufficiently safe for the keeping of (Continued to Back Page)

ED BRUCE IS LAID TO REST THIS WEEK

Widely Known Farmer And Citizen Died Last Tuesday Night

S.E. Bruce one of Chilton County's most widely known and respected farmers, died last Tuesday night at his home in North Clanton, following an illness of pneumonia. He was stricken about ten days ago and little hope for his recovery was held from the first.

Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 11 o'clock from the Clanton Baptist Church with Dr. S.J. Ezell officiating. Burial will be in the Clanton Cemetery with Martin & Sons in charge. Fellow members of the Woodmen of the World will be in charge of the services at the grave.

Mr. Bruce had lived in this vicinity all of his 69 years and was known to thousands of people in the county. With his wife, who died about a year ago, he was instrumental in bringing several coveted honors to his county in the form of awards at State fairs for agricultural products.

Surviving him are one son, Homer Bruce, and two daughters, Mrs. Ben Sims and Mrs. Ida Huff, all of Clanton.

THREE SENTENCED TO PEN BY JUDGE GLOVER LAST FRIDAY

Sentences of from two to three years were imposed by Judge Arthur Glover last week on Charlie Roger, Alvin Barber, and John Spence. All three pleaded guilty to charges of grand larceny. Roger also entered a plea of guilty to a charge of violating the prohibition laws.

Mrs. R. I. Harrison has been spending several days here with her mother, Mrs. M. R. Orr.

The Country Newspaper

If you would know what Americans are really thinking about, get off the highways and amble leisurely along the byways. Seek out the towns and villages; forget the cities and their suburbs. If your time is limited, buy a copy of the paper published in each of the towns through which you travel. Carry them home with you and read them. It is a simple way to remove the veneer of sophistication with which the city has coated you, and to bring you back to earth again.

There is no better sounding board of public opinion than the editorial page of the country weekly. All too often the perspective of the editor of a metropolitan daily is, paradoxically enough, harrowed by the very size of his huge city. He can't see the woods for the trees. On the other hand, the country editor follows a homely pattern of life, and his thinking, reflected on the editorial page has its roots in sincerity, simplicity, and unsuspected wisdom that his fellow editor has sacrificed on the altar of urbanity.

Don't laugh if you read in the news pages the unadorned story that Farmer Jones has lost his cow. What do you think your country cousins think of your plight when they chance to see a city edition that discloses the extent to which you have lost your self-respect in a story describing your boondoggling activities? While you read about manners and morals, they read about men and women—looms that spin your cloth. The commas and semi-colons may not be there, but for that very reason the meaning is less obscure.

When you have finished reading the country papers you brought home with you, you may find yourself hoping Farmer Jones finds his cow, that Mrs. Brown's newly arrived son—her fourth child—lives a long and healthy life, that Ezra Smith, grocer, finds the rascal who rifled his cash drawer. And you may find yourself a little closer to earth.—Industrial Press Service.

Your City's Fate May "Hang On A Thread"

When the fire gong rings and the engines thunder down the street, life and property depend upon how fast a stream of water can be sent crashing into its natural enemy—fire. What would happen if in a crisis the firemen were unable to fit their hose to the hydrants because the threads of the couplings didn't match?

Just such a situation occurred during the Baltimore conflagration of 1905. When the fire reached such dimensions that the local apparatus could not cope with it, a plea for aid was sent to New York, Philadelphia and Washington. These cities rushed fire companies aboard special trains to their stricken sister. But when the engines arrived, it was impossible to hook up to a Baltimore hydrant, so they were forced to stand idly by while the city burned.

A contrasting picture was presented in 1928 at the conflagration in Fall River, Mass. Here, the call for assistance brought response from 24 towns, and 37 pieces of outside apparatus successfully connected their hose to the hydrants and engaged in the battle! This aid, and this only, saved Fall River from total destruction.

The fight for the adoption of the National Standard thread in all protected cities and towns was begun in 1919, under the leadership of the National Board of Fire Underwriters. Through its efforts many organizations were encouraged to work for standardization. Since 1920, hundreds of cities and towns have adopted the Standard thread, which means that another public-spirited job has been largely accomplished. No one knows how many lives and how much property have been spared from the flames as a result.

Republicans Would Borrow Equality For Farmers

Perhaps the most entertaining phenomenon of the political campaign is the recurrence of the thought that the Republicans' hope of victory lies in making their ticket and their platform as Democratic as possible.

Even the rock-bound New York Herald Tribune indorses the viewpoint of Doctor Nicholas Murray Butler, that unless the GOP borrows some candidates as well as some ideas from the other side it is likely to meet the fate of the old Whig party. The other day this stand-pat Republican paper in an editorial, beginning with the hypothesis that "the Republicans have an excellent chance of ousting Mr. Roosevelt next November," and petering down to the suggestion that "they are certain greatly to enlarge the Republican contingent in Congress," came to the conclusion that it was absolutely necessary that a Republican candidate, if elected, select a Cabinet regardless of past party affiliations.

The suggestion itself is an index of the small hope the chiefs of the opposition party have of success. If they thought they had a Chinaman's chance, does anybody suppose that they would contemplate giving up anything to the Democrats?

There is another and a funnier phase to the situation. Just which Democratic Cabinet officers in a Republican administration would bring even a handful of votes to the bewildered party of Hoover and Borah, and all the intermediate discordances who figure in the present Republican chaos?

No Lack Of Words

How often do we find difficulty in thinking of just the right word to express a certain idea? Even the greatest writers often stop to weigh their words in order to hit upon the most appropriate one, while few speakers can observe all the niceties of expression without writing out their speeches and memorizing them beforehand.

These difficulties are not due to any lack of words in the English language, however. Possibly it may be a result of our having too many to choose from. The latest unabridged dictionaries contain more than 400,000 words, and the list is increasing constantly.

Noah Webster's first dictionary, published in 1828, contained only about 70,000 words, the edition of 1864 included 114,000; that of 1890 about 175,000 as compared with the 400,000 recognized words of today.

A leading lexicographer estimates that the educated person of fair ability understands on an average about 50,000 words, but uses only a small part of that number in either speaking or writing. The mass of the people know and use less than 8,000 words out of the 400,000 available.

An interesting experiment is to inspect a few pages of an unabridged dictionary and count how many words out of a hundred you are really familiar with, both as to spelling and meaning. Try it.

MORAL ECHOES.

D. W. Haskew

The War Department of our government now has a proposition before it to tattoo the body of every American soldier in four different places. They propose to tattoo each shoulder and each hip. The purpose is very clear. This is done with the hope that in case of death in battle, they might be able to find enough of the body to identify the soldier and thus be able to tell his mother how beautifully and how heroically he passed away. This war, it seems that a mother should feel mighty friendly toward a system that proposes to mangle her son beyond recognition. That is what the war lords are saying. As for me I am against war now and forever.

We do not charge that there was criminality connected with the burning of those twenty negroes near Scottsboro, but there was evidence of criminal carelessness on the part of someone. To put a tank of gas and a bunch of prisoners together under lock and key and transport them over slippery roads was either ignorance or carelessness of the most awful type. Any six-year-old boy should know that when gas and a spark come into contact there is going to be an explosion. No one knows when a spark is going to be produced by a traveling truck. We will just say that this horrible accident was caused by carelessness, but that does no good in lifting the shame of that awful tragedy. It matters no how low and vile a human being may be, a respectable state has no right to lock them up with gas and transport them over dangerous roads. Carelessness—O' thou fiend of human life.

This is a time when "streamlining" is the rage in all methods of travel. The railroads have become interested and they are streamlining their trains. The manufacturers of automobiles have the craze and cars are being streamlined. Even those who produce aeroplanes see the importance of streamlining all of their machines. This is done in every case that the opposition of the air might be reduced. The less air that opposes the train, the car and the plane the faster the machine can travel. Why do we not learn the fine art of streamlining our characters for the heavenly travel. I am not surprised to see how slowly and how blunderingly some folks advance in Christian living. They have to overcome church indifference, love for the ways of the flesh, love of money and many other winds that blow against their soul life. Why not streamline your character, why not create a condition in your inner life that can not be touched by the things of this world? It pays to streamline the soul.

During the hard colds of this winter railroad men observed that the ice was forming in the tunnels so that trains would be in danger as they passed through. In order to keep the glass of the train from being broken they equipped a freight engine with guards and would run it through the tunnel just ahead of the mail trains to break the ice and make safe the passengers. Sabbath worship takes the place of that freight train engine in your life. You say that you can crash through Sunday without going to God's house for worship, but when you do it, you are sure to break out some of the windows of your soul. To make safe your travel in this cold world, you had better keep sabbath worship opening the way before you.

I saw a man who risked his life to show the world that he could roll a distance of a hundred yards on a suspended rope holding on by nothing but his teeth. He did it and the crowd admired and cheered. If a man can suspend himself in safety by the power of his jaws and the steadfastness of his teeth and roll across the square of a city, it is useless for folks to tell me that they just cannot be loyal to their church. Your feelings may knock your hands off the rope of loyalty, but grip that rope with your teeth and roll on to church.

From his cell window a prisoner in the county jail at Pocomah, Ia., saw a fire. He broke out, spread the alarm, then returned to the jail and is now a hero.

A Gospel Of Beauty

An extract from the "Gospel of Beauty" which the poet Vachel Lind-say distributed when on a walking trip through the South twenty years ago is quoted in The Progressive Farmer and is well worth reprinting here:

"The things most worth while are one's own heart and neighborhood. We should be the most democratic, the most beautiful, and the holiest in the world. The children now growing up should become devout gardeners or architects or landscape architects or teachers of dancing in the Greek spirit of musicians or novelists or poets or story-writers or craftsmen or wood-carvers or dramatists or actors or singers. They should find their talent and nurse it industriously. . . . They should, if led by the spirit, wander over the whole nation in search of the secret of democratic beauty with their hearts at the same time filled to overflowing with the righteousness of God. Then they should come back to their own hearth and neighborhood and gather a little circle of their own sort of workers about them and strive to make the neighborhood and home more beautiful and democratic and holy with their special art. . . . They should labor in their little circle, expecting neither rewards nor honors."

Lady's Painful Trouble Helped By Cardui

Why do so many women take Car-dual for the relief of functional pains at monthly times? The answer is that they want results such as Mrs.
Herbert W. Hunt, of Hulsville, Texas, describes. She writes: "My health wasn't good. I suffered from cramping. My pain would be so intense it would nauseate me. I would just drag around, so sluggish and 'do-less.' My mother decided to give me Cardui. I began to mend. That tired, sluggish feeling was gone and the pains disappeared. I can't praise Cardui too highly because I know it helped me."... If Cardui does not help YOU, consult a physician.

Aged Clanton Woman Dies Of Pneumonia

Mrs. Mary Jane Thompson, widow of the late J. J. Thompson and well-known resident of this section, died Sunday night about 7 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Katie Duncan, in Clanton, following an illness of pneumonia.
Mrs. Thompson was 81 years of age.
Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Mountain Springs Church with the Rev.
J. W. Entinger and the Rev. T. C. Cassady officiating. Burial was in the adjoining cemetery with Martin & Sons in charge of the services.

Surviving are: four son, J. T. Thompson, H. F. Thompson, both of Clanton, Lindsey Thompson and Daniel Thompson of Birmingham; two daughters,
Mrs. Katie Duncan, Clanton, and Mrs.
O. L. Mims, Birmingham; and one brother, Lindsey Smith, of Weogukea.
The following grandsons were pallbearers: Jim Thompson, Frank Thompson, J. Reid Thompson, J. D. Thompson, Henry Thompson, and O. L. Mims.
Flower girls were her granddaughters,
Misses Lona Thompson, Lois Thompson, Mary Nell Thompson, Louise Thompson, Sallie Thompson, and Pauline Mims.

Christian Endeavor News

The Christian Endeavor Society had a social at the home of Mrs. C. E. Williams on Saturday evening. During the first part of the evening games were played out of doors. The group then came inside where table games such as ping pong, carroms, etc., were enjoyed. Large platters of home-made fudge were passed. The social closed with the singing of "Blessed Be the Tie that Binds" and a prayer by Miss Davison.

The Christian Endeavor Society had its regular service on Sunday evening at 6:30. The topic was "Our Relationship and Understanding of God." The program was divided into three parts: Why people seek to know God; How God is revealed to us; and the need of making our relationship to God a vital part of our lives. The program closed with a poem read by Miss Fairbank, and the song, "We Need Thee Every Hour." The program was under the leadership of Miss Lois Rister.

John Thompson Writes To Voters Of County

To the Voters of Chilton County, Alabama:

Owing to the illness and death of my mother, I have not been able to get out to see many of the voters yet in my race for Commissioner of the 4th District of Chilton County.

I feel that a majority of the voters of the County know me, as it has been my pleasure in my line of business in the past to have come in contact with a great number of people in the county. In this race I am not endeavoring to put on any "extra front," but want the people to investigate my past and if they feel that I am able to fill the position for which I am asking, I shall put forth my best efforts to serve the people well and shall handle the duties of this office in the most business-like and profitable manner possible to the best interest of the people and county. I favor spending the taxpayers' money wherever possible with the people of the County.

I trust that within the next few days I shall be able to get out and visit as many of the voters as possible before election day. However, should I not be able to see each one of you in person I earnestly solicit your vote and influence.

Yours very truly,

JOHN T. THOMPSON.

ROAD TO ROCKFORD AND GOODWATER IN FINE SHAPE

A recent trip of a representative of the News over the state highway from Clanton to Rockford showed that the road is now in excellent condition after leaving the pavement just south of Cooper. The ferry service at the river is now also improved, and unless heavy rains set in, the gravel highway in good condition.

Citizens Warned Not To Buy Gov't Property

The authorities of the local CCC Camp are taking this means to warn the citizens of Clanton and adjoining communities against buying government property from members of the CCC. This fact is being brought to the attention of those who might not know of the Federal law and the penalty for same. This property does not belong to the members but to the government. Any one found guilty of buying this government property will be prosecuted the same as the member selling it under the Federal law, which provides a heavy fine as well as imprisonment. This announcement is made for the protection for those who might not know the true circumstances.

GOV. IN OFFICE; SIGNS 4 BILLS

Spends Hour And A Half At Capitol; Still Too Weak For Official Grind

The first four measures passed during the present extra session of the Legislature to receive the final approval of Gov. Graves, were signed by the Chief Executive yesterday afternoon. They were three local bills applying to Chilton County, and one general bill.

The first of the local bills provides for fixing the compensation of each of the county commissioners at a salary of $75 a month and eliminates all per diem and travel expenses allowances; the second creates the office of County Road Supervisor, provides that official must be a qualified engineer and specifies that his salary shall be not less than $2,400 or more than $3,000 a year; the third requires the advertising for not less than two weeks, of bids for all purchases made for the county in excess of $150 and provides that purchase must be made from the lowest bidder.

Authority is given in the general bill to the mayor and aldermen or city council in cities and towns in the State having a population of over 2,500, where there is no city board of education, to sell school property not used for school purposes.

These measures with a number of others passed by both Houses of the Legislature, were taken to the Governor's residence during the afternoon by his personal legal adviser, Lawrence H. Lee. The others will probably be acted on by the Governor today.

Gov. Graves who is rapidly regaining his strength after his recent two weeks illness with influenza, spent about an hour and a half in his office at the capitol yesterday morning but did not return in the afternoon.

Gov. Graves Endorses Sale Of Easter Seals

A PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR

Whereas, we have increasingly large numbers of children in the State who suffer from handicapping conditions incident to birth, disease, or accident; and

Whereas, there is great need for bringing this information to the attention of the public to the end that the moral and financial support of our citizens may be enlisted in behalf of the program for the rehabilitation of crippled children as conducted by the State Department of Education; and Whereas, the Alabama Society for Crippled Children, civic clubs, other organizations, and individuals have from time to time contributed materially to the support of the State's program for the benefit of crippled children; and

Whereas, a sale of seals for the welfare of crippled children is conducted nationally at Easter time:

Now, therefore, I, Bibb Graves, Governor of Alabama, hereby proclaim the week preceding Easter April 5-12, next, as

CRIPPLED CHILDREN'S WEEK IN ALABAMA

Our citizens generally are urged to respond liberally to this annual appeal for funds with which to assist in carrying out an adequate program for the treatment, care and education of the crippled children of the State.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and have caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, this 28th day of January, 1936.

6-8-4 THE Cotton Fertilizer

The Alabama Agricultural Experiment Station (Auburn) has shown the superiority of 6-8-4 over other grades of cotton fertilizers. The following results are the average of five-year tests at eight places in the state. Details of the experiments are given in Alabama Agricultural Experiment Station's Circular No. 70, "Grades of Fertilizers for Corn and Cotton."

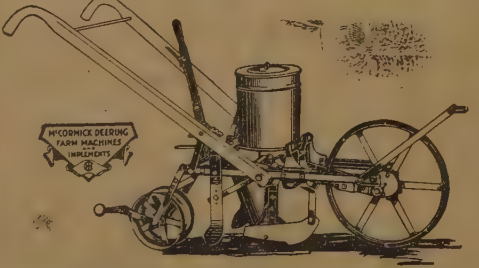

| Fertilizer        | 3-8-5   | 4-8-4   | 6-8-4   |
|-------------------|---------|---------|---------|
| Lbs. per acre     | 600     | 600     | 600     |
| Yield Seed Cotton | 985     | 1065    | 1225    |
| Lbs Per acre      |         |         |         |
| Value per acre    | $39.40 | $42.60 | $48.92 |

As an average of 40 crops, the 6-8-4 fertilizer yielded 240 pounds per acre more seed cotton than the 3-8-5, and 160 pounds more than the 4-8-4 fertilizer. The value of the cotton produced with the 6-8-4 was $9.52 per acre more than that produced with 3-8-5.

Follow the Experiment Station's recommendations for cotton. Use 300 to 600 pounds of 6-8-4 per acre.

One of the most surprising discoveries I've made is the way my new 1936 Dodge saves money!

It gives me 19 to 20 miles to the gallon of gas consistently in city driving and as high as 22 miles in the country.

At the same time, this Dodge certainly saves on oil. Excepting for regular changes, I've had to add no oil at all.

Mrs. Ada Wimberly and Miss Bertha Dennis were in Prattville Wednesday afternoon on business.

Mrs. Mary Lou Wonder and Mrs. J. C. Hughes were in Clanton Friday morning to see Mr. S. E. Bruce, who is ill with pneumonia.

The many friends of Mr. J. F. Shepherd will regret to learn of his intense suffering with muscular rheumatism. Miss Ruth Carter spent the week end in Montgomery.

Dr. Hall spent Saturday night with his family in Tuscaloosa.

Miss Mildred Turner has returned home from the Clanton Hospital where she underwent an appendix operation.

The P.T.A. will meet Tuesday night, March the 17th, at 7:30 o'clock at the high school auditorium. Everybody is cordially invited. A good program has been planned; also important business.

MRS. ARTHUR MIMS DIES AT HOME IN REFUGE RECENTLY
Funeral services for Mrs. Ruby Mae Mims, 27, wife of Arthur Mims, who died last Wednesday at her home in the Refuge Community, were held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Samaria Baptist Church with the Rev. J.W. Jones and the Rev. M. Lockhart officiating. Burial was in the churchyard cemetery with Martin & Sons in charge.

Mrs. Mims is survived by her husband, Arthur Mims; four children: her mother, Mrs. G.N. Foshee, four brothers and four sisters.

The following friends of the family served as pallbearers: W.B. Liveoak, J. E. Easterling, Clyde Liveoak, Bud Foshee, Harvey Liveoak and R.E. Liveoak.

We are selling them every day. There's a reason—it's Goodyear. — Shell Service Station.

Prominent Resident Of Chilton Laid To Rest

Thomas W. Wilson, one of Chilton County's most widely known farmers, died last Wednesday at his home in the Maple Springs Community, following a brief illness. Mr. Wilson was 76 years old.

Funeral services were Thursday from the Maple Springs Baptist Church with the Rev. W.E. Robinson and the Rev. M.E. Tucker officiating. Burial was in the churchyard cemetery with Martin & Sons in charge.

Mr. Wilson was born and reared in Chilton County and was a lifelong resident of the county. He had lived in the community where he died for many years and was widely known throughout the county.

Surviving are two sons, W.M. Wilson, J.A. Wilson; three daughters, Mrs. L.H. Wright, Mrs. J.S. Davis, Mrs. F.M. Mims; and four brothers, G.W. Wilson, E.N. Wilson, A.J. Wilson, and P.D. Wilson.

NEWSPAPER ADS MEAN MUCH TO CHILTON COUNTY

BUSINESS CONCERNS HERE DO WONDERS WITH ADVERTISING

Attracts State - Wide Attention Through Newspapers

Whether they realize it or not, those merchants and business concerns of this county, who use newspaper advertising space are doing more than merely advertising their stores and merchandise to their customers and prospective customers in this section, according to letter and statements received by the Chilton County News from various sections of the country. This realization did not come until some several weeks ago when the mail began to bring more and more comments in letters from concerns, and

Farmers Warned Not To Turn Winter Legumes Under Too Early

Auburn, Ala. — Winter legumes—hairy vetch and Austrian winter peas—should not be turned too early. This is especially true this year, due to the small growth because of cold weather during the winter months, says J.C. Lowery, extension agronomist.

With the coming of warm weather the legumes will immediately begin making rapid growth and will soon be large enough to add sufficient nitrogen for corn or cotton.

individuals who have contact with the News.

It is no common occurrence for the News to receive business letters in which the comment regarding the live, wide-awake town and county we have and the progressive spirit of the business concerns in the county. These letters and comment go so far as to praise these merchants who use newspaper advertising space. They are not only sending a message to their customers, but are telling the entire state and other sections that this county is "out after the business."

Only last week, a letter was received from a most reputable business man in the northern section of the State who receives the News each week. His letter stated that "judging from the progressive spirit of your merchants in Clanton and your other towns, we need some like them in our town." This comment was based on the large amount of real, result-getting advertising which is carried each week by the News.

There is a cycle here that should include even those persons who make the smallest of purchases. When an advertisement is ready from your home merchants, it is not only inviting your business, but is showing that this section of Alabama is most progressive—an angle to newspaper advertising that is seldom commented on, but which is nevertheless true.

MAPLE SPRINGS

The Rev. Carroll, our pastor, filled his pulpit both Saturday and Sunday. We were glad to see so many out for both services.

Last Wednesday afternoon, March 4, around five o'clock, God called Mr. Tom Wilson from his friends, home and loved ones to a better world. Mr. Wilson will always be greatly missed, but never forgotten. His body was laid to rest in the Maple Springs cemetery Thursday afternoon with Martin & Sons in charge.

The many friends of Mrs. Alma Wilson are sorry to learn that she is very sick but we are hoping she may soon be up and well again.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Devaughn had as their dinner guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rollan and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Glenn.

Mr. Curtis Jones spent the past week end at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Jones.

Mr. Ed Kelly was in this community Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. W. F. Glenn and daughter, Delene, visited Mrs. H. W. Lewis last Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wise were visiting here last Tuesday.

Mrs. Velma Davis and little son, Bobby Joe, spent a while Thursday afternoon with Mrs. W. F. Glenn and daughters.

Mr. Bud Jones from Clanton was in this community last Friday afternoon.

Messrs. W. F. Glenn and son, Otis, and Charlie Sandlin made a trip to Montgomery last Thursday.

Miss Jettie Mae Dennis visited her aunt, Mrs. Nellie Driver near eastview last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wise spent the week end here with Mr. R. J. Downs and family.

Mrs. Velma Davis and two sons, Bobby Joe and Jerrie Donald, spent the past week end with Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Davis.

Mt. Carmel

The attendance of our Sunday school and B.Y.P.U. was very good Sunday and Sunday night and we invite everyone to come back next Sunday and bring someone with them.

Don't forget next Sunday afternoon is our singing afternoon. We meet at 2 o'clock. We are expecting some good singers to be with us.

We were sorry that Miss Velma Liveoak was sick Sunday. We hope she will soon be well.

Mr. Lesley Foshee is on the sick list this week.

We were sorry to hear that Mr. Cleasby Foshee was going to Birmingham today for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Higgins and family from Sylacauga were Saturday night guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Higgins.

Fill your tank with Super Shell and see how easy she kicks off.—Shell Service Station.

FLIRT, Field Champion

Homewood Flirtations, White and Black Pointer Bitch, owned by H. M. Curry, Jr., Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

AMONG all the bird dogs in America, Homewood Flirtations ("Flirt" for short) stands out the 1935 champion. At the National Championship Field Trial at Grand Junction, Tenn., Flirt proved her mettle. Speed, range, bird finds—Flirt had everything! One perfect creature in whom Nature put that delicate, natural balance of all the elements that make a champion.

The champion Flirt is Nature at her best—one of Nature's rarest masterpieces. She looks like other dogs—four legs, a head, a body, a tail, but she's not just a dog. She's a proud and proven champion—a champion in the field. Another dog may look a little like her—but he's still just a dog.

And here's another field champion, Natural Chilean Nitrate—another one of Nature's rarest masterpieces. Like the champion pointer, Natural Chilean has that proud and priceless gift—something over and beyond mere nitrogen—natural balance of the many fertilizer elements—the vital impurities—the Natural blend and balance that make a champion. That's the vital spark. That's why "Flirt" isn't just a dog. That's why Natural Chilean isn't just a fertilizer.

Natural Chilean contains almost two score of major and minor elements such as boron, magnesium, manganese, iodine, calcium, potassium, etc.—each a vital element in growth and healthy development of plants.

Let's Reflect Not So Much On What Is Said Against The President But Who Says It

It is an astonishing thing about present conditions is not so much what Roosevelt has accomplished, but the people have faith in him. "I know what he can do," said James A. Farley in his address to the Kansas Democratic Club at Topeka.

The astonishing and depressing thing is that the man who saved the country is being criticized and denounced, reviled and condemned, by noisy elements as though he were a common enemy of his country.

ALABAMA IS A BIG BUYER OF UNITED STATES LIQUOR PERMITS

Has Sold Stamps To 1,150 Whisky, Beer Dealers In Alabama

In the dry state of Alabama the federal government has sold stamps to 822 dealers to retail whisky and beer; 822 dealers to retail whisky and beer; wholesale liquor dealers and 31 whole-sale malt or beer dealers only, according to records in the U.S. Internal Revenue office for Alabama.

In only 11 counties of the 67 have no purchases of federal stamps for the handling of liquor been bought. In the remaining 56 counties, the number of stamps sold, the purchase of which makes a dealer immune from arrest by federal alcohol tax enforcement officers, varies from 250 retail liquor dealers in Jefferson County to one in each of 14 other counties.

The next largest number of stamps was purchased in Montgomery County, 173 retail liquor stamps, followed by Mobile with 152 retail liquor stamps. Montgomery has four wholesale liquor dealers and five wholesale malt or beer dealers; Mobile, two of each, and Jefferson one wholesale liquor dealer and five wholesale malt or beer dealers.

The amount of revenue accruing to the federal government from these stamps can be estimated from their cost, which is $100 for a wholesale liquor stamp; $50, wholesale beer stamp; $25 for a retail liquor stamp, and $20 for a retail beer stamp. Each stamp is a license to handle liquor during the government's fiscal year, July 1 to the following June 30.

This article, taken from a daily newspaper, showed that only one retail liquor stamp had been sold in Chilton County, five in Coosa County, thirteen in Dallas County, and one in Shelby County, all adjoining counties.

Dinkler Hotels Pay Dividend On Stock

The Dinkler Hotels Co., Inc., operating the Ansley Hotel, Atlanta, the Andrew Jackson, Nashville, the Jefferson Davis, Montgomery, the Tutwiler, Birmingham, the St. Charles, New Orleans and the Savannah, Savannah, announces a dividend of twenty-five cents per share to their stockholders of record February 20, according to Carling Dinkler, President and General Manager, the dividend having been paid March 1st.

In announcing the dividend, Mr. Dinkler states that hotels probably suffered more from the depression than most other classes of business, but that for months past business in his hotels had been nearer normal than at any time since 1929. He expressed confidence in business prospects for the future, stating his belief that 1936 would touch a high spot in hotel operations. His company operates 2,600 rooms in six Southern cities, and the upward trend manifest in the hotel business is considered a favorable augury for general business as hotel activity is generally believed to be an index to more favorable conditions.

the prisoners and find that the prisoners confined therein are being well fed and cared for with reasonable comfort; and on our inspection of the alms house we find that it is being well handled by those in charge and that the occupants get meals and attention in so far as the arrangements for taking care of the inmates will reasonably permit.

We have examined the fee book of the Probate Judge and find it neatly kept and correct in so far as we were able to ascertain. We have examined the bonds of the various county officials and find that they are ample for the protection of the public; and in our examination of the sheriff's account with the State for feeding prisoners we find that it is being kept in accordance with the law. On our examination of the office of the County Superintendent of Education we find that his books, records and papers are neatly kept and in so far as we ascertain were being kept fully in accordance with the law.

The Grand Jury wishes to especially thank your Honor for the very able charge given us when we were first empaneled. It has been most helpful to us throughout all our investigations.

We had evidence before us that certain gambling devices and slot machines are being operated at various places in the county. The General Acts of 1931 Legislature at page 806 makes it the duty of the sheriff to seize and remove any gambling devices being operated within the county. The Grand Jury urges the Sheriff and all other officers of the county to take steps immediately to see that this law is not violated. We wish to request the Court to call to the attention of the next Grand Jury empaneled in this County this provision of our report with the view that an investigation may be made to determine whether or not the officers of the County are doing their duty with reference to gambling devices and slot machines as is required by law.

We have completed our investigation of all matters that we felt needed our immediate attention we respectfully ask that we now be recessed to such time as your Honor may see fit and think proper to have us again convene.

This March 6th, 1936
B. F. MASSEY, Foreman.

"SKY HIGH"

Fenn Jones is the radio announcer who broadcasts the race. Character roles of "Sky High" are unusually good. The two Irish characters—D. W. Waite (as the old bachelor uncle) and Miss Nolan-McMoney (as the worried mother) will furnish plenty of comedy throughout the play. Miss Mary Heard takes the role of the flirtatious Air Hostess, who says, "No poverty and love for me!" Mrs. Reid Mullins is the wise little gypsy fortune teller. Marvin Marcus will furnish plenty of laughs as the lazy negro porter who says, "I ain't lazy—I'm jes dreamin'" as will Clifford Jones as the inefficient detective, who explains in song why all the female hearts do a double flip when he gets marching down the street.

The musical specialties of "Sky High" are especially delightful. Dr. C. O. Lawrence sings "Gypsy Love Song" to the guitar accompaniment of Dr. J. M. Kimmy.

A special feature of the evening's entertainment will be a Dutch dance by members of the Pilot Club. Dressed as Dutch boys and Dutch girls, these will present the "Dutch Mill" dance: Hortense Glascock, Zora Guy Smith, Alma Allen, Dodie Brown, Edith Mae McCutcheon, Madge Mullins, Gerlie Fiquette, Marie Carlton, Doris Lawrence and Mary Charles Cox.

There's a "Lazy Bones" chorus by: Oscar Jones, Eric Hart, Guy Higgins II, Joe Frank Higgins, Irvin Lande, Bill Stanley, Ned Dennis, Flen Higgins, Joe Egan, Paul Gowan and Billy Callen.

There's a snappy scene by: Phillip Nelson, John Thomas Marlar, L. D. Easterling, Louis Parrish, Sam Wagener, and Winston Robinson.

Inez Wyatt and Joan Atkinson, pupils of Mrs. Elizabeth Garrett, will present a specialty tap dance.

Girls in the High Hat Dance, Air Hostess drill and Troupers tap dance are: Lillian Smith, Billie Johnson, Ann Ross, Hazel Nivens, Mary Frances Atkinson, Helen Newell, Elizabeth Hogan, Mary Newell, Ruth Gowan, Frances Foshee, Thelma Arant, June Cox, Edith Parrish, Louise Arnold, Ella Ruth Walton. Mary Armstrong is pianist.

"Sky High" is under direction of Miss Madeline White, who is a graduate of Knox College, Galesburg, Ill., has had further dramatic work at Horner Institute, Kansas City, Mo., and has directed amateur theatrical productions for many years.

the department to arrest every person we find driving under the influence of whiskey, and we expect to adhere to the letter in Chilton County," the patrolmen declared. Sheriff Hardy has constantly instructed his men to be vigilant along this line, and punishment of this type of offender has been one of the chief aims of the City Court. With this cooperative spirit existing the county, in all probability the "fear of the law" will soon be instilled in the hearts of those who would attempt to risk their own and other's lives in this manner.

Four persons, all residents of Birmingham, were injured Sunday night near here, when their automobile left the road and overturned over a high embankment on the Maplesville Highway about four miles west of Clanton.

They gave their names at the Central Alabama Hospital, where they were brought for treatment, as: Miss Catherine Allen, 28, driver of the machine, who suffered slight cuts and bruises about the face and body; Mrs. T.M. Allen, suffered a bruised shoulder and hip injury; Miss Mary Lamar Russell, 24, Oxford, Ala., whose face was badly lacerated and her right hand mangled and Irene Johnson, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B.M. Jonson, very slight injuries.

One Year $1.50
Six Months .75Business Continues
Despite "Warnings"

It is tough going for the prophets of gloom. With singular and stubborn obstinacy, the business and financial markets continue to behave as if they have scant regard for the wiled warnings of the American Liberty League and hadn't even heard of Mr. Hoover's reiterated pronouncements that ruin is just around the corner. Indeed, they seem to have concluded that Mr. Hoover's prophecies are accurate but misplaced and that the corner where ruin lurked is the one we passed about a year ago or more.

At any rate the cold figures of the financial and business columns of the newspapers furnish comment that should be interesting to the Nation on the wailings of the Jeremiahs. For example, on Wednesday, February 19, the stock market showed such little consideration for the calamity howlers that the daily average of 50 stocks reached the highest point it had touched since 1931. Not content with this demonstration, the index continued to climb and celebrated the completion of Mr. Roosevelt's third year in the White House, so to speak, with another surge upward.

What made this more significant of the disregard of the investment public for the direful forebodings of the President's detractors was the Associated Press announcement on March 4 that:

"The subscription books were speedily closed (on the Treasury's offer of a billion and a quarter of bonds and notes) when the overwhelming demand became apparent. Terms of the offering had been announced yesterday morning. The public flocked to purchase more than the $650,000,000 in 12- to 15 year bonds, bearing 2 3/4 per cent interest, and $600,000,000 in five-year 1 1/2 per cent five-year notes."

By noon on March 4 the bonds had been more than seven times over-subscribed and the notes more than five times oversubscribed. One day's business! And what a business!

One of the largest offerings in post-war Treasury history, it had been exceeded only by the offering of $950,000,000 on December 15 last, which bore the same interest rate but matures three years earlier. The obvious conclusion is that when within less than three months the Federal Government is able to sell for the same interest rate bonds maturing three years later, then the credit of the Government has improved that much in that time. And it is equally obvious that public confidence in the Roosevelt Administration grows in obverse ratio to the hammering and the yammering of the President's palpably selfish critics.

Are these happenings indicative of a fear of inflation, as Mr. Hoover has ponderously pontificated? Well, hardly; for each day following the upswings in stocks United States Government bonds in all categories have reached new highs. Treasury 4's, for instance, are now at 112-15/32, the highest point since they were issued. The same bonds were quoted at 94 on January 11, 1932, but there were no takers. The famous "Mellon 3's," which sold at 82-3/32 on January 12, 1932, are at 103-23/32, a gain of 25 per cent in four years. To the owner of a U. S. Government bond, that is truly a tremendous increment in value. Under administrations which command public confidence there is not the remotest possibility of such fluctuation but in the transition from Mellon-Mills-Hoover to Roosevelt-and-the-people, anything and everything has proved possible.

Mrs. Katherine Gibbons of Kansas City found a human finger in a loaf of bread she bought from a baker.

Because the jury couldn't decide whether the crime was petty or grand larceny, Paul Smith of Marion, Ill., was released on a charge of theft.

His One Oversight

This is the story of a prudent man, as told by a Kansas newspaper:

He brushed his teeth twice a day, wore rubbers in wet weather, did his daily dozen, slept with windows open, was careful with his diet, had a medical examination twice a year, never smoked, drank or indulged in any kind of excesses. He was all set to live to be 100 years old.

The funeral was held last Wednesday. He is survived by 18 specialists, four health institutes, six gymnasiums and numerous manufacturers of health foods and antiseptics.

He had forgotten to look out for a train at a grade crossing.

Topsy-Turvy Farming

When unfettered by artificial control, the natural tendency is to raise the various products of the farm in areas best suited to their economical and profitable production. This principle applies to the raising of livestock, as well as to crops grown directly from the soil.

But census reports, just released, disclose an interesting shift in the livestock industry, which many observers believe to be decidedly harmful to the country as a whole, and which they assert has resulted from the government's farm control policy.

While the numbers of cattle, hogs and sheep on farms of the country have actually decreased, the raising of these animals has spread from regions best adapted to their production into less suitable areas, to the discomfort and financial disadvantage of corn belt farmers and western ranchers.

One example of this shift is seen in the fact that six million cattle are now being raised on farms in the cotton belt which did not raise cattle before, and the same area has half a million more brood sows than in 1930. The southern farmer, induced by the government to curtail his cotton production, is turning his otherwise idle acres to stock raising. At the same time, Brazil and other foreign countries are rapidly increasing their cotton acreage.

Other illustrations might be cited from the census report mentioned to prove that farming, like many other activities which the government has sought to control, is becoming topsy-turvy.

Library Of Congress

Within a short time it is likely that the Library of Congress in Washington will become the greatest in the world, if it is not so already. In the number of printed books it is surpassed by the public library in Leningrad, Russia, but it has many more treasures in the way of maps, charts, music and pictures of every description.

The Library of Congress was established in 1800, but was destroyed when the British burned the capitol in 1814. It was started again by the purchase by Congress of ex-President Thomas Jefferson's private library of 6,760 volumes for $23,950.

Additions were made from time to time, but another fire in 1851 destroyed about 35,000 volumes. This loss was partly replenished through purchase and donations until the library now has more than 4,477,000 volumes, more than a million maps, charts and views, more than a million pieces of music, and half a million photographs, prints, engravings and lithographs.

The growth of the library has been greatly hastened by the operation of the law which requires copies of all copyrighted books and other materials to be deposited there.

Priceless treasures in the way of rare books and manuscripts gathered from all parts of the world are included in the collection, housed in the largest and most magnificent library building in the world, with a floor space of more than 14 acres. In it are kept the originals of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States, with thousands of other historical documents.

The Library of Congress is open to the public every day in the year except Fourth of July and Christmas, and is visited by many thousands annually. Every American who possibly can should visit it.

Aptitude for some sport or other has often changed a young man's career. An example is seen in the case of Bill Starr, who started out to be a rabbi and wound up as catcher for the Washington Senators.

There may be a good tip for candidates in the statement of a woman writer, who says: "When a woman who has never voted bestirs herself to do it, it is because she wants to vote against somebody." We suspect a good many men are like that, too.

NOTICE OF LOCAL BILL

State of Alabama, Chilton County.

Notice is hereby given that a Bill will be introduced and its enactment sought, at the 1936 extraordinary session of the Legislature of Alabama, which Bill is in substance as follows, to-wit:

A BILL
To Be Entitled
AN ACT

To create the office of County Solicitor of Chilton County, Alabama; to provide for his appointment and election, and the method of appointment in the event of a vacancy; to fix his salary and define his duties.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. That the office of County Solicitor is hereby created for the County of Chilton, State of Alabama.

Section 2. That the County Solicitor shall be elected by the qualified electors of the County of Chilton at the general election to be held for the election of State and County officers in November, 1936 and every four years thereafter, and he shall hold office from the first Monday after the second Tuesday in January next after his election and until his successor is elected and qualified.

Section 3. Vacancies in the office of said County Solicitor shall be filled by appointment of the Governor of Alabama and the appointee shall hold office until the next General election, for State and County officers after his appointment.

Section 4. It shall be the duty of the County Solicitor of Chilton County to perform all the duties now or hereafter prescribed by law for Deputy Solicitors in the State of Alabama.

Section 5. The County Solicitor of Chilton County, Alabama shall receive the sum of $20,000 per annum, payable monthly in addition to $1000 by the County Treasurer of Chilton County, on warrant drawn by the Probate Judge of Chilton County, Alabama on said Treasurer, on the first day of each calendar month.

Section 6. That immediately after the final passage and approval of this act the governor shall appoint a County Solicitor for Chilton County, Alabama who shall hold office until the first Monday after the second Tuesday in January, 1937.

Section 7. The County Solicitor of Chilton County appointed and elected under this act, in addition to the duties herein above required shall represent and defend Chilton County in all civil and Equity suits, where said county is a party, either plaintiff or defendant, or Complainant or respondent and shall advise the Commissioners, County Board of Revenue of Chilton County, Alabama on all legal matters affecting Chilton County, when requested to do so, by said court or Board of Revenue and also shall advise the County Treasurer or other legal custodian of the funds in Chilton County, Alabama on all legal questions as to the proper and legal receipt, handling and disbursing of the funds or monies of Chilton County, Alabama, when requested to do so, by said Treasurer or other legal custodian of the funds of Chilton County, Alabama.

Section 8. The Commissioners Court or Board of Revenue of Chilton County, Alabama may upon request, in writing, by the County Solicitor of Chilton County hire or employ special counsel or other attorneys at Law to assist the

NOTICE OF LOCAL BILL

Notice is hereby given that there will be introduced in the present session of the Legislature of Alabama, a local bill for Chilton County, in substance as follows:

A Bill To Be Entitled "An Act"

For the relief of Elizabeth Jeffcoat, widow of C. P. Jeffcoat, and Eva Pickens, Zula Hill, Bessie Tucker and Minnie Binion, children of C. P. Jeffcoat, deceased, and to authorize, empower and require the State Auditor of the State of Alabama, in behalf of the state to execute and deliver to the above named parties a deed without warranty or covenant of any kind on the part of the State, conveying to them all the right, title and interest of the State in and to certain real estate described in this Act, which real estate formerly belonged to said C. P. Jeffcoat in his lifetime and through inheritance to said parties, and was sold by the Tax Collector for unpaid taxes and which was purchased by the State.

Whereas, C. P. Jeffcoat, a resident citizen of Chilton County, Alabama, in his lifetime was the owner of the Southeast Quarter of the Southeast Quarter of Section 2, Township 21, Range 11, and also the East Half of the Southeast Quarter of the Southeast Quarter, Section 2, Township 21, Range 11, all of the same being situated in Chilton County, Alabama;

And Whereas, through inadvertence or mistake the said C. P. Jeffcoat or his heirs for twelve years assessed and paid taxes on other lands not owned by said Jeffcoat or his heirs, thinking and believing said assessment and payment of taxes were being made and paid upon the above described property owned by said Jeffcoat and his heirs, the amount of said taxes being approximately $120.00; and Whereas, the taxes due upon said lands owned by said Jeffcoat and his heirs has not exceeded approximately $80.00 during the same period of time; and Whereas, the State of Alabama and the County of Chilton have each received more taxes than were due during the past twelve years on account of said wrong assessment and payment of taxes; and Whereas, the said C. P. Jeffcoat has died intestate and left surviving widow, Elizabeth Jeffcoat, and the following children: Eva Pickens, Zula Hill, Willie B. Dawson, Bessie Tucker and Minnie Binion; and Whereas, the Southeast Quarter of the Southeast Quarter of Section 2, Township 21, Range 11, was sold by the Tax Collector on November 20, 1933 for taxes due the State and County and said property was purchased by the State; and Whereas, said lands are now owned by the State and said lands have not been redeemed or purchased from the State;

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF ALABAMA:

Section 1. That the State Auditor of the State of Alabama, on behalf of the State shall execute and deliver to Elizabeth Jeffcoat and her heirs, the Southeast Quarter of the Southeast Quarter of Section 2, Township 21, Range 11, and the East Half of the Southeast Quarter of the Southeast Quarter, Section 2, Township 21, Range 11, Chilton County, Alabama.

Section 2. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this Act are hereby expressly repealed.

County Solicitor in the prosecution or defense of any suit whether in law or equity, when Chilton County is a party to same and shall be authorized to pay said special counsel or attorneys at law, a reasonable fee for their services, and the amount of the fee shall be determined and agreed upon at the time of entering into the contract of employment.

Section 9. Other than as provided herein the Commissioners Court or Board of Revenue of Chilton County, Alabama, shall not expend any monies belonging to Chilton County, Alabama in payment for legal services for County Attorney, or legal advisor to it.

Section 10. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this Act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Section 11. This Act shall become effective immediately upon its final passage and approval by the Governor of Alabama.

EARLE THOMAS, Senator.

3-19-4t.

MT. CARMEL

The attendance of our Sunday school and B.Y.P.U. was very small Sunday but we hope there will be more at our Sunday school next Sunday.

The health in this community is not very good. There were several who missed Sunday school Sunday but we hope they will all be back with us next Sunday.

The singing here was enjoyed by all present Sunday afternoon and we sure do thank the Pates Chapel singers for their help and invite them back again.

We are glad to hear that Miss Velma Liveak is improving.

Mr. Lessley Foshee is some better.

Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Scott were on the sick list this week.

Mrs. Mabel Leach and Mrs. M.F. Childress visited Mrs. Myrtle Scott Tuesday.

Mrs. Carrie Hayes was the Friday afternoon guest of her sister Mrs. Mary Dearport.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith spent the night with their grandmother and father, Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Pink Watley were the Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A.F. Childress.

Mr. and Mrs. M.F. Childress and Mrs. Mable Leach spent a short while with Mr. and Mrs. G.B. Higgins Sunday.

Miss Robie Mae Higgins is visiting her uncle, Mr. Lucian Higgins at Sylacauga, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Vail from Auburn is the week end guest of Mrs. Vail's parent's, Rev. and Mrs. M.W. Mims.

Mr. and Mrs. G.C. Mims visited her father, Mr. Vines, of New Salem, community Sunday.

Miss Alta Watley was Sunday dinner guest of Miss Gladys Oden.

Everybody enjoyed the pictures that Rev. Paul Oden showed at the church

Saturday night. The pictures were on the life of Saul.

CHESTNUT CREEK SINGING SOCIETY MET LAST SUNDAY

The Chestnut Creek singing society met at the schoolhouse Sunday afternoon and re-organized their singing society with Mr. Dewey Hughes as chairman.

The following directed two songs each: Mr. Jesse C. Jones, Mr. Joseph Varner, Mr. I.D. Huett, J.B. Crew, Amy Boswell. A special arrangement by Jesse Jones; Mr. Clarence Billingsley, Dewell Jones; another special after which Mr. Joseph Varner sang the dismission song. Prayer was offered by Rev. Sid DeLoach.

Come on, folks, let's make this a good singing society. We have the right material if we will all work together. So let's all come every third Sunday afternoon at two o'clock and have a great singing.

FORMER CHILTON COUNTY TAX-COLLECTOR IS DEAD

Information has been received here of the death of Monroe Gentry, former tax-collector of Chilton County, in Chillicothe, Texas, according to relatives who recently visited the News office.

Mr. Gentry served as tax-collector here approximately forty years ago, the term preceding the administration of Tom Hubbard, it is understood. Many of the older people of the county will be familiar with the date and were personal friends of Mr. Gentry. He was 83 years old.

PYROIL LUBRICATING PROCESS

Guarantees Easy Starting and 100% Protection

Simply Add To Your Gas & Oil

Think of the power of plunging pistons . . . sufficient to move tons of rock up steep mountain grades. Pistons are the driving power of your motor. Yet their efficiency depends on the adequacy of the entire combustion chamber. Carbon-stuck valves, leaking rings, weaken the piston stroke and make an otherwise powerful motor lag on the pick up, balk at the hills.

• PYROIL INCREASES POWER •

PYROIL increases power in motors because it seals rings tightly and keeps valves carbon-free at all times. Simply added to regular gas and oil, PYROIL supplies constant lubrication to the entire motor head where otherwise, because of withering heat, no lubrication can exist. Also, doubly protects every bearing in the base. Builds lubrication into the metal.

PYROIL embodies a patent-processed, heat-, wear and dilution-proof element that is deposited on all metal parts, building and constantly maintaining an actual self-lubricating surface. Hard carbon cannot adhere to PYROIL surfaces. Valves will not stick. Bearings run freer, cooler. Power, pep, endurance are marvelously improved. Easily saves many times its small cost.

PYROIL
GENUINE PYROIL is protected by U.S. Canadian and foreign patents issued to W. V. KIDDER, its inventor. Identified by lithographed, factory-stamped caps bearing signature below. Not sold under any other name.

PYROIL is used and endorsed by leading industries. Positively harmless—contains no harmful chemicals. Guaranteed 100% satisfactory. Saves 10 times its cost. Ask at your filling station or garage. Request a free copy of the interesting "Story of Pyroil."

Diseases Show A Decrease In State

Satisfactory downward trends in the incidence of all major communicable diseases for which preventive measures available were shown during the year as compared with the previous year, according to a report just issued by the Alabama State Health Department.

The report, compiled by Dr. D.G. Director of the Bureau of Preventable Disease Control, revealed that 935 typhoid fever set a new low and for the first time fewer than 500 cases were reported in the year. Only 482 cases were reported this year, compared with 687 the year before.

Scarlet fever also set a new low with a decrease of some 400 cases from the 1934 record. There were 1,169 cases in 1934 and 1,169 in 1935. Dr. Gill expressed the opinion that the continued use of toxoid should accelerate this decline.

Identically, it was pointed out, the entire toxoid which has made such progress in this dread disease of childhood was developed in the laboratories of the State Health Department here.

Whooping cough remained at about the same level. This disease reached a peak incidence during 1933, but due to the active control measures instituted the aid of relief forces was cut sharply in 1934 and this reduction continued throughout the past year.

Whooping cough again was at a minimum, the report showed. In spite of the widespread epidemic of infantile paralysis certain parts of the country, Alabama showed an incidence within the normal expectancy. Whooping cough and scarlet fever were both low.

A statistical report showed a marked increase in the number of tuberculosis cases reported from 2,942 cases in 1934 to 3,325 in 1935. This increase was largely the increased activity of the diagnostic clinics working throughout the State and emphasizes the need of an adequate control program to care for this increasing number of cases being diagnosed through the clinics. Many of these cases rep### resent fairly early lesions, which, with proper care and treatment, might be arrested and restored to health and usefulness.

CHESTNUT GROVE

We are glad to state that the health is very good here at present.

Mrs. Nettie Hill of Calera spent the week end with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Denison.

Mr. Sam Cuffy spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Nannie C. Moore.

Mr. J.R. Hall and family were Sunday evening guests of Mr. Felton Lucas.

Helen Anderson spent the night with the Edwards twins Saturday night.

Miss Dorothy Anderson of Clanton spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tolet Anderson.

Mr. John Little spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Nannie C. Moore.

Miss Margaret Nabors spent Sunday evening with the Mr. Tom Lucas girls.

Miss Gladys Lucas has been ill but is better now.

Mr. Horace Nabor will fill his regular appointment here Sunday morning. Everybody is invited to come.

Ms. Denison visited her son, Mr. Lee Denison Saturday afternoon.

The Ladies Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. R. L. Traywick last Friday afternoon, March 6. This was the first meeting we have had since December due to bad weather. We were very sorry Miss Pardue was sick and could not be with us.
There were ten members and one visitor present. We also enrolled one new member, which we are very proud of.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. A. D. Minor. We first discussed the money in the treasury. We also voted on rendering a play and piecing a quilt to raise some money for building a club house.
We had two demonstrations. Miss Lena Downs, our project leader, demonstrated on cleaning rugs, and Mrs. A. D. Minor on storage spaces.

NOTICE OF LOCAL BILL

State of Alabama, Chilton County.
Notice is hereby given that a Bill will be introduced and its enactment sought, at the 1936 extraordinary session of the Legislature of Alabama, which Bill is in substance as follows, to-wit:
A BILL To Be Enacted
AN ACT
To establish a Board of Revenue for Chilton County, Alabama, to consist of three members, one of which members shall be the chairman of said Board of Revenue; to divide Chilton County, Alabama into three districts to be known as Board of Revenue districts and define and establish the boundaries thereof; to provide that each of said districts shall have a member on said board; to confer upon the Board of Revenue all the powers, authority and jurisdiction now possessed or which may hereafter be possessed by Courts of County Commissioners, Boards of Revenue or other like governing bodies of the several counties of Alabama under the general laws of the State of Alabama; to fix the duties and compensation and the compensation of the members of said Board of Revenue; to provide for the appointment and election of the members of said Board of Revenue and to fix the time that this act shall become a law.
BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF ALABAMA:
SECTION ONE.
That there is hereby created and established a Board of Revenue for Chilton County, Alabama, to consist of three members who shall each be a bona fide resident citizen of the district in which he is appointed or elected and shall during the time he serves as such, continue to reside in the district for which he is appointed or elected. Any member of said Board of Revenue who shall remove from said district during the term for which he was appointed or elected shall vacate said office. Each member of said Board shall be a qualified elector of Chilton County at the time of his appointment or election. The Board of Revenue herein created and established shall be known as and called the Board of Revenue of Chilton County, Alabama. Each District hereinafter created shall be entitled to one member on said board.
SECTION TWO.
That for the purpose of this act and the enforcement thereof, the said Chilton County, Alabama is hereby divided into three subdivisions to be known as Board of Revenue Districts and numbered respectively from one to three, both inclusive, viz: District number one shall embrace and be composed of all that territory which constituted on November 2nd, 1926, beats or precincts numbered (1), Rev. A. E. Middlebrooks, Minister

At the second quarterly conference last Sunday the following were elected delegates to the Selma District Conference to be held at nine level on the Deatsville charge May 14: Mrs. L. J. Stewart, Mrs. J. D. Armstrong, Mrs. D. W. Walte, Judge L. H. Reynolds, Mr. Otto Jones and Mr. Evan Parrish. Those elected alternates are: Mrs. A. E. Middlebrooks, Mrs. T. C. McSwain, Mrs. L. E. Dief, Mr. Vernie Teel, Mrs. Dan Hogan and Mr. W. A. Reynolds. Reports were made from the various departments of the church. Finances are practically up to date. The presiding elder stated that it was the best second quarterly conference report since he had been on the district. Mr. Vernie Teel has been elected Superintendent of the Adult Division succeeding Mr. V. J. Elmore, resigned. The pastor announced last Sunday that his brother, Rev. W. E. Middlebrooks, pastor of the Foster Street Baptist Church in Dothan, will assist in Holy Week services beginning Palm Sunday and closing Easter.

The weather is getting better and the flu disappearing. If these have hindered us from coming to church, begin anew next Sunday and come every Sunday. The pastor will speak at both morning and evening services. Evening service at 7:00.

Keep in mind that you are to save and share a penny per meal till Easter and bring your special denial offering to the church that day for the special program that is being planned. Let us have one hundred per cent observance of this Easter program. Children are to save and share a penny per day during this Lenten period.

BE AT CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY!

Standard Oil Company Begins Adv. Campaign

The News is proud to call the attention of its readers a series of advertisements by the Standard Oil Company, which will appear in early issues of this newspaper. The schedule begins this week and will continue for several weeks.

Featuring Crown gasoline and Esso-Jube motor oils, these advertisements will be interesting to the automobile operator in Chilton County, and the News takes this opportunity to urge its readers not to overlook the message which will be contained in these ads.

BILLINGSLEY

Misses Bertha Dennis and Mable King spent the week end in Birmingham.

Mrs. J. N. Carter visited relatives in Montgomery during the week end.

Miss Ozelle Deason of Centerville visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Deason the past week end.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Causey had as guests Saturday and Sunday Miss Ann Causey of Bibb County and Mr. and Mrs. Hobson DeRamus of Birmingham.

Mrs. T. W. Willis and daughter, Dorothy spent several days the past week with Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Marlar.

Mr. T. L. Patrick and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Nichols were in Montgomery Saturday on business.

Mrs. A. J. Marlar, C. A. Marlar, Mrs. Mary Lou Wonder and Mrs. J. C. Hughes attended the funeral of Mr. S. E. Bruce in Clanton last Thursday.

The Study Course taught at the Baptist church last week by Dr. W. R. Seymore from Birmingham, was a success in attendance, attention and inspiration.

A missionary program will be given in connection with Sunday school Sunday morning at the Baptist church. Everyone cordially invited to come at 9:45 o'clock.

A musical program by the Airway Sky Pilots will be given at the high school next Friday night, March 20.

These entertainers were here last year as the Crazy Four. Admission will be 15 and 25 cents. This is sponsored by P. T. A. Everyone is urged to come.

SPECIAL SCHOOL MEETING TO BE HELD AT MINERAL SPRINGS

A special school meeting will be held at the Mineral Springs schoolhouse next Saturday night, March 21, according to announcement. This meeting is being called by the trustees of the school and all patrons are urged to attend. The purpose of the meeting, it is understood, is to elect teachers for next year.

"It's not enough," said Henry Schultz when Judge Hornby of Davenport, Ia., sentenced him to three days in jail. "I want time enough to get the bad alcohol out of my system."

Mazer's Showing Large Line Spring Apparel

One of the most attractive window displays of Spring apparel for ladies and children is to be seen at Mazer's on Main Street.

Mr. F. S. Levine, manager of this popular store, has arranged to have one of the largest varieties of women's Spring footwear ever to be shown by his store, all of the latest styles.

A large advertisement in this issue tells more of these unusual values in Spring apparel.

Chilton Farmers Sell 22,291 Lbs. Poultry

Five hundred and twenty-nine Chilton County Farmers sold 22,291 pounds of poultry for a total of $3,380.68 to a poultry car last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

This is the second time this year the farmers have had an opportunity to sell poultry at a fair price. This poultry goes in to the big markets thereby taking surplus poultry off of local markets and will have a tendency to raise local prices.

The farmers received approximately $1500.00 more for this poultry than they would have received at the prices paid on local markets. The following classes of poultry was sold:

Heavy hens—18,261 pounds.

Light hens—1,899 pounds.

Fryers—112 pounds.

Roosters—1,725 pounds.

Stags—88 pounds.

Geese—157 pounds.

Turkeys—39 pounds.

Ducks—10 pounds.

Guineas—2 pounds.

How long will you continue to lose this extra value?

The extra Nitrogen in every ton of ARCADIAN, THE AMERICAN NITRATE OF SODA is just like extra cash. Bulletin No. 326 of the Department of Agriculture and Immigration of the State of Virginia reports the cash value of this extra Nitrogen over the guaranteed 16% as high as 88¢ per ton.

There can be no question about this. It is official. No wonder thrifty farmers insist on "ARCADIAN". Of course they want that extra value.

ROOSEVELTS TO CELEBRATE 31ST ANNIVERSARY TOMORROW

Washington, March 16.—With touch of Spring wanderlust upon them, the President and Roosevelt tomorrow will celebrate 31st wedding anniversary.

A quiet dinner for a few old friends tomorrow night to mark the anniversary will be one of their last at White House for a few weeks. The day they leave for Florida and a vacation.

Where the President will board boat, and when he'll return here still secrets, but "about a week of days" is set as the duration of Florida fishing trip.

Helping Mothers to Cut Down On Family's Colds

Unique Formula for Nose and Throat Helps to Prevent Colds—And to Throw Off Head Colds at the Start.

SOON CLEARS "STUFFY HEAD"

Mothers are so often worried about their families' colds that they find special comfort in this unique aid for preventing colds—Vicks Vapo-rinol.

Especially designed for nose and upper throat, where most colds start, Vapo-rinol stimulates the functions provided by Nature—in the nose—to prevent colds, and to throw off head colds in the early stages.

Used in time—at the first sniffle, sneeze or nasal irritation—just a few drops up each nostril—Vapo-rinol helps to avoid many colds.

Where irritation has led to a clogged-up nose (a stuffy head or nasal catarrh) Vapo-rinol spreads through the nasal passages—reduces swollen membranes—clears clogging mucus—brings comforting relief.

A Practical Guide for Mothers

Each year, more and more families are being helped to fewer colds, shorter colds and milder colds by following Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. Vicks Plan has been clinically tested by practicing physicians, and further proved in everyday home use throughout the country.

Full details of the Plan come in each package of Vicks Vapo-rinol.

Purina
STARTENA
Now fortified with
PUR-A-TENE
Protects Life and Health!

THIS YEAR, when every chick you raise means twice as much profit as it did four or five years ago, the Purina Research Laboratories announce one of the most outstanding developments in the history of chick feeding—the discovery of Pur-a-tene.

What is Pur-a-tene? It's the concentrated goodness that's in most fresh vegetables and fruits. It's the "mysterious something" which strengthens the mucous membranes of the nose, mouth, respiratory and digestive passages and causes them to protect as a natural armor against germs. Scientists call it vitamin A. Poultrymen see it in bright red combs, smooth plumage, lessened colds and added vigor. Purina Startena has been known for years as America's finest starting feed. Now it is made even better by the addition of Pur-a-tene.

Alabama Growers Improving Cotton

Auburn, Ala.—Alabama farmers are making an effort to improve the length of their cotton this year. Work is being done through one-way communities, farm organizations and by individual growers.

Importance of this work is indicated by the fact that the United States Department of Agriculture reports that last year 34.6 per cent of cotton produced in Alabama was more than 7 7/8 inch staple. This is a financial loss to Alabama farmers, states J.C. Lowery, extension agent, who reports that in 1934 the percentage of short cotton was 19.32 it was 14.7; and in 1931 it was 10.9.

Cotton To Be Used In Highway Tests

Auburn, Ala.—The United States Department of Agriculture has made available $1,300,000 to be used in stimulating field tests of new uses of cotton in highway construction.

Cotton materials will be furnished upon request to state highway departments so that they may be tested in widespread use under all climatic conditions. If the results of these tests are as favorable as certain preliminary trials along these lines have indicated, these new fields of use would require large quantities of cotton in the future, says the official announcement.

Charles Rachen of Chicago offered his wife three-fourths of his income when summoned for non-support. Then it developed he was out of work.

New Soil Program To Start Thursday

Washington, March 15.—AAA officials, emerging from long weekend conferences today, set Thursday as the dead line for testing field operations of the $500,000,000 soil conservation program.

Announcement of general details may be expected late Wednesday or early Thursday, an official said, and work in the field will begin immediately thereafter.

This first announcement is expected to define generally the conditions farmers must meet to obtain Federal subsidies for soil conservation; the rates of subsidy payments, and general definitions of "soil conserving" and "soil depleting" crops.

The payments will be made for maintaining present acreage of soil conserving crops as well as for diverting land from soil depleting to soil conserving growths.

Officials indicated that final decisions had not been reached on any of the major questions, but said the work "is taking shape rapidly" and that agreement might be expected within 48 hours.

In the weekend conference, the officials went over data obtained at four regional meetings in the last two weeks.

FARMERS SHOULD REMOVE GRUBS FROM THEIR COWS

Auburn, Ala.—Cattle owners should remove the grubs (warbles or wolves) from the skin or back of their cattle before the fly menace gets bad this spring, advises Dr. I.S. McAdory, acting dean of the school of veterinary medicine and state veterinarian.

"Have a helper catch and hold the animal by the nose while the operator, with a razor-sharp knife, makes an inch long cut over each grub, squeezes the larva out and destroys it," he advises. "The wound should then be washed well with a disinfectant solution, dried and anointed thoroughly with a suitable healing ointment. A good mixture for this and other similar purposes about the stable may be made as follows: 1 teaspoonful of carbolic acid, 2 tablespoonfuls of spirits of turpentine, 2 tablespoonfuls of tallow, and 2 tablespoonfuls of lard. Mix well, preferably without heating the tallow."

MAPLE SPRINGS

The people all have been enjoying these pretty sunny days. Seems as if spring might be just around the corner.

Mr. Will Gray of near Cordoro Mill had the misfortune of getting his house burned last Wednesday morning about ten-thirty. Only a few pieces of his furniture was saved. The fire caught from the flu. At the time of the fire neither Mr. Gray nor his wife were at home. Mr. Gray was in Clanton and Mrs. Gray was visiting in Sylacauga.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rollan from Highland spent the past week end with Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Glenn.

Mrs. R. J. Downs visited Mrs. W. F. Glenn Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Harrison Driver and wife and children spent the past week end with Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Thomas of near Cordoro Mill.

Mr. W. F. Glenn spent a while Sunday afternoon with Mr. T. J. Thornton.

Mr. J. S. Ogletree and wife and J. R. Mitchell and family motored to Mitchell Dam Sunday.

Mr. Otis Glenn spent a while Sunday night with his brother, Mr. Oliver Glenn.

The many friends of Mr. Wallace Watkins are sorry to learn of the misfortune that came to him Saturday afternoon when coming from Clanton down the railroad about one and one-half miles south of Clanton. A freight rashed him and three negro men and two white men jumped from the freight upon him with the intention of taking his money and when Mr. Watkins resisted he received several knife wounds though none so serious. A negro man cut him several times on the right arm and on the left arm and several times on the neck. They then took what money he had which was seven dollars, and swung the freight again.

Mr. Melvin Langsford was home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. W. F. Glenn visited his brothers, Messrs. Calvin and Jasper Glenn, both of Cooper, Sunday.

19-YEAR-OLD J. E. GENTRY DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Funeral services for James Emmett Gentry, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gentry, who died last Wednesday after a long illness at his home, Calera route one were held Thursday afternoon from the Providence (Beat 13) Baptist Church. The Rev. Maurice Hodgson officiated. Interment was in the adjoining cemetery with Martin & Sons in charge.

Besides his parents he is survived by one brother, Harvey Gentry; and one sister Mrs. Robert Trullis, who was formerly a nurse at the Central Alabama Hospital in Clanton for several years.

If You Are A DOUBTER

If you are one who doubts that electricity is cheap in Alabama, so that it behooves everyone to Electrify NOW; if you are one who has doubted that Alabama Power Company has always been an advocate of low and uniform rates for each of the various classes of service, here's something that should be of interest to you:

55 Reductions In 14 Years!

Since 1922 Alabama Power Company has made 55 reductions in its rates for electric service involving all classes of service. Each reduction has effected material savings to its customers and stimulated the use of electricity in the development of the State.

The trend in the Company's rates for domestic electric service is illustrated by the following table:

|               |        | MONTHLY NET BILLING   |        |        |     |           |

LOCAL LAWS

Senator Thomas. He points out that through these changes, the county will be saved annually at least $2,700. He estimates that the present Commissioners Court costs at least $4,800 per year. The proposed Board of Revenue, he said, can be maintained for $2,700—a saving of $2,100 annually. In combining duties of County Attorney and Deputy Solicitor, he stated that an annual saving of $600 will be effected. Under the present system, the two officials are paid $150 per month. Under the proposed plan, one man will handle the duties of both offices at a salary of $100 per month.

These bills also provide for this official to be elected instead of appointed, he stated. Although it will be necessary for both the members of the Board of Revenue and the County Solicitor to be appointed this year, in the future these offices will be elective. "My sole interest in effecting these changes is in behalf of economy for our county," Senator Thomas declared. "I realize that these proposed changes will work to a disadvantage for some of my very good friends, but I feel that they should understand that the general interest of the county will be benefitted."

SPRING

the trace of winter is seen any more. Heavy overcoats and woolen dresses have given way to lighter colors and sheer, silky gowns that bid welcome to warmer weather.

Filling stations are assembling road information for the expectant tourists who will soon be riding the roads again. Those automobiles that rolled past last fall enroute to sunny climes will soon be on the road again, enroute northward this time.

In the residential section, busy workmen and housewives are seen on almost every lawn, pottering about with flowers, or raking seeds into beds, which will soon be landscape pictures, painted by nature's own hands.

Merchants are urging their customers to come into their establishments and select their spring merchandise before early buyers have depleted the stocks of the more desirable articles. It won't be long until Easter. Now is the time to begin thinking about that new Easter dress or suit, they say.

Yes, Spring is really here—spring fever and all.

ed to a large degree after the AAA idea. Landowners will be paid for not planting depleting crops on their lands, with the intention of improving the soil conditions of the country. Just what crops will be considered depleting crops is not known yet.

Since the scrapping of the AAA by the United States Supreme Court, the question of what will be done and how has been uppermost in the minds of the farmers of the entire nation. Farmers of Chilton County have flooded the offices of the county agent, seeking information relative to the new program.

ment of the program now under consideration."

Another problem facing the city officials is that of providing a more adequate supply of water. Opinion in the council is divided upon the method. Some members of the city government feel that one or two more wells will answer, but others think that it is only a matter of time until the city's water supply will have to be piped in from the river or some other stream. Mayor Jones declared that the extension of the water mains will, in all probability necessitate some action in this direction.

HILTON ASKED TO AID FLOOD VICTIMS

PRESIDENT URGES PEOPLE TO GIVE AID

Thousands Homeless, With Food As Flood Waters Rise Over Cities

According to J. Mel Martin, Chilton County Roll Call Chairman of the American Red Cross, this county has assigned $150.00 to be raised for relief of flood sufferers in the East. Mr. Martin urges that Red Cross workers contact their friends in the several communities of the county and as rapidly as possible report contributions to him at aid may be sent to these stricken areas.

It is a matter of record that eighty per cent of the support of the Red Cross has heretofore come from sections which are now in need of this money has been spent in the South, and now is a splendid opportunity of showing appreciation for aid by answering the present contributions have already started in this county, the first coming from Oliver of Verbena who gave five dollars on the Chilton County assignment. Martin states that the flood situation is growing more serious almost every day, that every report shows more communities have been stricken, and expresses the hope that we will meet our assignment, but that we are able to over-subscribe that. Every person in the county is requested to see the community chairman or Mr. Martin and contribute in this grave emergency.

DEADLY KNOWN CONFEDERATE VETERAN DIES

General J. W. E. Gullledge Is Victim Of Pneumonia; Died At 89

J. W. E. Gullledge, one of the oldest veterans of the Confederacy in Chilton County and one of the most well known figures of Clanton, died Friday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock at Central Alabama Hospital, where he has been treated for pneumonia since he reached the age of 89. He was 89 years old, and had been ill for several months, and two days. Funeral services were held Saturday morning at 11 o'clock from the Clanton Baptist Church, of which he was a member, and of which he was a pastor. He was survived by three brothers, Tom Tracy, Leonard Tracy, both of Thorsby, and Allen Tracy, of Clanton. His wife died several weeks ago.

LOCAL PILOTS WIN DISTRICT RECOGNITION

Attendance Award Is Given Clanton Club At Meet In Mobile

Clanton Pilots attending the District Convention of Pilots International in Mobile last Saturday and Sunday were awarded the attendance prize. The Clanton club boasted the highest attendance percentage, based on membership, of any club in this district. With a membership of 22, ten attended the conference. The award was a beautiful pilot wheel.

Composing this district are the following clubs: Clanton, Selma, Montgomery, Dothan, and Mobile.

Among the highlights of the convention's entertainment was a visit to the famous Bellingrath Gardens and the Azalea Trail.

Those attending from here were: Mrs. Mamie C. Smith, Miss Ruth Pardee, Mrs. Laura Little, Miss Frances Moore, Miss Gertrude Piquette, Miss Dewey Branch, Miss Nolen McConery, Miss Irene Smith, Mrs. Sophia Jones, and Mrs. Ruth Martin.

Those attending this meeting from Clanton who were not members of the club were Mrs. Bill Murphy, Mrs. Dick Hayes, and Mrs. Jim Wade.

THREAT TO CCC CAMP IS ALARMING

Agricultural Leaders Ask Government Officials To Continue Unit

Considerable apprehension is being felt here regarding the threatened abandonment of the Clanton CCC Camp, just when the extensive terracing and farm program, planned in connection with this camp, is really getting underway. County Agent J. W. Fant stated Tuesday that many farmers and others interested in the programs are alarmed over the threatened discontinuance of this camp.

A wire was sent to Senator John H. Bankhead, asking his cooperation in having the order for the camp's abandonment recalled, Tuesday night by Vernie Teel, manager of the Chilton County Bankhead for Senator Club. It is understood that other telegrams and messages were being sent to Washington officials, urging that this camp be allowed to function, inasmuch as it has been established only eight months and little has been accomplished on the program that was originally planned for this county.

Mr. Fant stated that the machinery (Continued to Back Page)

LOCAL HOSPITAL IS HAVING BUSY SEASON NOW

Epidemic Of Appendicitis Fills Every Bed In Local Hospital

Chilton County has experienced an epidemic of appendicitis during the past week, according to the records of operations at the Central Alabama Hospital in Clanton. Since last Thursday, eight persons have gone under the knife for the removal of the appendix.

Every bed in the hospital is taken and it has been necessary to put two and three in some of the rooms because of this unusually large number of appendectomy cases.

Those undergoing operations were: Mrs. Garland Smith, Maplesville, March 23; C. D. Owens, Clanton Route three, March 19; Miss Beale Williams, Billingsley, March 19; Clayton DeRamus, CCC Camp, March 19; Cleve Dutton, Clanton Route six, March 22; Mrs. (Continued to Back Page)

S. Kelley officiating. Burial was in the adjoining cemetery with Spigener in charge.

Mrs. Davis is survived by four sons, Jesse Davis, Clanton, Willie Davis, Temison, W. T. Davis, and J. S. Davis, both of Clanton; two daughters, Mrs. R. D. Dennis, Clanton, and Mrs. Lula Jowers, of Havana, Fla.

People's Wish On Bills Asked By Judge Smith

EDITORIAL Let the People Decide

The announcement comes from Judge Smith this week that he intends to call for a special election, or referendum, on the Local Bills which are proposed to be introduced in the present session of the Legislature by Senator Earle Thomas.

These two bills, if passed, will affect materially, and to great length, the government of Chilton County. This county has for many years been operated under the direction of a Commissioners Court. One of these proposed Bills will abolish the Court and create a three-man Board of Revenue.

This editorial is not written for the purpose at this time, of discussing the merits or demerits of this new proposed legislation, or the advantages or disadvantages of that legislation that has already become law through the efforts of our Senator and Representative.

But, this is being written to wholeheartedly endorse the move to allow the voters of the county to say whether or not they wish these two new Bills to become a-law, as announced by Judge Smith. The News commends Judge Smith for this thought and for his initiative in calling the referendum.

It is the belief of the News that the Senator and Representative will abide by the wishes of the people on this matter.

MESSAGES FROM MERCHANTS OF CLANTON ARE INTERESTING

First Of Series Of Advertisements Appears In This Issue Of News; People Are Urged To Read Each One

With the aim of contributing to the progress of Clanton, and the ideal of making it "the best little city in Alabama," several Clanton merchants and business establishments are sponsoring a series of twelve page-advertisements to appear in the Chilton County News, urging the people of this section to patronize local business firms.

The first of these advertisements appears in this issue. "I'll Tell the World Clanton is a Mighty Good Place to Trade" is the theme of this heart to heart talk with the prospective customers of Clanton and surrounding territory.

For some time, the News has dedicated space and effort to the purpose of urging its readers to trade at home, and it is with a great deal of pleasure that the management announces this series of advertisements. Believing that the copy in these ads is far above that which might be produced by the average writer, it is hoped that these messages will carry sufficient weight to bring home the idea that loyalty is due those who operate our local business establishments.

Each month, for twelve months, one of these simple heart to heart talks with their customers will appear, sponsored by the firms whose signatures appear at the bottom of the advertisements.

This campaign is made possible by the cooperation of the following firms and organizations:

City of Clanton, J. Mel Martin, Wadeson Theatre, E. L. Klinger Furniture Company, Peoples Savings Bank, Clanton Cash Store, McKee Bros. Service Station, Hayes Chevrolet Company, Clanton Laundry, Big Four Hardware Company, J. R. Kemp Mercantile Company.

Tiffin Furniture Company, Polk Bros. Motor Company, Watt's Hat Shoppe, Bishop Service Station, Alabama Harness & Shoe Shop, Matts Cafe, Murray-Bell Hardware Company, Chilton County News, First National Bank, Wade's Grocery & Market.

Clanton Kiwanis Club, Rockett Dry Goods, Scott's Studio, H. N. Smith Motor Company, Mazer's, Clanton Motors, Inc., J. R. Mullins & Sons, R. W. Lowe, Calloway Garage, and Bean & Taylor Grocery Company.

FORMER MAYOR OF CLANTON VISITS NEWS OFFICE TUES.

Mr. John Stanfield and son, Wilbur, of Greenville, Ala., were callers at the News office last Tuesday evening. Mr. Stanfield, it will be remembered, was at one time mayor of Clanton and has a host of friends in and around Clanton.

SEEKS OPINION OF PEOPLE ON LOCAL BILLS

MAKES STATEMENT TO VOTERS OF CO.

Move Is Termed In Fairness To All County Citizens

A move which he terms the proper and just thing to do, Probate Judge Lee Smith this week announced that he will immediately take steps to call for a referendum regarding the proposed Local Bills which are now being published preparatory to being introduced in the present session of the Legislature.

The proposed set-up will abolish the present Commissioners Court and create a three-man Board of Revenue to be appointed by the Governor. The other set-up will combine the offices of County Attorney and County Deputy Solicitor, placing the responsibility of these two offices on one man.

The Bills are being sponsored by Senator Earle Thomas who stated to the News that it was his intention to see that they are passed.

Judge Smith stated that it is his desire to secure the wishes of the people on these two Bills as he believes that the people of this county should have some voice in whether or not their Court of County Commissioners should be completely abolished and that he does not believe it is the desire of the people of the county to legislate an office-holder out of office after the people have elected him.

Fairness to the voters of the county in general was the theme throughout the statement issued by Judge Smith regarding this referendum, and his statement was made, he said, after he (Continued to Back Page)

Big Dog In Clanton Last Saturday P.M.

Many people passing by the Murray-Bell Hdwe. Co. last Saturday afternoon, stopped and noted with interest one of the biggest dogs ever seen in Clanton. It was learned that the dog belonged to Mr. G. H. Bell of Atlanta, father of J. D. Bell, manager of the local store. He was also accompanied by his father, Mr. D. J. Bell, also of Atlanta, and who is 81 years of age. The unusual dog the Messrs. Bell had with them is a Great Dane, 15 months old and weighs 135 pounds.

TAX NOTICE

Final notice is being given delinquent payers of taxes this week by Tax Collector T. L. McKee, who stated that taxes MUST be paid on or before April 1st, 1936.

Failing to pay within this time will mean an additional penalty, Mr. McKee stated.

Mr. McKee has already extended the time for thirty days on his own risk, while the law provides the deadline to be March 1st. Mr. McKee did this as a courtesy to the taxpayers of the county.

Probate Judge Smith is cooperating with the Tax Collector on this extension, Mr. McKee stated, and they believe he will be able to make his final settlement as required, by July 1st.

Mr. McKee wanted it understood that he has no control over the time limits for paying taxes, extending time nor the penalties, as all this is provided by law which he must abide by. Proper and sufficient notices have been sent to delinquent payers, Mr. McKee stated and he urged all who have not paid their taxes to attend to this immediately.

The Chambers County News

C. L. Walton, the enterprising editor of The Lafayette Sun, has now established The Chambers County News in behalf of Lanett, Shawmut, Langdale and Fairfax. The first volume is a good example of newspaper craftsmanship. The News will be devoted to the interests of all of these communities in particular and to the great Chattahoochee Valley in general.

George T. Johnson of Langdale is the first subscriber to The News, and the paper celebrates the fact by printing Mr. Johnson's picture on the front page in its first issue.—Montgomery Advertiser.

"Man And The Motor Car"

The National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters has issued a book, "Man and the Motor Car," designed for high schools of the nation. The book is edited by Albert W. Whitney, Associate General Manager of the Bureau, and represents the cumulative work and experience of many experts, including safety and automotive engineers, and teachers from our foremost institutions of learning.

The book is about as exhaustive a treatise on the driving problem as anyone could wish. It does not limit itself to a technical discussion of driving a car, but treats the whole social phenomenon of the automobile and its meaning to America in a highly interesting and simple fashion. There are chapters on "The Driver—His Nature and His Habits," "Codes of the Road," "The Art of Driving," "Your Car and How to Maintain It," "The Pedestrian in the Automobile Age," and so on. At the end of the 299 pages of text, there is an appendix which includes a series of questions whereby the student may be tested as to just how well he has retained the information the book contains. Many sketches and diagrams scattered through the chapters add clarity and interest.

A number of states require safety education be made a part of high school curriculums—schools in other states have voluntarily adopted safety courses. And it is difficult to see how any branch of study could be of more practical use to the growing generation. Today there is an automobile registered for every six persons in the country—tomorrow the ratio may be one to every three or less. And, as car speeds are increased and greater mechanical excellence is attained, the automobile's toll of death, injury and property destruction soars. The automobile and road engineers have done their part to make motoring safe—the driver has failed. And only an aggressive educational campaign to show the youth of the land how cars may be properly operated can assure that the driver of the future will live up to the responsibility that devolves upon all who take the wheel of a car.

"Man and the Motor Car" seems an ideal textbook for its purpose. It is to be sold at cost, the sole interest of its publishers being to obtain the widest possible use of the volume. It should receive an enthusiastic reception from educators of the country.

Social Security Setback

Old age pensions, even on the limited basis contemplated in the Simpson act, are becoming a reality in Alabama very slowly. Thus far 34,000 persons have applied for old age pensions, but no one is receiving such a pension, if the Confederate veteran group is excepted. Approximately 5800 aged persons were receiving relief stipends until relief funds were exhausted last month, but now they are receiving practically nothing.

Failure of state revenues to meet appropriations has spelled disaster to even the modest start we had made toward the ideal of social security. The ground lost will be regained only when adequate funds are made available.—B'ham Post.

The Red Cross Calls

This week the American Red Cross is calling upon citizens throughout the nation to make contributions for the aid of thousands facing dire need as result of the flood waters in many eastern sections.

This call comes to Chilton County, and the News believes it will meet with hearty cooperation. The world is fortunate to have such an organization as the Red Cross. It indicates that in spite of murderous wars, plans for wars, gangsters, politicians and economic systems which crush millions in the jaws of poverty and unemployment we still have our moments of civilization, and there is yet some hope for the race so long as it supports such humanitarian efforts as the Red Cross.

Tragedy faces our neighbors in the flood-stricken areas as it faced Chilton County after the storm a few years ago. The Red Cross will do a magnificent job of relieving suffering. May our own county not lack in supporting this cause.

"I'll Tell the World--"

Beginning this week the News is carrying a full-page advertisement sponsored by thirty-one business firms and organizations in the City of Clanton. One of these advertisements will be published each month for twelve months, and your attention is especially called to the thought-provoking messages which have for their purpose the building of a bigger and better city in which to live. The men and firms whose names appear on the advertisements this week, and those which will follow, are the men who are interested in the growth and development of Clanton. They are the people who deserve your support and patronage. Read this message, and then help your community on to better things.

Let Us Play

Even with millions unemployed we still don't know much about how to play. When the daily stint is over for those who toil too little use is made of our opportunity for healthful recreation. With the loveliest landscapes, the most beautiful flowers, the clearest streams, and possibilities for parks galore, Americans are ruining their nerves and digestion under pressure of work and worry, and their children are trying to play in the streets.

Which leads us to believe that we know too little about the art of playing. Miss Margaret Hodo, district recreational director, located at Montevallo, however, proposes an attempt to remedy this situation to some extent. She is this week contacting various local organizations to get a recreational program underway in this county. With cooperation of community clubs and organizations much good can be accomplished through this endeavor.

Better Get Married

If statistics recently compiled by Dr. William F. Ogburn of the University of Chicago are to be accepted as accurate, those who desire to retain wealth, sanity, and even life itself, should get married if they are not already that way.

He declared that most of the inmates of poorhouses and insane asylums are unmarried; also that the death rate for single men and widowers is twice as high as that for married men.

It has often been asserted that married men live longer, but a cynic once declared that this was not literally true, as "it only seemed longer." However, Dr. Ogburn's researches seem to bear out the idea that married life is really conducive to longevity.

To be on the safe side, therefore, a young fellow had better get married; provided, of course, he can find someone who is willing to assume the role of party of the second part—or maybe it's the first part.

Sundown

In recalling memories of famous Southern poets of the last fifty years the current Progressive Farmer pays tribute to John Charles McNeill and reprints the following exquisite verses of his:

Hills wrapped in gray, standing along the west,

Clouds dimly lighted, gathering slowly,

The star of peace at watch above the crest,

Oh, holy, holy, holy!

We know, O Lord, so little what is best—

Wingless, we move so lowly;

But in Thy calm All-knowledge let us rest.

Oh, holy, holy, holy!

"Unless Gov. Landon has some plans for economic rehabilitation which he is withholding entirely, it does not seem likely that he can offer much for the Republican national platform."—Dubuque Telegraph Herald (ind.)

COMMUNITY RECREATIONAL PROGRAMS ARE PLANNED

The State Department of Public Welfare, in cooperation with the Children's Bureau, is sending Community Workers into four areas of State. Chilton County is one of four counties which will be included area number two and served by Margaret Hodo. Miss Hodo will be stationed in Montevallo, but her services will be available to all of Chilton County.

Through the Community Workers the Department of Public Welfare hopes to further the development of community organization and recreation.

Since only one worker will be available to four counties, the amount of time she can spend in any one community will necessarily be limited. It is hoped, however, that such organizations as the Parent-Teacher Association, the American Legion, the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, 4-H Clubs, Civic Clubs, Federal Clubs, Y.W.C.A.'s, Y.M.C.A.'s, Church Auxiliaries, and other interested clubs and organizations will cooperate to make the Community Worker's services as valuable as possible.

To abolish the office of Deputy Solicitor of Chilton County, Alabama. Enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. That the office of Deputy Solicitor of Chilton County, Alabama, and the same is hereby abolished.

Section 2. That all laws and parts thereof in conflict with the provision of this act, in so far as they apply to Chilton County, Alabama, be and the same are hereby repealed.

Section 3. That this act shall become effective immediately upon its final passage and approval by the Governor of Alabama.

EARLE THOMAS, Senator.

NOTICE OF LOCAL BILL

of Alabama, Chilton County. It is hereby given that a Bill is introduced and its enactment at the 1936 extraordinary session of the Legislature of Alabama, is in substance as follows:

A BILL To Be Entitled AN ACT

To create the office of County Solicitor of Chilton County, Alabama; to provide for his appointment and election and the method of appointment in the event of a vacancy; to fix his salary and define his duties.

Enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. That the office of County Solicitor is hereby created for the County of Chilton, State of Alabama.

Section 2. That the County Solicitor be elected by the qualified electors of the County of Chilton at the general election to be held for the election of County officers in November, 1936 and every four years thereafter, and he shall hold office from the Monday after the second Tuesday of January next after his election and his successor is elected and qualified.

Section 3. Vacancies in the office of County Solicitor shall be filled by appointment by the Governor of Alabama and the appointee shall hold office until the next general election, for the County and County officers after his appointment.

Section 4. It shall be the duty of the County Solicitor of Chilton County to perform all the duties now or hereafter prescribed by law for Deputy Solicitors in the State of Alabama.

Section 5. The County Solicitor of Chilton County, Alabama shall receive a salary of $1200.00 per annum, payable monthly in the sum of $100.00 by the County Treasurer of Chilton County, Alabama, drawn by the Probate Judge of Chilton County, Alabama, on the first day of each calendar month.

Section 6. That immediately after the final passage and approval of this act, the governor shall appoint a County Solicitor for Chilton County, Alabama who shall hold office until the Monday after the second Tuesday of January, 1937.

Section 7. The County Solicitor of Chilton County appointed and elected under this act, in addition to the duties now required shall represent and defend Chilton County in all civil and equity suits, where said county is party either plaintiff or defendant, complainant or respondent and shall appear in the Commissioners Court or Board of Revenue of Chilton County, Alabama on all legal matters affecting Chilton County, when requested to do so by said court or Board of Revenue and also shall advise the County Treasurer of Chilton County, Alabama on all legal questions as to the proper receipt, handling and disbursing of the funds or monies of Chilton County, Alabama, when requested to do so by said Treasurer or other legal custodians of the funds of Chilton County, Alabama.

Section 8. The Commissioners Court or Board of Revenue of Chilton County, Alabama may upon request, in writing by the County Solicitor of Chilton County hire or employ special counsel or other attorneys at law to assist the County Solicitor in the prosecution or defense of any suit whether in law or equity, when Chilton County is a party and shall be authorized to pay reasonable fee for their services, and amount of the fee shall be determined and agreed upon at the time entering into the contract of employment.

Section 9. Other than as provided in the Commissioners Court or Board of Revenue of Chilton County, Alabama, shall not expend any monies belonging to Chilton County, Alabama for legal services for County Solicitor, or legal advisor to it.

Section 10. That all laws and parts thereof in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Section 11. This Act shall become effective immediately upon its final passage and approval by the Governor of Alabama.

EARLE THOMAS, Senator.

"Know Any Bigger"

Long, long ago when my great ancestors were living in Coosa County, the land was fabulously fertile and was famed far and wide for the freaks which this excessive fertility made possible. One rare instance of which occurred, that we hear now only as our fathers told to son.

One of these old pioneers tell us this story. According to him, this most wonderful occurrence happened in the swamp near his home. While he was going about the daily task of providing squirrels or other wild meat to the breakfast of his twelve children, he had walked about for several hours until exhausted to the point which required rest or better yet a little more rest. Seeing a large log which seemed to be pretty soft on account of the moss and ferns upon it, he eased his wearied carcass and sat thereon, thus calling his dog to his side to be at hand in case of an emergency. After resting a considerable length of time, taking in the fact time was not registered by minutes as the busy age of today requires it, he was startled to find himself being transferred bodily thru space to the bed of a small creek which flowed close by. Wet and beguiled, he climbed to the bank and imagine his astonishment to see his dog gliding off thru the bushes exactly like a large snake, and a snake it was, grown to an enormous size in the famed swamp of Coosa County. As he saw that he was really awake and not dreaming, he whistled as men are wont to do in times of amazement and his dog, thinking he was calling him whined and barked until his master came to see why he didn't come. At last it dawned upon him that the ground was so rich his dog's tail had taken roots and grown into the ground, so the thing for him to do was to cut it off and go home without the much needed breakfast.

Upon traveling thru this same swamp several weeks later I was brought out of day dreaming by an incessant barking of dogs where the other miraculous events had happened. When I investigated I found my dog's tail had grown into a tree and had a hundred or more little dogs hanging by their tails from the limbs. I being a very humane man and not liking to see the poor dogs suffer, I cut each one loose which necessarily made them bob-tailed.

That, my friend, is the reason why we have so many bob-tailed dogs in our country today.

NOTICE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County. Circuit Court, in Equity, No. 1306.

Girth Bascomb Knight, Complainant, vs Emma Katherine Knight, Defendant.

In this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of J.B. Atkinson, that the Defendant is a non-resident, and that her place of residence and post-office address is unknown, and that such address cannot be ascertained after reasonable effort; and, further, that in the belief of said affiant the Defendant is over the age of twenty-one years.

It is, therefore, ordered by the Register that publication be made in the Chilton County News, a newspaper published in the County of Chilton, once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring the said Emma Katherine Knight, to plead, answer, or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 10 day of April, 1936, or in thirty days thereafter, a decree pro confesso may be taken against her.

Done at office in Clanton, this 10th day of March, 1936.

W.D. SPIGNER, Register.

How Cardui Helps Women To Build Up

Cardui stimulates the appetite and improves digestion, helping women to get more strength from the food they eat. As nourishment is improved, strength is built up, certain functional pains go away and women praise Cardui for helping them back to good health. . . . Mrs. C. E. Ratliff, of Hinton, W. Va., writes: "After the birth of my last baby, I did not seem to get my strength back. I took Cardui again and was soon sound and well. I have given it to my daughters and recommend it to other ladies." . . . Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

Details Of New AAA Program Announced

Auburn, Ala.—By cooperating with the Government in the soil conservation program, Alabama farmers can increase their 1936 farm income by ten or eleven million dollars, announces Dr. L. N. Duncan, director of the State Extension Service, who will administer the program.

A telegram received Saturday by Dr. L. N. Duncan from Washington states that the new program "provides two types of payments"—soil conserving payments, averaging $10 per acre with maximum acreage limits for the country as a whole, and soil building crops in 1936.

The payments on cotton will be 5 cents a pound for the normal yield of each acre diverted. Cotton payments will not be made for diversion of more than 35 per cent of the cotton base acreage for the individual farm.

Immediately following the announcement of the new program in Washington and upon recommendations and endorsements of farmers in each county in Alabama, Dr. Duncan recommended to Secretary Wallace the appointment of J. L. Edwards, Selma, W. H. Robertson, Loachapoka, John V. Matthews, Huntsville, L. S. Fluker, Livingston, and Willis B. Orawley, Banks, as members of a State agricultural adjustment committee to represent the farmers in the administration of a new program. Walter L. Randolph will assist Dr. Duncan and the farmers in administering the program in the State.

Details of the program will be carried to the farmers through county agents.

NOTICE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County. Probate Court, March 10th, 1936.

In the Matter of Estate of John W. Browder, deceased.

Letters testamentary as Executor of the will of John W. Browder, deceased, having been granted to the undersigned on the 7th day of March, 1936 by the Hon. J. Lee Smith, Judge of Probate of said County, notice is hereby given that all persons having claims against said estate are hereby required to present the same within the time allowed by law, or the same will be barred.

CLANTON

Is a MIGHTY GOOD Place To Trade!

There are lots of good towns and some bad ones, perhaps, owing to the point of view. However, we are not knocking any town on earth---but simply BOOSTING one of them---your home town and mine---CLANTON.

Co-operation among the residents of a community is what counts for most in building a town of which all may well feel proud. The men who are devoting their every effort and investing both time and money to provide a home-town market, where you may come and do your buying and selling, seek your cooperation.

They ask only that when you want anything which they carry that you TRY first to buy it at home. If the desired merchandise cannot be obtained in Clanton, then go elsewhere. But in fairness to yourself, your home community, and to the men who are working to make this a town in which you may be happy to reside, buy it here, if possible.

When times are good, the home-town merchants rejoice with you --- and they stand by you when times are hard. They are friends who want to give you a full dollar's worth for every dollar spent with them.

"BUY IT IN CLANTON"

We are prompted to sponsor this message to the people of Clanton and vicinity through our interest in community welfare.

The Chevrolet engine is the most economical automobile engine produced today, because (1) it is a six-cylinder engine, and (2) it is a valve-in-head six-cylinder engine. . . . Its six cylinders use less gas and oil—in fact, use the least gas and oil—because six cylinders are the most economical combination used in modern automobiles. . . . Its valve-in-head design cuts gasoline consumption still lower because there is less loss of heat through the walls of the combustion chamber in valve-in-head engines, and the advanced construction of the Chevrolet engine gives maximum heat (or power) saving. . . . Most important of all, Chevrolet's more efficient cooling system, pressure stream oiling and the greater accessibility of all working parts result in more dependable operation, over a longer period of time, with the lowest maintenance costs.

HOSPITAL

Gleston Hilyer, Billingsley, March 22; Miss Sophia Mullins, Clanton, March 17, and Osmond Weldon, Billingsley, March 17. All with the exception of Weldon are improving rapidly. His condition "has not been as satisfactory as it might," aides stated.

Others admitted during this time are Gleston Hilyer, injured in an automobile accident Sunday; Charles Gandy, Clanton Route four, hernia; and J. H. Brazier, Clanton Route one, treatment.

The following were dismissed recently: Malcom Lecroy, Mrs. T. M. Allen, Miss Mary Lamar Russell, Mrs. Alex Frazier, Mrs. Grady Gore, Ernest Mims, and Harvey Stone, Negro. Miss Ernestine Hayes, 15, of near Clanton, is undergoing treatment for severe lacerations about the face, suffered in an automobile accident near Thorsby last Sunday night.

RED CROSS

may be better understood, your attention is called to the following proclamation by President Roosevelt concerning the need of help:

"TO THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES:
Flood waters raging throughout eleven states have driven 200,000 people from their homes, with every indication that this number may be materially increased within the next twenty-four hours. In this grave emergency, the homeless are turning to our great national relief agency, the American Red Cross, for food, clothing, shelter and medical care.

To enable the Red Cross to meet this immediate obligation and to continue to carry the burden of caring for these unfortunate men, women and children until their homes are restored and they can return to normal living conditions, it is necessary that a minimum relief fund of three million dollars be raised as promptly as possible.

As President of the United States and as President of the American Red Cross, I am, therefore, urging our people to contribute promptly and most generously so that sufficient funds may be available for the relief of these thousands of our homeless fellow citizens. I am confident that in the face of this great need your response will be as immediate and as generous as has always been the case when the Red Cross has acted as your agent in the relief of human suffering."

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT"

REFERENDUM

had discussed the matter with many of the leading citizens of the county.

The exact date for this special election, or referendum, has not been set. Judge Smith stated, but that it was his intention to hold it on the same date some other election is to be held in order to save as much expense to the county as possible. It is understood that it may be held on April 14th, provided the Legislature sets that date for the proposed referendum on the legalizing of beer and whiskey in Alabama.

Judge Smith stated that he firmly believes that the result of this special referendum on the proposed Local Bills, will be decided by the Senator and Representative from this county. He stated he did not believe these two men, Cox and Thomas, would do anything against the wishes of the people of the county and that it was his opinion this referendum was the fair and just thing to do for the welfare of the county.

Following is a statement quoted from Judge Smith regarding this proposed local legislation:

"I believe in honest popular government. I believe in allowing the people of our county a voice in affairs as important to them as this current bill. I believe the proposed manner of enacting this bill is not giving proper allowance for the voice of the people.

"Therefore, it is my intention of calling for a popular referendum on this question, to determine the wishes of the people of Chilton County, in which they will be allowed a chance to speak for themselves by their ballots. If arrangements are made for a state-wide referendum on the liquor question to be held on April 14, as has been mentioned, then I will ask that a referendum be held on the same date here in our county in regard to the bill to abolish the Commissioners Court. If it is decided that there will be no state-wide referendum, then I will make further plans in regard to date, etc., for holding our county referendum anyway. I should know by next week all particulars as to the state-wide referendum, and therefore will be able to give out further information concerning our Commissioners Court referendum.

"It is my opinion that, in case the voters of the county are in favor of such a chance, as may be expressed in such referendum, then the change will be made; but that, in case the voters are not in favor of this radical change in our county government, I do not believe the bill will become law."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of expressing our appreciation and thanks to our friends for their help and sympathy during the recent illness and death of our mother and grandmother, Mrs. Sally Davis. We also appreciate the floral offerings.—B. D. Dennis and family.

CCC CAMP

necessary to the orderly functioning of the terracing and farm program is just ready to be set into motion. Farmers in this county have made application for soil erosion advice on at least 5,000 acres, and plans have already been completed for terracing much of this land with the county terracing machinery, he said. With the discontinuance of this camp, there is little likelihood that this work would ever be completed.

Recent government plans, it is understood, were to abandon most of the CCC units in the country, but President Roosevelt expressed a desire to keep a majority of these camps intact for a while longer. Under the new setup, it is believed that only two Alabama camps will be discontinued—and local agricultural leaders feel that the Clanton camp should not be one of these two, as it has not been established long enough to have carried to completion hardly any of the program mapped out for it.

TWELVE FINED IN CITY COURT HERE LAST MONDAY MORNING

Twelve persons were fined in City Court Monday morning, when they faced Mayor C. Fenn Jones on various charges. Seven West End Negroes were fined for indulging in a Sunday night gambling spree; three others, for public drunkenness; one for driving while intoxicated, and one for violation of parking regulations.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Burt Higgins entertained recently with a children's party to celebrate the eighth birthday of her granddaughter, Eloise Berry.

Games and contests were played and prizes were awarded to Erskine Jackson, Mary Virginia Rice and Bonnie B. Manning. Mrs. Higgins was assisted in entertaining by Miss Ruth Higgins and Mrs. Mary E. Berry.

Those attending were: Peggy Mims Franklin, Emogene Lowkery, Grace Swanson Mixson, Charleen Williams, Dorothy Howard, Bonnie B. Manning, Mildred Popwell, Jack Sorrell, Herman Higgins, Sherwood Stanley, Mary Virginia Rice of Jemison, Erskine Jackson, Eloise and Bobbie Berry.

Cully A. Cobb, who has been director of the Cotton Division, will be regional director of the Southern Division, which includes Alabama, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, and Oklahoma.

Dance At City Hall In Clanton Tonight

Again Thursday night of this week, the City Hall at Clanton will be the scene of gay festivities as both young and old "trip the fantastic toe" to the strains of music by the "Bama Skippers, well-known Montevallo orchestra.

This dance will be sponsored, as several others recently held in Clanton have been, by the Chilton County Unit of the League of Young Democrats, and is expected to be one of the best yet, according to those in charge of arrangements. Beginning at 9 o'clock and lasting until this will be one dance that no one will want to miss, they stated.

MAPLE SPRINGS

The death angel visited us last Saturday morning and took away our friend and loved one, Mr. Bill Mims. Mr. Mims had been in bad health for years but a few days ago he received a fall, taking his bed and death overtook him last Saturday morning about 11:00 o'clock. The Rev. J. D. Hughes of Cooper and the Rev. Ezell from Clanton conducted the funeral services. His body was laid to rest Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Maple Springs cemetery with Spigner Funeral Home in charge.

"Grandma Davis," as everyone called her, mother of the Rev. Andrew Davis, and Mr. Shirley Davis, of this community passed on to her reward Sunday morning at 9:00 o'clock. At the time of her death she was at the home of her son, Mr. Jesse Davis in Bethel cemetery. She was laid to rest in the Bethel cemetery Monday morning at 11:00 o'clock. Friends and loved ones, weep not for "Grandma" and Uncle Bill, for they have gone on to a much better and happier home.

Mrs. Oliver Glenn visited her aunt, Mrs. J. R. Mitchell, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rollan visited Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Devaughn Sunday.

Mr. O. L. Devaughn attended the singing at Calera Sunday.

Mr. Jewell Miller was in this community Sunday and Monday. Mr. Melvin Langford was home this past week end. Mr. Roy Downs spent a while Sunday with Mr. Otis Glenn.

WELL-KNOWN COLLINS CHAPEL RESIDENT DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Funeral services for Posey Green Robinson, 57, who died at his home in the Collins Chapel community last Sunday at 10:30 o'clock, following an illness of pneumonia, were held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock from the Collins Chapel Baptist Church with the Rev. W. E. Robinson officiating. Burial was in the churchyard cemetery with Martin & Sons in charge.

Mr. Robinson had spent most of his life in the Collins Chapel community, where he was a prominent farmer. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Nellie Littleton Robinson; one son, Pryer Robinson; three daughters, Mrs. Anthesis Baker, Mrs. Martha Burnette, and Miss Myrtle Mae Robinson, all of the Collins Chapel community. He is also survived by four brothers and one sister.

The following friends served as pallbearers: Martin Gore, G. W. Wright, Posey Cleckler, William Wright, Ernest Peters, and Vinson House.

A sheep, nuzzling so close to a water heater that its wool was set afire, started a blaze which destroyed two buildings owned by Emil Flink at Arcadia, Wis.

Laxative combination folks know is trustworthy

The confidence thousands of parents have in good, old reliable, powdered Theodor's Black-Draught has prompted them to get the new Syrup of Black-Draught for their children. The grown folks stick to the powdered Black-Draught; the youngsters probably will prefer it when they outgrow their childish love of sweets. Mrs. C. W. Adams, of Murray, Ky., writes: "I have used Theodor's Black-Draught (powder) about thirty years, taking it for biliousness. Black-Draught acts well and I am always pleased with the results. I wanted a good, reliable laxative for my children. I have found Syrup of Black-Draught to be just that."

The Mirage Of The El Dorados

Of all the human wolves who prey upon their brothers and fill their own purses by the sweat of somebody else's brow none are as despicable as those who hold out false hopes to the aged or unfortunate. It seems that every period of dire economic stress breeds a larger pack of this particular brand of coyotes.

The latest exposure of this kind of thing seems to be the so-called Townsend plan of age pensions. So long as we could believe the sponsors of this program sincere tolerance was in order, however, badly misguided we believed them to be. But latest press reports give evidence that one manager has been paid from $1,800 to $2,100 monthly in the promotion of this scheme, and the estimated receipts since its inception in January, 1934, reach the grand total of $951,964.09.

The tragedy of it all is that the appeal of this program is directed to the aged and less fortunate class of citizens. Promoters who paint such beautiful El Dorados for the future of their supporters, and then take the contributions from thousands in the present to give themselves monthly incomes of $2,000, are leading their followers toward a mirage of hope which must inevitably end in disillusionment and disappointment.

Tribute

"Mr. Roosevelt assumed the Presidency in one of the blackest hours in the history of the Republic," said John J. Tigert, president of the University of Florida, in recommending the honorary degree of doctor of literature conferred upon President Roosevelt at Winter Park.

"It was a moment when the slightest misstep, the most trivial mistatement, the faintest suspicion of indecision, might have precipitated a panic, if not a revolution. It was a time for leadership, for courage, for sublime faith. He exhibited all three.

"From that fateful day to this, he has given his all to lead his country through the valley of the shadow, out and up toward those higher and happier levels where hope and confidence abide.

"The heroism, the pathos, the loneliness of this honest and straightforward endeavor to face the needs and perils of the day—these are reasons why we representatives of Florida's seven institutions of higher learning unite this morning to honor the man who has been called the most conspicuous and interesting individual now in the world."

Law Denies Rights

Judge Jones of Montgomery questions the constitutionality of the state milk-control law which authorizes the licensing of only those dealers who were in business at the time the law was enacted.

If anybody wants to enter the milk business since this act was passed, he is barred by the act from doing so.

Judge Jones rules that this is discrimination of an unconstitutional nature against one group and in favor of another.

The right of the individual to pursue whatever calling he chooses is so grounded in our laws and practice that any effort to uproot should be regarded as a very serious threat at individual liberty.

Lawmakers of recent years have shown a growing tendency to disregard, not only the basic law, but also human rights.

It is about time for voters to find out more what candidates for legislative offices really think before casting their vote.

Otherwise, we may find destroyers right at the very heart of free government.—Mobile Times.

The Ball Season Approaches

Clanton baseball fans are already tuning up the jargon of their sport and making plans to attend the coming games. Plans are already underway for a local team, and those interested advise the public to get ready for some good games.

It may take some effort to get our team organized, but it is going to be done, so let's get behind the boys, give them all cooperation possible, and make the coming season a success in every respect.

Does Alabama Relish Its Reputation For Hypocrisy?

Alabama, for so long a laughingstock among the states because its extreme dry laws would not permit the sale of near-beer, bids fair now to acquire a reputation which is even less to be relished. That is a reputation for hypocrisy concerning prohibition. As a matter of fact, Alabama already has that reputation; the sad part of it is that its renown for hypocrisy is growing.

Consider, for example, an article about Alabama in the current issue of The Literary Digest. It is one of the most prominently displayed articles in the magazine—illustrated, incidentally, with a very good picture of Gov. Graves. It describes Alabama as being a state "where liquor flows freely, but where its sale provides no revenue toward relief needs"—or, for that matter, toward any other needs.

The article begins:

There is a drug store on the next corner. John O. Southerner pulls up to the curb and squaks his horn. Out comes a white-aproned youth.

"What'll it be, gents?"

"One Martini and one Old-Fashioned."

John will pay 50 cents apiece for them. A highball will cost half as much.

Many Alabama citizens frown on such incidents and feel the state's bone dry laws are a farce. In Mobile the sheriff is paid for raids and seizure of whiskey. But convictions are rare.

Bars operate in both Mobile and Montgomery. In Birmingham and other cities selling is not in the open, but two of every three second-class restaurants, sandwich and barbecue stands are "blind tigers," with whisky 15 cents a jigger.

The Literary Digest recalls that a little over a year ago the voters in a referendum upheld statewide statutory prohibition. It remarks that only two other states, Kansas and Oklahoma, with constitutional prohibition, are legally as dry as Alabama. Georgia, Mississippi and Tennessee prohibit all hard liquor, but permit beer.

Only these six states now have prohibition, and some of them do not, as Alabama does, prohibit the sale of beer. Of the 42 states which have repealed prohibition, 15 have state monopolies and 23 grant licenses, while three have local option forms. Texas, while it has repealed prohibition, has not yet decided on the method of control.

In Alabama, as every one of us knows—or at least can easily find out—liquor does flow just as freely as the article in The Digest says it does. Yet Alabama is legally "dry." Any state in such a situation could not avoid acquiring a reputation for hypocrisy. Does Alabama relish such a reputation?

But that, of course, is not the worst part of it. The really distressing thing is that while liquor is flowing so freely, it contributes no revenue to the state treasury, when there is an urgent need for the money, which taxation of this business would provide. The Digest's article goes on to speak of the desperate relief needs of the state, quoting some of the appeals made for relief.

"With such appeals sounding," it concludes, "legislators speculatively eye other states' profits from legal liquor. More than $161,445,000 went into wet states' treasuries last year from this source."

How well Alabama could use a million or so of that money every year! Alabama gains nothing by not legalizing and taxing liquor, for the traffic goes on just the same.

But some Alabama prohibitionists say they do not want the state to have this money. They regard it as somehow contaminated—though much of the money that the federal government is sending into Alabama comes from liquor revenue, and there seems to be no objection to that. They even say they would rather have the schools close than to see them kept going by "liquor money." One wonders if they would also rather see those on the relief rolls starve to death than to have them fed with the proceeds of liquor taxes.—From The B'ham News.

MORAL ECHOES.

D. W. HASKER

In the zoo at Springfield, Mo., there was a proud peacock that walked about over the lawns and strutted his beautiful feathers. One night not long since this bird made the mistake of roosting too near the ground. While he slept a Billy Goat ventured near and nipped off one feather and while chewing it he decided that peacock feathers were good for his appetite and so he proceeded to eat all the feathers within his reach. Now the proud peacock hides about in the shrubbery and laments the passing of his beauty and glory. We have seen many a proud peacock in human form strutting his stuff as he walked about over God's beautiful world. They were roosting too low in their manner of living and while they dreamed the goat of sin nipped off all of their plumage and glory and now they are struggling around in dark places, hiding themselves out because they have no longer fit to be seen in decent society. It is pride that goeth before a fall.

While riding along in a dense fog I thought much about the difficulty that came to me because of the mist in the air. I could not see fifty yards in any one direction and yet I knew that according to the science of the fog that not over two glasses of water were scattered through the air that was within my vision. The two glasses of water were multiplied into millions of particles and they obstructed by vision and made dangerous my travel. It is often true that a small sin in our hearts can becloud our vision and make dangerous our way to heaven. The science of sin is that it multiplies itself into fog and dust that hides out our vision of God. It is the sinless life that has a clear vision and a safe travel as he journeys toward God and heaven and home.

At one time I stood on the top of Chimney rock near Ashville, North Carolina. My head seemed to be reeling in a circle and my limbs trembled with fear. I reached for the iron railing and for a moment I was sure that the top of that rock was also reeling to and fro like a drunk man. They it occurred to me that I was the only thing on that rock that was unsteady. Many a time have we been unsteady in our faith and we have thought that even God was in a twirl. Listen to me—God is as steady as Gibraltar and in this world we are the only things that are unsteady.

A friend of mine had a fish pond in his back yard. Near that pool he had planted a grapevine and for three years he told me that it bore no fruit. The fourth year it was loaded with clusters of grapes and this man sought the cause. He found that a lone runner had gone through the soil until it had found the pool and now the vine produced. It was feeding from a life giving source and it bore much fruit. When a Christian is just planted in the church he is not going to produce much fruit unless and until he finds his way into the heart of God. When we are grafted into the Christ and planted near the living water, we can then feed upon Him and bear much fruit. If you are living a fruitless life, you had better throw out strong runners that will connect you with God.

While standing on the hilltop overlooking a woodland slope I could see and feel the first indication of coming winter. Far above me in the air I could see many yellow breasted robins as they flew toward the South. The cold days of winter were coming and the instinct of the bird called it toward the land of sunshine. I looked about me to see a bird like unto those above my head but I saw none. Suppose that I had seen a robin in the shrubbery hopping about in a restless manner, eagerly looking up to the robin in the air and calling for an opportunity to join them, but the robin had no wings and could not go South. That would have been unfair to that bird. When God planted the instinct to go South in the bosom of the bird, He also attached wings to its body so that it could fly to the South. When you have an instinct, a call to God, to duty and to service, you also have that within you that makes it possible for you to answer that call.

GASOLINE CONTAINS 1,000
DIFFERENT INGREDIENTS

Gulf Changes Motor Fuel When Weather Changes

A number of interesting facts about gasoline not generally known to the public have been revealed by one of the world's top producers and refiners of oil, in connection with a series of advertisements begun in the Chilton County News this week.

"In adopting the phrase, 'Keep in Step with the Calendar,' as our newspaper advertising theme for 1936," explains W. R. Huber, Gulf's advertising manager, "We believe that few people realize that gasoline is a mixture of more than 1,000 different substances, and that certain of these chemical properties must be carefully controlled according to weather conditions to give the best possible performance."

"It is impossible for anyone to manufacture a single gasoline which will start easily in Maine in February and which will not cause vapor-lock in Texas in July. It is expensive to manufacture and market different gasolines for different climatic conditions, but to properly serve the motorist's best interests, this cannot be avoided."

"That Good Gulf Gasoline sold in Massachusetts in summer is not the same gasoline sold there in the spring and fall. And this, in turn, is not the same gasoline sold in winter. Furthermore, our gasoline sold in Ohio in winter is not the same as the gasoline sold in Florida in winter."

"Gasolines that are ideal for quick starting in cold weather may be quite inferior in hot weather. To insure perfect performance and the highest mileage throughout the country and all seasons, That Good Gulf Gasoline is 'Kept in Step with the Calendar'—hence all of it goes to work—none of it goes to waste."

Alabama Legislature
Accepts New Farm Act

Alabama holds the distinction of being the first State in the nation to pass legislation accepting the provisions of the new $470,000,000 Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act. The new farm program was accepted by a unanimous vote of the Legislature.

"If the State makes provision for necessary cooperation in helping finance the administration of the act in Alabama, the new law will pave the way for farmers of the State to receive benefit payments of from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000 annually, beginning in 1936," Dr. L. N. Duncan, director of the State Extension Service, said in complimenting the members of the Legislature on their prompt passage of Senate Bill No. 102 by Senator Walden, of Headland, and House Bill No. 268 by Parish of Henry County accepting the Act.

The bill passed by the Legislature designates the Extension Service to administer the new soil program in Alabama. This recognition, it was explained, was given the Extension Service because of its efficient manner of administering the AAA program through which Alabama farmers were paid almost $30,000,000 in benefit and parity payments during the past three years.

The new law authorizes the Extension Service, in cooperation with farmers of the State to make a plan each year to promote soil conservation and other agricultural benefits.

It is expected that most states in the Union will pass legislation similar

Screw Worm Appears
In Southern States

Auburn, Ala.—Screw worms have already made their appearance in southern Florida and in a few scattered areas of Georgia, reports Dr. F. C. Bishop of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"As the weather becomes warmer the pests will multiply and spread," said Dr. Bishop in warning that "unless stockmen apply effective preventive measures the pest promises to become a serious problem again this year in the Southern States."

"Frequent examinations of all livestock and prompt treatment with pine tar oil of every scratch, sore, and cut is an effective way to stop multiplication of the pest," he says.

L. H. REYNOLDS GIVES OPINION ON THE PROPOSED LOCAL BILLS

Man Of Long Experience In Affairs Of County Does Not Approve Of The Plan To Abolish Comm. Court

To The Chilton County News:

"There will be an election held in Chilton County next Tuesday for the purpose of giving the voters of this County an opportunity to decide whether or not they want the bills passed that are now being advertised by Senator Thomas in the Chilton County News, one to abolish the Commissioners Court and the other to make the deputy solicitor elected by the people. "I have tried to get all the information I could on the advisability and the necessity of the Legislature abolishing the Commissioners Court and to give the Governor the right to appoint three commissioners to serve this County from five to nine years, and I have failed to find, or hear, one logical reason, expressed why this should be done and I have heard no argument which will go to show that the Governor would appoint better men to handle the county's affairs than the people of this county can elect. I do not believe in appointing men to office in the place of the voters electing them, and it looks like if the people of this county are competent to elect a probate judge, sheriff, tax collector, tax assessor, representative and senator, that they would be well enough informed to elect the commissioners and under the present law if we elect a commissioner that will not look after the county's affairs we have an opportunity in two years to elect another in his place, but under this proposed bill, it makes no difference what the officials may do and how badly they manage the county's affairs, the people of the County have lost their right and privilege to govern their own affairs and they would be at the mercy of these three commissioners appointed by the Governor for eight or nine years, and I believe if the voters of this county will investigate the conditions of this State that they will find that the people of Chilton County have managed their affairs equally as well, or better, than the State has managed its affairs.

"Now as to the bill making the deputy solicitor elected by the people, I want to say to the voters of this County that the deputy solicitor is not an officer, but serves under the circuit solicitor and it seems to me that it would be dangerous and would be a bad law to take a chance of electing an assistant to any officer who might not be fully in accord with the official. Suppose the people of this county were to elect a deputy for Mr. Huddleston, our circuit solicitor, that he could not work agreeably with. Could you imagine the injustice that it would do to him and to his administration of the office of Circuit Solicitor? Would the people of this County want to elect a chief clerk for the Judge of Probate, a chief deputy for the Sheriff or to elect an assistant for any officer? Could you imagine how embarrassing it might be to an officer to not let him control the affairs of his office?"

"I hope the voters of the County that go to the polls next Tuesday will give due consideration to these two bills before they cast their ballot and I hope both bills will have a large majority against them when the votes are counted.

"When our forefathers came to this County and left the old world on account of the depression and because the people did not have a voice in their Government affairs, they came here and established the greatest government the world has ever seen. They laid the foundation for a government by the people and for the people and not by rulers and bosses and for rulers and bosses, and they laid down the great principle that they were opposed to taxation without representation, which is the greatest principle of government that has ever been devised by man and under this principle and these ideas the United States is looked upon by the balance of the world as having the best and greatest government in the world, where a majority of the people rule and I hope that our county will vote strong against these bills next Tuesday and that there will be no question left as to where the people of Chilton County stand in local self-government.

"We may have not always agreed with the Commissioners Court, and I state frankly that I have not agreed with them for the last few years, but the people have elected them and at the last election there were more democrats elected in this County than have been elected in over forty years and we now have a democratic probate judge, sheriff, circuit clerk, tax collector, tax assessor and one Democratic commissioner and a democratic representative and I can see no reason why the people of this County should be deprived of the privilege of electing their officers in the future. In just a few days the people will be called upon to nominate county commissioners and other officers and the Democrats and Republicans both have some of the best men running for offices that have been candidates in this County for a long time and let's vote to maintain the idea that a majority of the people should rule, and let's go to the Primary to vote for the best man to fill the various offices and then in November will have another chance at them and then the people can elect the nominees who they feel are the best men to administer the affairs of this County, and as long as we can keep the government of our County in the hands of the people we can feel that it is safe, but if we turn our county over to one or two dictators we do not know what will happen, but I predict that if this is done that this county will not get over the results of it within the next twenty-five years.

"Yours truly,"
L. H. REYNOLDS.

New Type Business To Open In Clanton

The Pattillo Agency will open offices in the Walker Building next week under the management of Mrs. J. C. Pattillo.

This agency has been in operation for more than a year operating from Verbena and serving successfully a large mail-order trade. The business seeks to add to its clientele the people of this territory by offering them a complete advertising, multigraphing, mimeographing, stenographic, and typewriting service.

In addition to service for business and professional men, the agency will also render an unusual service to contest fans and to amateur writers.

The Pattillo Agency has been officially endorsed by National Contest Headquarters, an honor conferred on no similar southern agency. The endorsement carries with it the ability and opportunity to act as an authority on all matters pertaining to contests sponsored by national firms, and to legitimately show contest fans how to actually win prize checks. Service to amateur writers will include readings, revision, typing, and suggestions for selling scripts.

Mr. and Mrs. Pattillo are selling their work to national publications. Both have been winners in national contests. Mrs. Pattillo is a regular contributor to national contest magazines and other trade journals.

Watch for their ad in next week's News.

Officer Discusses 'Maternal Mortality'

By Dr. J. M. Kimmey

With so much being written concerning "Maternal Mortality," it might well to discuss the meaning of the term, and briefly consider its cause and prevention. Literally, the term means death of mothers, and refers particularly to deaths from causes directly related to childbirth. Deaths from these causes are still far prevalent, and many such deaths preventable. Why this is so becomes evident when we consider that for the majority of these deaths, the physician and following the instructions he gives. Especially important is the need for frequent examination by the physician during pregnancy, as in most cases symptoms which later mean convulsions can be recognized by the physician and steps taken to prevent this complication. Chilton County's Health Unit contends the lowering of the number of maternal deaths one of its principal aims, and already we feel that some has been accomplished. Many expectant mothers have placed themselves under the care of physicians in pregnancy due to the efforts of the County Health Nurse. The nurse also assisted many mothers through labor and help in preparing for the birth of the baby. The midwives of the county, who attend approximately 75 per cent of all deliveries in the county, are being supervised by the Health Department; some who were unfit have been prohibited from practicing, and have been instructed along the lines of cleanliness, and are rapidly being taught "danger signs," and that they call a physician when any of these signs are encountered. For almost all mothers should be attended by a physician, this is at times impossible, and if a midwife must be employed she should know the essentials of cleanliness, and other things that have been taught her. Midwives that are proving satisfactory are being issued permits by the County Board of Health.

The fact that many of the deaths from causes directly related to childbirth can be prevented is worth repeating, for when this fact is known and is recognized by all many lives will be saved and much suffering prevented.

American Nitrate Industry Bright Spot In South

"The Southland is famous for many things," says the Orlando, Florida, Morning Sentinel, "Ranging from incomparable women to race horses, from sun-kissed oranges to cotton, from expanding industrialism to sunshine. Of recent date, however, Hopewell, Virginia, has come in for fame because of the air nitrogen industry."

This great nitrate of soda industry of the South has come in for much attention lately. The Commonwealth Magazine (Virginia) states "Virginia and the South have in the Hopewell plant a trust of which they may well be proud."

Few farmers fully understand how much the American nitrogen industry means to them. The Orlando paper says, for example, "Secretary Wallace states that the price of nitrate of soda was reduced from over $50 per ton to its present price of around $32 per ton by the presence of domestic nitrate of soda." In this way alone, the American nitrate of soda industry has saved the Southern farmer a substantial part of his "soda" costs.

The American nitrate of soda industry is also important to the national defense, since nitrate of soda is used in explosives. This industry was first created after the War when far-seeing Americans, including General Pershing, saw the need to prepare for the future in times of peace.

A third reason why American nitrate of soda is a boon to the South is the fact that when farmers use Southern products, they are helping build up Southern industry and prosperity. Southern industry is leading the South to great prosperity.

Last but not least, the American nitrate of soda industry has aided the farmer and fertilizer dealer by being the first to introduce moisture-proof bags and even weight bags. In results, one soda may be said to be as good as the other, but for the reasons stated above many farmers are asking for the American product.

New Cedron Baseball News

J. C. Jones

The N.C. Club came through another workout Saturday in the best of condition. This will be the last workout before the schedule is started.

A game was played among the players with a score of 7-6, with all hurlers seeing duty on the mound. All showed up fine except Brown, who was wild, due to an injured finger. A few errors cost both sides some scores.

Manager Lawrence says: "It is one of the finest prospects the cubs have had for years and I hope to have a winning team."

Everyone is invited to see us play the CCC boys next Saturday afternoon. The game will be played on the latter's diamond.

Shipment Of Alabama Strawberries Started

B.P. Livingston, chief of the Division of Plant Industry of the State Department of Agriculture, said yesterday that following beginning of the movement of Alabama strawberries to market with small express shipments during the past week, carload shipments will start this week from Brewton and Castleberry.

The quality of the berries produced is good, he stated, and top prices are expected to be received for them in the Northern and Eastern markets to which shipment will be made. In Alabama the strawberry marketing season extends from March until June, the picking of the crop moving gradually northward in the State as the season advances.

FOR FARMERS

How long will you continue to lose this Extra Value?

The Department of Agriculture and Immigration of the State of Virginia, after official tests, reports that ARCADIAN, THE AMERICAN NITRATE OF SODA contains extra nitrogen over the guaranteed 16% with an extra cash value as high as 88¢ per ton. If you are not using "ARCADIAN" you are not getting this extra value. Tell your fertilizer dealer you will use only ARCADIAN, THE AMERICAN NITRATE OF SODA.

FIRST, because it is proved to be extra rich in nitrogen. SECOND, because it is produced in the South and its use helps to keep Southern workers employed.

Thorsby Institute News

Miss Lydia Colby, of Genesee, is visiting at the Institute. She is a teacher here twenty years ago.

We are glad to have her visit the school again. For the past five winters has been in Florida, and plans to soon on a trip to Ireland, where she will spend the summer months.

There will be no school picnic April 1. The students were given choice as to whether they would have a holiday on Wednesday, first school on Saturday for make-up as planned--or school all week and school on Saturday. The last plan was voted for by the students.

At the chapel period on Tuesday March 31st, the students enjoyed the numbers sung by the Girl's Glee Club. These were "Melody of Love," "To Your Banners," and "Sol Mio."

Christian Endeavor News

Due to the Christian Life Conference there was no regular meeting of Christian Endeavor Society. However, members of that group gave a play Sunday afternoon at the Conference. The play was "The Bridge to Nowhere" and was of missionary theme.

LEON MULLINS LAID TO REST LAST TUESD'Y

Popular Chilton Young Man Succumbs Tues. After Lingering Illness

W.L. (Shorty) Mullins, former resident of Clanton and widely known throughout Alabama, died at 10 o'clock Monday morning at his home in Tuscaloosa, following an illness of several months duration. His health had been failing for almost three years, but his condition had gradually grown worse for several weeks and death had been expected almost daily for weeks. He was 34 years of age.

Born in October, 1901, at Talladega, he removed with his family to Clanton at an early age, and made this city his home since that time. For the past three and one-half years, he had lived in Tuscaloosa, where, before ill health forced him to give up his work, he was connected with the Bolton Motor aVn Lines.

He was educated in the schools of Clanton and the University of Alabama. Before removing to Tuscaloosa, he was employed as traveling representative of the International Harvester Company. Prior to that time, he was connected with the Dixie Construction Company for several years. He was a member of the Calvary Baptist Church in Tuscaloosa and was a member of the Masonic Lodge.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Clanton Methodist Church with Dr. H.C. Williams, pastor of the Calvary Street Baptist Church in Tuscaloosa, and the Rev. R.P. Cochran officiating. Burial was in the family lot in the Clanton cemetery with Martin & Sons in charge.

Active pallbearers were: J.W. Hayes, W.E. Huddleston, Mollie Bolton, L.E. Diefenderfer, M.Z. Atchison, and David Vines. Honorary pallbearers were: H. T. Pipes, Bill Lloyd, Ed Montgomery, J.B. Atkinson, John Deramus, Barnett Deramus, Dr. V.J. Gragg, John Mackareth, Paul Land, George Faucett, W.A. Kemp, Cleve Headley, Ted Bolton, R.W. Moss, Archie Mills, C. Fenn Jones, Johnny Plier, and Dr. J.P. Hayes.

Surviving are: his widow, Mrs. Bertie Doffin Mullins; mother, Mrs. Annie Stephens Mullins; one sister, Mrs. J.E. Edgar, of Clanton, and one brother, H.C. Mullins, of Tuscaloosa.

Scorns Old Set-Up Of Commissioners Court Of His County

Following is a letter handed the News by Representative C. B. Cox, with the request that it be prominently displayed and published:

March 30, 1936

"Hon. Charlie Cox, Clanton, Alabama.

"Dear Mr. Cox:

"You were asking me the other day about some of the results of the Road Supervisor Law for Henry County.

"This local law became effective on January 1, 1933. At that time it was known that the affairs of this County were in bad shape, but the true condition was hardly appreciated by the Commissioners themselves.

"We had a system down here under which each of our four Commissioners operated his own District. This meant four road crews, four foremen and four different pay rolls. The Commissioners went on the theory that each one of them was entitled to one-fourth of the gasoline money, whether it was needed in his district or not.

"When the gasoline money began to run into large figures our Commissioners, with no well laid county-wide plan for improving our roads, went on a spending spree. Those Commissioners that represented the smaller Districts were determined to 'bore with as big an auger' as the ones that represented the more populous Districts.

"The Commissioners permitted their road foremen to make their own purchasing of materials, while they themselves looked after the purchasing of the heavy equipment. This meant that there were never less than four, and sometimes as many as eight, purchasing agents in one little county. You can imagine the results.

"When the Road Supervisor took the oath of office in January, 1933, not only the General Fund, with which the gasoline taxes had nothing to do, but the Gasoline Fund as well, was found to be deeply—almost hopelessly, it seemed—in debt. The Commissioners had not only spent all the gasoline money that came into their hands, but they had let bills pile up on them, had neglected the roads and bridges, and were not replacing equipment as it wore out.

"In January of the year mentioned the Road Supervisor 'inherited' current debts amounting to more than $15,000, along with some antiquated and worn out road building machinery.

"On January 1 of this year all those debts had been paid off and all the old machinery discarded and new machinery bought and paid for. I believe we are still paying on one patrol grader. The State engineers tell us that we are better equipped to build and maintain roads than almost any other county in Alabama. At this moment the Road Supervisor has a balance of over $8,000 to his credit in the Depository.

"The Commissioners were using both the Two Cent and the One Cent Gasoline Tax monies, and were unable to make both ends meet. Under our present system the Road Supervisor uses only the two Cent Tax money, and we keep the One Cent money, amounting to more than $2,000 per month, for special or unusual road and bridge purposes. We now have on deposit in this money approximately $25,000. Not counting $30,000 of the One Cent money spent in paying the Road Supervisor has turned in to the Commissioners' Court $29,000 since he has been in office. Until a recent Act of the Legislature ruled us out, we were applying this Surplus to our Road & Bridge Bonds, with results that speak for themselves.

"In January, 1933, interest on all of these bonds had lapsed and some of the bonds had matured and had not been redeemed. There was at that time among the holders talk of coming to get and asking the Federal Courts for relief. With the help of the One Cent money we paid up all the past-due interest, retired the bonds that had matured, and went into the market and bought additional bonds at considerably less than par. When the Road Supervisor law went into effect our Road & Bridge Bonds were quoted at around 55, with no takers. Today they are quoted at around 104 but cannot be bought at that figure.

"Recent legislation to secure some hard surfacing on an important State road which traverses this county, we were able to pledge in excess of $75,000 of the incoming Gasoline money to the State Highway Department. We do not have thought of doing that three or even two years ago.

Men who travel a good deal over Alabama say that our County roads are among the best sand-clay roads in the State. Our Road Supervisor gets $100 per month and expenses, and he has not spent in January will get $125. Commissioners get $30 per month, each.

"In my opinion, the Road Supervisor's office in this county should pay not less than $200 per month. It has proved the best piece of local legislation passed in a generation. If your County contemplates similar legislation, I can assure you that you should have no difficulty in justifying the change. Down here, we would not care to go back to the old system.

"With best regards, I am

"Sincerely yours,

J. P. MITCHELL

Judge of Probate."

Citizen Of Route Five Urges Citizens To Seek Correct Information Of Local Bills

"Editor, the News:

"We are facing in this county some changes in government. There is being lots said in opposition as well as in favor of these changes in the county government. The majority of this opposition comes from uninformed sources, some comes from political foes, and mostly from those who have had and now have their finger in the county treasury, and who know that the changes that are outlined, will mostly affect them.

"The ones who know how the monies of the County has been and is still being wasted are in favor of the changes. They know that it can't be any worse. The present county officials are not altogether responsible. They did not know at the time that they were doing everything in their power to get the officers that they would be bound to someone else when they rot them. But they are, as the well informed voters of this county know, and they are not bound to the kind of characters that stand for better government in the County, but to those who are out for personal interest and for personal gain.

"Friends and taxpayers of Chilton County, if you will make a personal investigation and find the true facts, of whom and for what cause, the money of the taxpayers of the County is being spent, and the results, benefits and returns from it, you will agree that the changes offered at this time are necessary. The County government must be put in the hands of men who have made a success of their own business by hard work, and not out of the county treasury, or by some political scheme.

If the bills that have become law are so bad and will cost the county so much money, why do they misinform the people about them? If they are bad the truth would be sufficient to tell the people.

JIM PARRISH" Route 5.

SEVERAL PERSONS ARE INJURED IN ACCIDENTS OVER WEEK-END

Auto Accidents Take Spotlight On Local Highways

One man was killed and several other persons were injured in automobile accidents in Chilton County Sunday.

Mordecai Robinson, 84, of the Mineral Springs Community, died at 1:15 a.m. Monday at the Central Alabama Hospital of injuries suffered early Sunday morning when he was struck by a truck, said to have been driven by George Littlefield, while walking along the road near his home.

Late in the afternoon, six others were brought to the hospital to be treated for injuries suffered when two cars collided at Mountain Creek. Mrs. E.D. Collier, of Calera, was the most seriously injured. She suffered a slight concussion and was unconscious when a Martin & Sons ambulance reached the hospital with her, but aides at the hospital declared that her condition was not thought to be dangerous.

idents of the Mineral Springs community.

Mr. Robinson, who was almost deaf, was enroute to the home of a neighbor when the accident occurred. He never thoroughly regained consciousness.

Born in Tallapoosa County, Mr. Robinson removed to Chilton County at the early age of eight, and had lived in the Mineral Springs community since coming to this county. He was a prominent farmer and had lived on the same farm for 50 years.

Surviving him are: two sons, W.W. Robinson, of Thorsby, and C.H. Robinson, of Jemison; two daughters, Mrs. C.A. Retherford and Mrs. W.H. Dobbs, both of Clanton Route One.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock from the Mineral Springs Baptist Church with the Rev. T.J. Daniels officiating. Interment will be in the churchyard cemetery with Martin & Sons in charge.

"Uncle" Tom Allen Is Laid To Rest Tuesday

Funeral services for J.T. (Tom) Allen, 67, who died Monday night at a Montgomery hospital, after an illness of three days of pneumonia, were held Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the Chestnut Creek Baptist Church, Cooper, with Dr. S.J. Errell, the Rev. J.D. Hughes, and the Rev. J.W. Jones officiating. Burial was in the churchyard cemetery with Martin & Sons in charge.

Born in Tallapoosa County, Mr. Allen came to Chilton County when a small boy and spent the rest of his life in this county. He settled at Cooper and had lived there for more than fifty years, where he was engaged in the lumber business and in farming. He was a member of the Masonic Order, and funeral was held with Masonic honors.

Surviving him are: his widow, five sons, Arden R. Allen, Talladega, Hubbard L. Allen, Las Vegas, Nev., John H. Allen, Jackson, Miss., W.W. Allen, and Lane Allen, Cooper; one sister, Mrs. C.C. Moore, one brother, Hardy Allen, also of Cooper.

Littlefield stopped and left "Brother" Dutton with the injured man, but proceeded himself to the home of his nephew, L.F. Littlefield, it is said. Both Littlefield and Robinson are residents of Clanton.

HELENE CURTIS BEAUTY SHOPPE OPENS TOMORROW

Announcement is being made this week of the opening of a new beauty shop in Clanton. Mrs. Essie Mae Mims will be the manager of the new Helene Curtis Beauty Shoppe, which is located two blocks east of the courthouse—in the former location of the Louise Higgin's Beauty Shoppe.

Formal opening of this establishment will be held Friday, when Mrs. Mims declared she will offer some very attractive introductory prices. Equipped throughout with Helene Curtis fixtures, this will be one of the best shops in the city, Mrs. Mims believes.

Attending the Hill's School of Beauty Culture in Montgomery for a short time, Mrs. Mims completed her training in a shop which was operated by her and a sister in Montgomery. With several months experience, she believes her friends will be delighted with her work and is inviting them to visit her.

Mrs. Leila Martin has gone to Gadsden to spend several days with her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Adams.

HIGHWAY WORK IS UNDERWAY

Remaining Available Funds To Be Assigned To Contracts Soon

Alabama's highway construction program for 1936 is now well underway. All available Federal funds allotted to the State as outright grants will be assigned to various contracts in the very near future. It was stated yesterday. Cost of work on which bids are yet to be asked amounts to approximately $900,000. The number of persons already at work on highway construction in various counties, is estimated at around 7,000.

With the coming of Spring and warm weather, many "three-way" paving projects are being rushed to completion. It is estimated that approximately 325 miles of road now being paved under the "three-way" program will be completed and opened to traffic by July 1.

According to Reese Harvey, office engineer for the State Highway Department, bituminous material is being purchased for many of these projects, and shipped and applied to many others. Counties that should have new paving opened to traffic by July 1, under the "three-way" program, he said, are Bullock, Autauga, Barbour, Hale, Elmore, Escambia, Etowah, Cherokee, Winston, Marion, Franklin, Covington and Jefferson.

Reports to the Highway Department indicate, Mr. Harvey added, that there will be more miles of paving opened "Two-way" projects are becoming more popular, he said, as "three-way" jobs are being finished. Counties that did not have substantial relief rolls and did not participate to a great extent in the "three-way" program, are now cooperating with the Highway Department in constructing similar projects financed jointly, on a 50-50 basis by the State and county without contribution by the Federal Government.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

On Sunday, March 29, a host of friends and relatives gathered at the home of Miss Buna Garner, in honor of her seventeenth birthday. At the noon hour a bountiful dinner was served to the following guests:

Mr. Jimmie Ward, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Moore and sons, Denney Edwards and John Luther of Macedonia community; Mr. and Mrs. Earl West and children, Lelyn, Evelyn, and Kathryn of Clanton; Mr. and Mrs. Onzie Garner and daughters, Todilene and Dorothy; Misses Louenia and Virginia Glass, Mr. Billie Smithman, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Garner, Martin and Buna Garner of Maplesville.

When the time came to part, all left wishing Buna many, many more happy birthdays.

Rev. Joseph Barth of Newt Mass., spoke only a five-word sermon at an evening service. He said: "W hast Thou forgotten me?" The rest of his sermon was interpreted by dancers.

Johnson in 1836 will also be on exhibition.

The United States government exhibits the Texas Centennial Exposition will be valued at more than $25,000, says E. H. Burdick, Federal

Here's One You Can Tell

The following "tallstory" comes from Miss Louise Robinson, the attractive young lady at Matt's Lunch Shoppe, who, while admitting she was a prize with it, will not exactly vouch for all the details. It contains. If you know one bigger than this — we'd be afraid of it.

Long, long ago when my great ancestors were living in Coosa County, the land was fabulously fertile and was famed far and wide for the freaks which this excessive fertility made possible. One rare instance of which occurred, that we hear now only as our fathers tell to son.

One of these old pioneers tell us this story. According to him, this most wonderful occurrence happened in the swamp near his home. While he was going about the daily task of providing squirrels or other wild meat for the breakfast of his twelve children, he had walked about for several hours until exhausted to the point which required rest or better yet a little more rest. Seeing a large log which seemed to be pretty soft on account of the moss and ferns upon it, he eased his wearied carcass and sat thereon, thus calling his dog to his side to be at hand in case of an emergency. After resting a considerable length of time, taking in the fact time was not registered by minutes as the busy age of today requires it, he was startled to find himself being transferred bodily thru space to the bed of a small creek running close by. Wet and beguiled, he climbed to the bank and imagine his astonishment to see his dog gliding off thru the bushes exactly like a large snake, and a snake it was, grown to an enormous size in the famed swamp of Coosa County. As he saw that he was really awake and not dreaming, he whistled as men are want to do in times of amazement and his dog, thinking he was calling him whined and barked until his master came to see why he didn't come. At last it dawned upon him that the ground was so rich his dog's tail had taken roots and grown into the ground, so the thing for him to do was to cut it off and go home without the much needed breakfast.

Upon traveling thru this same swamp several weeks later I was brought out of day dreaming by an incessant barking of dogs where the other miraculous events had happened. When I investigated I found my dog's tail had grown into a tree and had a hundred or more little dogs hanging by their tails from the limbs. I, being a very humane man and not liking to see the poor dogs suffer, I cut each one loose which necessarily made them bob-tailed. That, my friend, is the reason why we have so many bob-tailed dogs in our country today.

THIS BOAT WILL CARRY MEMBERS OF THE PRESS AND FRIENDS TO CUBA

Above is shown the S.S. "Cuba" one of the large steamships of the P. & O. Steamship Co., which was used by the Alabama Press Association when they made their first trip to Havana in 1928.

Again this year, in June, the Press Association will go to Cuba for an outing, and this is the first time the Association has ever thrown down the bars and invited their friends to make the trip and take part in all the entertainment provided for the newspaper people. For further information, see the story elsewhere in this issue and future issues. The News will give several of these trips this year with expenses paid.

COMMITTEE IS PLANNING FOR 400 PERSONS

Unusual Low. Rate Is Attracting Much Attention

SPECIAL RATES FOR CHILDREN UNDER 12

The trip to Havana, Cuba, which is being sponsored by the Alabama Press Association is attracting more than state-wide attention these days, according to F. W. Stanley, of Greenville, president of the association of Alabama Newspapers and one of the committee on arrangements.

In a statement to a representative of the News last week, Mr. Stanley stated that it appeared that approximately 400 Alabama persons will enjoy this week of outing in Havana and the exceptionally low rate which includes all transportation, hotel and meals for one week.

Leaving Montgomery on the morning of June 14th, the large party on a special train will go to Tampa, Fla., to board the S.S. Cuba, a large steamship bound for Havana.

Already several persons of Chilton County have notified the News to make their reservations for the trip. The exceptional low rate of only $73.15 for each person for the entire trip, is making the affair most outstanding. Those wishing more information should get in touch with the Chilton County News, or write F. W. Stanley, Greenville, Ala., or E. C. Hall, Alexander City, Ala. It is understood that a special rate will be made for children under twelve years of age.

The offer from the News for free trips to young ladies eighteen years or older who secure 125 subscriptions to the News, is still open. Any young lady interested, should apply at the News office immediately for information. The number of trips are unlimited—one goes to each young lady securing that number of subscriptions.

RURAL CARRIER EXAMINATION FOR THORSBY IS ANNOUNCED

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination to fill the position of rural carrier at Thorsby, Alabama. The examination will be held at Clanton, Alabama. Receipts of applications will close on April 17, 1936.

The date of examination will be stated on admission cards mailed to applicants after the close of receipt of applications, and will be about 15 days after that date. The salary of a rural carrier on a standard route of 30 miles served daily except Sunday is $1,800 per annum, with an additional $20 per mile per annum for each mile or major fraction thereof in excess of 30 miles. Certain allowances are also made for the maintenance of equipment. The examination will be open only to citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of the post office where the vacancy exists, who have been actually domiciled there for six months next preceding the closing date for receipt of applications, and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form 1977. Both men and women, if qualified, may enter this examination, but appointing officers have the legal right to specify the sex desired in requesting certification of eligibles. Form 1977 and application blanks can be obtained from the vacancy office mentioned above or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. Applications must be on file with the Commission at Washington, D. C., prior to the close of business on the date specified above. At the examination, applicants must furnish unmounted photographs of themselves taken within two years.

NEW GOVERNMENT FARM PROGRAM READY TO GO

DETAILS OF NEW FARM PROGRAM ARE OUTLINED IN THIS ARTICLE

Farmers Are Urged To Study This New Set-Up Thoroughly; County Agent Is Ready To Accept Arrangements

Following is a detailed summary of the new agricultural program, as prepared by County Agent J. W. Fant, which gives a complete explanation of all phases of the new soil conservation program. Mr. Fant stated that he is planning several county-wide meetings, to start this week or early next week, explaining the program further to the farmers of the county.

Rates and Condition of Payment:—Payment will be made, in connection with the utilization in 1936, of the land on any farm in the Southern Region of the United States in the amounts and subject to the conditions set forth:

1. Soil Building Payments:—Payment will be made for the planting of soil building crops on crop land in 1936, and the carrying out of soil building practices on crop land or pasture in 1936, at such rates in any state, and for such crops and practices in any state, and upon such conditions as are recommended by the state committee for such state and approved by the secretary. Provided, that the total soil building payment made with respect to any farm shall not exceed any amount equal to $1.00 for each acre of crop land on the farm used in 1936 for soil conserving crops and soil building crops.

2. Soil Conserving Payments:—Payments will be made with respect to each acre of the base acreage for the farm of any soil depleting crops or any group of such crops which in 1936 is used for the production of any soil conserving crop or any soil building crop, or is devoted to any approved soil conservation or building practice. The amount of such payment made with respect to any farm shall be computed as follows:

Cotton:—Five cents for each pound of the normal yield per acre of cotton

"STEP CHILDREN" TYPIFY WHAT CRIPPLED CHILDREN SEALS ACCOMPLISH

Is it school that's out, or clinic that's discharging patients—or does it really matter? For the real point is that here are seen some of the possibilities of physical rehabilitation of boys and girls handicapped through accident or disease. Nor can one look at their cherry faces without realizing that in mind and soul as well as in body they are getting the chance they deserve to be like normal youngsters.

Funds for hospitals and schools and convalescent homes and many other means of ministering to crippled children are raised each Easter season through the National-wide sale of Crippled Children Seals. They are being offered to the public again, at only a penny each or a dollar per sheet of 100, through the Society for Crippled Children and its many local organizations throughout the State.

This year's Seal design shows a crippled lad with his crutch (prototype of the youngsters you see herewith) on the threshold of "The Door of Opportunity." Already it is ajar, but must be thrown wide with a generous "push" in the Seal campaign of 1936 before he can enter into the possibilities for physical restoration and mental and spiritual development that are just beyond.

ton for the farm. Payment will be made on 35 per cent of the cotton base acreage.

There will be payment for the division of corn acreage up to 15 per cent of the base acreage for the farm, but the exact payments are not known at present.

3. Minimum Acreage of Soil Conserving Crops:—No payment shall be made with respect to any farm, in accordance with any of the provisions herein, unless the total acreage of soil conserving crops and soil building crops on crop land on the farm in 1936 equals or exceeds (a) 20 per cent of the base acreages of all soil depleting crops from the farms, or (b) the maximum acreage with respect to which soil conserving payments could be obtained pursuant to the provisions of section 2.

4. Adjustment in Rates:—The rates specified in section 2 are based upon an estimate of available funds and an estimate of approximately 80 per cent participation by farmers. If participation in any region exceeds that estimated for that region, all the rates specified in section 2 for such region, will be reduced pro rata. If participation in any region is less than the estimate for the region, the rates may be increased pro rata. In no case will the rates be increased or decreased by more than 10 per cent.

5. Increases of Soil Depleting Crops:—If the acreage on any farm in 1936 of any soil depleting crop or any group of soil depleting crops is in excess of the base acreage for the farm for such crop, or group of crops, and deduction from any payment which otherwise would be made for the farm pursuant to any of the provisions herein will be made for each acre of such excess acreage at the rates per acre specified in section 2 above, for the diversion of land to soil conserving crops and soil building crops from the particular crop or group of crops which exceed their bases. No deductions will be made with respect to any food or feed crop grown in combination with a soil conserving crop or a soil building crop, unless food and feed crops are grown in excess of the home consumption needs for the farm.

6. Food and Feed Crops:—Notwithstanding the provisions of section 2, no payment as therein specified will be made in connection with the shifting of land out of food and feed crops unless such crops have been produced in excess of home consumption needs for the farm, and, if such crops have been produced in excess of home consumption needs, payment will be made only with respect to the diversion of all or part of such excess.

Establishment of Bases—The county committees will recommend for approval by the Secretary a soil depleting base acreage for each farm. Such base acreage shall be a normal acreage of soil depleting crops for the farm determined as indicated below:

Section 1. The base acreage of soil depleting crops shall be the acreage of such crops harvested in 1935, subject to the following:

(2) There shall be added to the 1935 acreage of soil depleting crops the number of "rented," "contracted" or "retired" acres under 1935 commodity adjustment programs from which no

Lepedeza.

3. Summer legumes, including soybeans, velvet beans, cowpeas, or peas, if forage is left on the land.

4. Winter cover crops, including rye, barley, oats, and small grain mixtures turned as green manure and followed in the summer by an approved soil conserving crop.

5. Forest trees, when planted on crop land in 1936.

Neutral Classification, (not to be counted in establishing bases):

1. Vineyards, tree fruits, small fruits, or nut trees. (Not interplanted.) If interplanted, such acreage shall carry the classification and actual acreage of the intercrop grown.

2. Idle crop land. Where, due to unusual weather conditions, crop land was left idle in 1935, it may be reclassified upon the recommendation of the State Committee and approval of the Secretary.

3. Cultivated fallow land, including clean cultivated orchards and vineyards.

4. Wasteland, roads, lanes, lots, yards, etc.

5. Woodland, other than that planted at owner's expense since 1933.

Division of Payments

A. Definitions:

As used herein, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) PERSON means an individual, partnership, association or corporation.

(2) OWNER means a person who actually owns land which is not rented to another for cash or a fixed commodity payment, person who is purchasing land on installments for cash or for a fixed commodity payment.

(3) SHARE TENANT means a person other than an owner or share cropper who works a farm in whole or in part and receives for his labor a proportionate share of the crops produced thereon, or the proceeds thereof.

(4) FARMING UNIT means all land under the supervision of an operator which is farmed by that operator in 1936 as a single unit, with workstock, farm machinery and labor substantially separate from that for any other land.

B. Division of Soil Conserving and Soil Building Payments.

Soil Conserving Payment—The soil conserving payment shall be divided as follows:

(a) 37½ per cent to the producer who furnishes the land.

(b) 12½ per cent to the producer who furnishes the workstock and equipment.

(c) 50 per cent to be divided among the producers who are parties to the lease of operating agreement in the proportion that such producers are entitled to share in 1936 in these soil depleting crops, or the proceeds thereof, with respect to which the soil conserving payment is made.

Soil Building Payment—The soil building payment shall be made to the eligible producer who the county committee determines under instructions issued by the Secretary as incurred the expense of 1936 with respect to the soil building crop or practice; where two or more producers are thus determined by the county committee to have incurred the expense in 1936 with respect to the soil building crop practices, the soil building payment shall be divided equally between them.

Mr. Fant advises that application blanks are not yet available, but will be in a few days. A schedule of visits over the county will be arranged and announced in the near future.

C. Land to be Covered by Work Sheet.

Land comprising two or more contiguous tracts under the same ownership, operated in 1936 as part or all of a single farming unit by a common operator, and located in two or more counties, shall be deemed to be located in the county in which the principal dwelling on such land is located, or if there is no dwelling on such land, it it shall be deemed to be located in the county in which the major portion of such land is located.

The purpose of the work sheet is to obtain a survey of farming conditions and practices, and to facilitate planning of farming operations and include desirable soil conservation practices and the determination of the from which grants will be made.

(1) One or more tracts of farming land in the same county under the same ownership and operated in 1936 as a single farming unit by a common operator shall be covered by one work sheet.

(2) Where two or more tracts of farming land in the same county are under different ownerships, even though they are operated in 1936 as a single farming unit by a common operator, each separately owned tract shall be covered by a separate work sheet.

(3) Where two or more tracts of farming land in the same county are under the same ownership and are operated in 1936 as separate farming units, each separately operated tract shall be covered by a separate work sheet.

D. Persons Eligible to Make Application for Grant

(1) Operators. An application for grant as operator may be signed (a) an owner operating a farm, or owned by him; (b) a share tenant operating a farming unit rented by him on shares; and such other person may be approved and designated as operator by the Secretary.

(2) Owners. An application for grant as owner may be signed by owner who is not operating such land, but has rented it to another on shares, and such other persons as may be approved and designated as owner by the Secretary.

E. Application for Grant.

Grants will be made only upon applications filed with the county committee. Each person applying for grant will be required to show: (1) work sheets had been executed covering all the land in the county operated, or controlled by him; (2) extent to which the conditions of which the grant is to be made have been met. Any applicant who operates, or controls land in more than one county in the same state will be required to file in the state office a list of all such land.

Soil Conservation Service Urged Visit Erosion Control Area

Soil erosion is damaging your property. Jump into the family flivver every afternoon and visit one of the Conservation Service demonstration areas in Alabama, urges R. H. Wiley, State Coordinator, and the Soil Extension Service. This is one of the best times in the year to see what is being done to protect the soil.

These demonstration areas were established Mr. Bailey says, to apply in an intensive manner in a considerable area all known methods of erosion control and also to develop new methods. They are showing farmers how they can treat their own land to control erosion. There are three projects in Alabama, located near Dadeville, Greenville, and Anniston.

With the cooperation of farmers, the best known methods of erosion control are applied on these project areas.

How terraces have stood up under the heavy rains of the winter and the effectiveness of check dams, strip-crops, cover crops, grasses and trees in controlling erosion may be seen on these areas.

Mr. Bailey hopes every person in Alabama, and particularly farmers, will visit at least one of the projects this spring and again in the summer when crops may be seen growing on treated fields.

Your county agent or members of the staff of the Soil Conservation Service will gladly organize a tour of any project area at your convenience.

H. R. ODEN TELLS OF HIS WORK ON COUNTY ROAD

Commissioner Cites Interesting Figures And Accomplishments

Maplesville, Ala., March 30

Editor, Chilton County News: "I would like to make a few comments through the columns of the News in regard to some rumors in the county and also give some figures in regard to the work I did as Commissioner on the road my district in 1935.

There are some people in the county when talking to me who say my work as commissioner was satisfactory, then, there are people when talking to others who criticize me in wasting the county money. To this statement I am glad to leave the verdict to the people. I am serving directly.

"At this time I would like to tell the people of Chilton County the facts and figures on what I accomplished on the roads in my district in 1935 with a budget of less than $100,000 per month.

"During this time I rebuilt and anew about 24 miles of new road the construction of these roads I did thousands of yards of dirt in filling hills and building fills. This work of moving dirt was for the purpose of being able to take care of drainage of these roads, which proven efficient in almost every during the recent heavy rains.

"I built and rebuilt about 15 larger bridges. This does not include a large number of small bridges, water boxes. Of course the more these bridges were only refloated on newly built roads. In addition to the above I planted about 5000 corrugated culvert pipe on these roads and in most cases I built rock culvert butments for the protection of the culverts.

"Probably the most important of all is the fact that more than 1000 yards of gravel were put on the road my district. In other words about 1000 miles of roads were graveled.

"Another fact that might be interesting is that I paid about $3,000 for people for labor on these roads of these people were in needy circumstances.

"The above does not include the maintenance of other roads in this district.

"Am sure I could give you other interesting facts about how operating but for fear you might enjoy a letter, I will close.

Yours truly,
H. R. ODEN
Com. Dist.

the start in the Spring, how long it take you to run that man a job and try someone else?

"As before stated we see the system is a failure and from the treasurer's report, you see that it cost entirely too much money. So not let's organize a "new" system and save money and pay out and build some permanent roads for our county.

"I hope you will read this and it out from a business standpoint getting everything but the interest for the people of Chilton County, and all go to the polls next day and vote according to the opinion of your best judgment.

Yours truly,
H. N. SMITH

HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPALS ARE NAMED

Will Succeed Warr As Principal Of County High School

Principals for the several schools in the county have been named and plans are being made for the election of other members of the board for next year, according to information from the office of Superintendent Little.

Patterson Hicks, of Florala, has been named to succeed L. C. Warr as principal of the Chilton County High School, Clanton. At the other high schools in the county, the principals were re-elected as follows: Verbius W. C. DuBose, of Florala; J. E. Daniels, of Jewett; J. E. Peterson, of Isabella; Curtis M. Warr, of Florala.

Mr. Hicks, who is a World War Veteran, has more than 20 years experience teaching in the public schools of Alabama. For the past year he has been engaged as principal of the Covington County High School, Florala, and prior to that time he was principal of the public schools of Florida for several years.

REFERENDUM

opinions on the matter.

"That the Bill becomes a law immediately upon its passage and approval by the Governor.

"That under this Bill the chairman's salary is fixed at $1,000 per year. Each member's salary at $900 per year and the clerk, to be appointed by the Board will receive a salary of $600 to $900 per year.

Judge Smith stated to the crowd that Representative Cox told him he was in favor of the referendum and would be guided by the wishes of the people. It was also brought out that Representative Cox stated during his campaign that he would not take steps to have the Commissioners Court abolished if it passed.

An extensive campaign is planned to go forward over the county immediately regarding the Bill as outlined above and also one being published weekly. It is planned to combine it with the office of county attorney, to be handled by one man who will be elected instead of two. The names will have the right of voting for or against both these Bills on April 7th at the several polling places in the county. Expressions from many of those attending the meeting Monday night showed that the sentiment was against the Bills, while it was also brought out that the Board of Revenue Bill was copied from the Code of Alabama and will be the same as is being worked under now by the Commissioners with the exception of the appointing of the members, the re-districting of the county, the setting of the salaries and the terms of office.

The proposed Bills are being published in this issue of the News and will be published again next week.

METHODISTS

through the week at 7:30 each evening we shall have a series of special services. The pastor will be assisted by his brother, Rev. W. E. Middlebrooks, pastor of the Foster Street Methodist Church in Dothan. Special music will feature the services each evening. Invite your neighbors and friends to this series.

Then comes Easter with the culmination of the program of evangelism in the church school. Candidates for church membership will be received at the eleven o'clock hour Easter. The pastor is inviting all children who expect to be received Easter to come to the parsonage next Tuesday at 3:30. He will give them further instruction concerning church membership. If you have not moved your church letter notify the pastor and he will be glad to get it for you and announce the transfer of your membership at the special service Easter.

At the eleven o'clock hour a beautiful consecration service will close the program at which time children and all church members and others will bring their Fellowship League of Sharing envelopes to the altar and place them on the communion table. This service last year was most impressive. You have been saving a penny per meal (children a penny per day) since March 8. At this consecration service you will make your offering and share with others in carrying the message of the Master throughout the world. You are making a special denial and sharing Lenten offering. If you have lost your envelope or failed to get one place your offering in any plain envelope and write your name on it and participate in the Easter service.

Just after the rising of the sun on Easter we shall be worshipping in another "Easter Sunrise Service" similar to the one of last year. This service at the early hour is most worshipful. There will be no sermon nor address—only music, meditation, Scripture, prayer and communion. Don't miss this fine opportunity of beginning the day. The service will be forty minutes in length. The hour is 6 a.m. Then at the evening hour, seven o'clock, on Easter the young people will have charge and close the day with an excellent program. The fine choir of young people will sing. Invite your friends to all the services of next week beginning this Sunday. Clip this notice from the paper and refer to it for the program during the week.

STATEMENT FROM COMMITTEE

people before presenting the bills to the Legislature.

"We, therefore, ask that a referendum be called for the date of Tuesday, April 7, at which time the qualified electors of the County may have a chance to voice their sentiment in the matter in question. If, after such referendum, it is found that a majority of the voting are in favor of the passage of the proposed bills, then we are willing to abide; and if, after such referendum, it is found that a majority of those voting are opposed to the passage of these bills, then we respectfully ask that our Representative Charley Cox, and Senator Earle Thomas likewise abide by the popular decision.

"We further ask that every possible move be made to see that the voters are properly informed on the provisions of the proposed bills, that all possible publicity be given them in the newspapers of the County, and that all voters be fully acquainted with provisions of the bills before voting. We urge every voter in the County to make every effort to thoroughly acquaint himself with these provisions, and to vote his honest convictions accordingly.

Signed, J. Lee Smith, J. C. Pattillo, Dr. J. P. Hayes, W. L. Powell, Dr. W. G. DuBose, Dr. N. S. Johnson, Grady Reynolds.

Splendid Address And Enjoy Community Dance
At City Hall

A large number of young Democrats and other members of the party, of Chilton County, heard one of the most effective talks ever present in Chilton County at a meeting of the Chilton County Unit, Alabama State League of Young Democrats, last Friday night.

Major Frank Dixon, principal speaker at the meeting held the crowd in a understanding attitude with his comments regarding the history of Alabama, and the government of the United States.

Some of Alabama's most outstanding leaders, and a brilliant student of history and governmental affairs, Major Dixon disclosed to his audience the high points in political history which brought drastic changes to the government of the United States. In a reasonable manner he explained that the people of Alabama and the United States should attempt to do and the people may look to occurring the government, showing through the efforts of the Democratic party, and its great leader, Mr. D. Roosevelt, this country gradually climb back to security for people.

Major Dixon, in his usual calm and forthright manner, pictured to the audience facts in history that have made the country even in present times. His remarks were those easily (Continued to back page)

City Will Enforce Its Traffic Rules

Considerable stress is being placed by officers on the enforcement of the traffic rules of the city, according to Mayor C. Fenn Jones, who pointed out the increasing danger on the streets of Clanton due to crowded parking conditions.

Especially does this condition exist every Saturday, Mayor Jones stated. However, the city does not wish to cause anyone too much inconvenience while downtown, shopping or attending to business, it has reached the point where some steps must be taken to avoid accidents and injury, Mayor Jones pointed out.

So, in the future, watch double parking on the main streets and also the parking limits on these streets. City Officers Colver, Willis and Flyler have a supply of "tickets" to tag your car for city court.

News Asked To Get The Opinion Toward The Proposition

The question of whether Clanton shall have movies on Sunday afternoons has again arisen among many of the citizens of the town, and the News has assumed the position to determine the matter—if possible.

Although the management of the two theatres in Clanton has not yet mentioned the subject, several of the city's citizens have been thinking of it, purely from a business standpoint.

The thought has been brought out that there are many persons from Clanton and vicinity who go to the nearby cities to attend moving picture shows on Sunday afternoons and nights (Continued to back page)

(AN EDITORIAL)

The gratitude of the citizenship of Chilton County is being challenged!

OFFICERS HAVE PLENTY TO DO
PAST FEW DAYS

Hi-Jacking, Robbery, And Whiskey Keep Officers
Busy Last Week

A check-up at the office of Sheriff J.R. Hardy Tuesday disclosed that the officers of the county have been pretty busy during the past few days.

The report showed one arrest for reckless driving; one for murder in connection with an automobile accident three for driving while intoxicated, two of which made bonds, one for grand larceny, one for manufacturing whiskey and possession of still, and three for robbery commonly known as "hi-jacking."

A thirty-gallon still was captured in the western part of the county by Deputy C. L. Smith, of Maplesville, who handled the raid single-handed. One man was at the still, a copper outfit and in operation.

In the "hi-jacking" arrests, three men were brought to the county jail charged with taking a large truck from another man early Saturday morning. The truck was loaded with sixty cases of whiskey, officers stated, and was apparently attempting to pass through the county when the three stopped it, relieving the driver of a high-powered rifle and the truck. They were stopped in Homewood, Ala.

Officers taking part in these arrests were Sheriff Hardy, Deputy Julius Smith, Deputy Nivens, Patrolmen Waites and Henley.

MURRAY-BELL DELIGHTS THE PEOPLE AGAIN WITH NOVELTY

Window shoppers and others have been delighted as well as puzzled during the past several days to see an electric light bulb calmly burning in a window at the Murray-Bell Hardware store—without any visible wires attached to it.

However, the bulb has an electric wire and socket suspended about three inches from its top. The question—does the electricity jump from the socket to the bulb, or has Jimmy Bell, the manager of the store scored another hit with his usual manner of pleasing his customers with novelties, politeness, service and low prices?

New Theatre Will Open Next Week

Public Is Invited To Attend Special Inspection To Be Held Wednesday From Twelve O'Clock Noon Until Four; Is Asset To City

Next Wednesday, April 15th will be a red letter day in the history of Clanton for on that day the new and modern Wadesonian Theatre will throw open its massive doors to the public for a complete inspection, and opening show that night, according to C. W. Wade, proprietor of the new theatre and also the Wadesonian Theatre No. 1, which has been serving Clanton for a number of years.

The public is cordially invited to come to the new theatre on next Wednesday between the hours of twelve o'clock noon and four o'clock p.m., for an inspection of the theatre from top to bottom. Special ushers will be on hand to take care of all visitors and show them through the entire building.

For the opening night, one of the best and most entertaining pictures of the season will be shown. The picture "Milky Way" starring the popular Harold Lloyd is booked for Wednesday night, with the usual popular prices prevailing.

"Milky Way" is one of Harold Lloyd's newest and best pictures, and he is supported by a fine cast.

Mr. Wade has gone to considerable expense to give to Clanton and Chilton County one of the best motion picture houses in this section of Alabama, and is bringing to Clanton the best of pictures that are being shown in the larger cities.

Clanton can feel justly proud of its new theatre and amusement place, with its new and modern fixtures throughout. Every precaution has been taken to see that those attending this new theatre are assured of the best in comfort and convenience.

Qualified Voters List Published This Week

This issue of the News contains the official qualified voters list of Chilton County for this year, as announced by Judge J. Lee Smith. Your News this week is in two sections, the second section being the voters list. If you fail to receive both sections advise the News and a complete paper will be sent to you.

Judge Smith is anxious to see that the names of all those who should be on the list, are there and properly recorded. He requests that the list be checked closely and if anyone finds their name omitted when it should not be, they should apply at the probate office and have this looked into. A supplemental list will be published right away. Judge Smith stated that any errors should be corrected immediately.

The Referendum

(AN EDITORIAL)

Over two thousand citizens of Chilton County went to the polls Tuesday and stated by the ballot that they are opposed to local legislation to abolish the Commissioners Court of Chilton County. Almost as many indicated they did not wish the county solicitor's office to become elective.

The results of the referendum Tuesday showed plainly that a majority of those over 2,000 voters out of 5,000 in the county are against the proposed change in our county government as planned by Senator Thomas.

If it is the intentions of Senator Thomas and Representative Cox to abide by the results of this referendum, they surely will withdraw these proposed Bills immediately.

If they continue to seek passage of these Bills, then they go against wishes of over two thousand citizens of Chilton County who tramped to the polls to make their desires in the matter known through the straight ballot.

The referendum which was held Tuesday was an open method to secure the wishes of the people—they took advantage of the privilege and opportunity offered by our Probate Judge, and the facts are now before our Senator and Representative, and these facts will add much to the arguments already placed before these two men to withdraw the Bills.

The Educated Man

In view of much recent discussion of the attributes of an educated man, the points laid down by Albert Edward Wiggan, the author and lecturer, are interesting. They are as follows:

- He keeps his mind open on every question until the evidence is all in.
- He always listens to the man who knows.
- He never laughs at new ideas.
- He cross-examines his day-dreams.
- He knows the value of good habits and how to form them.
- He knows when not to think and when to call in an expert to think for him.
- You can't sell him magic.
- He lives a forward-looking, outward-looking life.
- He cultivates love of the beautiful.

Using Newspapers

How to reach a large number of customers or prospective customers most economically and effectively is a problem which still worries a great many business men. But it was really solved long ago, and the answer is this: Print your message in the newspapers.

Recently a Detroit electric company which serves 500,000 customers in nearly 200 cities and smaller communities wanted to send them a series of letters. After considering various methods of distributing these messages, it was decided to use local newspapers exclusively. The first letter sent out, signed by the president of the company, began as follows:

"We have a lot of things to tell you which are of interest because you are our customers. We might get your attention by circulars delivered at your door, or by radio broadcast. But we think the best way to reach you is by successive letters in the newspapers, of which this is the first."

"Starry-Eyed Idealists"

As a candidate for the Pulitzer Prize for the best editorial written in 1935, the following from the Dec. 29 issue of The New York Daily News:

In his recent down-with-Roosevelt speech at St. Louis ex-President Hoover took occasion to snarl at "the starry-eyed who periodically discover that relief is needed and that everything up to date is wrong." This was an echo of the old, familiar complaint of many business people against the New Deal—that it is managed, not by hard-headed and practical business men, but by starry-eyed idealists and aspiring college professors who don't know red ink from black.

We think this complaint can be turned inside out and shown to be insincere and a phony.

What is the idea behind the fact that President Roosevelt has filled his Government with economics professors, political reformers and mugwumps, experts on housing and social service and a hundred other things, Tugwells anxious to rebuild the country, Hopkinsons anxious to spend the taxpayers' money to make work for those whom the industries cannot employ?

The idea is this: That before Roosevelt, big business not only ran the Government, but was the Government. The Treasury was subject to orders from Wall Street; the State Department was dedicated to dollar diplomacy; the Supreme Court was the Ark of the Covenant of property rights over human rights; the President himself was run by big business, and glad and proud of it.

This system was supposed to be the best guarantee of prosperity that there was. If the people at the top were taken care of by every possible means available to the Government, the belief was that prosperity would seep down from them to the masses below. As much prosperity, that is, as the masses were rightly entitled to.

That philosophy of Government hit a terrible rut in the road in 1929; so terrible that the machine was wrecked, so that

Businesslike Government

Clanton is a fortunate city. The News believes it has more than the average proportion of energetic civic-minded citizens who promptly step forward to do their bit for the community. We could mention quite a number of these persons by name, but in this instance we want to pay a particular tribute to our mayor, C. Fenn Jones.

Mayor Jones is this week submitting for public consideration a report in summary form of what has been done thus far in his administration. This report appears on another page in the News. You should read it carefully, for it is a record of progress which will make you even prouder of your city and its officials.

When elected to the mayorship Mr. Jones was a retired business man. He accepted the office, not from a motive of monetary gain, but as a means of serving his community in a broader manner. He has brought to the city affairs of Clanton a rare ability in business, and out of his experience and sound judgement he has given unstintingly.

The record shows the results, and it deserves commendation.

Pete Jarman

The name of Pete B. Jarman, Jr., is becoming rapidly a household word among the people of Chilton County.

Conversations across the dinner tables will invariably turn to Pete B. Jarman, Jr., more often referred to just as Pete Jarman.

All this comes about because Pete is a splendid man, a well liked man, a well educated man and a man who is capable of filling the position as Representative in Congress from this, the Sixth Congressional District.

Pete's friends are looking forward to the day when he will be our next Congressman and that day is not far off, they aver.

Numbering his friends among the young voters as well as those who do not have to pay poll tax to vote, Mr. Jarman is rapidly building this number to heights seldom heard of over the entire Sixth Congressional District.

Those who vote the Democratic ticket in Chilton County this year will not make a mistake by making a cross opposite the name of Pete B. Jarman, Jr., for Congressman.

beyond repair. Prosperity stopped seeping down from the top; misery and fear began seeping up from the bottom.

When Mr. Roosevelt came in, he decided that a new philosophy of Government (new for this country, that is) must be tried out, since the old one had failed so wretchedly. Accordingly, he surrounded himself with the aforesaid experts and idealists, and put the professional politicians and practical business men in the shade.

These experts and idealists are hateful to big business for this reason: They are disinterested, they have no personal axes to grind, and they cannot be controlled or reached by big business. That is what hurts. The power to govern has slipped from the hands of business, operating through the professional politicians. It has slipped into the hands of men who have spent their lives studying for the very jobs Mr. Roosevelt has given them.

Hence the hatred for Mr. Roosevelt entertained by many big and little business men—the personal, blind fury that swells their necks when they think about him. It is their desire for power which he has thwarted.

Everybody wants power. Along with the self-preservation and sex instincts, the lust for power is one of the strongest human instincts. Sons have killed their fathers for power, and vice versa; families have been rent into fighting factions over power; old friends have jumped for one another's throats when power was at stake.

To see the power to run the Government slipping from their hands naturally hurts business people. When a man is making plenty of money over and above his living, eating and family expenses, his most usual desire is to use the surplus to influence other people—to uplift them with libraries, or force his ideas of right living on them by subsidizing Anti-Saloon Leagues, or monkey with the people's Government in the various ways open to a man who has money.

Roosevelt has stopped that stuff, at least in part. He is as tough-minded and courageous as the big business men whose power he has (indeed, as yet, in slight degree) shorn away, and he is a better practical politician than anybody now working to unseat him. No wonder many a business man hates Roosevelt. And, business men being as human as the rest of us, it is no wonder that they figure out high-sounding excuses for what is only a very human hatred, after all. —The Chilton News, Jan. 4, 1936.

MORAL ECHOES

D. W. Haskew

In the road ahead a ramshackle Ford was parked on the side and a man stood beside it in seeming anxiety. He stepped out in front of my car and waved me to a stop by the use of his swinging arms and waving hat. When I inquired what I could do for him he muttered out something about his car refusing to run and the best I could learn was that he wanted me to get in behind him and give his car a shove. He said that he wanted the blamed thing cranked up. Then I saw that he was dog drunk. I used the distance I had to make the distance more between us and left him with his sensible Ford. I surmised that the Ford knew that the fool was too drunk to drive it and that it had sense enough to crawl out to one side and stop. How I do wish that automobiles had sense enough to stop when a drunk man puts his hands on a steering wheel. If you want to be a benefactor to your race invent something that will stop gasoline from exploding when there is the odor of whiskey.

A preacher friend told a joke on one of his friends. Said he, this friend was to preach at eleven o'clock and ten-thirty, feeling a little below normal, he stretched himself on the bed for a moment of rest. When he had relaxed he dropped off into a sound sleep. At the church the congregation met, waited and disbanded and no preacher. At twelve-thirty the minister awoke and saw that he had slept through the hour of service. To be sure he was humiliated beyond measure. Some of us have seen preachers in the pulpit who were asleep. They stood up, they had their eyes open and they uttered language, but they were asleep, and the folks slept with them. I never saw a preacher asleep in the pulpit when I did not want to get him by his curly top and shake him saying like the Prophet of old: "Awake, awake."

Two men went out to the oat field at sunrise, with the old time oat cradle on their shoulders. They lifted their blades and started the harvest. One of them worked hard, fried much, drank much water, perspired freely, whetted his blade often, rested a very end of the row. By noon he was exhausted and all out of sorts. The other man gave his oat cradle an easy swing and with a song went into the harvest. With a steady stroke he worked away never fretting, shedding but little perspiration and at noon he was still fresh and jolly. He had cut more oats than the other and was still fit and fine. The difference in the two men was that one had learned the fine art of "letting go" and worked without worry, while the other one fretted and worried his very life away. If you worry at the most simple task it will kill you. Learn the fine art of "letting go."

A preacher entered the study of another pastor and saw a cross resting on the desk. He admired the sacred emblem until he saw a slit in the emblem for the placing of money. The emblem became less sacred when it was seen that the cross had been turned into a collection box. That was so characteristic of this modern age. We are taking the most sacred things and placing in them the slit for money. Often do we find the "money slit" on the pulpit, at the church door and sometimes we see it on the sacred cross. We need to learn that there are some things too sacred to be connected with money.

Out there on Galilee we behold a ship that is rocking and rolling in the waves. A storm has rushed down upon it. Looking upon it as it plunges and struggles to keep itself above the waves, we may be surprised to learn that Jesus is on board that vessel. It may sound unreasonable to say that the ship is in a storm when the Master is on board, but that is the truth. Some people think that the presence of Jesus in the life is a guarantee that no storms will ever come to us, but not so. Even if we have Christ with us, the storms of life will sweep down upon us. When we travel with Christ the storms are sure to come, but how blessed it is for us to be able—like the apostles, to go to him in our trouble and have Him to still the storms and make calm the sea of life. Jesus Christ is master of wind and waves and even the sea will obey His will.

NOTICE OF LOCAL BILL

State of Alabama, Chilton County.
Notice is hereby given that a Bill will be introduced and its enactment sought, at the 1936 extraordinary session of the Legislature of Alabama, which Bill is in substance as follows, to-wit:

A BILL To Be Entitled AN ACT

To create the office of County Solicitor of Chilton County, Alabama; to provide for his appointment and election, and the method of appointment in the event of a vacancy; to fix his salary and define his duties.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. That the office of County Solicitor is hereby created, for the County of Chilton, State of Alabama.
Section 2. That the County Solicitor shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the County of Chilton at the general election to be held for the election of State and County officers in November, 1936 and every four years thereafter, and he shall hold office from the first Monday after the second Tuesday in January next after his election and until his successor is elected and qualified.

Section 3. Vacancies in the office of said County Solicitor shall be filled by appointment by the Governor of Alabama and the appointee shall hold office until the next General election, for State and County officers after his appointment.

Section 4. It shall be the duty of the County Solicitor of Chilton County to perform all the duties now or hereafter prescribed by law for Deputy Solicitors in the State of Alabama.

Section 5. The County Solicitor of Chilton County, Alabama shall receive the sum of $1200.00 per annum, payable monthly in the sum of $100.00 by the County Treasurer of Chilton County, on warrant drawn by the Probate Judge of Chilton County, Alabama, on said Treasurer, on the first day of each calendar month.

Section 6. That immediately after the final passage and approval of this act the governor shall appoint a County Solicitor for Chilton County, Alabama who shall hold office until the first Monday after the second Tuesday in January, 1937.

Section 7. The County Solicitor of Chilton County appointed and elected under this act, in addition to the duties herein above required shall represent and defend Chilton County in all civil and Equity suits, where said county is a party, either plaintiff or defendant, or Complainant or respondent and shall advise the Commissioners Court or Board of Revenue of Chilton County, Alabama on all legal matters affecting Chilton County, when requested to do so, by said court or Board of Revenue and also shall advise the County Treasurer or other legal custodians of the funds in Chilton County Alabama on all legal questions as to the proper and legal receipt, handling and disbursing of the funds or monies of Chilton County, Alabama, when requested to do so, by said Treasurer or other legal custodians of the funds of Chilton County, Alabama.

Section 8. The Commissioners Court or Board of Revenue of Chilton County, Alabama may upon request, in writing, by the County Solicitor of Chilton County hire or employ special counsel or other attorneys at Law to assist the County Solicitor in the prosecution or defense of any suit whether in law or equity, when Chilton County is a party to same and shall be authorized to pay said special counsel or attorneys at law a reasonable fee for their services, and the amount of the fee shall be determined and agreed upon at the time of entering into the contract of employment.

Section 9. Other than as provided herein the Commissioners Court or Board of Revenue of Chilton County, Alabama, shall not expend any money belonging to Chilton County, Alabama in payment for legal services for County Attorney, or legal advisor to it.

Section 10. That all laws and orders of laws in conflict with the provisions of this Act be and the same are hereby repealed.

Section 11. This Act shall become effective immediately upon its final passage and approval by the Governor of Alabama.

NOTICE OF LOCAL BILL
The Alabama, Chilton County, Alabama, is hereby given that the Bill will be introduced and its enactment sought, at the extraordinary session of the Legislature of Alabama, which Bill is in substance as follows:

A BILL
To Be Enacted
AN ACT
To establish a Board of Revenue for Chilton County, Alabama, to consist of three members, one of which members shall be the chairman of said Board of Revenue; to divide Chilton County, Alabama into three districts to be known as Board of Revenue Districts; to provide that each of said districts shall have a member on said board; to confer upon the Board of Revenue all the authority and jurisdiction now possessed by or which may hereafter be possessed by the County Commissioners, Boards of Revenue or other like governing bodies of several counties of Alabama; to provide for the appointment and election of the members of said Board of Revenue and to fix their term of office, to provide that this act shall become a law.

SECTION ONE.
That there is hereby created and established a Board of Revenue for Chilton County, Alabama, to consist of three members, each of which shall be a bona fide resident citizen of the district from which he is appointed and shall during the term he serves, continue to reside in the district for which he is appointed or elected. Any member of said Board of Revenue who shall resign from said district during the term for which he is appointed or elected shall vacate his office. Each member of said Board shall be a qualified elector of Chilton County at the time of his appointment or election. The Board of Revenue herein created and established shall be known and called the Board of Revenue of Chilton County, Alabama. Each District hereinafter created shall be entitled to one member on said board.

SECTION TWO.
That for the purpose of this act and the agreement therein, the said Chilton County is hereby divided into three districts and numbered, to-wit: District Number one, District Number two, and District Number three, both inclusive, viz: District Number one shall embrace and be composed of all that territory which constituted the 2nd, 19th, 20th, 21st, 22nd, 23rd, 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th, 29th, # TORNADOES RIP THROUGH GEORGIA, MISS., TOWNS

350 DEAD AS TORNADOES SLASH SOUTH; UNDER FLAMING DEBRIS

GEORGIA TOWN SHAMBLES AFT'R 3-MINUTE BLOW

Fire Adds To Horror And Balks Identification Of Many Bodies

Gainesville, Ga., April 6.—A furious spring windstorm which passed in three minutes killed over 150 persons here today in a blast that turned the business section into blazing wreckage increasing to more than 400 the dead in tornadoes lashing the South.

The death toll mounted steadily throughout the day and on into the night as rescue workers braved storm-caused fires to search the wreckage.

At 9 p.m., 139 bodies had been removed from the debris and relief authorities said there were many others in the wreckage of the flattened buildings.

In another storm stricken community, Tupelo, Miss., like Gainesville a town of approximately 8,000, the list of dead also mounted steadily as workers pursued their grim hunt of the litter of its westside residential section.

Late tonight 190 bodies had been removed from the wreckage at Tupelo, where the blast struck Sunday night. Both here and in Tupelo, authorities expressed the fear that the lists would continue to grow as the wreckage was cleared away. Fires that followed the tornado likewise hampered the rescue work in Tupelo.

Gainesville's dead included the bodies of many burned beyond recognition in the outbreak of flames which followed the abrupt windstorm.

Hardware Store Toll

Five of the bodies were removed from the Palmour Hardware Store. Five others were taken from another hardware store earlier today.

Mississippi City Finds 190 Dead

By TOM BROWN, JR.
Montg. Advertiser Staff Correspondent

Tupelo, Miss., April 6.—Still unable to compute its death toll, this stunned town tonight still was searching the debris of Sunday night's tornado that left at least 190 dead hundreds injured and property damage estimated at $3,000,000.

Five hundred homes, many of them in Willis Heights, exclusive west Tupelo residential section, were leveled or rendered untenable by the twister that struck here shortly before 9 o'clock last night.

Scenes of desolation and damage meet the visitor here, but the thousands of dazed survivors and curious sightseers make little noise as they congregate in front of the six temporary morgues and dozens of first aid stations.

Chief Deputy Sheriff O. T. Trapp, three times sheriff of Lee County, who boasts he "knows everybody here," said 155 were known dead but would make no attempt to estimate the injured, as dozens of them are being treated in private homes as well as first aid stations downtown, churches, the courthouse, city hall, and other public buildings.

Martial law prevails throughout the city with 350 national guards men here under command of Brig. Gen. John A. O'Keefe. All incoming highways are blocked, with only persons on necessary business permitted to enter the city. Visitors who come only to see a crushed community are not allowed to pass. Dodgers were hastily printed and distributed by militiamen early this afternoon warning all non-residents to leave by 3:30 p.m. or spend the night in jail. Strict orders have been issued to all subordinate officers to prevent looting, occasional reports of which have been received. The State troops have been instructed "to take the necessary precautions" to prevent looting.

THE CHICKEN IN THE JUG AIN'T IN THE JUG NO MORE

"Frank" is now no longer a prisoner. He is free as the air we breathe. Ever since "Frank" was a wee bit of a fellow, he had a very small world. Not four walls, but one round wall and he couldn't get out.

"Frank" is the chicken that was raised in a glass jug by J. L. Ruffin's feed store in Clanton, and has attracted hundreds of visitors to the store to see the experiment to prove that Purina chicken feeds contain all the things necessary to raise chickens. "Frank" is now in a handsome coop and is friendly with his old friends as usual.

Cross relief work here, said 630 buildings were demolished and 33 others practically blown away. The check still was incomplete.

The heaviest loss of life apparently occurred at the Cooper Panics Manufacturing Company, two-story brick structure, where 125 were employed. The twister blew up the building like an explosion and fire swept the wreckage.

Some of the workers escaped but Bob Baldwin, Sr., vice-commander of an Atlanta American Legion Post, said he had himself helped remove 45 bodies from the plant. Many others were reported trapped in the structure. Today's storm toll here ran above that of another tornado which struck here on June 1, 1903, killing 104.

Four States Hit
Alabama, Tennessee, Arkansas and South Carolina also felt tornadoic winds but their full fury centered here and at Tupelo.

Fires, adding to the horror of the scene here, hampered the work of rescue parties and relief authorities said it might be days before all the bodies were removed.

There were no official estimates of the property damage in the storms but rescue workers estimated it might reach above $8,000,000. From 1,500 to 2,000 were reported injured in the stricken areas.

The dead in the tornadoes that followed a dotted and irregular path from Arkansas to South Carolina yesterday and today brought to nearly 375 the toll of storms in the South this year. Last week 43 were killed in blasts that centered at Cordelle, Ga. and Greensboro, N. C. Seventeen died in a previous storm.

Witnesses said the storm struck here like a black horror with the roar of many locomotives. Torrential rains followed the winds.

A moment later the business district of this thriving textile manufacturing center was virtually a shambles.

Winning Jersey Bull Is Nature's Favorite

Victor in National Dairy Show Featured in Natural Nitrate Educational Program

The last National Dairy Show in St. Louis, Mo., brought out an amazing Jersey Bull. He swept through the field of contestants and emerged the 1935 Grand Champion. This bull, which the judges agreed, "had everything," is featured in the current natural Chilean nitrate of soda advertisement.

This series of announcements appears regularly in this newspaper as part of the all-South program of educational publicity which the natural nitrate people are conducting. The featured bull is Foremost High Flyer, owned by A.H. Goss, The Oaklands, Ann Arbor, Mich.

Throughout the entire series of announcements, the natural nitrate people use special photographs of outstanding animals as illustrations. The point is made that these blue ribbon creatures outstrip others of this kind because of a special gift of Nature—a natural balance of the vital elements—the same natural gift that made Jack Dempsey the greatest fighter of his day. And, they point out, Chilean Nitrate, is likewise favored by Mother Nature.

Centuries ago, when this nitrogen fertilizer was created, Nature endowed it not only with a high percentage of quick-acting nitrogen, but also a long list of other elements—such elements as magnesium, potassium, boron, iodine, calcium, phosphorus and many others. In natural nitrate, these are called the vital impurities and it is the natural balance and blend of these vital impurities in this fertilizer, coupled with its nitrogen, that make it so important to the healthy growth and development of your crops.

NORGE ANNOUNCES 10 YEAR WARRANTY

Detroit, March 14th.—A sensational warranty plan on Rollator Refrigerators, effective March 1st, is announced by Norgel Division, Borg-Warner Corporation, according to Howard E. Blood, president, who stated that the owner protection thus provided is unmatched in scope, duration and low cost to the consumer.

"Each Rollator refrigerator under the announced warranty plan," said Blood, "will be protected during its first year of ownership on parts other than the Rollator compressor, such as the motor, will be warranted for five years, while Norgel compressor and seal will be protected for ten years. The owner will gain this long-lasting protection at a cost of little more than two cents per month.

"This unusual warranty is made possible by the mechanical excellence of the Rollator, a marathon test model of which has been running continuously the equivalent of 37 years of household use. Less than 40 per cent of Norgel users in a nation-wide survey reported the need for any service attention no matter how trivial during the entire life of ownership and the average total expense of the small percentage requiring service was $1.22. For that reason, we are able to provide this protection at a cost that is not forcing the owner to pay for something that will not be required," Mr. Blood stated.

tric Ranges and washing machines sold in this territory by the Polk & Motor Co., Inc., who now have a large number of sizes on display at the show rooms.

RELIEF MOVE HITS SNAG AT MONTGOMERY

Citizens' Com. Hear Graves Refuse To Sanction Loan

Montgomery, April 7.—Efforts to train funds to feed 75,000 destitute relief clients in the state apparently were stalemated here today despite the attempts of a special citizens' committee to break the deadlock between the governor and the Legislature.

Gov. Bibb Graves today told a committee, headed by James E. McCallister of the Birmingham Post, that additional taxes must be provided to care for relief needs.

He refused to adopt the suggestion of the committee that he agree to a counter-proposal of the economy bloc for the state to borrow $300,000 to meet the immediate requirements of the Public Welfare Department.

Couldn't Repay Loan
I would be responsible for paying it back by Oct. 1," Governor Graves said, "and I see no chance of paying off such a loan unless additional revenues are provided."

Sen. James A. Simpson, of Birmingham, however, introduced in the senate chamber, a resolution authorizing the governor to borrow such a sum for relief purposes. He expressed the belief that the governor might be persuaded to effect the loan if the Legislature gave him the necessary authorization. The resolution was referred to the Senate rules committee. If the state borrowed $300,000, the Government would match it with a like amount, providing enough to care for relief clients for three or four months. After the conference with the governor the committee did not appear optimistic.

Governor Graves expressed confidence that administration forces would get some minor tax bill passed in the House today. If a tax on exported electric current or some other minor tax is passed in the House, the governor's Senate majority is expected to insert under its "omnibus" title a series of new taxes and send it back to the lower chamber.

Legislative Action Urged

The citizens' committee continued today to urge legislators to action in the relief crisis and to treat the relief problem apart from the general revenue snarl.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Franzen of Red Oak, Iowa, have announced their marriage after keeping it a secret for 13 years.

NEW A. & G. SALES PLAN ANNOUNCED BY FORD DEALERS

The recent announcement of the new R. & G. used car sales plan by the Ford dealers of the Atlanta Branch of Ford Motor Company—marks one of the greatest steps forward ever made by a dealer organization in setting a new and higher standard in used car values.

The trade-mark R. & G. stands for Renewed and Guaranteed—meaning that used cars sold by authorized Ford dealers under this trade mark have met a rigid set of specifications as well as their mechanical condition as well as appearance. Backing these specifications and to further assurance of the quality of R. & G. cars is a written guarantee of "Satisfaction or Your Money Back," which is given to the buyer by the dealer. It reads as follows:

Mechanical Condition
"We agree to correct at our expense any condition in this car or truck which is not in accordance with the above specifications, provided that we are notified by the purchaser of this condition within ten days from this date, and further provided that such condition is not the result of accident, neglect, or abuse of the car or truck after delivery to the customer, and that the car or truck has not been repaired or altered outside of our shop during the guarantee period."

Money-Back Guarantee
"We further agree that we will refund such part of the purchase price of the car or truck as has been paid by the purchaser, including any used car or truck applied as part payment, or our option, the allowance price thereof in cash, thereby cancelling the sale if the purchaser so requests; provided that this request is made by

LOCAL SERVICE STATION IS NOW BEING REBUILT

New Building Will Be One Of Most Outstanding In Clanton

One of the most prominent corners in Clanton is now seeing some real activity toward improvement in the way of building. The building formerly housing the Lawrence Service Station, at the corner where the Maplesville highway and the Birmingham highway join, has been torn down and preparations are now being made for the erection of a modern filling station and garage.

The Lawrence Service Station, under the management of Martin Lawrence, and dispensing Gulp products will occupy the new structure which plans for an attractive appearance.

It has also been announced that in connection with the service station, there will be an up-to-date garage under the management of Arthur Watson and Harry Walker. These two men are widely known mechanics and garage men with years of experience to their credit.

Mr. Watson has specialized in many lines pertaining to automobiles and his reputation as an automobile mechanic is of the best. Mr. Walker who was formerly with Calloway Garage here, and who is now connected with the repair department of Polk Bros. Motor Co., has had approximately twenty years in this line and especially in body repair work. Present plans are for the new service station and garage to be ready by May 1st.

Only Two Cases Are Disposed Of Rec'tly

Only two cases were disposed of in the civil term of Circuit Court before Judge Arthur Glover last week. Both cases consumed several days.

The case of Saderia Meeks against the City of Clanton, in which the complainant asked $1500 damages for injuries alleged to have been received when she stepped into an open meter box, consumed more than two days and nights, and a final verdict of $200 was awarded the complainant.

The case of H. M. Kelly against Tom Kemp in which Mr. Kelly asked $50,000 damages in an accident just south of Clanton, brought the complainant a $400 verdict. It was brought out in the testimony that Mr. Kemp had assumed all hospital charges and did other beneficial things for the complainant following the accident.

M. E. Church School Plans Fine Program

Next Sunday, Easter, bids fair to be a red letter day in the Clanton Methodist Church School. The Adult Division of the school, Vernie Teel, superintendent will have a joint program of the four adult classes. Eric Hart, superintendent of worship in the division, will have charge of the worship program as follows:

Song.
Prayer, V. J. Elmore.
Scripture Reading, Mrs. M. F. Jones.
Quartet.
Collection. Members of Wesley Fellowship Class.
Introduction of speaker, L. H. Reynolds.
Mrs. Percy Pitts will preside at the organ.

J. C. Pattillo, Circuit Clerk of Chilton County, whose home is at Verbena will be the visiting teacher for the lesson, and all four classes of the adult division will remain together for the class period. Mr. Pattillo is one of the best church school teachers in this part of Alabama, and it is expected that a full house will greet him Sunday morning.
Services begin at 9:45 o'clock.

Among the honors coming to automobile salesmen of Clanton for outstanding work is included the recent presentation to Luther E. Foshee of a cash award from the Chevrolet Motor Co.
Mr. Foshee attended the annual banquet given by the Chevrolet Motor Co. in Birmingham last week at the Thomas Jefferson Hotel. One hundred members of the "100 Car Club" were in attendance at this brilliant affair, given in their honor and each was presented with a cash award in addition to becoming members of the Club.
Officials of the Birmingham office of the Chevrolet Motor Co. were also present, others from the Atlanta Branch attended and extended congratulations to the members of the "100 Car Club."

Thos. H. Maxwell To Open Campaign Office This Week

Mrs. Agnes Arant Joins Office As Secretary To Cam. Manager

John W. Haun, of Tuscaloosa, and widely known in that section, was a visitor to Clanton Tuesday, in behalf of the campaign of Thos. H. Maxwell, for Congress, whose campaign he is in charge of.

Mr. Haun announced that campaign headquarters will be set up in the Majestic Hotel in Tuscaloosa, and that he has secured the services of Mrs. Agnes Arant of Clanton as secretary in his office. He stated that he intended to be back in this county within a few days to officially open the campaign here.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation to the people in Clanton and the Central Alabama Hospital for their kindness to us while we were over there, and also to thank the people of Maplesville for their good deeds since we came home. The Lord will reward each one for their good deeds. Again thanking all—W. A. Moore and Family.

Futures Register Gains Of One To Four Points At New Orleans

New Orleans, April 7.—The cotton market opened a little stronger in New Orleans, prices registering gains of 1 to 4 points in dull trading. Foreign markets were a little better and reports from over the belt said preparation of the crop was being delayed by bad weather.

The map showed considerable rain in the eastern half of the belt and dry in the west. Temperatures were lower.

Mt. Carmel News

The health of the community is good at present. We are very thankful for this.

The attendance of our Sunday school B.Y.P.U. and preaching was good Sunday. However, there is room for improvement and we hope we will have a better attendance from now on.

We are very glad to say that the Rev. M. W. Mills filled his regular appointment at this church Saturday night and Sunday morning and delivered us two good sermons. The subjects were: "The Devil in Person" and "God in Person."

Mr. and Mrs. Bice Anthony were the Sunday guests of Mr. J. H. Sanders and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Alice Oden spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Davenport.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobson Askins were the Sunday guests of her mother, Mrs. Mary Davenport.

NIGHTS AND SUNDAYS

Are BARGAIN TIMES on "LONG DISTANCE" CALLS

Now the low rates in operation for long distance telephoning after 7 P.M. apply all day Sunday. This extension of night rates to all day Sunday includes both Station-to-Station and Person-to-Person calls to most points.

And now, too, new low rates apply on Person-to-Person calls every night of the week after seven o'clock to those points where the day Person-to-Person rate is more than 50 cents.

When you telephone out of town and will talk to anyone at the number called—that is a Station-to-Station call. But if you must talk to only one particular person, whose name you give to the operator—that is a Person-to-Person call. Full information on these classes of service, and rates to many cities, will be found in the front pages of your directory.

Remember, Nights and Sundays are bargain times for your long distance calls.

KING of Them All

Foremost Highflyer, 1935 Grand Champion Jersey Bull. Owned by A. H. Gos, The Oaklands, Ann Arbor, Mich.

THERE ARE PLENTY of Jersey bulls in America, but only one among all the thousands, stands out as National Champion. Foremost Highflyer won 1935 honors at the National Dairy Show, St. Louis, Mo.—a magnificent creature to which Nature gave the vital spark, the perfect natural balance of all the elements that go to make a champion. Wonderful top line, great body, fine neck, shoulders, big barreled, good on his legs—Foremost Highflyer had everything!

Most bulls are just bulls, average strong, average good, but just plain ordinary bulls. There is only one Foremost Highflyer. He stands out the King of them all—the champion.

The champion bull is Nature at her best—one of Nature's wonder creations. Favored by Nature, with her priceless gift of perfect natural balance, the champion is almost beyond price, while another bull that may look a little like him—well, he's just bull, that's all.

And here is another wonder-creation of Nature—Natural Chilean Nitrate. Like the champion bull, Natural Chilean is favored by Nature with that priceless gift of natural balance—natural blend of many elements such as boron, calcium, manganese, etc., over and above its nitrogen. Nature gave the vital spark to this nitrogen fertilizer by blending into it these vital impurities. Nature herself aged it, cured it... that's why Natural Chilean is the natural food for your crops.

Natural Chilean contains almost two score of major and minor elements such as boron, magnesium, manganese, iodine, calcium, potassium, etc.—each a vital element in growth and healthy development of plants.

PLATFORM MADE PUBLIC BY THOMAS H. MAXWELL

Five Son Of Tuscaloosa County Outlines 7-Point Program In Campaign For Seat As Successor To Oliver

Thomas H. Maxwell, a native son of Tuscaloosa County now asking citizens of the Sixth Congressional District to elect him to the House of Representatives as a successor to Congressman Sam B. (Buck) Oliver, today announced the platform on which he is running a campaign. Official announcements of the platform appear in this issue of the News.

Principal planks stated by Mr. Maxwell are: (1) collective bargaining for organized farmer and organized industrial labor; (2) a 30-hour week in manufacturing; (3) pensions paid wholly by the federal government, but administered by the states to all persons 65 years old or older whose incomes are less than $1,000 annually; (4) federal loans at one-half of one per cent for use in their schools, to liquidate bonded debt and for other uses; (5) erosion control for soil conservation; (6) flood control with federal conservation of power to be used in country homes; and (7) a sufficiency of constitutional money for conducting the nation's business without borrowing.

Mr. Maxwell, who was a candidate in the three-man campaign for Congress in 1934, will appear on May 5 as Democratic primary on May 5 as opponent of Pete B. Jarman, former secretary of state, who made the race also in 1934.

For many years Mr. Maxwell, a veteran of the Spanish-American War and World War, has taken an active part in politics as well as cultivating his farming properties at Wood-Plantation on Tuscaloosa Route 1. He is a graduate of the School of Engineering at the University of Alabama, where he was a member of the Phi Kappa Phi fraternity. He served 17 months in the service during the World War in the 88th Central Postal Directory, and is a member of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Mr. Maxwell is widely known throughout the state as the Sixth Congressional District. He is a descendant of one of the state's earliest and most prominent families and has many relatives throughout this section of the state.

In presenting his candidacy to the people, Mr. Maxwell advances the platform that he suggested a number of monetary policies which were adopted by the administration at Washington. He advocates soil improvement, believes that legislation should protect the farmer to insure him a just price for cotton and all its products.

PROGRESS AND ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF CHILTON CCC CAMP

March 31, 1936, marks the third anniversary of the Civilian Conservation Corps. In July 1935, what is commonly known as an erosion camp was established in Chilton County.

Since the establishment of this camp it has made progress in the prevention of soil erosion. With the cooperation of the county agent, J. W. Fant, it was possible to make immediate personal contact with many farmers of the county. Farmers made applications for a survey of their property to see just what could be done to help conserve their soil which was rapidly being damaged by erosion. To date 140 such applications have been received. Of this number it has been possible to make a survey of 88 farms, and cooperative agreements have been made to serve this number.

This service consists of diversified forms of erosion control: namely, outlet channel work, gully control, and tree and vine planting. In the outlet channel work an outlet is constructed to take care of the water which is drained from terraces. In this outlet some form of permanent structure is built controlling the grade so that no large gully will be formed. Where the gradient is not over three to eight per cent a sodded outlet may be constructed. That is simply sodding the outlet with some kind of grass such as Bermuda, Carpet, or Dallis grass which will form a permanent bed that will prevent scouring or the formation of a gully. In the gully control, as a general rule, the type of structures built are more of a temporary nature, as their purpose is to catch up enough soil to form a foundation for the growth of vegetation. Kudzu or black locust planted in and along the banks of the gully check erosion. Trees are planted on land which is too steep or too badly eroded for profitable cultivation.

In carrying out the erosion program, 16,670 linear feet of ditch has been excavated, 4,573 permanent and temporary masonry, rock, and brush dams have been built. In the planting program 510,175 loblolly pines, 65,000 slash pines, 1,000 black locust, and 7,500 kudzu crowns have been planted, and 525 bushels of pine cones have been collected for seed purposes.

Field work was begun October 29. Including all phases of the work a total of 49 farms, which represent approximately 8,000 acres have been served.

IN MEMORY OF HENRY J. DOBBS

After several months of failing health God called Grandpa home to heaven last Friday morning, March 7.

We will miss him so much. There is no one to take his place in his little shop where he created the many little things which he could use. But up in heaven God has everything fixed. Grandpa won't need his shop up there. Everything is prepared for his enjoyment.

Grandpa said before he died that he was going to leave us but he was ready to go. Nothing could have been more consoling to us than this testimony from his own dear lips.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Jane Wyatt Dobbs, four sons, William F., Walter, Alphonse, and Fred; four daughters, Mrs. Bama Dennis, Mrs. Nellie Driver, Mrs. Maudie Emfinger, Mrs. Zedie Baker, one brother, C. A. Dobbs, three sisters, Mrs. Sarah Wyatt, Mrs. George Ann Wyatt and Mrs. Emma Culp; eighteen grandchildren; seven great grandchildren and many friends and relatives.

—A Granddaughter.

PLATFORM OF THOS. H. MAXWELL FOR CONGRESS

THOS. H. MAXWELL of Tuscaloosa, Ala., Route 1, candidate for Congressman from the Sixth District, composed of Chilton, Bibb, Greene, Hale, Perry, Shelby, Sumter and Tuscaloosa Counties

PLATFORM
I am not on a privately owned corporation or state payroll and am backed by no Clique or ring.
I favor such legislation that the farmer receive more than cost for his products, that he spend money and thus aid all other vocations. Such is the main objective of the American Farm Bureau Federation. Therefore let us have:

I. Collective bargaining for the organized farmer and organized industrial labor.

II. The thirty hour week in manufacturing to distribute the opportunities lessened by labor saving machinery.

III. Pensions paid wholly by the Federal Government, administered by states, of $30.00 per month to all persons of sixty or more years, whose incomes are less than $1,000.00 per year, which plank the gray haired, young, and middle aged should support.

IV. Federal loans at one-half of one per cent per annum to sovereign states for use in their schools, liquidating borrowed indebtedness, and for other purposes.

V. Erosion control for soil conservation.

VI. Flood control with incidental conservation of power to be used in country homes.

VII. A sufficiency of Constitutional money for conducting the nation's business without borrowing.

Pass this word by letter or post card or phone to the counties: Bibb, Chilton, Greene, Hale, Perry, Shelby, Sumter, Tuscaloosa, that every farm voter rally to polls on May 5th, 1936, rain or shine to elect their man while the other citizens are willing to vote for him. This is the splendid opportunity for Congress to properly applying the best of Constitutions can make the people happy and panicles.

Sincerely,

Chilton County Plans To Have Big Representation when Barons Open Season In B'ham

The Counties of Shelby, Bibb and Chilton have banded together in a three-way triumvirate to send five thousand fans to Birmingham for the opening day of the 1936 pennant campaign in the Southern League. They have undertaken this task simply because they enjoy clean, wholesome sport, and for the simple reason that they want to see Birmingham cop the attendance trophy this year. President John D. Martin offers annually a silver trophy to the Southern League city which registers the biggest opening day attendance. Shelby, Chilton and Bibb think it's Birmingham's time to win that trophy.

They also are laboring under the impression that Birmingham has corralled a good ball club this year under the management of Rigg Stephenson, the old Alabama, Cleveland and Chicago Cub's Star and in that they are looking forward to many pleasant afternoons in Birmingham this Summer, they want to give Rigg and an all-new ball club a good send-off for opening day.

Harry Gordon, Mayor of Columbiana, has been named as Chairman of opening day arrangements for the three counties, and Harry says he is going to have five thousand fans from the rural precincts at Rickwood rooting for Birmingham on that opening day. The Barons' opponents for the lid-buster-offer will be Larry Gilbert's New Orleans Pelicans.

The three counties South of Birmingham have always been a "feeder" to Rickwood, even in the days when the Barons suffered an acute attack of "Slumpitis." Now, that the skies have lifted and it looks as if Birmingham has a club that will finish one-two-three, they are intent on sending a big delegation into Jones Valley for opening day.

Riggs Stephenson, the old Chicago Cub Star, a man who once starred in football at the University of Alabama, looks as if he has lined up a winner for the Barons the coming season. The purse strings have been loosened and much money has been spent in trying to outfit a winning ball club for the Alabama metropolis.

Joe Palmisano, one of the greatest minor league catchers ever to wear the big mitt, was purchased from Atlanta, and will be the Barons' first string catcher the coming season. Uncle Bud Clancy, who hit over 300 last year will be back on second base. Eddie Cihocki, a great defensive infielder, was sent to Birmingham by the Chicago Cubs and will be on second base. Eddie Moore, who was drafted from the sandlots of Florida last season, and who has a great year his first in organized baseball will hold down the short field position. Elmer Trapp, who was hitting .340 for Birmingham when he was recalled by Pittsburgh last year will be at third base.

As things look now Old Hoss Stephenson will be in left, a youngster by the name of Luce will be in center, and Legrant Scott will hold down the right field post for the Barons. Among the class A pitchers who are trying out for berths on the Birmingham Club are Ray Coombs, Joiner, Darrow, Jones, Simms and Hulvey, with Lefty George in reserve and also a release or two from the Cubs. Joe Woodward will be utility man for the Barons this year, and it looks as if they are mighty well heeled to make a one-two-three bid for a berth that high in the Southern League.

Tony Schlosser and John Thompson of Vancouver, Canada, eighteen days after they had robbed a tailor shop of eighteen bolts of cloth, were convicted of the crime and sentenced to eighteen days in jail.

PEACH GROWERS ASK CHAIN STORES AID RELIEVE SURPLUS

Washington, D. C., April 3.—Chain store organizations of the East and Middle West today extended a helping hand to California farmers when they pledged cooperation to western peach growers in a nation-wide campaign to increase the sale of canned peaches and thus relieve California growers of a large surplus which has threatened to surfeit the market.

Because nature smiled on the Pacific peach orchards, the farmers of the spring found themselves on January first with more than six million bushels of fruit on their hands and a new crop coming on. Faced with ruinous prices brought on by this surplus, which appealed to chain stores throughout the nation to aid in disposing of the unusually large supply.

Normal sales, the farmers said, would not dispose of the surplus, which in January first of this year was 2,727 cases more than the surplus at the same time last year.

In response to this appeal, the National Canned Peach Association is to be inaugurated April 13th.

Consumers throughout the nation are urged to take advantage of the aid and to stock up on the delectable fruit and special recipes for the use of peaches are to be advertised widely. In their plea to the chain organizations, the California growers also ask aid in permanent stabilization of the market, through the use of the facilities of the grower-to-consumer retail outlets.

A Canning Peach Stabilization Committee, headed by H. C. Merritt, Jr. of Tulare County, California, is handling the nation-wide drive.

"The peach growers are not asking for charity," said Merritt in a statement issued from California. "There is an undeveloped market for canned peaches which can be tapped off through intensive advertising and selling efforts on a wide scale. The chain store organizations, with their thousands of retail outlets in every state, the nation, have the facilities for selling the several million cases of peaches whose sale must be speeded in order to stabilize the industry for the coming season. The only way to do this is to be by asking help from the chain distributors. They have helped grow before through their widespread sales and advertising facilities and we think they can help us now in our crisis."

Charles Rader, a lawyer of Kansas City, Mo., not to be deterred when he found the lock of his hotel room picked a saw and cut his way in.

DUDLEY COLLINS LAID TO REST WEDNESDAY

Former Sheriff Of Chilton Coun Was Active And Well Known

J. Dudley Collins, one of Chilton County's most widely known citizens, was laid to rest yesterday in the cemetery of the community named for his family.

Mr. Collins died early Tuesday following a short illness at his home near Clanton, and ended a life of activity in religious, political and business circles of this county.

Coming from one of the most prominent families of the county, Mr. Collins was respected by those who knew him. He was 59 years old at the time of his death. During the years of 1927 through 1930 he served as sheriff of this county, and twelve years before that, served his people as county Tax Collector and was elected twice to that office.

Engaged actively in farming, Mr. Collins was considered to have made a success of his business affairs throughout his life.

Funeral services were held yesterday at noon at the Friendship Baptist Church, near his home and which he was an active member of. A short service was also held at the Collins Chapel cemetery, where interment took place. Spigener Funeral Home was in charge of burial.

He is survived by his widow, two children, J. D. Collins, Jr., of Clanton and Mrs. James Gillespie also of Clanton. Three sisters, Mrs. Susie Benson, Mrs. Earline Littleton and Mrs. Julia Benson, all of Route Four. Two brothers, John H. Collins and Sam W. Collins, both of Thorsby, and seven grandchildren.

SUNDAY MOVIES

thereby taking to these other places a large amount of money that rightfully belongs to Clanton.

Now that Clanton has a new theatre showing the best pictures, and many times before they reach the larger cities, it stands to reason, they state, that Clanton should step forward now and inaugurate Sunday shows to keep the young people amused.

However, it was also brought out and impressed that these shows must not interfere with church services nor activities of religious organizations of the city.

The News would like to receive the reaction to this suggestion from the people of Clanton.

REFERENDUM

results" and that he "believed Senator Thomas and Representative Cox would abide by the results of the referendum and not force passage of the Bills."

The total number of ballots cast Tuesday came as something of a surprise to many of those who are vitally interested in the legislation.

Senator Thomas and Representative Cox could not be reached Tuesday night to secure an expression from them, but it seems to be generally talked that they plan immediate passage of the Bills if the Legislature does not recess before it can be done.

Speculation is rife regarding the intentions of the two representatives from the county in the Legislature. Whether they intend to see that the Bills are passed, or whether they will withdraw them, remains to be seen. However, Judge Smith stated Tuesday night that he sincerely believed Senator Thomas and Representative Cox would withdraw the Bills.

Judge J. Lee Smith Makes Statement

Judge J. Lee Smith had the following statement to make to the public, following Tuesday's referendum, and the publication of the results:

"The referendum of Tuesday, April 7th, was the suggestion of Rep. C. B. Cox, and he stated in the presence of reliable witnesses, who have made affidavit thereto, that he would abide by the result of such a referendum.

"I believe the voters of Chilton County have made their wishes known in connection with the proposed bills. I believe the overwhelming majority against these measures bespeaks the sincere opinion of the people of our county in their regard.

"Therefore, inasmuch as the referendum was the suggestion of Mr. Cox, I, together with the citizens of Chilton County, shall most certainly expect him to hold good on his promise, and block the passage of these bills.

J. LEE SMITH,

Judge of Probate.

The referendum was conducted in the manner usually followed by regular elections, without any expense to the county whatsoever.

CITY FINANCES

ground 250.00

Total cost to city of the improvements $27,405.13

"You will please notice that the city has a net gain, or is worth, $27,405.13 more than it was when I took office, and owes $1,122.76 less money.

"No accounting is taken of the accrued interest on outstanding bonds, or the fixed operating cost for March, considering the water bills due for March, some taxes and licenses yet due the city, and other smaller items of improvement omitted, will more than offset those charges.

"I think it fair to invite your attention to the purchase, nine years ago, of the fire truck at $7,500.00, and that I have paid the balance due on it of $4,000.00. I am not listing this truck as newly acquired property although we have paid more than half the original cost of it. It cost the city $900.00 to refund the Street Improvement bonds that came due January 1st, 1935. Another item of cash that I have not listed is $1,065.00 donated to the city schools.

"There are many improvements yet that I wish to do for the city, and will, if given an opportunity. If the people, the City Council, City Clerk and employees will cooperate with me in the future as they have done in the past, we, altogether, will place Clanton at the head of the list as being the very best managed city in Alabama.

"You have had eighteen months of strictly business administration of the affairs of the city, economy and honesty in government. Have we made good or not?

understood and thoroughly educational. Mayor Dixon was introduced by Billy Smith, former president of the Unit and publisher of the News. In his statement regarding the speaker, a brief outline of the outstanding record of Major Dixon who came one of the most prominent families of the state and who has served his country well.

The meeting was opened by president, Wallace Cox with a few liminary remarks. Following Mr. Dixon's address, several visitors recognized, among them Judge J. Lee Smith, who was asked to have something to say to the young people. Judge Glover, in his remarkable pleasing manner, gave some very inspiring thoughts to the audience.

Big Picnic Planned

Plans are now underway for a county-wide picnic for members of Young Democrats League and friends, according to President, who appointed Barnett Deramus, president, as chairman of a committee to proceed with the plans.

Mr. Deramus, who is from Verbena, arose and informed the meeting "if it's a picnic you want, you will surely get it," and outlined his arrangements as far as possible. The picnic will be a "moonlight picnic" further announcements will be made later.

Immediately after the meeting community dance was held at the hall auditorium with music furnished by Hollis Hiten and his "Horn Aces" of Verbena, and Lloyd O'Neil with his accordion, accompanied by Oswald Mims and Orville Wynn, the mandolin and guitar. This climaxed one of the most enterprising and instructive meetings held by the League.

six years he sold his interest in the store, and went into the general merchandise business here.

About 12 years ago Mr. Spigener was appointed Register in Chilton County and has held that position ever since. He was a member of Clanton Methodist Church, and one of the most widely known and highly respected gentlemen in the county.

First Sunday Show To Benefit Storm Funds

Sunday Movies Idea Is Being Received In Approving Way

FIRST SUNDAY SHOW SET FOR APRIL 26

Clanton will have its first Sunday picture Sunday, April 29, according to announcement by the manager of the New Wadesonian Theatre which held its formal opening Tuesday night, featuring Harold Lloyd in the "Milky Way".

The office receipts Sunday will go to the Chilton County fund for the relief of flood and storm sufferers over the country. On the actual operating expenses will be deducted from the gross receipts, the balance being devoted to lend aid to those who have felt the brunt of winds and floods during recent days in almost every section of the country.

"The Dark Angel" is the title of the picture to be shown, which will feature Merle Oberon, and Robert Marshall. In this picture you will see Merle Oberon, demure, winsome, the girl the type the American loves. Fredric March and Robert Marshall are rivals for the love of this beautiful woman. It's a picture you will not want to miss.

The subject of Sunday movies is receiving favorable discussion in all parts of the city and county. With the management expressing desire to cooperate with churches by not showing picture during church hours, the consensus of opinion indicates Sunday movies in Clanton. Beginning at 1 p.m., and showing until 5 o'clock, and again from 9 to 11, there will be absolutely no interference with church services, Wade pointed out. "We don't go to, and are not going to show pictures when it will interfere with church services," he declared.

Clanton has no city ordinance against picture movies and there is no state law to prohibit them, it is understood, therefore the picture is being shown in Clanton people from enjoying the clean, wholesome pastime without driving to Montgomery or Birmingham on Sunday afternoons.

Too, the management is receiving praise for the generosity and public spirit exhibited in offering the proceeds of the first Sunday's shows to such worthy cause as aiding those who have lost their homes and perhaps relatives in the recent storms.

Suggestion that the proceeds of Clanton's first Sunday movie be given to storm sufferers was made by the Chilton County News and met with approval of the Wadesonian Theatres.

Mrs. Zora Guy Smith, the newly elected president, is one of the charter members of the club and has held several other official positions in the organization. The members are looking forward to a progressive year's work under her direction.

REV. PAUL ODEN TO PREACH AT BAPTIST SUNDAY, 19TH

In the absence of Dr. Ezell, who is holding a revival with Dr. Reid at South Avondale Baptist Church, Birmingham, Rev. Paul Oden will fill the pulpit Sunday morning at eleven o'clock. At the 7:30 hour of evening worship Brother Oden will give a Stereoscopic lecture on the Life of Paul. Those who have heard Brother Oden preach know that he is one of the outstanding preachers in the State. The public is cordially invited to hear him. Tell your friends, and come to hear him.

THREE MEN ARE HELD HERE ON ROB'RY CHARGE

Alleged To Have Taken Liquor Truck From Driver Recently

Chilton County's alleged hi-jackers are still in jail, despite the fact that preliminary trials were scheduled Monday in an effort to secure the release of the three men, who allegedly stuck guns in the ribs of a truck driver here last week and took a load of taxpayer liquor enroute through the state. Preliminary hearing, in an effort to secure bond, for the men was postponed Monday because of the failure of James Esdale, noted Birmingham criminal lawyer, was here to defend them. Trial will be held next Friday, it is understood, before Justice of the Peace J. L. Wilson.

TEN ARRESTS MADE BY SHERIFF'S FORCE IN 8 DAYS

Ten persons have been arrested by Sheriff J. R. Hardy and his deputies during the past week, according to the sheriff. The charges are as follows: three for driving motor vehicles while intoxicated; one for temporary use of property without permission; one for burglary; one for violation of the prohibition laws; one for assault and battery; one for petit larceny, and two others for minor offenses. Eight have been released on bond.

Mayor Seeks Improvements For Citizens

Continuing his program for a "bigger and better Clanton," Mayor C. Fenn Jones is making an effort to secure an up-town Western Union office here where messages may be sent and received without the inconvenience of the present set-up.

The mayor has written D. O. Drake, superintendent of this division, in Montgomery an delictious his cooperation in giving this service to the people of Clanton. Pointing out that the population of the city is now near 3500, Mayor Jones declared that he believes this move will be profitable to the company and will prove much more convenient for the citizenship.

ALL ROAD WARRANTS ARE HELD UP WAITING OPINION

The News is informed that all warrants issued to the employees of the county for road work have been since the approval of the act creating the office of road supervisor of Chilton County some two or three weeks ago are being held up by the Probate Judge, J. Lee Smith, pending a ruling by the Attorney General as to whether or not the commissioners court has authority to create any such obligation against the county.

It is the hope that this may be promptly settled so that the county employees can promptly receive whatever may be due them.

CHESTNUT CREEK SINGING

We are planning for a big singing Sunday afternoon in the Cooper school building. It will begin at 1:30 o'clock. We have our regular singing every third Sunday afternoon.

Last third Sunday we had a good singing with Mr. Jesse C. Jones serving as chairman. Later there was a nomination for a regular chairman for the singing Mr. Dewey Hughes was elected. We all think he will be of good service to the society.

We had a large crowd last third Sunday. We had a very good singing and bring your own chairs and bring your own chairs and bring your own chairs.

LOCAL YOUTH KILLED WHEN HIT BY TRAIN

Marvin Collins Is Victim While Walking On Track Near Home

Marvin Collins, 21-year-old filling station employee, was killed instantly about 5 o'clock Sunday morning when he was struck by Louisville & Nashville freight No. 79, as he walked along the tracks at the south switch, near Thorsby. Suffering a bursted skull and other severe lacerations and bruises, the youth was killed instantly.

Trainmen declared that the youth was walking along the tracks and when the whistle was sounded, he leaped from the sidetrack onto the main line and the engine was too close then to stop before striking him. His body was hurled from the tracks and was mangled under the wheels. He had come to Chilton County fourteen months ago and since that time has been employed by his grandfather, J. Collins, near Thorsby.

Surviving are his father, the Rev. J. S. Collins; his step-mother, Mrs. J. S. Collins; two brothers, A. L. Collins, and Donald Collins, all of Lanette, Ala. Funeral services were held Monday morning at 11 o'clock from the New Salem Baptist Church with the Rev. Jimmy DuBoise officiating. Burial was in the churchyard cemetery with Martin & Sons in charge.

Sportsmen's Meeting To Be At Courthouse

A meeting will be held at the courthouse Tuesday night, April 28, for the purpose of organizing a sportsmen's club in Chilton County, according to information given the News. Every person interested in this movement to promote a keener appreciation of sports, sportsmanship, and conservation of game is urged to be present.

Mr. Ford, director of conservation with the Department of Game and Fisheries, will be the principal speaker on the program, and will assist in working out the details of organization.

FOUR CASES IN CITY COURT ARE CONTINUED 'TIL SAT.

Four cases were scheduled for trial in City Court Monday morning, but upon request of the offenders, Mayor C. Fenn Jones granted a continuance of all cases until next Saturday morning. The docket read: two for public drunkenness and two for driving motor vehicles while intoxicated.

SPEAKING TO BE HELD AT ISABELLA FRIDAY NIGHT

The News has been requested to announce that a speaking will be held Friday night, April 17th at the Isabella school house, in behalf of the campaign of Thos. H. Maxwell, candidate for representative in Congress. The time is seven-thirty o'clock and the public is invited.

EMPLOYMENT GAINS IN STATE ARE REPORTED

Public Relief Only Discardant Note As SEC Unit Holds Conference In B'ham.

Public relief Monday was the lone discordant note in a symphony of improved business conditions, increased employment and higher wages sounded at a meeting in Birmingham of representatives of President Roosevelt's New Deal emergency agencies.

Starling with a report to be made by Ray C. WPA administrator for Alabama, disclosing that the government had poured $35,619,715 in federal funds into the state in three and a fourth years the reports included heartening summaries of better conditions emphasizing a decrease in distressed properties, and a new figure in employment and wages.

A. H. Collins, commissioner of State Department of Public Welfare, told the meeting, shortly before a comment for luncheon, that nothing but quick action will save thousands in Alabama from actual starvation, and characterized the proposed use of $250,000 in reconstruction bond funds as nothing more than a "stop-gap" until a permanent program can be devised to care for the starving and disease ridden.

One of the highlights of the meeting attended by representatives of emergency and permanent agencies from over the state on instructions of the president to summarize accomplishments during past administration, was a

BOY SCOUTS TO BE SPONSORED BY KIWANIS

Meeting Called For Friday Night At City Hall Auditorium

The Boy Scouts of America, is to be sponsored by the Clanton Kiwanis Club for Clanton and vicinity. Necessary arrangements have been made by a committee and the Field Representatives of this District has been designated. This Representative, Mr. Lackey, and the committee, composed of Luther Little, Percy M. Pitts, J. M. Martin, and Joe Mims have designated Prof. J. B. Varnell, as Scoutmaster for this organization. The Field Representative, Mr. Lackey, and the Scoutmaster, Mr. Varnell, respectfully request that all boys in the town of Clanton and other nearby towns and communities in this County, meet with them at the City Hall in Clanton, on Friday, April 17, 1936 at 7:00 p.m. of this week.

At this time this organization of scouting, will be effected and all boys twelve years of age and upwards are requested to be present.

The Clanton Kiwanis Club is behind this organization and feel that Clanton is in great need of such an organization to help train in a useful way, the young manhood of our City and community and give them wholesome and

J. D. Bell, manager of the Murray-Bell Hardware Store, lays claim to being the first person to purchase a ticket to the New Wadesonian Theatre. Mr. Bell expects to be one of the first patrons of the new theatre next Wednesday evening, when the official opening is held.

THOS. ARLEDGE IS APPOINTED BY GOVERNOR

Outlines Program And Policy He Hopes To Carry Out Here

Under provisions of the recently enacted Bill to create the office of road supervisor in Chilton County, it is understood that the Governor has appointed Thos. A. Arledge to fill this place, although he has not received his commission.

Mr. Arledge was in Clanton a few days ago, making arrangements for the commencement of his work in the county. He was enthusiastic about the possibilities of launching an extensive road-building program, declaring that he is confident that he can win the approval of every citizen of the county by striving to give the county the best road system it has ever known.

By centralizing the work, he believes it will be possible to render the county a considerable saving in both maintaining and building roads. It will be his policy to exert every possible effort toward the building of permanent roads as this seems the only logical way of spending the taxpayer's money wisely. The cost of maintaining roads is high, and wherever it is possible to build a permanent piece of road the cost of maintenance is greatly reduced and in a few years will pay for the original cost of construction, he points out.

Having been connected with the county's road system in the capacity of county engineer for several months, Mr. Arledge should be well acquainted with the needs of the county and should be in position to render some highly valuable service. A practical engineer, who has had years of experience, the problem of building and maintaining roads will not be new to him. For about twenty years, he was connected with railroads as an engineer, and in addition to this experience he had several years in the oil fields of Texas in similar capacities.

Farmers Told Grow Own Planting Seed

Auburn, Ala.—The scarcity and high price of legume seed for planting this spring emphasizes the importance of farmers growing their own seed for planting next year.

This can be done by farmers planting small seed patches this spring and saving the seed this summer, declares J. C. Lowery, extension agronomist, who advises farmers to see their county agents for information on growing soybeans, cowpeas, cantaloupe, velvet beans, and other soil-building and soil-conserving crops.

SINGING AT COOPER

There will be singing in the new books at Cooper schoolhouse next Sunday afternoon, beginning at 1:30 p.m. All singers are invited; come and bring your late books. Listeners will be welcomed. J. D. Bell.

With Chilton County now having a law providing for a road engineer and supervisor, Representative C. B. Cox is receiving several letters from Probate Judges of other counties of Alabama who also have a Road Supervisor, highly endorsing this plan of county road building and maintenance.

Following are two letters received recently by Representative Cox. One is from Probate Judge Watkins M. Vaughan of Dallas County and one is from Probate Judge E. A. Hammett, of Talladega County.

"The Commissioners have been very cooperative with me in this matter and we have a rule that no one but the Road Superintendent 'gives orders' to the foremen; when the Commissioner wants a certain road worked or improved he and I go over the proposition and agree on what should be done and how; then I instruct the Road Supt. to do the job and he handles the men himself, in this way we never have any confusion and they all know who is 'boss' and do not have to be jerked up by first one and then the other.

"We had Civil engineers for the first ten years of my service here and changed three times and then we promoted a real practical man from our organization who knows his road maintenance and is thoroughly capable and our organization functions as a unit and we have no trouble whatsoever. Foremen are promoted from the ranks and politics has no place in their selection and no relative of the probate judge or any member of the Court is ever employed.

"We have 7 Road foremen and two bridge foremen and we pay them $400 per day each, one who operates a larger outfit than the others and we pay him $500 (and he is a very fine young man, went to work for me during the war as a foreman, 18 years of age and he knows his work, is a steady clean-cut, gentleman, total abstainer and a very worthy man as well as valuable.) I should miss him sorely but if you want him and can pay a salary that would be better for him I would like to see him progress and if you have not selected a man if you will

APPEAL BEING MADE TO GET LARGER FUND

Chilton Lacking Behind In Red Cross Appeal In Some Parts

Although many sections of the county have responded nobly to the call for help, through the Red Cross, for suffering in the storms that have swept various sections of the country during recent weeks, there has been a lack of response in certain sections of the county, according to J. M. Martin, chairman of the drive.

"We are highly pleased with the response received from most sections of the county, and if other sections would only come across in the same spirit there would be no doubt that Chilton County would make a worthy showing," Mr. Martin stated. "And we feel that we are justified in urging those who have not yet made contributions to take advantage of this opportunity to show that Chilton County appreciates the help given by the Red Cross when our own section was torn by angry winds a few years ago. Every person in this county should feel indebted to this organization and its efforts in behalf of suffering humanity. The people of this county have reason to know how well the Red Cross serves those in need."

Mr. Martin pointed out that approximately 300 have lost their lives in storms and floods and millions of dollars worth of property have been destroyed recently. The only chance these people, left without homes, have of surviving is from help rendered them by those who have been more fortunate.

Sunday, April 20, the management of the New Wadesonian Theatre will give the proceeds of the boxoffice, above actual operating costs, to this fund. W. Wade, Sr., announced this week that he has been requested to cooperate in this movement, and stated that he had secured by the best of the season for this occasion.

The Chiseler

"He couldn't have been more than 7 years old—the ragged little fellow who went up to the meat market counter in a Five Points store and asked the clerk for 20 cents worth of bologna," said J. Stanley Lewis. "Just then his eye fell upon an object on the counter and he quickly said, 'Make it 19 cents worth.' 'Ah,' thought the clerk, 'a petty chiseler.' Receiving a penny in change from his two dimes, the youngster reached up, dropped the coin into the Crippled Children's Clinic penny jar on the counter and scampered out of the store—Views and Interviews. ## Tests Of A Good House

Minimum standards recommended for rural homes now require:—

1. An abundant supply of running water.
2. An adequate lighting system and sunlight.
3. An efficient means of heating.
4. Beauty in the architecture and surroundings that will give inspiration and enjoyment to the occupants.

Careful and thorough planning is essential if the maximum satisfaction is to be secured for the money expended in home construction. This is especially true in regard to small rural homes. The principles of architecture that should govern planning and construction of small homes are:

1. That the home be planned in accordance with the use it is to serve.
2. That the construction be sound.
3. That it have good appearance.—The Progressive Farmer.

The President's Speech

"They seek the restoration of their selfish power. They offer to lead us back round the same old corner into the same old dreary street."

In exactly 25 words Franklin D. Roosevelt sums up his case.

Swinging from an attack on autocracy abroad he describes what he conceives as the danger of a revived autocracy at home—the autocracy of a "power seeking minority." "domination of Government by financial and industrial groups, numerically small but politically dominant in the 13 years that succeeded the World War." The 12 years, in other words, that led us to the precipice in 1933.

In short, those who were driven out of the temple are trying to get back in. So:

"They steal the livery of great national constitutional ideals to serve discredited special interests. As guardians and trustees for great groups of individual stockholders they wrongfully seek to carry the property and interests entrusted to them into the area of partisan politics. They seek—this minority in business and finance—to control and often do control and us for their own purposes legitimate and highly honored business associations; they would 'gang up' against the people's liberties."

You don't have to stop and tell the story of the one-eyed man in the poker game to indicate who the President of these United States is talking about.

And then having stated the case, comes the challenge.

"If these gentlemen believe, as they say they believe, that the measures adopted by this Congress and its predecessors, and carried out by this Administration, have hindered rather than promoted recovery, let them be consistent. Let them propose to this Congress the complete repeal of these measures. The way is open to such proposal. Let action be positive and not negative."

"Shall we say that values are restored and that the Congress will therefore repeal the laws under which we have been bringing them back? Shall we say that because national income has grown with rising prosperity, we shall repeal existing taxes and thereby put off the day of approaching a balanced budget and starting to reduce the

Educational Parity A Reasonable Demand

Educational leader in Alabama have from time to time urged upon the legislature that education be placed upon an equal basis with other state departments. Last week students from Alabama Polytechnic Institute came home as a protest against educational discrimination.

Their demand that education share state funds on an equal basis seems reasonable. If we do not have sufficient funds to pay full salaries, does it seem the better part of judgement to keep our jails operating full time and close our schools? Is it just to pay our road builders, judges and other employees all their salary while our teachers must do with only a small percentage of theirs?

We think not. If we must close down some of our projects in Alabama, let's take all departments along together. If some employees of the state and counties must receive only a small part of their wages, let them all share alike.

Alabama's boys and girls are as deserving as our roads and penal institutions, and the men and women who faithfully serve them are as deserving as the one who sits in judgement over those who have committed crimes.

The demand for educational parity is a just one. Eventually it will be a fact in Alabama. We can see no sound reason for delay.

Rat Damage Enormous

Damage by rats to produce and property amounts to 200 million dollars annually in the United States, according to an estimate by a North Dakota official, who recommends the waging of a consistent and relentless campaign against this pest.

Measures recommended include keeping waste food and garbage in covered containers until destroyed; preventing accumulations of trash and refuse; making corn cribs and granaries rat-proof, and adopting any means whereby the supply of rat food may be reduced.

Among the means for destroying rats the most effective is poisoning, for which purpose government experts recommend powdered barium carbonate, which is inexpensive and has the added advantage of being odorless and tasteless, therefore more readily eaten by the rodents when it is applied to their bait. Care must be taken, of course, that it is not placed in the way of children or domestic animals. When poison can not be used, trapping is suggested as the next best method to be employed.

In addition to the property destruction they cause, rats tend to spread disease, and from every standpoint they are an unmitigated nuisance.

national debt?

"Shall we abandon the reasonable support and regulation of banking? Shall we restore the dollar to its former gold content?"

"Shall we say to the farmer—"The price for your products are in part restored, now go and hoe your own row?" Shall we say to the home owners and the debtors—"We have reduced your rates of interest—we have no further concern with how you keep your home or what you pay for your money—that is your affair?"

"Shall we say to the several millions of unemployed citizens who face the very problem of existence—of getting enough to eat—"We will withdraw from giving you work, we will turn you back to the charity of your communities and to those men of selfish power who tell you that perhaps they will employ you if the Government leaves them strictly alone?"

"Shall we say to the children who have worked all day—"Child labor is a local issue and so are your starvation wages; something to be solved or left unsolved by the jurisdictions of 48 states?"

"Shall we say to the laborer—"Your right to organize, your relations with your employer have nothing to do with public interest; if your employer will not even meet with you to discuss your problems and his, that is none of our affair?"

"Shall we say to the unemployed and the aged—"Social security lies not within the province of the Federal Government, you must seek relief elsewhere?"

"Shall we expose our population once more by the repeal of laws to protect them against the loss of their honest investments and against the manipulations of the dishonest speculators?"

In that manner are the lines for 1936 drawn, the issues described, the opponents and the weapons named.

And, speaking of breathing spells, so far as the "old order" is concerned there'll be little relaxed respiration from now until November.—B'ham Post.

MORAL ECHOES

D. W. Haskew

For once in life I saw a strong appeal for prohibition in a moving picture news reel. In this picture a man was sitting in the driver's place in his car and was drinking from a bottle. His wife said to him: "Husband, please do not drink that way, the road ahead is dangerous without you tanking up on whiskey." The man drank long from the bottle and then replied: "I could drive this road over the mountain with my eyes shut." The car started on the mountain climb and later on it was shown as it dashed here and there under the hand of a drunken man and then plunged down a mountainside. The wreck tore my nerves into pieces and I was all in a quiver for hours afterwards. It was a picture true to life and in a truthful way showed the awful havoc that whiskey will produce when a drunken driver is at the driver's seat. My Lord, when will American people stop drunken drivers from killing themselves and thousands of innocent people? If the moving picture business should try as hard to reveal the truth about whiskey, as they are trying to make popular drinking, a revolution could be wrought in our civic life and in our social contacts in less than one year.

In the columns of our dailies, in large type, we were told of an awful tragedy, where a mother shot and killed her son while she was under the influence of whiskey. The murder occurred at a champagne party where cocktails were served to a finish. Bribe, a man who is not a prohibitionist, made the following comment on this kind of parties and what he said should be repeated as long as there is any whiskey in the world. Listen to what he said: "The tragedy should have a meaning for thousands of prosperous Americans, fathers and mothers, that give cocktail parties for the young people, or permit them to be given in their homes. As a result of such vicious cocktail parties thousands now young, will be in the insane asylum a few years from now and other thousands will die from delirious tremens. If you know of anyone inclined to have cocktail parties, mention this tragedy to him, or to her." If you are inclined to drink, take this moral echo and paste it in the center of your looking glass. Read it every day.

In the most of our towns and cities there are fire engines. Much money is invested in them and they are the most of the time. When a spark kindles a fire then the whistle sounds and men rush to those waiting machines and dash off with them to the fire that they may extinguish the flame. In a like manner the most of us have invested quite a sum of money in churches and in our religious programs but we keep our religion just about as the city keeps its fire engines, to be called into service only when a fire is about to burn us. Get sick and a fire is about to break out and we dash to our religion and expect it to help us out of trouble. Better make your religion like you make your table, the place where you go to find food and life and not a thing that will just put out a fire that looms beyond the grave.

Saw a man standing in the rain and cold just on the outside of an open door. I begged him to come in where it was dry and comfortable but he refused. He stood there in the cold himself and added much to my discomfort. A Persian writer has said: "Take one step out of yourself and you will arrive at God." This step that seems so simple is one of the most important steps that can be taken by any man. Just step out of yourself and step into God. Step out of the cold, sinful world and step into the life that is worth living. How foolish it seems for folks to stand in the rain and cold when just one step will put them into God's comfort and assurance.

A group of young people found a snake in the home of a farmer where they had gathered one Sunday afternoon. There were two cries coming from the young people. One said cried out, "Get a box and put the snake in it and we will have a pet." The other group shouted, "Get a stick and kill that snake." The whiskey snake has crawled into our social, business and civic life and we hear two distinct cries. One group is saying, "Legalize this reptile. Save his life. Put him under the bands of the law and we will have a pet." The other group is saying, "Kill this reptile. He has poison in his fangs and life is dangerous around him." Where does your voice echo?

Chevrolet Sales At Peak During March

Detroit, April 14—Chevrolet sales in March, 126,119 units, were the highest for any month in the history of the company, it was announced here today. A new record was set also for first-quarter sales which totaled 272,149, a gain of 97,839 over the same period last year. The previous high record for a single month had stood ever since May, 1928, totaling 122,437. The largest previous first quarter record was 248,875 units in 1929.

Sales of used cars by Chevrolet dealers were 165,170 in March, and 481,834 (a new record) in the first quarter.

California Registrar Democratic Landslide

The tremendous increase in sentiment for the Roosevelt administration is illustrated by the registration figures in California. In the first counties to report, Democratic enrollment increased nearly 50 per cent over 1932 while Republican enrollment showed a corresponding decrease. In many counties the Democrats show a majority for the first time in history. Comparative figures for the seven largest counties are as follows:

ANNUAL EASTER SINGING HELD AT POPLAR SPRINGS SUNDAY

Once again Easter has come, and gone, and once again people of this community as well as other places in the county and state gathered at Poplar Springs to take part in the annual Easter Singing. Before 10 o'clock the house was almost filled to capacity. The house was called to order by W. M. Devaughn, singing one song and prayer by J. L. Smith. W. M. Devaughn was elected Chairman and Mattie Lou Crew Secretary. A short talk was made by Mr. Lonnie Ray from Prattville but formerly from this place. He talked of the memories recalled by the Easter singing and the value of singing.

Directors for the morning were: T. E. Barry, W. Lee Higgins, L. T. Grant, Jesse C. Jones, Ralph Grant, O. L. Devaughn, Steve Stanley, Floy Devaughn, Troy Daniel, A. O. Boswell, Emmett Wilson, Johnnie Daniel, and I. D. Huett. This closed the morning session and so far as we know everyone had plenty to eat at the noon hour.

In the afternoon the directors were: Lee J. Grant, Clarence Billingsley, Archie Devaughn, T. E. Wyatt, L. D. Hughes, Joseph Painter, Edward Jones, William Jones, Jasper Robinson, Carl Rains, Newman Ruff, J. B. Crew and Jas. D. Wade. Others who directed in the morning were recalled by request. L. J. Crew, Paul Hughes and Orbin Devaughn, three small boys, directed one song. To see these youngsters direct makes one feel that the future for Chilton County singing will be bright.

We were fortunate to have two of the best quartets in the South—the Showalter Quartet and the Alabama Four. Mr. W. M. Devaughn had his family quartet. Mr. Edward Jones arranged a quartet. One of the feature numbers of the day was the special song by the Alabama Four, the Showalter and the Devaughn Quartet.

Solos were sung by Messrs. Floy Devaughn, Jas. D. Wade and Eugene Davis. Pianists were Mrs. T. E. Barry, Miss Lena Mae Devaughn, Mr. W. Lee Higgins, Ralph Grant and Mrs. Littlejohn.

This singing has been held annually for the past thirty or more years, but we think we can truthfully say that this is the best one yet. The weather was almost perfect, the people unusually attentive, the class large and fainting to sing, so the singing was splendid. We are thankful for this opportunity.

"The Ford V-8 uses less fuel and oil for the power it gives than any other car we have ever made AND ITS UP-KEEP COST IS THE LOWEST"

ENTHUSIASTIC sales talk often begins and ends with gasoline mileage. Some salesmen would like you to believe it is the whole story of automobile economy. But drivers ought to know better. For, the fact is, it's way down the list. The big items of car economy are low first cost, low up-keep cost and low depreciation. Savings here can make a great deal of difference in cost per mile. Gasoline mileage is more of a talking point than an economy factor. Check up and you will find that the difference between 17 and 19 miles a gallon is less than $10 for a whole year's average driving (8400 miles at 18 cents a gallon). Here are the big items that make the Ford the most economical car: More value for every dollar you pay. Lower cost for repairs and service. Long life. Slow depreciation. Quality means economy and the 1936 Ford V-8 gives you more real quality than any other low-price car. No other car under $1645 has a V-8 engine. No other low-price car has Center-Poise Riding, safe, sure mechanical brakes and Safety Glass all around at no extra cost.

Corn And Legumes 50-50 In Depleting And Conserving Soil

Auburn, Ala.—Where corn is interplanted with summer legumes, such as soybeans, velvet beans, crotalaria, cowpeas, or peanuts when hogged off, it will be classified under the new national soil conservation program as 50 per cent soil-depleting and 50 per cent soil conserving, explains W. H. Robertson, member of the State Soil Conservation committee.

This means that a farmer with 30 acres of corn interplanted with summer legumes has 15 acres of soil-depleting crops and 15 acres of soil conserving crops. However, the stalks of corn cannot exceed 4500 per acre and the stand of legumes must be sufficient to conserve and improve the soil and cover at least one-half the land. Even where legumes are planted between corn hills and also between rows and occupy at least two-thirds of the land, the crops would still be classified as 50 per cent soil-depleting and 50 per cent soil conserving.

Mr. Robertson states that this ruling will aid growers materially in qualifying for payments under the new farm program.

A Guernsey cow owned by John F. Maley, of East Putney, Vt., gave birth to quadruplets. Three were females and the other a male.

YOUNG PEOPLES RALLY

Unity Association meeting to be held at Mt. Creek, April 19, at 2:30 p. m. "Golden Hours of Golden Youth." 2:30—Meditation music, "Take Time to Be Holy." Devotional, "It is Time to Seek the Lord." Time Keepers; reading of minutes; reports; business. "Take Time to Be Holy." Address, "Golden Hours of Youth," chalk talk—Miss Juliette Weeks, Birmingham. Special song, Verbera G. A. Anniversary Sunbeam song—Clanton Sunbeams. Closing prayer.

17-Year Locusts To Appear This Spring

Auburn, Ala.—The 17-year locust is due to swarm over the eastern United States the latter part of May and the first of June, this year. They will appear in the Tennessee Valley and Sand Mountain areas of North Alabama, reports J. M. Robinson, head of the entomology department of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute.

Usually the insects do little damage, occasionally injuring young orchard trees which have been set out on new ground. These trees may be protected by covering them with mosquito netting or tobacco cloth until the locusts disappear.

The department of entomology at Auburn is anxious to get a complete record of this brood, and has asked that interested persons in the State keep a lookout for the insects.

The department will appreciate any reports received, also specimens that may be sent in, Prof. Robinson said. The locusts may be mailed safely in a strong pasteboard box.

Mother of 19 children at 39, Mrs. Melvin Smith of Atlanta, Ga., recommends a "dictatorship" as the best form of fireproof government.

PAYMENTS DEPENDENT UPON CONSERVATION

Auburn, Ala.—To qualify for payments or grants under the new Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, farmers must grow soil-building and soil-conserving crops, such as cowpeas, soybeans, lespedeza, alfalfa, kudzu, velvet beans, crotalaria, winter legumes, clovers, small grains, and grasses.

Generally speaking, they must have at least one acre of soil-conserving soil-building crops to every five acres of soil depleting crops in the base acreage, says L. N. Duncan, director of the State Extension Service.

This means that a farmer who has 100 acres of corn and cotton (soil-depleting crops) in the base must have planted on his farm in 1936 at least 20 acres of conserving and building crops to participate in the program.

Farmers will be eligible for payments for shifting up to 35 per cent of the base acreage of cotton to soil-building or soil-conserving crops, except the county shifting cannot exceed 25 per cent of the base acreage. In the case of peanuts the greatest shift of acreage for which payments may be made is 20 per cent of the base acreage.

Where food and feed crops have been produced of home needs, the grower may shift as much as 15 per cent of the excess acreage of corn, potatoes, and small grains for harvest to legumes, cover crops or approved soil-building practices and receive payments.

By planting soil-building and soil-conserving crops and following soil conserving and building practices, such as terracing, farmers may qualify for two types of payments. The class payment will be made for the plan made in 1936 of soil-conserving crops.

Soil-depleting crop acreage, and class 2 payment will be made for the planting of soil-building crops and the carrying out of soil building practices on crop land or pasture in 1936.

OUT OF LUCK

NO OTHER TIRE HAS THIS LIFE-SAVING INVENTION

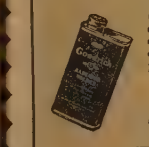

Speeds have more than doubled in the past ten years. No wonder thousands are killed or injured every year in blow-out accidents, because when you are driving along at 40, 50, 60 miles an hour, the heat inside your tires is terrific—as hot as boiling water. This heat causes rubber and fabric to separate. A tiny blister forms—grows bigger and bigger—until sooner or later, without warning, BANG! It's a blow-out!

Why take this dreadful risk that you may regret the rest of your life when it is so easy to play safe? An amazing new invention, the Life-Saver Golden Ply resists heat so that rubber and fabric do not separate—thus these blow-out blisters are checked before they even get started.

Can you afford to be without this blow-out protection when Goodrich Silvertowns, the only tires in the world with the remarkable Golden Ply, cost not one penny more? Don't trust to luck. Come in and see us today about a set of Silvertowns.
